WORKERS IN FURNACES.

Amalgamated Association Has Its Wage Session Today.

Questions at Issue Between the Men; Demand More Pay.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 3.—The annual convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and steel workers opened here today. Its most important business is to consider the new scale of wages for next year's work, and which has been prepared by the wage committee. This scale, which goes into effect on July 1, makes many material changes from the present scale.

The most important one affecting the puddlers advances the price of boiling iron from $8.50 to $9 a ton. In justification of this demand it is claimed, and the figures are given, that the general condition of the iron business will warrant the increase, and it is not thought that the manufacturers will raise any serious objections although some of them have given it out that the present rate is as much as they can afford to pay.

An internal matter which does not affect the manufacturers, but which may give the convention some trouble, is the row between the roughers and catchers, and the heaters and rollers. The former contend that they are not sufficiently well paid, and that the other men on the rolls are getting too much in proportion. They want a more equal division and as this will be opposed by the other elements, there may be some warm times before an amicable settlement is arrived at.

A member of the committee said today that an expression had been secured from every subordinate lodge and the committee was instructed to be governed by the wishes of the majority. There is expected to be a lively fight over the difference between the roughers and catchers and rollers. The roughers and catchers receive $2.60 and $3 per day for seven and eight heats, respectively. They are asking for a more equal division of the wages paid the rollers. Some rollers make as much as $9 per ton, and the roughers and catchers regard this as unfair. There will also be a demand for an advance in all departments of steel mills. The men here want a 10 per cent advance all around in every department. They will ask for this, and will compromise the matter on the adoption of a sliding scale to be governed during the year by the price of steel.

Many of the manufacturers are already slackening up in anticipation of trouble. Some of the men express themselves as believing the manufacturers would not sign the scale and are beginning a dullness in trade to prevent an advance being asked. "But," said one of them, "we will make our demand, strike or no strike, and, what is more, we will get about everything we ask for. We have no manufacturers' committee to deal with any more. We deal with the firms directly, and it is much more satisfactory." The convention will be in session ten days or two weeks.

A WISE JUDGE.

Judge Tuley Doesn't Propose to See People Locked on Suspicion.

CHICAGO, June 3.—Joseph Kaiser, the New York anarchist whom the police arrested on suspicion of knowing something about the placing of the bomb near the Haymarket monument, was brought into Judge Tuley's court this morning on a writ of habeas corpus. Kaiser, it is claimed, was arrested more than a week ago and locked up on mere suspicion, the police refusing to book him or allow his friends to communicate with him. When the case came up Lieut. Kipley who was present, representing the police, announced that he would drop the case against Kaiser and allow him to go.

This did not suit Judge Tuley, however. The chancellor said: "I cannot too strongly denounce this practice of the police in locking people up, without charging them with any crime and without allowing their friends to come near them. It is a barbarous custom and I propose to investigate this matter and see by what warrant of law the police do these things."

City Prosecutor May represented the city and was informed that the case would not be dropped without a return to the writ of habeas corpus being made. The judge gave Mr. May just half an hour in which to make the return. After receiving the return Judge Tuley discharged the prisoner.

Illinois Judicial Items.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 3.—A large number of important decisions will be handed down from the supreme court, which meets at noon for the summer term. Among them will probably be one deciding the fate of James J. West, ex-publisher of the Chicago Times, and who some months ago was convicted of misapplying stock, and sentenced to five years imprisonment. The belief is general that the verdict will be set aside and a new trial ordered.

Tramp Terrors.

CENTRALIA, Ill., June 3.—There were a large number of tramps lying about the outskirts of town yesterday afternoon, a gang of negroes became involved in a row with some white men which resulted in a general fight in which three men were badly wounded, one fatally. The police force has been doubled.

Catholic Foresters in Session.

CHICAGO, June 3.—The annual convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters met here today. Of the delegates from outside, the majority are from Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Canada. The convention will last three days.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

The Harvard boys held high carnival Saturday night over their victories in the Yale baseball game, and at the banquet the college buildings were defaced with various mottoes, including some profane references to Yale. The statue of John Harvard was also besmeared with red paint. The inscription was hidden and a sculptor will have to chisel away the paint.

It has come to the knowledge of the police of St. Petersburg that the nihilists in France are engaged in a fresh conspiracy against the life of the Czar.

BUILDING SHIPS IN MAINE.

The Industry Becomes Active After Years of Stagnation; Vessels Being Built.

BATH, Me., June 3.—For several years past the ship-building industry in Bath has been almost at a standstill, but during the last year it has revived and at the close of 1889 the custom house register for the district of Bath showed that there had been built one steamer, one bark, one barge, twenty-six schooners and four sloops, making a total tonnage of 24,586.

In the yard of E. S. Crosby there are on the stocks a four-masted schooner of about 1150 tons, nearly framed, and a three-masted schooner of about 700 tons being ceuled. Killey, Spear & Co. are building a schooner of 250 tons. The keel is being laid also for a large four-masted schooner, it is to be 230 feet long, forty-six feet wide and 21 feet deep. It is the length of the five-masted schooner Governor Ames, but is not so broad or deep. At the New England Ship Building company's yard four schooners are on the stocks. Besides these vessels this company expects to close a contract with the Maine Steamship company to build a duplicate of the steamer Cottage City. This company also has contracts for two more four-masted schooners and for one barkentine. At the yard of A. Sewall & Co., the ship Shenandoah, which will have four masts and be larger than the Rappahannock, is having the frames put up. Besides this ship the Sewalls are to build a 2200 ton ship and a schooner. The Morse company launched last week the big four-masted schooner Charles A. Campbell. Her measurements are 228 feet long, 46 feet wide, 21 feet deep. Her gross tonnage is 1576 tons, and her net tonnage 1534 tons. Gardiner G. Deering, John McDonald, Charles B. Harrington and other builders are also at work on large vessels.

HAPPY IN TOWER.

Its Ball Club Beats the Soudanese; General Range News.

TOWER, June 3.—The third game of baseball by the two contending clubs, Tower and Soudan, was played on the new grounds Sunday and resulted in a victory for Tower on a score of 7 to 14. Some bad playing was done on both sides up to the fifth inning. This is the first game the Tower boys have won this season, and consequently they are happy.

Saturday night finished Billy Marble's engagement at the Opera house, with "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," and to say it was rank is putting it mild. The audience left the hall disgusted. The Soudan Dramatic club rendered the same play three years ago, and their entertainment far exceeded that of last Saturday.

The Soudan Dramatic club will have the five-act drama "A Social Glass" ready to be put on the boards in a few days.

John Naslund's brick block has risen one story in the past few days, and is becoming quite a structure.

A young man working as carpenter on Superintendent Pope's new house at Soudan, fell from a scaffold on the roof of the building, to the ground, breaking his wrist and badly bruising his head.

Murnik & Skala have an elegant foundation built for their new 50x70 brick building which is to be two stories high with cellar underneath the entire building. The first story is to be used as a saloon and store and the upper floor will be divided off into rooms.

A Lucky Inventor.

ST. CLOUD, Minn., June 3.—The Keller binding twine machine has been sold to the McCormicks. Senator Keller met Col. Westerman of the McCormick company of Chicago, and consummated the sale of his machine. Both the McCormick and Deering people had made him an offer of $10,000. A roll of over 1000 feet in one piece, made from slough grass, was exhibited, and it is put up at a cost of one-quarter of a cent a pound. Those who have seen it say it is destined to revolutionize the binding twine business in the Northwest. This sum is more than three times the amount the McCormicks paid for the royalty on the "McCormick knotter."

Extinguishing the Fire.

ASHLAND, Pa., June 3.—The fire in the East colliery mine has been reached through the shafts, but the extent of it is yet unknown. The gang of workmen engaged in sinking the shaft were overcome by the gas last night and John Haffri and Charles Oberile had to be carried from the mine. Oberile fell across the track and would have been crushed by an approaching "gunboat" but for the timely arrival of assistance. Efforts are being made to remove the gas to avert an explosion.

Oregon Election Returns.

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 3.—Returns from all parts of the state, show that the re-election of Herman, republican, for congress, is assured. The governor is in doubt with chances in favor of Pennoyer, democrat. The republicans elected the remainder of the state ticket and a majority in both branches of the legislature.

A Good Showing.

FT. PAYNE, Ala., June 3.—The vein of brown ore at furnace No. 1 has been exposed to the depth of twenty-five feet and promises to be much larger. The ore crops out from the ground on a slight elevation within 1000 feet from the furnace and can be run immediately to the furnace at a minimum expenee. The limestone and coke lie on either side, so that all the materials for making iron are less than a quarter of a mile from one center.

Marriage in High Life.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Miss Annie Elkins, daughter of Hon. Stephen B. Elkins, last night became the bride of Alexander C. Oliphant of Trenton, N. J. The ceremony took place at the Elkin's mansion on West Fifty-eighth street, and the presents were numerous and of great value.

Sixty-fourth Anniversary.

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 3.—The sixty-fourth anniversary of the American Home Missionary society opened here today and will continue throughout the week. The attendance of visitors and delegates is larger than ever before, and the residents have made elaborate arrangements for their entertainment. Divine service was held this morning in the First Presbyterian church. Among the prominent clergymen in attendance are Rev. Dr. John R. McLean, Oakland, Cal.; Charles H. Richards, Philadelphia; S. H. Virgin, New York; George A. Hood, Boston.

Let Him Drown.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 3.—Last night a crowd of white boys out on a lark captured a crazy negro man and carried him to the Mississippi river. They meant to duck him, but when they got him in the water the police, attracted by the negro's cries, frightened them and they ran away, leaving him struggling in the water and he was drowned. Two of the boys are locked up.

ON RAILWAY RUNNING.

Duluth Gets a Rate That Well Fixes Fruit Wholesalers.

South Shore's Through Atlantic Trains; Lowry Retires.

For years past Duluth fruit jobbers have borne the weight of unjust discrimination inflicted by St. Paul railroads. These roads have always given St. Paul shippers the advantage of fruit shipments at vegetable rates. Indeed, this rate was granted to every city in the West but Duluth, so that this city's jobbers were handicapped by such small towns as Ashland and Fargo. They even carried this injustice further. Duluth was not allowed a vegetable rate from original points, so that when a jobber bought fruit via St. Paul and Minneapolis he was obliged to have it rebilled from these towns, and the expense was such that Twin City wholesalers would unload their product here at a much less cost than Duluth dealers.

The Chamber of Commerce has been at work for nearly a year trying to secure justice at the hands of the St. Paul roads. This work has not been in vain. A circular has been received granting Duluth fruit shipments at vegetable rates from original points, thus placing this city on an equal footing with St. Paul and Minneapolis. This rate secures exclusively for Duluth the markets of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic and the Duluth & Iron Range towns, while jobbers are placed in equality with St. Paul and Minneapolis along the lines of the Northern Pacific and Manitoba roads. It also gives this city the north shore, and, when the Duluth & Winnipeg road is built, the Manitoba markets.

By 1891 St. Paul and Minneapolis will possess no transportation advantage not enjoyed by Duluth. The Canadian Pacific road is now building four magnificent sleepers, which will be used on the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic between this city and Boston. Names have been given to three of these: "Duluth," "Lake Superior," and "Presqueisle." Within three weeks a new Duluth-Boston service will be inaugurated. Through cars will leave this city in the evening, arriving in Boston in twelve hours less time than the present schedule calls for.

On June 9 Western passenger rates on basis of the Dec. 31, 1889, tariff will be resumed. Freight rates are likely to be increased also.

F. H. Anson, Norwestern passenger agent of the Wisconsin Central road, with his wife, was in town this morning.

Fred Ross, traveling passenger agent of the Kansas City road, is in the city.

President Miller of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company this morning announced the appointment of A. J. Earling as general manager and W. G. Collins as general superintendent. The appointments take effect July 1. Both are old employes of the road.

LOWRY RESIGNS.

F. N. Finney to Succeed as President of the "Soo."

MINNEAPOLIS, June 3.—[Special to The Herald.]—The directors of the "Soo" Railway company will meet in this city on Monday next and accept the resignation of President Lowry. F. N. Finney will be elected to succeed him.

It is said that President VanHorn of the Canadian Pacific will be at the same time chosen a director. Other changes will be made which have not yet been divulged.

Didn't Retire, was Fired.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—John S. Bell, chief of the secret service division of the treasury, having failed to comply with the request for his resignation, has been dismissed to take effect from yesterday. Mr. Bell was appointed during the last administration. His successor will be selected in a few days.

The Clayton Trouble.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The sub-committee of the house committee on elections which has had under consideration the question of taking further testimony in the Clayton-Breckenridge Arkansas contested election, has decided that question practically in the negative. In its decision the commission says the application of the contestee to take further testimony in Arkansas is denied.

More for the Navy.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 3.—The United States gunboat Bennington was launched at Roach's shipyard at noon in the presence of a large company of spectators. The new addition to the navy was christened by Miss Annie Ashton, daughter of Chief Engineer Ralph Ashton, who will be attached to the Bennington. The Bennington is the last government vessel contracted for at Roach's. She is a twin of the Concord, launched a few months ago.

JUST FROM HINDOSTAN.

Commissioner Booth-Tucker, of the Salvation Army, Wants Volunteers.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Among the passengers who arrived on the steamship Normandie was Commissioner Frederick de Latour Booth-Tucker of Hindostan, chief of the East Indian and Ceylon department of the Salvation Army. With Mr. Tucker are Lord Ratnapala, formerly a Buddhist priest, but now a member of the Salvation Army; Capt. Kautahella of Ceylon, Lieut. Abdul Aziz, a convert, and Staff Capt. Jai Singh, at present assistant foreign secretary of Indian affairs in London, and his wife.

The object of Commissioner Tucker's visit to this country is to get volunteers to accompany him back to India to continue and help in the work of the Salvation Army in that country and Ceylon. Next Monday a mass meeting will be held in Association Hall under the auspices of the Salvation Army, at which Tucker, or "Fakeer Singh," as he is known in India, and native officers from India and Ceylon, will speak of the work of the Salvation Army in those countries.

The life of Judge Booth-Tucker is an interesting one. He was born in Moughyr, Bengal, about 300 miles from Calcutta. His father and grandfather were officers in the East India company, the latter being one of the company's directors. His first recollections are connected with the Sepoy rebellion and his narrow escape from massacre. At an early age he was sent to England to be educated, and successfully passed Cheltenham college. He graduated as an Indian civil service cadet, with a salary of $500 a year. He rose rapidly, and after several years spent in England was given a post in India, where he distinguished himself and had every prospect of becoming a rich man.

It was while in India that he became acquainted with the tenets of The War Cry, a Salvation Army newspaper, and he at once became interested in its work and established missions in his "station." About ten years ago he went to London on leave of absence, and there joined the Salvation Army and resigned his position in the service of government.

Returning to India after some time spent in study in England, he at once started a crusade among the ignorant with good results, and his present visit here is to get intelligent and experienced volunteers to help. Some years ago he created a sensation in Calcutta by walking barefooted through the streets while exhorting.

THE ASTOR HOTEL.

About $3,000,000 to be Invested by William Astor in a Hotel

NEW YORK, June 3.—William W. Astor is to build a hotel upon the site of the late John Jacob Astor's home at Fifth avenue and Thirty-third street. It will cost, including the land, $2,000,000, and will probably be ready for occupation in the summer of 1892. It will be ten stories high, and be constructed of brick and stone. Its only entrances will be on Thirty-third street. Over the main entrance will be a deep loggia which is to be filled with plants, and there will be another three stories higher up. On the ground floor there will be a large cafe opening upon a central court, in which there will be a garden. Some European ideas will be introduced, such as the concierge at the door, who will keep out visitors with no business at the hotel.

George C. Boldt, who is the proprietor of two hotels and a restaurant in Philadelphia, and a hotel in Bethlehem, Pa., is to be the lessee. The furniture and interior fittings will cost a million more. In honor of his father's memory the old home building will not be torn down until a year after his death, but contracts will be let at once.

The Knights of the Fiddle.

CHICAGO, June 3.—At the Auditorium last night Edward Strauss and his orchestra were accorded an ovation. An immense audience assembled to hear the first of the series of concerts to be given here by the Vienna orchestra. Every seat in the great hall was taken and the parquet was backed by a row of standing auditors three deep. A laurel wreath was presented to Strauss at the end of the first part of the program and encores were generously distributed.

The Actors' Fund.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Manager A. M. Palmer presided this morning over the ninth annual meeting of the Actors' Fund of America. The Madison Square theater, in which the meeting was held, was packed with actors and actresses of high and low degree. The secretary, Charles D. Thomas, presented a report which showed that the organization had made considerable progress during the year. This afternoon the commemorative exercises of the fund were held in Palmer's theater.

Fatal Runaway.

DES MOINES, June 3.—At Clarksville the team of a German named Lobock started to run, when Lobock's wife sought refuge under a fence with a child in her arms. The team ran over the fence, trampling the woman and killing her instantly. The child's arm was broken, but it was not fatally hurt.

Already Dead.

KINGSTON, Ont., June 3.—Four of the family poisoned by eating wild parsnips, near Lake George, are now dead and it is feared that the others will die.

A Genuine Freak.

"Jim" the half man, half horse is in the city and the exhibition tent opposite the Gas company's office on Third avenue west has been crowded since the opening with curious sightseers of both sexes. This peculiar being is a an intelligent colored man with human head and body, but with limbs like a horse. He can not stand erect, but runs, gallops, trots and paces exactly like a horse, and at the same time converses fluently with anyone. His dances, to the airs of plantation melodies, are extremely funny. He gives performances every ten minutes. He is 24 years old and a native of Arkansas. In the same tent there is also exhibited a live spaniel dog with five legs.

FROM FOREIGN SHORES.

Bismarck is Said to be in Bad Business for One of His Age.

Prince Royal and His Birthday; In France; Slave Congress.

LONDON, June 3.—There are proofs that Prince Bismarck is intriguing at the little German courts as well as abroad to raise difficulties of all sorts in the way of the Emperor. There is some talk at Berlin of the removal of several high officials who have been proved to have been in communication with the ex-chancellor and to be associated with his opposition to imperial decisions.

All the delegates to the anti-slavery conference in session in Brussels with the exception of those representing the United States have formally adhered to the Congo tariff by vote today.

Prince George, the second son of the Prince and Princess of Wales, is 25 years old today. Ordinarily the fact would attract no more attention than do the birthdays of any other of the numerous brood of princes and princesses of the royal blood. But it is among the possibilities, it might be said the probabilities, that the young man whose 25th anniversary is being celebrated today by the members of the family of the heir apparent will one day be the King of England.

His eldest brother, Prince Albert Victor, who last week was created by his grandmother Duke of Clarence and Avondale and Earl of Athlone, but who is better known to London society as "Collars and Cuffs," is both mentally and physically weak, and it is no secret that neither the Prince or Princess of Wales expect him to survive his father. His brother on the contrary is the very picture of health, sound and robust and with a very good mind of his own.

Prince Victor is unmarried, and as not only his parents but also the Queen and the government object to the girl of his choice, the Princess of Mary of Teck, his cousin, there is very little prospect that another heir to the throne will make his or her appearance just yet awhile. Only, therefore, one weak stripling stands between Prince George and the English throne at the death of his grandmother and father, and were it possible to peep into the future, less than a score of years might reveal him presiding over the destinies of the country. A lawn party is in progress at Sandringham today and tonight a banquet will be given in honor of the event.

PARIS, June 3.—The Duke DeBroglie has written a letter in which he says that the articles recently published purporting to be extracts from the memoirs of Prince Talleyrand, were not genuine. No one but a few intimate friends who would not divulge the contents of the papers, have ever seen the manuscript. The alleged extracts, the duke said, were supplied by a man who had been secretary to Prince Talleyrand. He imitated the handwriting of the original manuscript, and drew on his imagination for the alleged facts.

Bayne Refuses a Sure Election.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 3.—Hon. Thomas M. Bayne, congressman of the Twenty-third district, refused renomination today, and Col. William A. Stone, ex-United States district attorney, was nominated. Col. Bayne had two-thirds of the delegates to the convention in his favor, and being assured of the nomination, made an address to the delegates withdrawing in favor of Col. Stone. Col. Bayne's excuse for refusing the nomination was that he was worn out and unable to work. In the Twenty-second district Hon. John Dalzell was renominated.

Indiana Politics.

KOKOMO, Ind., June 3.—Congressman Cheadle is likely to receive his political Waterloo at the congressional convention of the Ninth district, which opens this afternoon. A strong combination has been formed against him. Superintendent of Public Instruction La Follette is his principal opponent.

THE IOWA FLOOD.

Much Damage to Property; One Life Lost.

MISSOURI VALLEY, Iowa, June 3.—The village of Loveland, eight miles from here, was almost totally destroyed Saturday night by a cloud burst. The town is located on the Boyer river and to the east is a gully which gradually increases in width as it continues westward.

The cloud burst occurred a mile or two up this gully and its force was terrific. As it made its way toward the village it swept everything before it leaving hardly a home in the town. The amount of water which was so suddenly poured out upon the unfortunate village was anywhere from three to ten feet, according to the locality.

The house of Luke Sayles, a short distance from the river, was the scene of the direst mishap of all. The family, consisting of Sayles; his wife and son, the latter a young man of 22, were driven out of the house by the incoming flood. Finding their escape cut off in front, the left by the back door. In the backyard there is quite a downward slope from front to back and the current was so swift that all three were swept from their feet. The old man and his son caught hold of a clump of bushes past which they were swept by the torrent and managed to save themselves. Mrs. Sayles, however, was carried by this slender refuge and all that her husband and son could do was to watch the mad waves sweep her down into the Boyer to her death. So far as known no other lives were lost.

Iowa Storm Swept.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 3.—The worst storm of the season prevailed throughout western Iowa last night. At Atlantic the fall of water was unprecedented and the electric display was described as thrillingly grand.

BREAKING OF A DAM.

Meager Information and Fears Loss of Life Has Resulted.

SALT LAKE, Utah, June 3.—Meager information has reached here of the breaking last Wednesday of a reservoir dam above Gunnison, on a branch of the Sevier river. The reservoir covered an area of nearly 5000 acres, and the water had an average depth or perhaps twenty feet. As there was quite a well-settled region below the dam, fears are felt that the loss of life is great. The first sign of weakness was observed around the pipe which is provided to relieve the dam and its supplies of water, and workmen had been laboring for some time to strengthen the structure and check the leakage.

Results of Flood.

ARCADIA, Wis., June 3.—As the waters around this submerged village recede, they show traces of much larger damage than was at first reported. Many foundations are badly undermined and houses are racked, which at first were thought uninjured. The lumber yards report the loss of many thousand feet of lumber, and the Iron Bay Railroad company now estimates its loss at $50,000. No trains can reach here for at least three days. One hundred thousand is a low estimate of the damage caused by floods, and it will take many weeks to place the village in the condition it presented Thursday morning last.

Crushed in the Ruins.

FREEPORT, Ill., June 3.—Part of the ruin of an old church, near which a new one was being erected, fell with a crash yesterday, carrying down with it five men all of whom sustained severe injuries. Their names are: John Coughlin, leg fractured and nose and face crushed, dangerously hurt; Fred Hill, injured internally, supposed to have sustained a fracture of the spine; Charles Rudolph, injured about the back and and spine, may not survive; Peter Zimmerman, right leg and right arm and spine injured, not expected to recover; John Popkes, a serious scalp wound and chest injured. The old church was erected thirty-five years ago.

A Little Chap Gets There.

DEDHAM, Mass., June 3.—Yesterday afternoon John Kane, aged 6 years, fell into Merchants' mill pond and was swept the whole length of the covered way, fully 150 feet, in a raging torrent six feet deep. He was taken out of the rack near the wheel in an unconscious condition, but was soon resuscitated. He was apparently uninjured.

THE ELEVENTH CENSUS.

Census taking began yesterday. Everyone ought to write out the answers to those questions which he intends to answer and have them ready when the census taker comes. All the questions have been published in The Herald.

What the completed count will show the aggregate population of the country is an interesting question, and each growing populace has a still more interesting local question in the count of its own population. With the single exception of the war period, from 1860 to 1870, the censuses taken at the end of each decennial period since 1790 have shown a percentage of growth of population for the whole country ranging from 30 to 35 per cent. The population has increased one third every ten years and has doubled every twenty-five years. By every outward indication the country has been growing at least as rapidly since 1880 as ever before, and the census ought therefore to show that the normal percentage of increase has been fully maintained. This would give an aggregate of, in round numbers, 57,000,000. Should the ratio be maintained, we would reach 100,000,000 in 1905, 200,000,000 in 1930, 400,000,000 in 1955, and 800,000,000 in 1980. It would be easy enough—on paper—to carry the calculation forward another quarter century, but as 1,600,000,000 is rather more than the total population of the world, and more than even this spacious continent can furnish convenient room for, embarrassment will be avoided by stopping short at 1980.

As to Duluth, it population will show a tremendous, and what may be called in view of all the responsibilities resting upon the city and its official guides, a fearful growth. But there are wild guesses as to the total, and The Herald has been in a position peculiarly fitting it to note these guesses. Those who have estimated 50,000 people are very liable to be disappointed, perhaps 40,000 for Duluth and 3500 for its two suburbs, West Duluth and Lakeside, would be as near a guess as one could well make today.

The Herald's guess contest is now over, according to all terms of the entries, all reports should be in. But the lists will be kept open for forty-eight hours longer to enable all to close up their guesses. Any guesses mailed to this office before Thursday night of this week will be accepted, none later will be opened. About 15,000 have already been received from all parts of the Union and from England and Germany.

A short interview with harbor master Miller appears in another column on this page. He advocates the enlargement of the board of public works by the addition of the harbor master. There would appear to be many reasons for such a change and none against it, unless the fact that it will make a board of four members be taken as an objection. But such an objection is slight when the advantages of the change are considered. Let steps be taken to make this change when possible.

From the press of The Herald job rooms has just been issued what is by far the most elaborate and extensive piece of work ever done in a printing office northwest of Minneapolis. It is the Third annual report of the board of public works of the city of Duluth, for the year ending Feb. 28, 1890; including a report on the extension of the sewerage works, etc., by Rudolph Hering and Andrew Rosewater, consulting engineers, and a plan for a combined railroad and highway bridge across the ship canal on Minnesota Point, by Alfred P. Boller, C. E." We print the entire title, as it gives in shortest phrase the full description of the scope of the work. There is also a map of Duluth, the most comprehensive ever issued. City Engineer Fuller and the board of works are to be congratulated on the comprehensive publication.

"California On Wheels," the free exhibition of the state board of trade, is to visit Duluth. It will arrive Thursday afternoon, and will be located at the Omaha depot. This train of three handsome Southern Pacific coaches, filled with the interesting natural and manufactured products of the Golden State, will be open free to the public until Saturday at 4 p. m. The object of this rolling state fair is not, as many have supposed, to encourage immigration to California. If that were to be the object Duluth would be the last place the management would think of visiting for people are coming here, not going away, even to California. The Golden State imported from Minnesota last season 2000 car loads of potatoes, and the law of reciprocity requires that it pay back in some useful commodity. California can raise potatoes. We shall see some in the exhibition weighing twenty-four pounds each. But it pays them better to raise fruits. Heretofore the United States has been dependent on the southern Mediterranean coast for the olive, the date and the lemon. But California has come forward with her wealth of semi-tropical fruits, and it is a matter of great pride with her citizens that it can supply the nation with those fruits, and California wants this to be known. The exhibition will show that California with a latitudinal range equal to that between Boston and Charleston, and a climatic scope equal to the entire face of Europe, can display a greater variety of products than any other one state in the Union.

Directly in line with an interesting letter from Boston in The Herald Saturday The Boston Transcript has the following to say: The West never spares the sensibilities of other sections when booming her own industries, and the pamphlet appeal sent out from Chicago to New England manufacturers to come West and grow up with the country is widely distributed here. It is filled with statistics calculated to make the New England manufacturer dissatisfied. He is told that the price of lump coal at Streator, Ill., is $1.35 a ton, while that of slack for steam purposes is but fifty cents, and he is reminded that many enterprises have left New England to get nearer raw material and cheap fuel. The West is developing rapidly as a great manufacturing section. It draws capital from the East as yet, but hopes before long to be independent of outside money. Still the increase of staple manufactures of Massachusetts is steady. Western boot and shoe factories have not prevented the growth of this great industry in Massachusetts, any more than Southern cotton mills have silenced the looms. The fact is there is room in this great country for vastly more manufacturing than it yet does, and the prosperity of one section is to the benefit of all. The prosperity of the West is to the benefit of New England, and a thrifty South means a thrifty North. New England is not jealous of the West, but she would like a chance at the raw materials which God and nature have placed in her hands, but which man says she must'n touch because they are just the other side of an imaginary boundary line.

SEEN AND HEARD.

Have you ever noticed how the streets are cleaned here in Duluth? No? Well, if you keep your eyes open the next time the gang comes along and shovels the dirt into little mounds in the gutters, you will. They pile it up on Monday, and you suppose that on the same day or on Tuesday, the wagons will carry it off. But they don't. Neither do they on Wednesday or Thursday. By Friday the wagon wheels have demoralized the piles and the wind has played havoc, too, and Friday night it rains. Saturday each pile looks like a collapsed mud pie. Sunday intervenes, and on Monday when the cart comes along there is nothing to carry off but a scattered pile of dirt that the cartman can't find.

Prince Albert Edward, scion of that royal beauty connoisseur, Prince of Wales, is coming over to America sometime this summer. Newport, in consequence, is rapidly filling with the elite of the United States, and rentals for cottages have reached an unheard of figure. All the heiresses will be on hand, and if his little princelet hasn't a royal good time he doesn't take after his papa. Town Topics would treat the subject thus:

"Where are you going to, my pretty maid?
Where are you going to, my pretty maid?
And I noticed her dress was cut very V,
And this was the answer she gave to me:
'I'm going to mash Albert, sir,' she said—'sir' she said—'sir,'
she said—'sir,' she said—
'I'm going to mash Albert, sir,' she said."

* * *

I heard a rather clever story about Albert Edward the other day. When he was at Eton as usual with the "young man of the period," he was generally "broke." On these frequent occasions he would write to his aunt, the queen, and beg her to take pity on his poverty. Queen Victoria would immediately answer the appeal, and send by return post a letter of advice. The prince, who knew a thing or two himself, would thereupon clip the royal autograph from the epistle, and sell it to the highest bidder. Many an English collection contains the royal signature procured through this means.

"How does last month's business compare with that of last year?" I asked a Western Union official. "Well," said he, "maybe you won't believe me, but its a lot more than double that of May, 1889." If this don't show growth in business and commercial activity, as well as in population, then I miss my guess altogether. Can St. Paul, or Minneapolis, or—or—well, any of the towns that are not dead, show as well?

I hear that the exodus of hotel men to Chicago is something alarming. All expect to make their fortunes out of the world's Fair, I suppose.

‡

Commercial rivalry between cities is what makes the country grow. Chicago built the auditorium. New York erected Madison Square Garden, the greatest amusement building of the world, and now the Astor's are having plans drawn for a $3,000,000 hotel, which will likewise be without a peer among the hostelries of the earth. And now Chicago is to build a tower 1,500 feet high.

‡

Ah me! When I gazed at real estate men in the Spalding last night this quotation came into my mind: "Othello's occupation gone." It'll not be many years now, before the realty business will be in the hands of a few heavy firms, and this "curb stone" business will be a thing of the past. "And what will the robbins do then, poor things."

SMALL TALKS ON THE SIDE.

Capt. Miller, harbor master: The thought has just struck me, not more'n three minutes ago, that the harbor master ought to be a member of the board of public works. There's all the time affairs coming up, such as the dumping of city refuse, streets at the harbor front, and so on, that require settlement, and if the harbor master had a voice on the board of works it would help both him and them. There would be no cost about it, for the salary should not be changed. It would simply be a big benefit at no loss.

Street Car Manager Chase: I am going to St. Paul this evening to attend a meeting of the street railway company tomorrow. I hope to be able to close up the contracts for our engines before I return.

Rev. C. C. Salter: The Bethel never witnessed a nicer or more interested crowd than last night. Boys without number and grown up folks not a few.

A. D. Thomson, ex-president Board of Trade: I have just returned from New Mexico. I expect wheat next fall selling for $1 a bushel from the farmers' binder in the Red River valley. If we have a big wheat crop this season Duluth will experience a boom next fall never before experienced at the head of the lake.

Judge Mills of Moorhead: The Red River valley has had rain enough to insure a bountiful crop as far as moisture has any hand in the matter. Moorhead has done more building this season than for six years. Everybody up our way is very happy over the prospects.

Billy Robertson: Yes, The Herald did speak of Walker's band uniforms nicely, but no other Duluth paper did or ever does give us a send off.

Gavin D. High, press correspondent of "California on Wheels:" The Omaha road offered to bring our exhibition up here for nothing if we would come and show it to the people of Duluth. How's that for an offer?

ADIEU, MONTE CRISTO.

Judge Hammons Talks of Millions in a New El Dorado.

St. Paul Globe: "Look at this. Isn't it good for sore eyes?" The speaker was Judge Hammons of Duluth, formerly of Minneapolis, at the Merchants last evening, and he exhibited a magnificent specimen of gold-bearing ore. Truly, as he expressed it, it was good for defective eyes—not only that, but a panacea for all sorts of ills. And his story—the story of possession—reminded one of the tales of the "Arabian Nights." It is an exemplification of the axiom that "chance is an empire that reduces choice to a fool's delusion." It runs something like this: A month ago the judge was waited upon in his office in the Duluth Chamber of Commerce building by a gentleman, an old schoolmate, upon whom fickle Fortune had not smiled with anything like marked favor—not in the past. He handed the sedate judge a piece of quartz with the exclamation, "I broke that from a rock that is full of it!" Judge Hammons, the story goes, examined the trophy with a critical eye, and came to the conclusion that there was something in it. He did not hesitate long. The two packed a grip, and the next train to Winnipeg counted them among the passengers on board. From Winnipeg they backed up upon their course to the Lake of the Woods, and after a day or two on foot they located the new "Anaconda," where Midas had smitten the rock. Here was revealed to them over a mile of rich gold-bearing quartz. Specimens, a hatful, were broken off and sent to Chicago, and the assay more than confirmed their most sanguine hopes, and shortly thereafter a tract of 160 acres passed into the possession of Judge Hammons. The vein is, on the surface, from three to six feet wide and extends about a mile, and it all belongs to the judge. The yield runs, according to the samples taken out, from $100 to many thousands of dollars per ton—the richest discovered for years—and it is estimated, the judge asseverates, that it will yield over $50,000,000. Just how deep into the bowels of the earth the vein extends is not known, but if it averages throughout as excavations already made indicate the judge is many times a millionaire. He has refused $150,000 for an eighth interest in the mine, preferring to take his own chances in developing what there is in it. He has ordered a a three-stamp mill, and it will be on the site within the coming week, when an active crusade to recover the hidden treasures of nature will begin in dead earnest.

"I have an ambition," ejaculated the judge, after narrating the above, "and that is to build a railroad, and if this thing pans out as it promises, I'll be in the swim next year. I will have, say $30,000,000. I can afford to lose on some speculative enterprise and then leave my family well provided for. Yet I may be disappointed. No one knows what a day may bring forth, you know," and the judge took the night train for Duluth, with a promise that he would keep his St. Paul friends thoroughly posted upon developments.

Perfectly.

Duluth Herald: The St. Paul Dispatch, always a steady republican newspaper and the only republican journal in that city, editorially booms Ed. Durant the Stillwater democrat, for the gubernatorial race. The dispatch will please explain.

St. Paul Dispatch: Gladly. Our very clever and wide-awake contemporary should reflect that we boom the genial Durant for the nomination of his party, not for election as governor. He is the best man we know of in the democratic party, and as such is entitled to the party's nomination. His readiness to sacrifice himself on the altar of party fealty is universally conceded, and hence we are not as unkind as some might regard us in urging upon him the leadership of a forlorn hope. There is only one thing which will prevent Ed. Durant's election if he is nominated, and that is that he is a democrat. We think, however, that some less admirable fellow should be subjected to the fate which awaits the next democratic candidate for governor; but, since we have no influence at all in the direction of such matters, we feel at entire liberty to bespeak a crown of martyrdom for the Stillwater statesman. Is our contemporary satisfied?

Strong Language From An Ex-Mayor.

J. B. Loughran, ex-mayor of North Des Moins, Iowa, said recently: "I have just recovered from a severe attack of la grippe. I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm to my breast. These remedies were just the thing in my case. My child had croup some years ago, and we used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with perfect success, since then we have never been without these medicines in our house. I had a cousin who was a printer and was employed in a job office in this city, where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep-seated cold and a terrible cough, and while setting up the copy he made up his mind to get a bottle. It cured his cough and that was the first time I ever knew anything of Chamberlain's remedies. My own experience and that of my family convinces me that these remedies are the best in the world. That may be strong language, but it is what I think." For Sale by all Druggists.

SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings in the neck, which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. The above bright and benevolent face, is Dr. A. W. Acker, of England, discoverer of the celebrated Acker's English Remedy for Consumption and other popular preparations. Dr. Acker practised in his younger days among the middle classes of London, and was the means of doing great good, but his health failed and he found himself in the grasp of consumption, with a wife and child depending upon him for support. While in this condition, he discovered the celebrated English Remedy, saved his own life and has since saved the lives of thousands who were on the sure road to death. Any man or woman who feels a tickling in the throat, who coughs, especially in the morning, who raises or has a tight feeling across the chest, who has sharp shooting pains through the lungs or difficulty in breathing, should realize that these are the first symptoms of consumption which, if neglected, are sure to result fatally. Dr. Acker's English Remedy has cured more than one thousand persons who unquestionably had consumption and who were given up by their friends. It merits its popularity and is sold by reputable druggists in every city and town in America. You can't afford to be without it.

LIKES DULUTH BETTER.

The Rhine and Germany Are Very Nice in Their Way, But---

Deutsch Banks; Prices and Soldiers; Mr. Miller Talks.

"I wouldn't live in Germany if they'd give me the empire," and with this remark A. J. Miller crossed his legs in a manner which left no doubt as to his speaking from experience. Mr. Miller returned Friday last from a year's residence in the country of Emperor William, where he has been educating his children. I found him in reminiscent mood yesterday, and for an hour was extremely interested at his story of the "Faderland."

"When I went over the pond," begun he, throwing himself into a comfortable position in his chair, "I met a Denver gentleman who told me that I needn't expect to get a house in the city by myself. I couldn't bring myself to swallow this story, but I found on my arrival in Coblenz that he spoke truly.

"The city Germans live in flats, over stores or beer gardens. Even the best people reside in these places where two or more families make their home. There are no latches on the outside of the doors. Each house has a porter-house-keeper. If you wish to enter you must ring a bell. The porter resides in the back part of the building and unlocks the door by means of a wire attachment. If the housekeeper thinks the hour of the visit is an unusual one, you don't get in, that's all. The first time I made a call I rang, but couldn't get in. I told the hotel clerk of my experience. He advised me to ring, and then after waiting a few moments, push the door. I did so, and entered the building. No one awaited my coming, and I found myself at the foot of a staircase in a broad hall. Instead of receiving me, I had to hunt up the occupants.

"I found a house, however, out in the country about two miles from Coblentz. It stood on the banks of the Rhine, whose blue waters washed the pebbles at the front of my yard. I had a three-story brick, large lawn, orchard and garden—and I paid $13 a month for it. Cheap living? No, I can live less expensively in this country or in Duluth. My meat there cost me over twenty-five cents a pound, flour was $10 a barrel and other necessities in proportion. Eggs were cheap at fifty cents a dozen. I remember at Thanksgiving time I wanted a turkey. For a nine-pound bird, uncleaned, I paid $3.25.

"The banking system of Germany is peculiar. I wrote Henry Bell, telling him I'd bet him $10 he couldn't find the Coblenz bank, without a guide, in two days. There are no banks on public streets. These institutions are to be found on back streets. No signs announce their location. If you want to do business with one of them you must go to the rear of a building, follow a narrow lane, enter the block through a narrow door which opens near a narrow staircase, and after climbing two, three or four flights you pass into a room, in which you see six or eight men at work. No railing or screens partition the apartment. The cashier sits at a desk, and you do your business directly with him. He asks you what you will have, and hands the money to you. The banks open at 8 in the morning. At noon they are closed, and for three hours employers enjoy beer and cheese. At 3 o'clock they begin the afternoon's business, and remain open until 7 or 8 in the evening. Good bank clerks get $15 a month.

"Poor Germany! The reverence for the government is something servile. Over 5000 people are now serving out sentences of from four to fourteen years for criticizing the government. Mind you, their offence is not treasonable. They have perhaps made the remark that 'William's reign wasn't everything it should be.' I had occasion several times to send a telegram. I went into the office with my hat on. The manager instantly demanded to know why I dared come into a government office with my hat on. Two million soldiers bleed the land of money and food. During the great maneuvers the mayor of a city is informed that he must quarter so many soldiers. He goes around the city with a piece of chalk. He sizes up the dwellings and on the front door of each marks the number of soldiers the house must entertain. If the occupant refuses to feed the soldiers the quota goes to a hotel and the bill is a lien against the property. I have known a family to live in a barn while the troopers had the house. If a soldier desires to go out of a Sunday, he may, with perfect propriety, ask his host for the loan of civilian clothes, and yet the people are contented. And when I told them about this country, and the advantages the poor man possessed they laughed at me for telling them 'fairy' stories.

"The last three months I was in Germany they taxed me $250, and I left the country. I sold my household effects, but not by advertising in the papers. I told just two men. They announced it in church. The city of 30,000 people knew of it the next day. And on the day of sale my effects went in a few hours."

ASSIGNEE SALE.

Duluth People to be Given a Benefit in Boots and Shoes.

The creditors of Moulton, Myers & Co. of Chicago, who failed last week, have left on their hands nearly $40,000 worth of footwear, and have decided to give the people of Duluth and vicinity a benefit. On Thursday next this immense stock will be placed on sale at 307 Superior street west, at prices that cannot fail to move them rapidly. It is not a stock of cheap, shelf-worn goods, but goods manufactured for the best trade of the insolvent firm, and will be sold at less than manufacturers' cost. Remember the place and date, and don't miss it if you would save big money.

REPORTS GOOD.

Most Encouraging Reports Continue to Come From New York.

The Herald's special from New York today is a most encouraging report about the reorganization of the New York Iron company, giving assurance that the Minnesota Car works will be closed for a few days only.

New York, June 3.—[Special to The Herald.]—There is no longer doubt but that the Iron Car company will reorganize. The creditors' committee have found the assets fully as large as the company claimed, and the books have been found to accord with the statement of the manager. The company on reorganization will probably make its report.

Telegrams of this import have been received today by President Anderson, Col. Tanner and others.

TOM SMITH, ASSISTANT.

T. E. Smith Made Assistant Chief; Considerable Other Business.

At the meeting of the board of fire commissioners last evening Chief Hafey reported that he had removed his assistant chief for inattention to duty and his action was approved by the board. T. E. Smith, formerly chief of the volunteer department, was appointed to fill the vacancy. The chief was instructed to dispose of the condemned hose now owned by the city. McMillen & Stebbins were given an extension of twelve days in which to complete the East End fire house, and the council will be asked to allow the purchase of a team of horses for the new station.

The secretary was instructed to place insurance on No. 3 engine house. The question of purchasing a lot in the West End for fire department purposes was discussed by the board but no definite action was taken. The board, however, agree that it will not be long before an additional station will be required in the West End and that the best time to purchase property is when it is the cheapest.

THE WEST END.

An Accident at the Docks; Incendiary Fire; General News.

Rasmus Laken, an employe of the Pioneer Fuel company, while shoveling coal underneath the trestlework, was struck by a lump of coal on the left foot necessitating the amputation of the big toe and the sewing-up of considerable flesh on the foot.

The new house of N. Johnson in West Park came very nearly being destroyed by fire Sunday night. It is thought to have been incendiary.

The social of the Christian church in Normanna hall tomorrow evening, promises to be a very interesting one. The young lady waiters will be dressed in costumes representative of the different nations.

John Opdale of the Pioneer Fuel company has returned from a short visit to Minneapolis.

Several repairs in the paving of Michigan street are being made.

Officers Elected.

At the annual meeting of the Olean Land company yesterday afternoon, officers were elected as follows: President, Giles Gilbert, Duluth; vice-president, E. K. Wood, McBride, Mich.; treasurer, F. W. Higgins, Olean, N. Y.; secretary, F. S. Smith. The following directors were elected: Giles Gilbert, Charles d'Autremont, Frank S. Smith, E. K. Wood, F. W. Higgins. The annual meeting of the Higgins Land company was also held, and the following officers were elected: President, F. W. Higgins; vice-president, W. M. Smith; treasurer, Mills W. Barse; secretary, F. S. Smith. The directory consists of the following: F. W. Higgins, W. M. Smith, M. W. Barse, Giles Gilbert.

A Surplus Explained.

In the report of the auditing committee last evening it was shown that the books of the treasurer reveal a surplus of about $40 over those of the city clerk. This is explained by City Treasurer Voss as follows: A number of applicants for peddlers licenses secure their order from the mayor, fixing the amount of license to be paid. They pay this amount to the city treasurer and then go out in the street to peddle without securing their license from the clerk. Thus, they not only cheat the clerk out of his fees, but are peddling without a license. This can only be remedied by the police officers. If they took the pains to ascertain whether a peddler was using a license or a treasurer's certificate, there would not be so much trouble.

The Preventive of a Terrible Disease.

No disorders, excepting the most deadly forms of lung disease, involve such a tremendous destruction of organic tissue as those which fasten upon the kidneys. Such maladies, when they become chronic—and none are so liable to assume that phase—completely wreck the system. To prevent this terrible disease recourse should be had, upon the first manifestation of trouble, to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which experience has proved to be highly effective as a means of imparting tone and regularity to the organs of urination, as well as to the liver, stomach and bowels. Another beneficial result of this medicine, naturally consequent upon its diuretic action, is the elimination from the blood of impurities which beget rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, dropsy, and other maladies. By increasing the activity of the kidneys, it augments the depurative efficiency of these organs, which are most important outlets for the escape of such impurities.

CHAMBER AND COUNCIL.

Both of Them Transact a Good Deal of Important Business.

To Entertain Visitors and Jobbers; to Sell Bonds; Notes.

The chamber of commerce, and Duluth citizens generally, will have plenty to do this year in way of entertaining visitors. At the chamber meeting this morning committees on entertainment for four excursions were appointed. Next month attendant's at the Teacher's National convention at St. Paul, and especially the art instructors, to whom a special invitation has been extended, may be expected to visit Duluth. This summer, also, the National Millers' convention will be held in Minneapolis. This morning Mr. Harris, of this city, representing E. P. Allis, the Minneapolis miller, and Mr. Omsted of Minneapolis, were at the meeting, and asked that the Chamber provide entertainment for the association when it visits Duluth. The millers will not need a banquet to make their stay pleasant, for Minneapolis will satiate them with banquets. They anly desire to be shown the city and Messrs. Moore, Munger and Hartley were appointed a committee to provide. The association comes here particularly to look over the Imperial mill.

The Washington excursion was made the special order of business for the next meeting. The committee to which was given the planning for the entertainment of the mechanical engineers who will visit America this fall, was given further time to report.

The Chamber considered the oil shipment discrimination in favor of the Standard company, and petitioned congress to legislate for the benefit of competitive companies. The Gilman exposition committee gave in an adverse report to the scheme for sending out a display advertising railway car. President Baldwin presented a plan for the furthering of Duluth's jobbing interests. He advised that 200 feet be purchased on Sixth avenue, and subscriptions solicited for building two wholesale houses. The lots would cost $300 per front foot, with $40 per foot for getting them into condition for building upon. A committee of five was appointed to report on this important matter at the next meeting.

Congressman Comstock was thanked for having secured the additional appropriation for Duluth's goverment building. A motion was introduced, but was not acted upon, for revising the by-laws so as to allow regular meetings at 4 p. m. instead of morning sessions.

MORE BONDS.

The City Wants to Sell $200,000 Worth; Other Council Doings.

"Before we adjourn there is a little matter that should be attended to at once," remarked President Hugo last evening, after the usual amount of routine business had been transacted. "I refer to the communication from the Chamber of Commerce asking for the appointment of a committee to confer with a committee from that body in the matter of the appointment of a railroad commissioner. The aldermen have discussed the matter informally among themselves, and it is but fair that the request of the Chamber be granted." Upon motion of Alderman Sinclair the communication was taken from the table and a motion asking for the appointment of the committee also prevailed. Aldermen Kennedy, Dingwall and Mannheim were appointed as such committee.

The city attorney notified the council that suit had been brought against the city by William F. Phelps to recover $2,333.28, salary as railroad commissioner from Aug. 1, 1889, to April 1, 1890. The city attorney was instructed to fight the case.

The auditing committee presented its report to the effect that W. D. B. Jones, the expert accountant, had found the books of the city treasurer, city clerk and comptroller in perfect condition, but his examination of the books of the clerk of the municipal court showed a balance of $91.13 due to the city, because of informal bookkeeping. The clerk was instructed to make this amount good. The monthly pay rolls were ordered paid as follows: Assessor, $598.75; engineer, $2,632.78; board of works, $455.87; streets, $3,043.03; police, $3,543.68; pound masters, $180; health, $587.33; city officers, $1,268.34.

The report of the city treasurer showed the condition of city finances to be as follows: General fund, receipts, $2814.03; disbursements, $21,290.28; on hand, $18,-695.80; fire department fund, receipts, $15,090; disbursements, $3255.20; on hand, $7602.48; permanent improvement fund, receipts, $30,717.72; disbursements, $5696.57; balance, $399.92.

The following contracts of the board of public works were confirmed: Paving Piedmont avenue, from Ninth to Thirteenth avenue west, E. J. Amory, $18,-$380.10; grading and sewer on Second alley, from Ninth avenue east to Chester brook, Zimmerman & Moore, $6159.95; pile dock at the foot of Twenty-first avenue west, F. W. Farnham, $815.04; sidewalks on both sides of Fifth street, from Lake avenue to Twelfth avenue east, Preston & How, at twenty-eight cents per lineal foot. The ordinance regulating buildings on the streets was amended, so that prosecutions for violations can be made in the municipal court.

The ordinance committee was instructed to draft an ordinance authorizing the city to advertise for the sale of $200,000 worth of bonds. The Duluth Gas & Water company was instructed to lay a main in Third street east from New York to Maryland avenues. The board of fire commissioners was granted permission to purchase $1000 feet of hose for engine house No. 3. A protest against an alley between Bench and First streets in Endion division, was referred to the board of public works.

Sad Memories.

"Ah," said the gray-haired wayfarer at the railroad lunch counter, "This is the old place. I recognized yonder landmark at once."

"What landmark?" asked the cashier.

"Forty years ago when I was traveling over this road," continued the stranger, "I carved my initials and date on yonder piece of apple pie. I see you have it yet. Excuse an old man's tears."

The travelers on "The Burlington" have no memories of that kind. Their recollections are of sumptuous meals in those dining-cars which were long ago given the title of "peerless" by their patrons, and they can say with the epicure of olden time—"Fate cannot harm me: I have dined today—(on 'The Burlington' dining-ca..") Other pleasing memories will be of the smooth track, quick time, elegant coaches, and luxurious sleeping-cars. Father Mathew Society Opens Catholic Hall; the Bethel Celebrates.

A temperance rally under the auspices of the Father Mathew society was held last evening in the new hall. Many members of the West Superior society were present. During the evening an interesting and entertaining musical and literary program, consisting of solos and duets, both vocal and instrumental, and recitations, was rendered by the members of the society and their friends. A short address by Father Corbett, who spoke in place of Bishop McGolrick, who was called away, added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion. It was the formal opening of the hall and a very large crowd was present.

A large crowd attended the camp fire given by the Boys' Brigade at the Bethel last evening. The drill, under the command of Capt. Austin, showed the boys to be well disciplined and provoked hearty applause. A few remarks were made by N. A. Gearhart and Miss Nellie Thompson, Miss Brooks, Miss Mamie Meining Mrs. L. M. Spalding and others assisted in making the camp fire a success. Refreshments were served from tents pitched in the hall. Mr. Stephen Jones has presented the brigade with $50, a sum sufficient to purchase ten muskets, and last evening the boys received a token of remembrance from Mrs. Roebuck, whose son Glen was a favorite with the boys, and who is the only member of the brigade who has died.

The Superior folks are getting some spar buoys made to mark the channel near Connors Point. They are about four inches in diameter and about six feet long, made of oak and loaded with iron. "It will either take a search warrant to find them or they will have to be buoyed up with bladders or balloons after they are in the water a few days," said a vessel captain this morning.

MR. COMSTOCK GETS IT.

Public Building Increase Bill is Passed by The House.

What Architect Windrim Says; Local Building Notes.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Representative Comstock toward the last part of the session yesterday afternoon, secured the increase of the appropriation for a public building at Duluth, from $150,000 to $270,000. It was a noticeable thing, especially from the fact that it required unanimous consent to get the bill under consideration, and the house is in a mind not to give this favor to one public building over another. The bill was backed by a report which gave a statement of the growth of Duluth within the past ten years, and the business to be done in a government building.

This gives about $220,000 for the building itself, the site and preliminary plans having cost $20,000. Mr. Comstock introduced the bill some time ago, but was unable to get the increase up to $370,000 as he had hoped. There is no doubt that it will pass the senate.

Thus Says the Architect.

Supervising Architect Windrim of the treasury department, writing to the editor of The Herald, a few days ago, said:

WASHINGTON, May 29, 1890.—I have to advise you that, subsequent to the acquisition of title to the site of the proposed public building in your city, new sketch plans were commenced and nearly completed, but upon the receipt of a petition from the Chamber of Commerce of Duluth, et al, the department decided to suspend the work of preparing the drawings, etc., and to defer all action in regard to the construction of the building until after it could be ascertained whether congress would at its present session increase the limit of cost of the site and building from $150,000 to such amount as may be necessary to provide a more commodious structure to meet the present and prospective demands of the public service at Duluth, and that bills have been introduced in congress contemplating such increase.

As soon as the question shall have been determined by congress, prompt action will be taken in regard to the completion of the drawings, etc., and securing the commencement of the work of constructing the building.

JAS. H. WINDRIM,
Supervising architect.

The site purchased, as most people know, is the north corner of Fifth avenue west and First street. It is a block up the hill from The Spalding hotel, and is on the same avenue as four more of the finest structures in Duluth, the new union station, the Henderson building, The Spalding and the Miller theater and office building. The combined cost of the four buildings in this list, excluding The Spalding as it is completed, will be $1,150,000.

Building Notes.

The contract was let yesterday by Palmer & Hall to contractor Christianson for the new Methodist church at Lester Park. It will cost, complete, about $5,500, and will be a fine structure.

Messrs. M. R. Baldwin and E. L. Bradley will build a fine double dwelling on Second street just west of Seventh avenue west. The stone foundation is already in and work on the superstructure is to be pushed.

Dwight E. Woodbridge will build a handsome $6000 double dwelling on Third street and Tenth avenue west opposite the new central city park.

Brick and stone work on the First Presbyterian church is up to the Superior street line, and all that has been done betokens a most excellent job.

The two handsome dwellings of E. S. Upham and F. B. Daugherty on the upper side of First street beyond Chester brook are enclosed and well along toward completion. They will cost something like $5000 each.

E. P. Alexander has the stone foundation in place for a large and handsome dwelling he is to build on the lower side of Bench street near its eastern end.

City Attorney S. D. Allen is building a new dwelling on First street near Sixteenth avenue east. It is now in frame.

Watterworth & Fee have the contract to build a five-story wholesale store for L. Mendenhall and others at the foot of Sixth avenue. The piles will be driven by Mr. St. Amour and work will be commenced on the superstructure in a few days.

Wangenstein & Roen have completed plans for a residence for Louis Rietz on the corner of Jefferson street and New York avenue.

GENTLEMEN OF DULUTH.

GOOD STYLES will be our text today. Good Styles are simply the result of good taste in selecting garments and articles of apparel which harmonize with the surroundings. Style cannot be governed by rigid rules, but may be as varied as the beauties of nature and is judged from the eyes of the beholder. We have heard remarked, "Clothes do not make the man." Certainly not, MAN makes the CLOTHES, therefore, while the clothes do not make the man, they PROCLAIM the man. See? By your dress you can say, "I am a professional man, a commercial man, or a man of leisure," and each style can proclaim the GENTLEMAN whether the aged and sober-minded or the sentimental youth, and all by their harmony add to the beauties of poetry. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Recently we talked to you of our GOOD GOODS, and now if you will combine our GOOD GOODS with our GOOD STYLES, don't you see, it will be like "killing two birds with one worm."

ON THE EPSOM DOWNS.

The Great English Races Take Place There This Morning.

Brief Notes of the European Situation in General.

LONDON, June 4.—The principal event of the year, the English sporting world, the race for the Derby stakes, will take place at Epsom today. The weather this forenoon is showery, dull and unsettled.

The conditions of the race were as follows: The Derby stakes of 5000 sovereigns for the winner, 300 sovereigns for the owner of the second and 200 sovereigns for the owner of the third; for colts 9 st. and fillies 8 st., £9; for 3-year-olds by subscription of 50 sovereigns each, half forfeit of declaration by first Tuesday in January, 1889, and 10 sovereigns only if declared by the first Tuesday in January, 1889; any surplus to be paid to the winner; about a mile and one-half, starting from the high level starting posts (233 subs., 106 of whom paid 25 sovereigns each, and 63, 10 sovereigns each).

It was won by J. Porter's chestnut colt, Sainfoin, by Springfield out of Sanda. Mr. Lefevre's chestnut colt, Lenord, by Tristan out of LaNece, was second, and the Duke of Westminster's bay colt, Orwell, by Ben D'Or out of Lizzie Agnes, third. There were eight starters.

The road to Epsom Downs has been black with vehicles of all descriptions since early morning. The costermongers were up and out at daybreak and for thence on it was one continuous procession, the magnificent equipages of the nobility mixing indiscriminately with the traps of the tradesmen and the carts of the huckster. The weather is cold and it was an ideal Derby day. The Prince and Princess of Wales, and in fact every member of the royal family in the country save the queen, are on the way. Betting was 5 to 1 on Sam Foin; 4 to 1 on the Beggar and 1 to 2 on Surefoot.

Paris is looking forward to a sensation in the case of the Marquis De Mores. From intimations which have leaked out of official channels of information it is expected that the remarkable history of the marquis will be retold with new and startling revelations as to his connection with anarchistic and other revolutionary conspiracies. Ever since the arrest of the marquis the prosecuting authorities have been assiduous in their efforts to obtain evidence against him, and it is claimed that their efforts have been successful beyond expectation.

The Newfoundland delegates, who are in London in pursuance of the endeavor of their government to induce the home government to freeze France out of all fishing rights and privileges of the Newfoundland coast, are "carrying the war into Africa." The Morning Post having incautiously remarked, in the course of an article on the fishery dispute, that the French had never interfered with British subjects in British waters, an assertion the truth of which is generally admitted here—the delegates have addressed a letter to that paper denying that statement. The denial is couched in very strong, not to say violent language, and is signed by the full delegation.

Fargo Gets Officers.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The President today sent to the senate the following nominations: W. Henry Byars, surveyor-general of Oregon; Nehemiah Davis, receiver public monies at Fargo, North Dakota. Registers of land offices —Chas. Hapgood, at Marysville, Cal.; Waldo M. Potter, Fargo, North Dakota.

Two to Die.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 4.—The governor-general in counsel has declined to extend clemency in the case of Davis, the murderer of Emory, and the prisoner will be hanged at Belleville on June 20. Henry Smith will be hanged at London, Ont., on June 14, for the murder of his wife.

THE COURTS.

The Newspaper Injunction Dissolved; A Fratenburg Divorce; Court Notes.

The Daily News is now the official paper of the city, at least so Judge Mills says. The injunction secured by The Tribune to restrain The News from publishing the council proceedings was dissolved today and it is not likely that an appeal will be taken. The order dissolving the injunction has not yet been filed.

The case of the Wells-Stone Mercantile company vs. Holland & Thompson, a suit to recover on a mechanic's lien is on trial. A transcript of judgment for $179.25 in favor of the plaintiff in the case of A. M. Morrison vs. Alfred Brindiz was filed. Julia May Fratenburgh today filed a suit for divorce from her husband H. E. Fratenburgh. The complainant is 23 and her husband 34 years of age and they were married at Duluth Feb. 21, 1889. She alleges that she has always demeaned herself as a faithful, loving wife, but that he in violation of his obligations as her husband has been guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment on several different occasions, lastly on June 2, when he felled her with a frying pan and then kicked her in a brutal manner. She claims that he is worth at least $8000 and besides an absolute divorce she would like $4000 alimony.

The Lower Court.

The number of bums in the police court was up to the usual notch again this morning. John E. Johnson, a former employe at Peck's mill, was arraigned on complaint of Willis G. Peck who alleges that Johnson with two other men trespassed upon his property and interfered with the other men who were taking the logs out of the water. The case was set for an examination on Saturday. Pat Welch, whose face strongly resembled that of a dying gladiator, was charged with being drunk and disorderly. He went out for fourteen days. Wm. Wilkes on the same charge paid a fine of $12. N. Johnson, C. Hanson, Martin Kelly and George Gockin, plain drunks, received the usual sentence. Hans C. Hanson, a vag, went out for four days. W. J. Green pleaded not guilty to keeping an unlicensed dog and his case was continued until Friday. Johnnie Musso, a bootblack, arrested for fighting was lectured and allowed to go and fight no more.

NUGGETS OF GOLD.

Marvelous Richness of French and Dutch Guiana.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The Herald in a Paramaribo dispatch says: The richness of Guiana cannot be surpassed. It is a veritable El Dorado. Several American firms and corporations holding concessions from the governor of the province are very largely engaged in the production of the precious metal by mining and by purchase from the Bush negroes. But it requires a man of cast iron constitution to get the gold, and then he has to be insured.

No previous account of the mineral wealth of this region has been exaggerated, and long experience as an engineer leads to the confident belief that the district of Surinam has the most valuable placer mines of the world. Gold is found in "the Bush," as it is called, by simply washing one pan of soil from the banks of any creek or tributary which flows into any river either in French or Dutch Guiana.

The women of the Bush negro race are loaded in some cases with nuggets which weigh from five to twelve and fifteen grams, simply used as ornaments for the legs and arms, being strung together only by pieces of common twine or string. It is a common thing to see the higher order of negroes wearing larger nuggets, which any white man can buy if he knows Dutch enough or the language of the Bush negroes, which is called Takitaki.

MAKING A MISTAKE.

They Ought to Come to Duluth With Their Big Concern.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 4.—The Shickle, Harrison & Howard Iron company of this city, who employ about 1000 men in their establishment here, have formed a new company, to be known as the Howard-Harrison Iron company, with a capital of $500,000. They will erect an extensive plant at Bessemer, Ala., and go largely into the pipe making branch of the iron business. They go to Bessemer to be nearer the point of production of pig iron metal and also get the advantage of lower freights than can be obtained here.

Against the Bennett Law.

MILWAUKEE, June 4.—Another gun in the war against the compulsory education of children in the public schools, the teaching of English in the same institutions, and incidentally the reading of the Bible in the schools, was fired today when a mass state convention of Lutherans assembled to consider the Bennett bill. Christian Koerner presided, and every county in the state was represented. In his speech he declared that while the Lutherans were not particularly opposed to compulsory education, nor inclined to deny the right of the state to control child labor, yet they did question the right of the state to dictate what language should be taught. The convention will not nominate a ticket, but will declare for the German language and in favor of non-interference with private or parochial schools. The convention will be in session two days.

Royal Arcanum Meeting.

MILWAUKEE, June 4.—Delegates are pouring in by the thousand to attend the annual meeting of the supreme national council of the royal arcanum which will be in session here for the next ten days. A special train carrying 1000 from Chicago arrived this afternoon and a boat load is on the way over from Michigan. A brief session of the council was held this morning. This afternoon a grand street parade is in progress, and at its conclusion there will be a municipal reception in Scrultz Park. Mayor Peck delivers the address of welcome, Hon. Leigh R. Watts of Virginia responds, Hon. Elihu Coleman speaks a welcome for the state lodge, and Hon. Charles F. Loring, Boston; Hon. Daniel Spry, Ontario; G. A. Skinner of New York, and representatives of half a dozen other states will be among the speakers. The city is handsomely decorated.

Illinois Democratic Convention.

SPRINGFIELD, June 4.—The state democratic convention was called to order at noon in the hall of the house of representatives by State Chairman Delos Phelps, after whose address the usual committees were appointed. The convention will endorse ex-Governor John M. Palmer for United States senator, and the compulsory education measure may be referred to. The platform will declare that, after thirty years of experience with protection, it has been shown that the oft repeated assertion that it raises the wages of the laborer is a falsehood, a delusion and a snare, and that the national result of the system as applied by the republican party while depriving the farmer of the markets of the world for his products at the same time encourages immigration of cheap labor from foreign land to compete for the wages of the American laborer.

Coincident Casualties.

LEADVILLE, Col., June 4.—Scarcely had the city recovered from the shock of the accident at Arkansas Junction, by which two young ladies were drowned, when news was received last night that Engineer Folk, while repairing the pump in the Gallagher shaft of the Mikado company mines, had fallen 209 feet to the bottom and was crushed into a horrible mass. No sooner had the coroner brought the remains to the city when he was called to go to the Antioch mine, where Thomas Flanigan had been blown to atoms by premature explosion and James O'Donnell badly injured. The latter's recovery is doubtful.

Dr. McCosh on Bismarck.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Dr. McCosh, ex-president of Princeton college, read a paper last evening at Columbia college, before the American Institute of Christian Philosophy, on the question: "What effect will the resignation of Bismarck have in allowing full liberty to the churches of Germany?" He believed that there were no hopes of more liberty being granted than existed during the period of Bismarck's supremacy inasmuch as the young Emperor, a man of life and independence, was anxious to be looked upon as the head of the church in Germany.

Beecher's Case Continued.

SEATTLE WASH., June 4.—In the U. S. district court yesterday Judge Hanford refused to dismiss the celebrated cases against Special Customs Agent Beecher of Portland, son of the late Henry Ward Beecher, upon a report of U. S. Attorney Winston that he had been authorized by the department of justice to enter nolle in these cases.

TO UPRAISE THE NEGRO.

Distinguished White Men Discuss the Negro Question.

Ex-President Hayes Makes a Strong Opening Address.

MOHONK LAKE, N. Y., June 4.—The negro conference was opened here this morning with a large number of distinguished men from all parts of the country present. The gathering is the first of its kind and was called to consider the question of Christianizing and educating the colored people. The conference was opened with a brief address by Mr. A. K. Smiley, the proprietor of the Mohonk Lake Mountain house. The following officers were then elected: President, ex-President R. B. Hayes; secretary, Rev. A. H. Bradford, Montclair, N. J.; assistant secretaries, George P. Whittlesey, Washington, and Mrs. Isabelle C. Brown, Boston; treasurer, L. C. Warner, M. D., New York.

Ex-President Hayes then made his opening address, speaking as follows:

The discussion of the topic for this morning, "Industrial Education, What it is and What it Ought to be," was begun by Gen. Armstrong of Hampton institute. He was followed by Rev. Dr. Allen, secretary of the Presbyterian board of missions, and Rev. A. F. Baird, secretary of the American Missionary association. The speakers emphasized the necessity of industrial education as a means for the development of the negro. Three-minute speeches followed from Miss Smiley, Miss Botsum of the Sea Islands, South Carolina; Judge A. W. Tourgee, President Gaines of Eastman college and Professor Hutchinson of Biddle university. John G. Covert, editor of The Cleveland Leader, then read a paper on the negro problem.

Ex-President Hayes said:

Ladies and Gentlemen—What was the thought—what are the facts which led our good friends to invite us to meet at their attractive home? We do not need to go into a lengthy review of the past to find answer. Let the exact condition of the negroes of the United States be known and understood, and every good citizen will surely be persuaded that the American people have a grave and indispensable duty to perform with respect to the millions whose ancestors our fathers brought from Africa. But their welfare and ours are inseparable. These millions must be lifted up or we will be dragged down.

Upon the constitution and the laws and upon their administration, the welfare of the negroes largely depends. This area of duty and of effort will be discussed and dealt with by those who execute the laws, by the press and parties. These agencies, we may hope, will be adequate to the responsibilities. Our Mohonk conference accepts the less conspicuous but hardly less grave place of employing the forces which concern the educational, the benevolent and the religious side. We seek to avoid what-ever is sectarian. If we can adhere to this course, we may expect to do something on this momentous subject towards forming and enlightening that public opinion which, in a land of free institutions, must be regarded as the final sovereign—as, in fact, the government.

We are met with the question: "What are the conditions and prospects of the negroes of the South?" We hear statements which challenge serious attention. In the Southern states are 7,000,000 of colored people, of whom one-half are unable to read and write, and illiteracy means far more than ignorance of letters. There may be gross exaggeration in the tales of the Voodoo paganism which lurks in the cotton and cane-growing districts. There is enough of truth in these statements to call for action. It is safe to conclude that half of the colored population of the South still lack the requirements to make prosperous and intelligent citizenship.

I have referred to the most unfavorable reports as to the condition of the Southern negro. There is another and far brighter side to this picture, and it is full of encouragement. I do not try to tell how much of the gratifying progress of the last twenty-five years is to be credited to the great fact of freedom. But other causes have been at work. A long list could easily be made, reaching possibly to even more than a hundred, of enterprises and notable efforts by religious sects, by educational and benevolent associations, by philanthropic and patriotic individuals. It is the part of wisdom to waste no time in complaint, but to make every judicious effort for the education and Christianity of the negro, for the welfare of the whole country. Our faith is that no sacrifice of comfort, health and life, no humane effort, no money expended was ever more plainly productive of results than the money, the labor and the sacrifices which have been devoted to the uplifting of the colored people.

Our wish and our prayers are that the good work may go on. Hence this Mohonk conference.

Street Railway Men Strike.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 4.—The employes of the consolidated street railway went on strike this morning for an advance. The 250 employes have been getting, conductors $1.70, drivers $1.55 and grooms $1.40 a day of twelve hours, grooms working ten hours. They demanded, conductors 16 cents, drivers 15 cents an hour and barn men $1.50 a day. The company offered an advance of ½ of a cent an hour, which would make an increase of $12,000 a year in total salaries paid employes.

Who Said the C. P. R. had no Interest?

MINNEAPOLIS, June 4.—[Special to The Herald.]—At a meeting of the directors of the Soo road just held the resignation of Thomas Lowry as president was accepted and F. N. Finney was elected to the position. W. C. Vanhorne, president of the Canadian Pacific, and Mr. Finney were elected directors.

An Almost Forgotten Sect.

READING, Pa., June 4.—A two days' love feast of the Drunkard denomination came to a close near Schneiderstown today. The interesting and quaint services of feet washing, Lord's supper, greeting with the holy kiss and communion were observed and over 3000 people were present, including half a dozen bishops and a dozen preachers. Similar love feasts, each attended by several thousands, were also held today at the Chickie meeting house and the Brains farm.

JOINS THE 400.

Wedding of a San Francisco Belle and New York Millionaire.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Jessie Fair, daughter of ex-Senator James G. Fair of this city and Nevada, last night became the bride of Hermann Oelrichs the noted New York club man and millionaire.

The maid of honor was Miss Birdie Fair, sister of the bride, and the best man Surgeon Melanethon L. Ruth, of the United States navy. Archbishop Riordan, assisted by Vicar General Pendergast performed the ceremony and Mrs. Fair, mother of the bride, who was divorced from her husband a few years ago, was present and she was attired in a magnificent gown of silk net, made in Paris with the trosseau, and costing $15,000. The elaborate embroidering of silver and Duchess point lace alone is valued at $5,000, and the pearls upon the elbow sleeves at as much more.

The trosseau provided for the bride has been the talk of Paris, London, New York and San Francisco for months. The bills will aggregate over $150,000. It was Mrs. Mackay who suggested the milliner and dressmaker, and both are claimed to be the most expensive and stylish in the world.

The bridal dress, which was remade three times before it suited the tastes of the bride, is of ivory satin, the front skirt arranged in two deep plaits, each turning towards the middle. The lace drapery over this cost $7000. The train is four yards long, and clusters of orange blossoms run lengthwise on the skirt and four across. The corsage opens in a small V, back and front turning over into a larger V of lace, with overlapping scarf ends in front. Two half moons of lace, delicately wired, finish the neck opening and edge the elbow sleeves, which have high puffs of wired lace.

Although three superb veils of point lace had been sent from Paris the bride discarded them all and enveloped herself in clouds of tulle. Of her thirty gowns which represent an expenditure of $50,000, there is one that is a dream. It is an evening costume of snowy Ottoman silk, with a three-yard train, sleeveless corsage and decolletee. The princess back is studded with pearls, while the foot wide Valencienne lace, which is arranged diagonally cost $6000. Between each flounce of lace is one of silk all terminating high on the right side in a branch of ostrich tips. Ten dinner gowns are in Grecian draperies. There is an afternoon toilet of white moire, a tartan of English cheviot for traveling, a Russian velvet trimmed with solid silver wire arranged in leaves and flowers and with a front of lilac satin studded with small diamonds. A Chinese silk gown for afternoon teas, the brocaded design showing pistache feathers through a filmy net work of lace, a street dress of Prussian blue grenadine with white stripes with a waist of coat effect, and leg o' mutton sleeves, tight and buttoned to the elbow on the inner side, and a tea gown a la Sarah Bernhardt of rosy crepon loose and long, the creamy lace front tied at the waist with a broad pink sash and to be worn with a cap of lace.

No such trosseau has ever been seen on this continent until today.

Has Slept Three Months.

AMBOY, Ill., June 14.—Grace Gridley, the 10-year old daughter of a prominent business man, has been sleeping soundly for nearly two months. She went to bed in her usual health the night of March 15 and could not be roused from sleep the next morning. After sleeping about a week she roused up somewhat, and getting out of bed walked over to a rocking chair, where she immediately went to sleep and has not awakened since. Her cheeks are rosy and breathing regular and her sleep is seemingly as normal as that of an infant. All attempts to arouse her are fruitless. She is fed regularly with liquids. Her case puzzles all the doctors.

Mormon Emigrant Test Case.

NEW YORK, June 4.—One hundred and twenty Mormons arrived at port this morning from Liverpool, under the leadership of Elder Wiley, representing the Union Pacific railroad and Elder Prindle of the Mormon church. The party is en route to Utah. The names and addresses, vouched for by the agents of the steamship company and Elder Wiley, have been taken by Chief Contract Labor Inspector Milholl and a test case will some time in the future be brought into court to decide if Mormons come here in violation of the alien contract law. If the decision be that Mormons are contract laborers in the meaning of the law they will all be sent back to Europe.

IN MEMORY OF LEE.

That color guard without a scar, Brevet-Colonel Shepard of The Mail and Express, and a few imitators are beating a wild rub-a-dub on their snare drums over the recent rebel rising in Richmond to lift the veil from the statue of the greatest soldier of the South, Robert Edward Lee. Editor Shepard has shown before occasional signs of softening of the brain, but never so notably as on this occasion. He is plainly unable to distinguish between a simple memorial service and a new declaration of war on the Union.

Such stuff as he has been dragging from his brain merits no serious notice and should neither impose on the North nor offend the South. It calls only for the forbearing compassion to which budding lunacy is entitled, or else for the silent contempt by which vain splurging is best answered.

No true lover of the Union who was present at the unveiling saw in it the slightest sign of disloyalty to the Union or will recall it otherwise than as a memorable and affecting tribute to a leader who won the love of every follower in his lost cause. It is not to a victor, nor a smiter of the Philistines, nor a martyr in his country's cause that the Lee memorial statue stands, but to the son of Virginia who did what he believed to be his duty whenever and wherever called upon, and in extraordinary achievement and purity of soul holds his place unchallenged in the front rank of the sons whom the Old Dominion loves to honor.

It was not because Robert E. Lee shattered the great armies of the Union, again and again, and for four long years held at bay the seemingly crushing array that closed in about the capital of the Confederacy—a feat at arms unsurpassed, as we believe, in history—not because he, above all others, was the bulwark of the lost cause, that he is honored today. A buried cause calls for no defenders and no glorification, and the Confederacy of seceding states with the lost cause of secession was put under ground twenty-five years ago without hope of resurrection, and has no mourners of any account today.

It is not, then, because Lee shielded the Confederacy so well and struck the Union so hard, as the Shepard in need of a keeper now babbles, that Virginia and her sister states of the South have just joined to do him honor, but because the man, apart from his cause, was without fear and without reproach, a marvel of merit and modesty, a shining light to his followers, a grand general and an American in whom all Americans North as well as South may justly take pride.

The war for the Union is over. The Confederacy is dust. There is no more rebellion, nor thought of rebellion, in the South than in the North. Not once on that memorable day just passed was there a lisp of disloyalty. With every flag that mirrored the dead Confederacy, a living Union flag was sent wined or swung side by side in air. The whole great pageant was the re-turning of a leaf of history, a consciously memorial service. So those who took part in it regarded it. So the orator of the day clearly declared, and only those who blindly or meanly or idiotically distort it can find anything else in it. The oration was in all respects worthy of the occasion, a noble tribute to a noble man, and the statue, we are glad to note, is one of the few works of the kind in the country which does not disfigure the country. It is a memorial which will truly cherish the memory of Lee the great commander.

The school question has come to the front in St. Paul now. The National Educational association is to meet there in July, and the local committee invited Archbishop Ireland to deliver an address before it. President Canfield was notified of the engagement, but canceled it when he learned that the subject of the address would be "The Parochial Schools," under the circumstances an unwise subject, at present. In doing this he made it clear that the objection did not pertain to the archbishop, but to his subject. But notwithstanding this, the president's action has raised a hullabalioo in St. Paul. A dispatch says that nearly half the members of the local committee are Catholics, and that despite the fact that 20,000 teachers were expected to attend the great meeting, preparations for their reception have nearly come to a standstill. Archbishop Ryan, in an interview intended for publication, says: "We now understand that the convention will open in St. Paul as representing exclusively the present state system of schools, and impliedly antagonizing all others. Of course, those who dislike the narrow lines of the convention will withdraw all alliance from it."

A brief note on another page announces the formation of the "Pueblo & Duluth Railway company" a matter of greater importance than the brevity of the statement would indicate. Its line is from Sioux City down southwesterly through Nebraska. It is noticeable that the entire course of this road is westerly of the Banning line, and consequently all its territory is nearer Duluth than any other lake city. The line runs across roads that are tributary to this and through a country that Chicago has always called peculiarly her own. But there is a change in the districting of the West and this road is to prove a factor in the change. It will be probably a more notorious factor than it might, were it not the first to enter a hitherto forbidden field. It will precipitate most bitter fights for existence on the part of Chicago and Missouri roads, but will, in fact must, win in the battle. The Herald has it on most reliable information that the road is not in the interests of the Santa Fe, as was stated, but in that of the Great Northern, with whose Sioux City & Northern line it will connect at Sioux City for Duluth.

We can think of no more astonishing proposition than that of driving steamships over the ocean, big enough to hold their pace in defiance of seas and storms at a speed to rival the speed of rolling trains; yet the temerity of such an idea almost disappears under the success with which it is now being carried out. There are already half a dozen steamers which have made their 500 knots a day, or 580 miles. The steadily increasing number of ships of this class is a sure indication that before long the record will be advanced far beyond 600 land miles a day, even if it is not raised to 700 miles, and the passage between New York and Queenstown brought close to five days, or but a little more time than is now regularly taken by the express to travel the equal distance between New York and California. It is a matter for unpleasant reflection that while the lakes are keeping up their end of the procession in the line of freight vessels that are even in advance of the newer style of freight ships on the Atlantic, there is not a passenger ship from Duluth to Buffalo that in any way compares with such floating palaces as the Normannia, the City of Paris, the Trave or three or four more on the Atlantic run. But this state of affairs will not last long. The Herald is perfectly willing to go on record as predicting that in two years there will be passenger ships on the lakes that will compare favorably, for the service required of them, with the best of Atlantic liners.

SEEN AND HEARD.

Boating parties on the bay increase as the evenings grow warmer. Last evening the small boats on the bay were almost innumerable, and although the weather was slightly threatening it would have been impossible to have a more desirable evening. And what a delightful scene from the bay, the black hill forming a background for the myriads of electric and gas lights, and over to the right the row of lights in Superior cast their reflections in the water, while the Imperial mill loomed up like a monster light house, every window in its six stories glowing as with fire. It is needless to say that the complete enjoyment of the scene was not interrupted by the resonant sounds of the merry fog horn.

* * *

There was a fight up the river Friday afternoon. Not a pugilistic encounter, but a tussle between a dog and a woodchuck; and an audience of six well known Duluthians cheered the animals on. It was a spirited contest. It was first dog, then woodchuck. They rolled and howled, bit and scratched. Turn tall dog, turn tall woodchuck. The excitement was intense. The audience went wild. In the thick of the fray one of the gentlemen in his excitement, stepped too close to the animals, and the dog, taking his calf for the woodchuck took a sample, spoiling a pair of new trousers and incidentally chewing out a piece of flesh. The poor woodchuck gave up the ghost, but only after a hard, bitter struggle, in which his sharp teeth played so prominent a part that his dogship is now laid up for repairs. Perhaps you have noticed an absent pup from one of the uptown hotels.

IN LOBBY AND CORRIDOR.

Mr. Furber, the St. Louis architect, arrived in town last night. He will remain here until the contract for the Union depot is let. "There is no city double its size in the country," said he, "that can compare with Duluth from an architectural point of view."

Even this long-continued bad weather can not lessen the tide of tourist travel, and the hotels are all doing a good business.

There seems to be no particular activity in realty. Up the river property is quiet, the non-action of the Power company being the cause. Sixth division and Bay View lots are selling well.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The London Lancet recommends a beverage made from the new kolanut as a substitute for tea and coffe. It contains very little tannin, not much more caffeine, and its power of rehabilitating after fatigue and allaying the pangs of hunger are such that it might be used by an army.

The Queen dowager of Portugal on one occasion took home from Paris 1000 pairs of shoes. Subsequently she ordered no less than seventy dresses from Worth, which on their way home were lost at sea. Her majesty, no way concerned, sent word to supply seventy duplicates.

The number of gondoliers at Venice has been much diminished since the introduction of steam launches. The few gondoliers left in service, however, are not complaining, as they receive better wages, through lack of competition.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

Thos. Dowse: I found a most excellent feeling existing in the money centers of Europe. In London the bouyancy is remarkable. As I took particular pains to note the condition I think I have got at facts. The same feeling exists in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston. Better times are looked for everywhere and if the silver bill becomes a law, it is agreed on every hand that this country will see such a stir in industrial and commercial growth as not for years. I was not particularly impressed with Paris. I staid too long in London for that. The difference between the two cities is just the difference between a faded and tired soul and a vigorous man, healthy and strong. Then, too, the government educational institutions in London, they are simply superb.

B. F. Shanley: There was not much in the office of building inspector last month, but the coming month bids fair to be a good one.

Chief McQuade: If they haven't got a better jail in Superior than they used to have, the sheriff had better put shackles on Moore and Flaherty.

Col. George E. Welles: It makes me weary when I think of Duluth's miserable street car service. To show you how far we are behind other cities in this respect I will quote to you from the seventh annual report of the Denver chamber of commerce and board of trade just received: "Since the starting of the first car on Dec. 23, 1888, the work of increasing the mileage and carrying capacity has never ceased until there are now in actual operation 407 miles of track, divided as follows: Horse cars, 50; cable, 42; electric, 15." Just think of that and then close your eyes and think of our insignificant four miles of mulelectric line.

THE STATE PRESS.

Sleepy Eye Herald: If we must have a republican governor and must select between McGill and Merriam, give us Mac.

Dodge County Record: It will take lots of washing to make either of the old parties clean enough to pass muster with the Alliance people this fall.

Le Sueur Sentinel: There is a great deal of scattering opposition to Merriam, but it is too cowardly to concentrate and assert itself, and Governor Merriam will therefore be renominated without much of a struggle.

Brainerd Dispatch: There is talk in political circles of placing Senator Clough in the field for nomination as lieutenant-governor on the republican ticket. There are many people in this section who would not be dissatisfied with the selection.

Sad Memories.

"Ah," said the gray-haired wayfarer at the railroad lunch counter, "This is the old place. I recognized yonder landmark at once."

"What landmark?" asked the cashier.

"Forty years ago when I was traveling over this road," continued the stranger, "I carved my initials and date on yonder piece of apple pie. I see you have it yet. Excuse an old man's tears."

The travelers on "The Burlington" have no memories of that kind. Their recollections are of sumptuous meals in those dining-cars which were long ago given the title of "peerless" by their patrons, and they can say with the epicure of olden time—"Fate cannot harm me: I have dined today—(on 'The Burlington' dining-car.")" Other pleasing memories will be of the smooth track, quick time, elegant coaches, and luxurious sleeping-cars. SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings in the neck; which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. HUSTLING FOR BUSINESS.

How One Model Town in the East is Making Hay With a Club.

Showing How a Little Money Can be Made to Go a Long Way.

BOSTON, June 2.—In a letter to The Herald a few days ago, I referred to the organization of commercial clubs or like promoters of business enterprise as a notable feature of the time in the East. In the progressive towns these clubs have already made their mark. The association which is at work for the oldest town in New England, the seaport of Plymouth, is a typical one and its methods and success are well worth studying.

Plymouth, a town of some 7000 people, saw her commerce completely stranded, as I have said. Without crying over spilt milk she set herself to supply the place of her lost shipping. She has done so, and her commercial club is today a main factor in extending her manufacturing and general business interests. This club numbers over 100 active members, including the most pushing young blood of the old town. Its entrance fee is $5 and annual dues $5, payable in advance. It holds regular meetings once a week in the evening, and special meetings on call of the president or executive committee. At these meetings, which are largely attended, matters advancing the growth of the town are taken up and the best practical ways of advancement discussed.

She has only a small fund for use as will be noted, but She pays no salaries and puts every dollar where it will do the most good. She has prepared a compact and cheap circular of four pages, which can be slipped into an ordinary envelope and gives in a nut-shell the attractions of the old Pilgrim town as a point of historic interest, a summer resort, a place of residence and a location for business. This circular is presented to visitors and sent out by the hotels in answer to inquiries, and otherwise carefully distributed.

The leading New England papers are taken by the club and closely read, by its executive committee at least. Whenever there is a note of the burning or closing up of a factory for any cause, or of a possible shift of location, a communication setting forth the advantages of Plymouth as a location for the special business in question is promptly sent to the parties interested, and this letter is usually followed up by some representative of the club, who goes in person to see the parties addressed and put the advantages of locating at Plymouth in the clearest light possible.

So closely and economically spent is the little income of the club, and so anxious are all concerned to make the burden on each member as light as possible, that without running in debt, the club has been enabled to distribute its circulars widely through New England and cover every point of probable shifting of business by letter or personal call and generally by both.

The efforts of the club are ably seconded by the wide awake weekly paper of the town calling attention to any point which might possibly be overlooked, and aiming unhesitatingly at any game, no matter how big, which the small shot of Plymouth can at any rate tickle. Of this lively snap shooting the following is a sample taken from the last issue of this paper.

It is probable that the Singer Sewing Machine company's works will not be rebuilt at Elizabeth. The reason is that taxes are high in Elizabeth. The company had a weekly payroll of $10,000 and employed 3000 hands. Now, if that company is looking for a town with a lower tax rate, and wants other advantages, it is worth while for Plymouth to put its desirable features forward. If Brockton, with its high priced land and with all its cost and freight carried by rail, is at all suited, then Plymouth with its sea port advantages and low priced land, ought to have the lead. Plymouth's connection with New York is not quite so good as Brockton's at present, but the Plymouth & Middleboro railroad, which just now seems to promise well, will fix that all right. The Commercial club can ask anyway. It is the way to get a thing—letting people know you want it.

There is a stack of solid sense in that closing sentence. If you want to get anything make a strike for it in some way, and don't wait for it to drop into your mouth unasked. If you do, in the present hustle all round for plums, you will keep your mouth open till your jaws ache before a chance plum drops in.

So Plymouth thinks and so Plymouth is humping herself in the hunt for plums. During the past eight months through the quick eye and hand of her commercial club, she has scooped in two new and prospering factories, and is counting confidently on more. The same agency has taken up and has carried far already the plans for two new railway lines, one linking Boston via Plymouth by the shortest route to Cape Cod and Buzzard's Bay, the other joining Plymouth directly with Fall River, Providence, and the main stream of travel along the coast between New York and Boston.

Thus by proper use of the club Plymouth is kept wide-awake from end to end, and is bound to get all she can lay her hands on honestly. During the past year the old town had 40,000 visitors, but she wants 40,000 more this summer and is blowing her horn for all comers. And she knows enough not to stand pat on horn-blowing alone. She has little money to spend and none to waste. She cannot afford to give bonuses to locators. But she makes every cent she spends count for something practical, and her noteworthy success with an outlay that could seem to our Western cities ridiculously small, shows what Yankee push and thrift can do in turning a dollar.

When shall we see one go as far in Duluth?

ELIOT LORD.

THE WEST END.

Another Shipyard Accident; Some General News of the Day.

Frank Anderson, an employe at the shipyard while at work yesterday, suffered a severe scalp wound which will lay him up for several weeks.

Eva Bros. are receiving their stock of drugs and are getting ready to open their new store at 1606 West Superior street.

The city should put in crosswalks on Piedmont avenue and Michigan street between Eighth and Thirteenth avenues west before beginning paving so that people can cross the street without carrying several pounds of real estate along.

The social of Christian church at Normanna hall this evening promises to be a very successful one. Everyone should attend who is able.

A Great Northern Extension.

The Pueblo & Duluth Railroad company of Nebraska has filed articles of incorporation. Capital stock is $3,200,000; incorporators are William A. Winant, William H. Capitt, Ralph A. Weill and R. W. Carmen of New York; J. M. Coleman, O. A. Williams, Thomas Marwood, G. E. Miller, D. Hitchcock of Nebraska; and Peter J. Minnahan, M. A. Dunn and John J. Stillson. The proposed line extends from Covington, Neb., opposite Sioux City, southwesterly to the state line. It is understood to be an extension of the Great Northern.

Some Fine Specimens.

McLaughlin & Worden have received from Mining Expert H. L. Ennis a quantity of specimens gathered from the mines on the north shore in the neighborhood of Black bay. The collection composes a large number of pieces of high grade silver, amethyst and quartz crystals and other curious and valuable stones, showing the geological richness of that region.

A Dog Hatchery.

Officer Kobagan, who has been pursuing unlicensed canines for the past month, run upon a veritable "dog hatchery" yesterday afternoon on Eleventh street west, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets. In a short time the officer discovered no less than thirteen dogs, and he thinks he did not find half of them. The owner promised to secure licenses.

Not Wanted in Duluth.

A knight of the green cloth named Moore, who has been plying his vocation in Duluth and Superior for some time, attempted to start a little game last evening at one of the hotels, but was brought up short by the detectives. This morning Chief McQuade told him that people of his kind were not wanted in Duluth, and he was only sorry that he did not have cause enough against him to punish him. He promised to leave the city and was allowed to go.

Four-Pound Trout.

Jay C. Howard stands a good chance for The Herald prize fishing outfit. Yesterday he caught in a north shore stream six trout the largest of which weighed four pounds and the smallest about one pound.

The Time is Short.

Mr. Zimmerman, manager for "Jim," the half man and half horse, announces that on account of his engagement with a circus, his stay in Duluth has been cut short, and tomorrow will be positively the last day. "Jim" is without doubt the greatest living freak, and during his short stay here has been seen by thousands of sightseers. He must be seen to be appreciated. He can not stand erect, but runs, gallops, trots and paces exactly like a horse. He is human, however, and converses fluently. Exhibition tent opposite gas office, Third avenue west.

The Preventive of a Terrible Disease.

No disorders, excepting the most deadly forms of lung disease, involve such a tremendous destruction of organic tissue as those which fasten upon the kidneys. Such maladies, when they become chronic—and none are so liable to assume that phase—completely wreck the system. To prevent this terrible disease recourse should be had, upon the first manifestation of trouble, to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which experience has proved to be highly effective as a means of imparting tone and regularity to the organs of urination, as well as to the liver, stomach and bowels. Another beneficial result of this medicine, naturally consequent upon its diuretic action, is the elimination from the blood of impurities which beget rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, dropsy, and other maladies. By increasing the activity of the kidneys, it augments the depurative efficiency of these organs, which are most important outlets for the escape of such impurities.

THE NORTH STAR STATE.

Commencement Exercises at Two of Her Noted Colleges.

The University and Hamline; Collection of State News.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 4.—[Special to The Herald.]—This is commencement week at the state university and at Hamline. Both have had very prosperous years, the university especially so, it having been metropolitan enough to increase its enrollment of students to over 1,000.

Yesterday was class day at the university, and last evening at 8 o'clock occurred the great social event of the year, the senior promenade. About 1300 tickets of admittance were issued, thus restricting the jam of former years to a comfortable crowd of jolly dancers. The committee on the promenade consists of Frank Covell, chairman; Max West, Birney Tarsk, W. H. Hoyt, O. K. Richardson, A. W. Shaw, Burt E. Lum. The disgraceful scenes enacted in the cloak rooms last year were avoided and the sum of 25 cents was charged for checking. Dorsett furnished light refreshments under the balcony. The first hour was given up to four promenades, after which a program of twenty-four numbers was carried out. The floor was in charge of seven seniors.

Today the regular annual meeting of the alumni was held in the ladies' parlor at 10 a. m., when officers were elected and other business of importance transacted. In the evening the alumni will banquet at the Holmes hotel. The banquet will occur at 9.30, preceded by an informal reception beginning at 8. There will be several post prandial speakers, prominent among whom is Judge Mahoney, '77. Dr. W. E. Leonard, '76, will officiate as toastmaster. A large attendance is expected.

The University Fellowship association will also meet and confirm the appointment for the fellows in the class of '90. The officers at present are: President John Goodnow, '79; secretary, James Gray, '85; treasurer, F. B. Snyder, '80; vice president, C. J. Rockwood, '79; directors, E. C. Gale, A. H. Hall, W. E. Leonard, J. B. Hawley and Percy R. Benson.

At Hamline last evening Rev. O. H. Tiffany, D. D., of Minneapolis, gave the address before the united literary societies. This morning field day contests were held on the college campus. The annual meeting of the board of trustees was held and the annual alumni meeting occurred. The graduates will hold their exercises in the chapel and on the campus. Thursday comes the annual commencement.

Minnesota Odd Fellows.

The state lodge of Odd Fellows began its thirty-eighth annual session at Excelsior with attendance representing 170 lodges. Past Grand Master E. R. Perkins, made the address of welcome and Grand Master Sprague responded. Mrs. Etta Nye responded in behalf of the Rebekah degree. The net increase in membership during the year was 1212 or 15¼ per cent. The total revenue of lodges was $126,911, an increase of $12,474 over last year; pro rata receipts $14 per member; current expenses $50,940 or $5.56 per member; total amount of relief granted $15,429 or at the rate of $1.68 per member. The assets of the order in Minnesota amount to $431,235.68.

State Notes.

The following pupils graduated from the state school for the deaf at Faribault yesterday: James H. O'Leary, Delano, Wright county; Bertha Dahlke, Hokah, Houston county; Etta M. Oryall, St. Paul; Pauline Peterson, Warner, Kandiyohi county.

Redwood Falls, Minn., is to have a new hotel.

David R. Shannon, superintendent for the Taylor-Craig company, was found dead in his room with a bullet hole in his left breast. It was evident that it was a deliberate case of suicide. Shannon was a married man, possessed of considerable property, but owing to his violent temper and loose habits, his wife left him a few weeks ago. Their home at South Park was closed up and Shannon rented a room on West Seventh street. He was seen alive on Sunday last, but since that day his room has been locked and no one has seen him.

Michael Summer, general merchant and miller at New Prague, Minn., has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. The liabilities are $110,000 and assets $100,000.

RID OF A PAIR.

Two Tough Criminals Now in the Hands of the Authorities.

Moore and Flaherty, two of the three men arrested for attempting to "shove queer money" in Duluth and later identified as the men who robbed John Currie's house in West Superior and outraged Mrs. Currie were taken to West Superior today, and Duluth is well rid of a precious pair.

Incidentally it might be well to remark that the officers can not be too watchful of them as they are not only desperate criminals, but it is also known that they have pals on the outside who are now in Superior. Sheriff Wickstrom of Douglass county arrived in the city this morning bringing with him requisition papers from the governor of Wisconsin and also an order from Governor Merriam to Sheriff Sharvy to deliver the prisoners to the Wisconsin authorities. As there is abundant proof to convict both of the men on the other side of the bay, the charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses in Duluth was withdrawn and the men were taken to Superior this afternoon.

The prosecuting attorney of Douglas county who accompanied the sheriff informed Chief McQuade that he had plenty of proof against the men, and he felt confident of settling both of them for at least fifteen years.

A MORNING FIRE

And a Narrow Escape; The Loss is But Small.

An incipient fire, which came near resulting in the loss of life, occurred in S. Gelhaar's apartments in the second story at No. 209 West Superior street this morning about 5 o'clock. Mr. Gelhaar has an establishment for repairing furs and blocking hats, and lives in the rear of the factory. The fire is believed to have been caused by a lamp explosion, and when Mr. Gelhaar and his wife awoke the room was filled with smoke, which was so dense that they became bewildered, and were only rescued through the timely arrival of Chief Hafey. The loss to stock will not be over $300, with insurance of $1000. No damage was done in Wieland's shoe store under the factory.

TEMPLE OPERA NOTES.

The McLean-Prescott engagement opens at Temple Opera Friday evening in "Virginius," Sheridan Knowles' tragedy. Mr. McLean will be remembered by Duluth theater goers as the leading support for Booth, with whom he made a great success. His magnificent physique and deep ringing voice make him an ideal tragedian. His skill in acting is said to have markedly improved since his last appearance in this city, and now he appreciates the value of repose, as well as force in his depiction of character. Saturday evening "As You Like It" will be played.

TO FISHERMEN.

A Chance to Get a Splendid Trout Outfit; Sporting News.

As an incentive to fishermen and to further a manly sport, The Herald offers a split bamboo pole, click reel and fine trout line, secured from the fine stock of Boyce & Totman, corner of Fourth avenue and West Superior street, and guaranteed by this firm to be all represented, to The Herald subscriber securing, between May 19 and the end of the legal trout season, the largest brook trout caught by rod and line.

If possible, the fish must be weighed by a Herald representative, and all weights not seen must be guaranteed and vouched for by witnesses or on the affidavit of the catcher. The prize will be exhibited in Boyce & Totman's window after today. Call and take a look at it, then go out and catch a trout that will bring you this splendid outfit.

ASSIGNEE SALE.

Duluth People to be Given a Benefit in Boots and Shoes.

The creditors of Moulton, Myers & Co. of Chicago, who failed last week, have left on their hands nearly $40,000 worth of footwear, and have decided to give the people of Duluth and vicinity a benefit. On Thursday next this immense stock will be placed on sale at 307 Superior street west, at prices that cannot fail to move them rapidly. It is not a stock of cheap, shelf-worn goods, but goods manufactured for the best trade of the insolvent firm, and will be sold at less than manufacturers' cost. Remember the place and date, and don't miss it if you would save big money.

Interesting Crop Reports; Expert John Inglis' Opinion.

From all points in the Northwest continue to come most favorable crop reports and news of abundant rains. Gautier D. St. Croix returned this morning from a tour of inspection as far as Valley City, Dak., Crookston, Winnipeg Junction, and is exceedingly enthusiastic over the outlook. "The rain was general all through that district, last Sunday night," he said to The Herald, "and must have averaged fully one inch. Indications point to an increased acreage. On every hand is expressed universal satisfaction as to the present crop condition, and from my personal observation I think the enthusiasm is justified."

In South Dakota.

ABERDEEN, S. D., June 4.—[Special to The Herald.]—There has been more rain in this section in the past two days than at any time in the last three years. Crops are looking excellent, and the farmers in a radius of 50 miles are very much pleased over the prospects. The ground is soaked and sand storms have cleared. Grain coming up finely.

On the Northern Pacific

TOWER CITY, June 4.—[Special to The Herald.]—It commenced raining Sunday at 7:30 p. m., and rained hard for about three hours and five inches of water fell. There was also a light rain last evening. Grain is in excellent condition. Wheat stooling rapidly.

The Local Market.

The local market today was comparatively quiet, but steady after the opening, which was ¼ below Tuesday's close. A slight break occurred early in the day, caused by weakness in other markets and the report that Hutchinson was selling in Chicago, again firming up on buying. The range brought out was 93¾ to 93, duly closing at 93 ¼ bid, as did also August. One car No. 1 northern sold at 89 and another on track at 90.

CROP PROSPECTS.

What John Inglis, the Crop Expert, Says About It.

The Chicago Herald, in an article on the crop condition, lays great stress on the reports of John Inglis, lately of this city, who is probably the best crop expert in the country. It says: "Inglis, all through the first half of April, belittled the reports from Indiana, which really started wheat on its advance. His explanation, however of his position then rather adds to than detracts from the weight of his reports now. He says that anybody who in early April declared wheat killed by frost guessed at the damage, as no living man was in a position to make an honest positive statement. He thought the roots all right then. It was, however, the one time when the the crop-killer was right in his guess. Inglis says that now it is not guessing, and declares that never before has he seen such widespread ruin. He risks his reputation upon the estimate that the winter wheat yield will not be over 200,000,000 bushels, against 332,000,000 last year. The statement sounds very sensational. But Mr. Inglis is capable of intelligently, estimating the damage and all through April and May he has been doubling and redoubling over the winter wheat states. It is not likely that he is deceived. It is hardly likely that a man with his reputation, making his living because of his success in telling the crop results in advance, would distort the facts. Then if he is not mistaken the crop situation is worse a good deal than any speculator believes it; a good deal worse than the prices presuppose it."

FROM WEST DULUTH.

The City's Electric Light Plant; General News Notes.

S. K. Duff, the manager and proprietor of the Superior Steam Forge works, died suddenly this morning shortly before noon, at the Euclid hotel in Superior, of heart disease. It is a strange coincidence that the first test of the machinery of the new works was being made at the time of Mr. Duff's sudden death. Mr. Duff came to West Duluth from Ohio, about three years ago, and brought the forge works with him. They were worked at West Duluth a year, but not being particularly successful, were sold out to Old Superior boomers for a large sum.

The Electric Light company has secured block 121, across the railroad track from Duncan & Co.'s lumber office, as a site for the new plant. Orders have been placed for machinery. The engine and boilers will be made by the Iron Bay company. The first outlay will amount to about $15,000. The contract with the city calls for the erection of thirty lights on the start.

The annual meeting of the Congregational society will take place tomorrow evening at the church. Rev. C. C. Salter and E. M. Noyes of Duluth will be present and will be called upon for remarks.

Foreman Duggan of the Car works blacksmith shop leaves tomorrow for a short visit with his family at Huntington, W. Va.

Saeger & Gunness lit fires today on their first kiln of brick. About 250,000 will be burned in this kiln.

All of the foremen at the Car works have been retained on duty, which is good evidence that the works will be running again in a short time.

The Young Peoples society of the Lutheran church has adopted the constitution and by-laws. Rev. Dahl is taking an active interest in the upbuilding of the society, and it promises to be a very successful organization. It already has a membership of thirty-three.

Marine Notes.

The Wolf & Davidson Dry-dock company has contracted to build for Thomas Davidson a steamer of even larger dimensions than the Fred Pabst. Work has already begun on the model, and it will not be long before the keel is laid. The contract does not require her to be ready for sea before May 1, 1891. The dimensions will be: Length of keel, 300 feet; length over all, 318 feet; moulded depth, 24 feet; beam tapering from 42 feet forward to 40 feet aft; capacity on present stage of water, 2900 tons of ore.

The second steel steamer from Congressman Wheeler's shipyard at West Bay City will be launched tomorrow. She will be named the George C. Hollister and will be owned by the Hollister Transportation company of Rochester, N. Y. Her keel is 300 feet long and her cost $220,000. The first steel ship of the yard was the Chicago.

GENTLEMEN OF DULUTH.

GOOD STYLES will be our text today. Good Styles are simply the result of good taste in selecting garments and articles of apparel which harmonize with the surroundings. Style cannot be governed by rigid rules, but may be as varied as the beauties of nature and is judged from the eyes of the beholder. We have heard remarked, "Clothes do not make the man." Certainly not, MAN makes the CLOTHES, therefore, while the clothes do not make the man, they PROCLAIM the man. See? By your dress you can say, "I am a professional man, a commercial man, or a man of leisure," and each style can proclaim the GENTLEMAN whether the aged and sober-minded or the sentimental youth, and all by their harmony add to the beauties of poetry. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Recently we talked to you of our GOOD GOODS, and now if you will combine our GOOD GOODS with our GOOD STYLES, don't you see, it will be like "killing two birds with one worm."

In the big farmyard of life,
Be not like a rain-soaked chicken;
Be a rooster in the strife.
—SELAH.

THE CHICKEN-HEARTED MAN who has no recollection of the past or hope in the future cannot be expected to appreciate and take advantage of the opportunities that are daily presented to him. The result is, they see their neighbors buying and selling West Duluth property and gathering unto themselves gold and silver. They are doing it in Sixth Division laboring man and capitalist. This property presents the opportunity of a lifetime to many that read this. Come to our office and we will gladly go with you and show you this desirable property, thus enabling you to make you selections on the ground.

Should you desire other locations for any reason, then look at some Carlton Place lots near woolen mills at $350, $100 cash; or West End Addition lots, within three blocks of West End depot, at $400 each, one-third cash, balance one and two years; only a few left. Clinton Place at $350 each, one-third cash; Dodge's Addition at $350 and $400, one-third cash—are great bargains. We make a specialty of business property and can sell you fine Central and Grand avenue lots at prices that will yield 100 per cent per mo. Do you want Fourth avenue lots? We can fit you out with a pair at $1200, another at $1500. Broadway is not one-half appreciated by you or you would take a fine pair which we can sell for $2000, a finer pair at $2100 and a bonanza at $2200. Call at our office for anything that you want in West Duluth. If you want to sell, give us a list with prices, terms and 5 per cent commission and we will furnish the customer.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan—one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

WAS AN ENGLISH SCHEME.

The Lower Californian Colonization was for England.

That Country was to Step in and Extend a Protectorate.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 5.—The investigation being made into the proposed filibustering expedition against Lower California continues to reveal startling facts, with which a new phase is now put upon the affair.

From the evidence furnished by the agents of the Mexican Land & Colonization company, it appears that the president of the company had in view a plan to annex the peninsula to the British empire by pursuing the same policy that was followed by the East India company when Great Britain acquired possession in Asia. It was designed to colonize Lower California and secure concessions from the Mexican government and then to provoke a strife and foment dissensions. English capital and English interests would then be jeopardized and the intervention of the mother country was to be invoked.

In proof of this, the statements of the agents of the company substantiated by documentary evidence, has been secured. Major Scott, manager of the company, assured the filibusters that English men-of-war would be in the vicinity of Ensenada skirting the coast when the new republic was to be declared. As soon as the declaration of independence of the new government had been proclaimed, the war vessels were to enter the harbor and recognize the new nation. Scott also stated that the nucleus of the armory was already in Lower California stored in a warehouse of the English company at Ensenada. Three cases of rifles were shipped to Ensenada, billed to the English company some time ago. Major Scott supposed that after the republic had been established the United States government would join with the Mexican government in suppressing the invaders, then Great Britain would be appealed to, to protect the interests of her subjects, and would establish a protectorate over the peninsula.

This, up to the present development, is as far as Major Scott is implicated in the affair. This much is easily proven by the correspondence over his own signature. It all goes to show that Major Scott was only using the American conspirators, Smith, Merrill, Worthington and others to give the plot an appearance of being an American movement.

ARIZONIANS WOULD FIGHT.

They Don't Propose to Have Indians Roaming With Guns.

TUCSON, Ariz., June 5.—The reported killing by the Indians of a man and two children near Pantano is unfounded. The alarm was caused by a band of eighteen Apaches who are off the San Carlos reservation with passes hunting and gathering cactus fruit. They have been seen in the vicinity of Pantano and north and east of Tucson several times during the last ten days. They are all armed and the recent killing of Hardie at Rucker canon has excited the ranchers, miners and others. It is believed by some stockmen on the San Pedero that Kid and his band are with these bands from the reservations endeavoring to strengthen his forces. There is much feeling expressed against the policy of allowing the Indians to leave the reservation on pasees especially if they are armed, for the ranchers, miners and travelers have no means of knowing whether they are hostile or friendly. A large party of citizens of Tucson, ranchers and stockmen are organizing to interview a band near here, and it will have to return to the reservation or fight within the next few hours. The people are determined to keep them on their reservation.

A Brave Lochinvar.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 5.—Harry Goodwin and Cora Skinner, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., ran away yesterday to get married. They found Squire Sterling was at Elizabethtown, Ohio, just 200 yards over the state line. As they reached the squire's the girl's father could be seen in the distance and hurrying on horseback. Sterling grasped the situation, told the lovers to grasp hands and run for Indiana as the license was not good in Ohio. The three scrambled over fences, crossing the line. The squire stumbled and fell, but had just sufficient breath to pronounce the words, and the angry father galloped up too late. A large crowd witnessed the race, and cheered the bridal couple. The father left without bestowing his blessing.

At Mohonk.

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y., June 5.—This was the second day of the negro conference. After the opening exercises, Mr. H. O. Houghton of Boston read extracts from letters of regret from prominent men in different parts of the country, and Dr. Gales, president of Rutgers college, announced the program. The discussion on "The home life of the negro in the black belt of the South" was opened by Miss Emerson, secretary of the Bureau of Womans Work of the American Missionary society. She was followed by President Woldworth of Tongaloo university, Mississippi, and by Rev Dr. Pitzer of Washington and Virginia.

Fast Time on the Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The steamer City of Peking arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohama, last night, being fifteen days, two hours, the fastest time ever made by this steamer. She brought 102 Chinamen in the steerage. Count and Countess Yumada of Japan, were among the cabin passengers.

Improving the Phonograph.

ELMIRA, N. Y., June 5.—Frank E. Bundy of this city has invented a glass trumpet for the phonograph. Mr. Edison made trumpets from various metals, but had to acknowledge them all imperfect. The addition of Mr. Bundy's trumpet to the phonograph results in a perfect reproduction of the sound.

CHINA'S RAILWAYS.

Probability that the Plan for a Great Road Will be Adopted.

NEW YORK, June 5.—J. H. Ferguson minister from the Netherlands to China, is in the city and said today: "The plan of a great railway system for China is now before the emperor and a favorable decision is hoped for. The plan consists chiefly of recommendations from the governors of the different provinces, and it has the support of Li Hung Chang, the high imperial commissioner for foreign affairs. Li Hung Chang's views are very liberal with regard to the opening of China, and this leads us to hope that he will be successful.

"The central idea of the proposed scheme is the connection of Pekin with the capitals of the provinces. The first step would be to extend the road already in existence from Tientsin, the seaport town of Pekin, to Pekin itself. This road runs from Taku, at the mouth of the River Peiho, connecting the Kaiping coal mines with the shipping ports on the Peiho."

ROYAL ARCANUM.

The Milwaukee Session; Program of the Day's Proceedings.

MILWAUKEE, June 5.—When the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum reassembled this morning, Supreme Secretary Robson presented his thirteenth annual report. This document, which was a voluminous one, showed that the order has now 103,000 members, and is growing at the rate of 1500 monthly. The aggregate of death benefits paid since the organization of the society is $13,000,000, while the monthly receipts are now close to $180,000 monthly.

This afternoon a report from the committee on laws will recommend a rearrangement and codification of the laws of the order. It will also urge that the section of the constitution making it compulsory to notify each member when and for what purpose an assessment is made be abrogated. This change is favored because it is very often difficult to prove that a member has received his notification, which is necessary to constitute sufficient grounds for expelling a member for non-payment of his assessments. The proposition, however, will meet with very considerable opposition.

Gladstone and Dillon.

LONDON, June 5.—While nine-tenths of the members of the house of commons were witnessing the Derby yesterday John Dillon and Mr. Gladstone were engaged in an exchange of views of the Irish situation at Hawarden. It was Mr. Dillon's first visit to the premier who drew his visitor into a long conversation touching the changes which had taken place in Ireland in recent years and the causes thereof. Mr. Gladstone displayed a surprising degree of specific information in his manner of putting his questions.

Elected the Wrong Man.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 5.—The police department of the city is in an ugly tangle and serious results may follow. Police Prosecutor Corcoran, elected on a reform ticket to close Sunday saloons, has been on a spree for days, and only last week had to be taken from the Latonia racecourse. The affairs of his office are in bad shape, and the discovery has been made that over 100 prisoners in the work-house have been illegally committed by him and can be released at once. Police Judge Ermeston is greatly worried over the illegal commitments.

Hetty Won't Like It.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Hetty Green will in the course of a few weeks receive a practical exemplification anent the old adage "a biter bit." For years she has been holding enormous quantities of vacant land on the West Side of this city, declining to either improve or sell in the hope that some day or another local conditions might bring it up to fabulous prices. Now, however, Assessor Cantwell has determined to double the assessment on all property owners who will neither build or sell. This decision will cost Mrs. Green a good many thousands of dollars, and when she finds her tax bills doubled up next month it is thought that she may be willing to do something with acres of property that is now nothing but an eye sore to the improved residence districts in which it is loonted.

New York's Olive Branch.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Chauncey Depew arrived here by special train from New York this morning. Tonight he will speak to an immense audience at the Auditorium, taking as his subject "The World's Fair." In a measure this is taken as the holding out of the olive branch by the New York World's fair committee to its successful competitor. After the lecture Mr. Depew will be tendered a magnificent banquet by a number of prominent citizens. Covers will be laid for 200 guests and the cost exclusive of wines will be $20 a plate.

Preparing For the Campaign.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 5.—The democratic state central committee is in session here today for the purpose of initiating the fall campaign. The legislative districts are to receive particular attention, and no nominations will be made until the republican candidates are in the field. It is probable that the committee will decide upon the Australian system of voting in districts where primaries are ordered.

Alas for Chartreuse.

PARIS, June 5.—LaGrand Chartreuse, the famous monastery in the department of Isere, fourteen miles from Grenoble, has been much damaged by the explosion of a quantity of dynamite. The dastardly outrage was the work of design and is believed to have been done by persons living in the locality who took that means of venting their anger at the failure of an attempt made by them to extort blackmail from the monks in charge.

An Embezzler's Prospects.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Unless a new treal is granted to Gen. Clausen, ex-president of the Sixth National bank, and who was convicted last week of embezzlement, he may go to the pen for the rest of his natural life. He was convicted on five counts of the indictment, and it is now discovered that on each he can be sentenced to ten years, or half a century in all.

Kept in Type From Year to Year.

BALTIMORE, June 5.—The peach outlook on the Maryland and the Delaware peninsula is a gloomy one. Last year it was a failure, and this season the most hopeful estimates of the growers indicate about one-fourth of an average crop. It is said that several large growers have determined to abandon the business. The rot has also affected the apples, pears and damsons in the same section.

MORE STORMS COMING,

But Those That Have Just Passed Are Not at All Weak.

The Northwest Visited; Much Damage to Stock and Farms.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—A storm of great severity is central in northern Iowa. Gales and severe local storms are indicated in Indiana, Illinois, lower Michigan, eastern Iowa and southeastern Wisconsin. Colder weather may be expected in all but the southeast Atlantic states and eastern Florida by midnight Friday.

DES MOINES, June 5.—Reports received at the railroad offices in this city say that the Milwaukee and Rock Island railroads sustained severe losses at Weston, Underwood and Persia, and all trains are suspended on both roads. A fast stock train on the Illinois Central plunged into a washout today with seven carloads of cattle, over 100 head being killed. The storm about Adair was the worst ever known there. Heavy clouds rolled up from the northwest in the evening, and by 10 o'clock the wind was blowing a hurricane and the rain fell in blinding sheets. Corn was badly washed out and orchards and gardens ruined in many places. A barn near Anieta was struck by lightning and a valuable horse consumed. One farmer near there lost eight head of large pigs by their being washed out of the pen into a creek. A German farmer Northwest of Adair, whose residence and out buildings are located on the low lands, lost sixty head of hogs by drowning. His barn, corn crib, hay stacks and fences were carried away and three feet of water stood in the residence, driving the family to the upper story.

John Cook, living east of Casey, had a $2000 stallion drowned in the Middle river and came near losing his own life. No lives were lost in this vicinity. A terrible electric and rain storm passed over Ackley at an early hour yesterday. A cloud burst occurred and water fell in sheets for several hours. Beaver creek, half a mile north, is a raging torrent. Bridges and culverts on railroads and highways are washed out. Cattle, horses and hogs were swept from pastures, and corn fields are badly washed out. The damage will be great, but its extent is not yet known.

A GENERAL STORM.

Further Reports of the Storms Make Them Universal in the Northwest.

MOUNT CARROLL, Ill., June 5.—This city has been practically shut off from the world since Tuesday. Plum river has been swollen by the rains until it is higher than it has been in twenty-eight years. Crops are flooded and the damage will amount to thousands of dollars.

DECORAH, Ia., June 5.—Heavy rains prevailed Tuesday night and yesterday throughout northeastern Iowa and western Wisconsin where the Milwaukee road east of McGregor is washed out. The Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern also has heavy washouts near Union. Three hundred feet of track is washed away and the water over the old grade is twenty feet deep. No trains came through yesterday.

RED WING, Minn., June 5.—The streets have been flooded, sidewalks carried away and much damage done to private property. A long stretch of the St. Paul road was washed out near Eggleston, and the Duluth, Red Wing & Southern is running no trains because of breaks in its tracks.

ZUMBROTA, Minn., June 5.—A waterspout struck this place and inundated the town. Dry Run, running through the village, swelled to a raging torrent and took everything with it—barns, houses and stock. A number of horses and cattle were drowned. Several dwelling houses were moved from their foundations and one taken down stream and struck the railroad bridge. No lives were lost. One family had to be rescued on rafts. The Zumbrota is the highest ever known.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Forecast till 8 a. m. Friday: For Minnesota, North and South Dakota: Rain, followed by fair weather; cooler; frost tonight in North Dakota; northerly winds. Storm signals are displayed on Lakes Michigan and Superior and cautionary from Cleveland to Alpena.

Alabama Republicans.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 5.—Before adjourning the republican state convention adopted a platform endorsing the administration of President Harrison and declaring in favor of a protective tariff. An increase in the coinage of silver is advocated and the "compound lard" bill is denounced. A more liberal system of education is favored and the passage of a national election law requested.

Orleans in Brussels.

BRUSSELS, June 5.—The Duke of Orleans, who was released from the Clacivaux prison in France on Tuesday night and conducted to the Swiss frontier, arrived in this city this morning. He was met at the railway station by one of the royal carriages and conveyed to the palace, where he took breakfast with King Leopold.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

The Congregational union has practically decided to hold an international conference in London next summer, and the invitations will be issued in a few weeks. The United States will be apportioned 100 delegates, 100 will represent England, and another 100 the rest of the world.

The sub-committee of the house committee on judiciary, and which for several weeks has been looking into the matter of fees charged by United States marshals and districts attorneys, has decided to carry its enquiries into several states not contemplated in the original resolution. It is said that the enquiry has so far resulted in sensational developments regarding over charges, and that the result of its investigation will be that many of the items now admitted in the enormous bills of expenses presented to the government will be eliminated. The methods employed by commissioners of circuit courts, many of whom, it is charged, are in collision with the marshals will also be looked into.

Postmaster Hale of Minneapolis.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The President today nominated Wm. D. Hale as postmaster at Minneapolis, Minn.

IN WASHINGTON.

The Silver Bill in the Senate; In the House; Capitol Notes.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The following bills were reported from committees and placed on the senate calendar this morning: Senate bill giving the Chicago, Kansas & Nebraska Railway company power to sell and convey to another railway company its right of way and franchises in the territory of Oklahoma and the Indian territory.

The silver bill was taken up and Mr. Hiscock addressed the senate in opposition to the free coinage of silver. He believed that a majority of the people were opposed to the opening of the mints of the United States to the free coinage of the world's silver. In his judgment the national conventions of both political parties would, by decisive majorities repudiate such a proposition. The last democratic national convention had ignored the question altogether, and the republican nationdl convention (if the proposition had been submitted to it) would have rejected it by an overwhelming majority.

The secretary of state has received a dispatch from the United States legation at Rio de Janeiro announcing that the cabinet has passed a resolution enthusiastically approving the action of the International American conference in recommending arbitration in all questions of difference between the several governments of America.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Mr. McKinley reported a resolution providing that the house shall proceed immediately to the consideration of the silver bill and that the consideration shall continue until Saturday at 3 p. m, when the previous question shall be considered as ordered. The previous question having been ordered on the resolution forty minutes debate was allowed.

Mr. Blount of Georgia, had no objection to the time limited for debate. But he was informed that the chairman of the committee on coinage, weights and measures would be allowed to offer an the amendment, which were admissable under the rules of the house. Where these were offered there would be left no opportunity to the minority to offer any amendments. There would be given no opportunity on the part of the minority to ask the house to vote on the free coinage of silver. At the republican caucus last night, there had been much discussion and it was necessary to whip in the friends of free silver, by means of this resolution. It was a wicked, shameful outrage on the minority. There were many men on the other side of the chamber who would vote for free silver but for fear of the President. The President was in accord with the secretary of the treasury. and both were in accord with Wall street.

The resolution making the bill a special order was adopted: Yeas, 120; nays, 117. Mr. Blount voted in the affirmative and moved a reconsideration.

The motion to reconsider was tabled: Yeas, 124; nays, 118.

A BUILDING SINKS.

A Subterranean Torrent Undermines an Ohio Man's Farm.

SPRINGFIELD, June 5.—Last night the family of Christopher Menzel, a German truck gardener living about three miles south of this place, was awakened by the sound of a heavy fall and a subsequent violent trembling of the earth. Rushing out of the house in affright, they found that a large outbuilding had disappeared and in the spot where it had stood gaped a cavity fully fifty feet in length and nearly that in breadth. A sound of rushing water tumbling and plunging over rocks and down a precipice was distinctly to be heard, and in approaching the brink of the hole icecold spray was to be felt.

The outbuilding, which had evidently been submerged, had contained, besides any quantity of garden seed, twenty or thirty sacks of oats and millet, five grown pigs and fourteen young ones, a buggy and truck cart, all of which had disappeared before Mr. Menzel reached the spot. When morning dawned one of the pigs could be seen standing on a rock, the flat top of which rose above the dark rushing torrent, and after some difficulty was finally rescued. The stream, as nearly as can be measured, is at least 100 feet wide, although only about 20 feet of its width is visible, and only thirty of its length, for it plunges suddenly out of sight and is lost in the depths below.

The trembling of the earth still continues, and Mr. Menzel has removed his family and goods, fearing that more will cave in. Crowds have visited the spot today, but all approach to it is esteemed so dangerous that no attempt has been made to guage the depth of the cavity. Eighteen hours have elapsed since it was made and there is as yet no diminution apparent in the stream, which is probably fed by some inexhaustible source.

AN AMERICAN VESSEL.

The Bucki Is Burned off the Atlantic Coast.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The steamer Nacoochee, from Savannah, which arrived today, reports that on the 3d inst. latitude 33.08, longitude 78.31, she sighted a vessel on fire. The Nacoochee fell in with the burning vessel's crew of thirteen men and one woman, in an open boat and picked up the crew and their boat. The vessel was burned to the water's edge. The steamer did not go to her.

The burned vessel was the steam schooner Louis Bucki, from New York May 30, for Jacksonville, Fla., with coal oil and general merchandise. Capt. Hansen stated that after laboring several hours in an attempt to get it under control, the crew were forced to abandon the vessel and only one of the boats could be got at. The Bucki was a three masted steam schooner with 471 tons burden. She was built at Middle Haddam, Mass., in 1881, and sailed from New York.

AGREED TO DISAGREE.

A Man and Wife Want Papers to Undo the Marriage Relation.

An amusing interview took place in the sheriff's office this morning. Two Danes, man and wife, walked into the office and stood around for a few minutes evidently undecided as to what move to make. Finally Sheriff Sharvy plied them with a few questions in Scandinavian, and ascertained that they had agreed to disagree and had come to the court house for the purpose of being legally separated. They had lived together for several years, all seemed to be perfectly contented with each other, but they stoutly maintained that they could not live together. The sheriff informed them that they would be obliged to secure the services of a lawyer to draw up a complaint. The man could not see the necessity of a lawyer so long as they had agreed to separate, but the sheriff finally convinced them and they went away together, the woman saying: "I told you so," as they left the sheriff's office.

The Lower Court.

A quartette of rum-soaked creatures were arraigned this morning with Judge Davies on the bench. One of them appeared to be speechless, at least his name could not be ascertained, and as his actions were not in keeping with soundness of mind he was sent the probate court. Ed O'Malley and William Clark were sent out for seven days. Lawrence Troy paid a fine of $5.

DEATH IN THE MILK CAN.

The Unpleasant Visitor Now Lurks in the Lacteal Fluid.

UNION CITY, Mich., June 5.—This town is greatly excited over the report that sixty people have been poisoned from drinking milk from improperly cleaned cans. At a large picnic Tuesday the cans containing the milk had not been properly cleaned, and no sooner was the repast over than the people began to get sick and soon over sixty of them were rolling about in agony.

Fortunately there were some doctors in the party, and they were able to relieve the suffers somewhat. For a time it was feared that seven of the party would die from the effects of the poisoning. All the sick are now in a fair way to recovery.

STEAM CAR HEATING.

It is a Success and the Enactment of Laws Hereby Is Along.

NEW YORK, June 5.—In its issue of tomorrow, The Engineering News will publish statistics of the progress made in heating passenger cars by steam from the locomotive, showing that 7391 cars or about one-fourth of the entire passenger rolling stock in the country, including baggage and sleeping cars are now equipped for steam heat.

On railways aggregating 8435 miles, all passenger trains run last winter were warmed by steam. Companies controlling a total of 82,979 miles have begun the equipment of their cars. Of the total number of cars equipped the lines east of Chicago and north of Virginia and North Carolina own 6347, and of this number the New York roads, or roads having a portion on their mileage in that state, and thus affected by the law in relation to car heating in force there own 3800 cars.

The reports from eighty-six companies show that steam heating has been on the whole, very successful and that many difficulties feared when the system was first introduced have not proved serious in practice.

DOES NOT PROHIBIT.

As Much Whisky and Beer Sold in South Dakota as in Saloon Days.

YANKTON, S. D., June 5.—People who were credulous enough to believe that the appetites of men could be controlled by a constitutional amendment are beginning to learn something. No unbroken package stores or liquor jointe of any kind are being run in Yankton, and yet for the month that prohibition has been supposed to be in operation the two express companies represented here have been kept busy bringing in beer and whisky, and well-informed business men think that the money sent into Iowa for these articles of interstate commerce will average $100 a day.

Formerly there were two breweries running here and the money was kept at home, but now it is sent abroad and never returns, and many business men who voted for prohibition are sick and sweat they would not do it again. Sunday there was a German picnic near the city where beer flowed like water, the supply having been shipped in from the prohibition city of Sioux City, where Haddock became a martyr in his efforts to enforce the law.

What has happened in Iowa and Kansas is being re-enacted here in South Dakota, and while the licensed saloon is closed and local governments are deprived of the revenue, all who want beer and whisky can and do get them, and it is safe to say there is no diminution of drinking or drunkenness.

THE ORE OUTLOOK.

The iron trade shows signs of that returning prosperity that furnace and ore men have for the past few months been hoping for. After the unexampled output of last year there was a natural lull and a consequent setback, especially when the tremendous weekly pig iron output did not decrease. But this lull appears to be over, and there are renewed sales of ore as well as a better feeling and higher prices in pig iron. The Iron Trade Review speaks as follows in its summary of the week:

The first ripple of prosperity that agitated the market last week has not died away, bidding fair to stay awhile and grow in volume. The first advance in pig iron, last week, was immediately followed by inquiries for Bessemer ore, resulting in the sale of some 20,000 tons. While the quantity sold is so small as to cut no figure, the sale itself stands in evidence of the returning confidence of furnace men, and as a precursor of better things to come. The price obtained was up to the full quotation, which is another confirmation of the wisdom exercised by the ore interests in maintaining prices. The reports current in the Lake Superior country that the railroads and docks could not handle the large output predicted for '90, are hardly in keeping with the facts. The shortage, if any there is, will be due to the inability of the mines to provide cargoes as fast as required. Up to this date, vesselmen complain that the stock piles, being still frozen, cannot be moved.

If the sale of a considerable quantity of Bessemer at an advance of over a dollar a ton is any sign of improvement, furnace-men will gladly welcome the news. A round lot of Bessemer was sold in the valley during the week, at a price rather better than $18.50 cash, at the furnace. Furnacemen are feeling less blue. There is considerable inquiry and some sales; but no heavy buying movement has set in. The demand, however, is unquestionably better and sales are made with less effort than for a long time.

Duluth ore men and mine owners are highly pleased over the prospect. They feel that the temporary setback, which it was feared might have a continued effect, is over, and that at least another year of as great prosperity as the last will ensue. They feel confident that the year will see active work begun on construction of another railway to the ore fields and they realize that this will affect them, as well as Duluth, as almost no other move can.

The Tribune calls attention to the fact that it sold a few more papers at The Spalding news stand than The Herald, but it forgot to add that it took seventeen more sales days to do it. Then again, it forgot the street sales. Here, in this fair and open field competition, The Herald sells five times as many papers as all other city dailies together. Ask any of the little sale boys, if you don't believe it.

The leading Chicago papers are making it mighty hot for the mayor and the police in their crusade against the gambling hells. A resolution in the council calling for the immediate closing of the hells or the resignation of the mayor and chief of police did not get fairly to a test vote, as a suspension of the rules to put it in was voted down, but the vote on the suspension was close enough to rasp the mayor and the chief. It will not be the fault of the crusaders if the hells of Chicago are not put out.

First in the notable improvements on the St. Louis river line is the paper mill about to go up at New Duluth and probably followed by a pulp mill at a selected point on or near the river line. We give today a complete description of this new manufacturing enterprise, the deal for which was closed last evening after The Herald went to press, and congratulate New Duluth on this capital practical step. Keep your eyes on the St. Louis river line, and watch The Herald "fake" moving up the river. It is easier to cry "fake" than to put your foot on one in The Herald, as observing readers will note.

Why doesn't somebody snap at the chance of making a mint during regatta week, and many round dollars this summer season by a light frame restaurant and lodging house at Oatka beach on the point. If he likes, he can call it Oatka Beach hotel, and make a mark with it in any other way. But if he gives good plain food and well cared for apartments, he can fill his house orim full to the eaves. A steam launch for the season could be hired no doubt, making regular trips to the beach from Duluth and Superior, and a pleasant day picnic parties would swell the regular custom. For regatta week, a dozen such houses would not be enough for the patrons, and the first man to get his house ready will make the most profit.

Another addition to the ghastly line of evidence that an electric wire current will kill was made last evening in the death of an unfortunate woman in this city. We certainly have sufficient proof to satisfy the public at large that executions by electricity are practicable. Now let the electric companies satisfy the public at large that it is impracticable to bury the death-dealing wires, before more victims are buried. The legal right to hang death traps over the head of this and other cities may be conferred by franchise beyond recall, but the force of public feeling should be enough to clear away the growing mesbes and fearful mess over our heads, unless there is convincing reason for maintaining the nuisance and peril as an unavoidable evil. Bury the wires or tell us why not.

The saving of a dollar at the cost of a life is not sufficient answer. And in the grant of any new franchise, oh aldermen, don't add to the mess on the present poles.

That Mayor Smith of St. Paul, is not in favor of reckless expenditures, nor of forcing a city's credit beyond the line that danger marks is abundantly proven by his remarks to the city council Tuesday evening. He said that the bonded debt at present, including city, board of education and county bonds, amounts to $9,307,300, and the farther issue, under the act of 1889, amounting to $479,000 will make the total $9,786,300. There was probably a necessity for the creation of this large debt on account of St. Paul's growth, says Mr. Smith. That necessity no longer exists; we are fast approaching the danger point, and ought to call a halt. Our total value of real and personal property amounts to $127,000,000 for 1889, and a re-assessment for 1890 will reduce this sum greatly. It is true that bonds are sought after and command a handsome premium, and will, no doubt continue to. "I submit this question to you as business men," continued he. "Ought a city of 200,000 inhabitants and an assessment roll of $125,000,000 increase its debt and burden its taxpayers simply because its credit is first class?" He therefore recommends that the city's indebtedness be not increased for at least two years. He also recommends an annual tax of at least one mill for a sinking fund.

In an investigation of the lives of seventy-four centenarians, it has been stated, that most of these were above average hight. None had a bad digestion. Out of fifty returns only nine were fat. Out of forty-six fifteen took no alcohol, and only one is described as taking "a great deal of beer." Seven out of forty-five smoked a great deal.

The contemplated transfer of the three C. C. Washburn mills at Minneapolis by lease to the Pillsbury-Washburn company, commonly known as the English syndicate, a pending deal which The Herald was the first to announce, has now been completed. Mr. James S. Bell, president of the Washburn-Crosby company, now operating the C. C. Washburn mills, first put the public on the track of the deal in a statement to The Herald, and although the manager of the English syndicate's interests, Mr. C. A. Pillsbury, would not confirm the statement, the facts were as stated in The Herald. Now they are authoritatively admitted by Mr. Pillsbury and the transfer is to go into effect on the first of September. This transfer leaves the Washburn-Crosby company free-handed to take up the milling business at the point of best advantage, the head of the great lakes, and there is certainly a high probability of the coming of this company to Duluth. Its president, Mr. Bell, is fully informed of the advantages of locating here by direct personal examination, and if the company decides to build its own mills there will be little question of its decision to put them up here. The Herald simply calls the attention of the public to this confirmation of its statement in the face of denials, and will soon be able to give the absolute confirmation of some later statements which have been contradicted with ignorant and jealous folly. It asks only an exact setting down in memory of the denounced Herald "fakes" and the facts that follow.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"There has been a great deal said of late about building a ship canal around Niagara upon territory in the United States." The speaker was a well-known civil engineer, who was at The Spalding last night. "Now, there are two projects" he continued, "and a bill has been introduced into congress which, if passed, and it probably will be, will render the completion of that important waterway certain. You know that the United States has no waterway around the falls commensurate with its needs, and we have been at the mercy of Canada which controls the Welland canal. This fact, coupled with the Western demand for better facilities for shipment by water to the East, has at length been recognized by our government, and the result is the proposition for a twenty-foot wide ship canal to be built in New York around the falls

* * *

"There are two routes mentioned in the bill before congress. One commences at Olcott Harbor, Lake Ontario, eighteen miles east from the mouth of Niagara river, and for about three miles leads almost directly south; thence southwesterly to the Niagara river, opposite the north end of Tonawanda island. This route is a little over twenty-five miles long and its estimated cost about $24,000,000. The other route is 18.35 miles in length, and the estimated cost with single locks, $29,347,900. This line commences at the mouth of what is known as Twelve Mile Creek, at Lake Ontario, continuing southerly into the valley of Cayuga Creek; thence southwest to its termination at a point on the Niagara river, two miles east of Cayuga Creek. Other routes have been surveyed, but the two named are considered by engineers the most practicable."

Two interesting young people were callers at the mayor's office this morning. They gave the names of Mary and Paul Antonio, and were full-blooded Arabians, but they were particular to say that they were not African Arabs, but were born in Assyria. The girl, who was apparently about 16 years of age, was quite comely and very bright. Although she had been in this country only a trifle over a year, she talked good, plain English, and was withal no entertaining conversationalist. She and her brother, who is younger, are now attempting to make enough money to get back home by peddling fancy articles, a number of which were made by her father, who died in Chicago a short time since.

L. A. Barber: Yes, we need rain badly. Before that of last night the streams were all low. I don't know but that the Amnicon has raised a little, though not enough to carry logs, but the Nemadji wasn't up perceptibly. Now they're better and if it keeps on a little longer shall do some driving.

Frank McGinley of McGinley & Howard: In two or three weeks I shall go out to the Howard boys' silver mine in Montana, I've got an interest with them. The mine is a good one and is sure to be profitable, that is unless all signs fail.

H. B. Moore: I spent some time this week on the John Brown-O. M. Miller property one and a half miles east of Ely. They've got a splendid piece of iron land. They are working there, sinking a shaft and will before long be ready to ship.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The work of restoring the castle at Heidelberg has begun and will continue for two years. It is not intended to restore the picturesque ruins, but to renew the foundations and restore certain portions of the castle in strict conformity to its appearance in the time of the Electors Palatine.

Walter Besant says: "There seems to be but one way for the English author to hold at bay the piratical publishers of the United States. It is to enter into collaboration with American writers. By this arrangement a perfect copyright is obtained.

At Bahrin, the hottest part of the earth, no water can be obtained from digging wells to a depth of 500 feet. But copious springs break forth in the waters of the Persian gulf, over a mile from shore and fresh water is obtained by divers, who fill goatskin bags.

In an investigation of the lives of seventy-four centenarians, it has been stated, that most of these were above average hight. None had a bad digestion. Out of fifty returns only nine were fat. Out of forty-six fifteen took no alcohol, and only one is described as taking "a great deal of beer." Seven out of forty-five smoked a great deal.

THE COUNTRY PRESS.

Jackson Republic: Capt. A. R. Reed, introduced at the meeting of the State Central committee last week, a resolution to have delegates vote viva voce, instead of by secret ballot; but the balance of the committee sat down on it with a dull sickening thud. This is as it should be. How would an honest delegate pay his way? Why! it was an outrage. A man could not make expenses if it had passed.

Kanabec County Times: There seems to be a good deal of apathy among republicans in this state. Whether this can be taken as a feeling of assurance on their part, of winning the next election without much of a struggle or that they are disgusted with republican misrule, is hard to tell.

Princeton Union: It should be the rule in all conventions and caucuses that delegates should vote viva voce. Delegates should not be afraid to represent their constituents openly and above board.

Fergus Falls Journal: Outsiders have got the impression that there is a great up-rising in Otter Tail county for Bierman for democratic candidate for governor. This is an error. It is simply the outbreak of a little coterie of politicians who know the value of printers' ink.

The Penny a Liner.

Duluth Daily News: There was still, some of us thought, slight traces of pulse and heart flutters. But soon we were satisfied that all was quiet and all was over. Dr. Sherwin's arrival confirmed the stern diagnosis we had made. The undertaker came next. The reporters left. Death in one form, it was true, had come and gone, but was there not still a more lasting death abiding there for those who linger within the reach of her whose steps lead downward.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, causing distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet efficiently. It tones the stomach, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, banishes headache, and refreshes the mind.

Distress After Eating Sick Headache Heartburn Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would have a faint or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble was aggravated by my business, painting. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

THE BEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH!

PAPER AND PULP MILLS.

Great Mills for the Manufacture of Various Grades of Paper.

Agreements Signed for Their Location at New Duluth.

A Big Thing in a New and Important Line of Work.

It has been steadily maintained by The Herald that 1890 would see the first paper mill established at the head of the lakes. And its prediction has come true.

Yesterday afternoon a contract was closed by the New Duluth Land company with one of the largest paper manufacturing companies in the United States, and by Dec. 1 Duluth's first paper mill will be in full operation. The land company has been negotiating with the paper company for the past month, and yesterday the deal was consummated. The effect upon the commerce of Duluth of the locating of this mill here can not be over-estimated. It will prove the wedge which will open this field to many similar industries, and center around Duluth the paper interests of the West.

Work on the manufactory will begin within sixty days, and it is expected that paper making will be under way in November. The cost of the plant will depend on two matters to be settled by the company within the next month. If it is decided to make only print and wrapping paper a plant to cost $250,000 will be built. But if the manufacture of book paper is added to the output, then it will be necessary to expend $375,000. The New Duluth company besides a bonus, has donated a site on the banks of the St. Louis which takes in ten acres. The location is near the joint tracks of the St. Paul & Duluth, the Duluth & Winnipeg and the Northern Pacific roads, and side tracks through the site will be laid at once. The buildings, etc. will cover four acres while the remainder of the land will be used for storage and warehouse purposes. The company's Eastern plant covers eight acres, and this large site is found too crowded. The buildings will be of brick and stone. The machinery will be of the latest improved kinds, and will cost over half the value of the plant. Directly at the mills about 325 men will be employed. The output will be forty tons per day, or ten tons for each of the four machines to be used. The manufacture of book paper depends largely on the analysis of the water of the St. Louis. It has already been found out that the water is perfectly suitable for wrapping and print paper, and it is being now examined by experts in regard to its purity for book paper uses.

At present the company will procure its pulp from the East by boat, but negotiations are now pending for the use of the dalles for power. Pulp wood can be procured in northern Minnesota at less than half its Eastern cost. In Duluth's territory there is at least 6,000,000 acres of pulp-wood land, and its transportation is at a minimum cost. The pulp mill of the company will either be located at the foot of the dalles, or, if this site cannot be procured, lands will be purchased on the Duluth & Winnipeg. About 1500 horse power is needed to run such a mill as the company will build. While it will not require many hands to operate the pulp mill, yet in the woods a large force will be employed, bringing the hands hired by the company up to at least 500, making New Duluth at once a town of 1500 inhabitants.

The Preventive of a Terrible Disease.

No disorders, excepting the most deadly forms of lung disease, involve such a tremendous destruction of organic tissue as those which fasten upon the kidneys. Such maladies, when they become chronic—and none are so liable to assume that phase—completely wreck the system. To prevent this terrible disease recourse should be had, upon the first manifestation of trouble, to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which experience has proved to be highly effective as a means of imparting tone and regularity to the organs of urination, as well as to the liver, stomach and bowels. Another beneficial result of this medicine, naturally consequent upon its diuretic action, is the elimination from the blood of impurities which beget rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, dropsy, and other maladies. By increasing the activity of the kidneys, it augments the depurative efficiency of these organs, which are most important outlets for the escape of such impurities.

CONDEMN FOR THE BRIDGE.

The City Takes First Steps in Condemnation Proceedings.

A Duluth Woman of the Pave Killed by a Wayward Current.

A document has just been issued by the city of Duluth in the matter of the proceeding to acquire certain lands or lands covered by water for the purpose of building and operating a bridge over the ship canal across Minnesota Point. It is addressed to the widow and children of Wilhelm Boeing, J. D. Howard, G. N. Brookins, J. F. Segog, A. A. Hall, E. R. Jefferson, H. A. Kiichli, M. Falconer, Anna McGann, C. L. Wilds, C. Squyer, C. W. Squyer, the Wielands, W. L. Banning, W. N. Branch, M. E. Davidson, L. M. Dunn William and Sohier A. Dean.

On the 16th of July the city will apply at chambers for the appointment of three appraisers to assess damages to be paid to the owners of lands described in a map now on file in the office of the clerk of court. The object of the petition is that the city may acquire the right to use said lands as a site for a drawbridge and approaches over the canal. This proceeding is undertaken under authority of the act of the state legislature entitled "An Act to Authorize the Construction of a Bridge in the City of Duluth." The property sought is described as follows:

All lands included within the circumference of a circle drawn in a radius 300 feet long from a center in the dividing line between lots 247 and 249, Lake avenue, Upper Duluth, extended 230 feet east of Lake avenue; a strip 60 feet wide parallel with Lake avenue and from the southerly line of Oak street easterly; a strip 60 feet wide and 100 feet long necessary to extend Oak street to the eastward to connect with the strip last noted; lots 241, 243, 245, Lake avenue, Upper Duluth; rectangular strips 80 feet long by 60 feet wide, lying along the lake shore and adjacent to the eastward of lots 262 to 280 inclusive, Lake Shore, Upper Duluth, being in most cases riparian accretions to the shore line. The city also seeks to acquire the right to swing its bridge over Lake avenue in front of lots 242 and 244, Lake avenue, Upper Duluth, and asks that the amount of damage due to said owners for so doing be assessed.

DEATH IN AN INSTANT.

A Point Habitue Steps on a Fallen Wire and Dies.

An almost instant death from electricity occurred last evening about 9:30 o'clock near one of the houses of prostitution on the Point. A woman who has been living under the name of Ida Proctor, the housekeeper in May Attison's house of ill-fame on St. Croix avenue was the victim. It appears that one of the electric light wires of the Hartman Electric company became disconnected and had set fire to a wooden sidewalk, in an alley next to the Attison house. The Proctor woman went out with the intention of extinguishing the flames, and probably being unaware of the consequences, seized the burning wire. Instantly she was thrown to the ground where she lay writhing in the death throes. Several persons who attempted to remove the woman received severe shocks. Finally she was removed to an adjoining house, still showing some signs of life, but all attempts to resuscitate her were in vain.

There were no marks of violence on the body with the exception of the left hand with which she had grasped the heavily charged wire. The palm of the hand was burned to a crisp and the fingers were horribly burned and distorted. Deputy Coroner Sherwin, who was summoned, ordered the body removed to Randall's morgue.

The woman was about 40 years of age and comes originally from Milwaukee. She was married in Ashland and has a daughter living who is now in a convent in Milwaukee. A telegram in her pocket was addressed to Ida Hofel and this is supposed to be her true name. She was convicted and served a term of years in Waupun prison for her connection with the dives near Hurley.

Coroner McComb decided an inquest unnecessary, but the body will not be interred until something is heard from the relatives of the woman.

A Recruiting Station.

A regimental recruiting station for the Third infantry regiment, U. S. A. stationed at Fort Snelling, has been opened in the Hayes building on East Superior street. Lieut. Avery, the regimental recruiting officer is in charge of the station and he is assisted by Sergeant Wood and Corporals Gray and Marquart. They expect to be in Duluth about a month. Two applicants have already presented themselves for examination. Applicants must have a good knowledge of the English language, must be sound in mind and body, unmarried, of good moral character and between the ages of 18 and 35 years.

Another Investment Company.

Another investment company, which has not yet been named, has been organized. The capital stock is $50,000, and the stockholders are Frederic W. Paine, Wm. McKinley, Wayland W. Sanford, Wm. G. Hegardt, and John H. Logie. The nature of the business to be carried on by the company will be to buy, own, sell, improve, lease and otherwise deal in lands, mortgages, stocks and other securities, the time of commencement of business being June 15. Unlike most other similar organizations, no stock will be sold to outsiders. The officers have not yet been elected. Two or three names for the company have been proposed, but all have been found to conflict with the names of associations already in existence.

Sad Memories.

"Ah," said the gray-haired wayfarer at the railroad lunch counter, "This is the old place. I recognized yonder landmark at once."

"What landmark?" asked the cashier.

"Forty years ago when I was traveling over this road," continued the stranger, "I carved my initials and date on yonder piece of apple pie. I see you have it yet. Excuse an old man's tears."

The travelers on "The Burlington" have no memories of that kind. Their recollections are of sumptuous meals in those dining-cars which were long ago given the title of "peerless" by their patrons, and they can say with the epicure of olden time—"Fate cannot harm me: I have dined today—(on 'The Burlington' dining-car.)" Other pleasing memories will be of the smooth track, quick time, elegant coaches, and luxurious sleeping-cars. For tickets by this line, apply to any ticket agent of this or connecting lines, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

CHICAGO WOMAN'S INFATUATION

She Abducts Little Eddie Abbott Who Gave Exhibitions.

DENVER, Col., June 5.—One of the most peculiar cases of woman's infatuation came to light in this city today in the case of Master Eddie Abbott, a magician, of Philadelphia. It appears that a well-connected and very wealthy Chicago lady, whose name is not made public, and who, by the way, is a widow and childless, became infatuated with Eddie while he was at the Eden Musee. The woman showered presents of all kinds on him, went to the same hotel to board, and, as was natural, won the child's affections completely. She wanted to adopt the boy, and when that failed tried to make some arrangement by which she could travel with him throughout the country.

Her attentions became so marked that the management denied her admission to the theater. After the engagement terminated it was the intention of Mr. Abbott to visit his home in Philadelphia, where his wife and other children reside. He, however, met Manager J. W. Cordray of Portland, Oregon, and was offered very favorable inducements to go to the Pacific coast. He accepted the proposition and was making preparations to start when, one day last week, the boy disappeared. From the story told by the boy she met him at the hotel and asked him to take a ride in the cars, which invitation was accepted and the pair came on to where they were discovered by the detectives. Tonight the father arrived, while the woman has returned to Chicago.

The boy was born in Philadelphia in August, 1884. He developed remarkable oratorical ability almost as soon as he could talk, and before he was 3 years old gave a public recital. He has been giving exhibitions in magic since one year ago last October, and has gained a reputation in the East.

Strong Language From An Ex-Mayor.

J. B. Loughran, ex-mayor of North Des Moins, Iowa, said recently: "I have just recovered from a severe attack of la grippe. I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm to my breast. These remedies were just the thing in my case. My child had croup some years ago, and we used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with perfect success, since then we have never been without these medicines in our house. I had a cousin who was a printer and was employed in a job office in this city, where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep-seated cold and a terrible cough, and while setting up the copy he made up his mind to get a bottle. It cured his cough and that was the first time I ever knew anything of Chamberlain's remedies. My own experience and that of my family convinces me that these remedies are the best in the world. That may be strong language, but it is what I think." For Sale by all Druggists.

THE STORY OF A YEAR.

"Look on this picture and then on that." The above faces are exact reproductions of photographs taken from life of Mrs. Morton D. Harlan, who resides at No. 55 West 25th Street, New York City. The first one was taken in November, 1887, while in the last stages of consumption, abandoned by physicians and mourned by friends. The other was taken in December, 1888, when completely recovered, and entirely through the use of Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. The above pictures are wood cuts, but they are true to life and the original photographs, taken from life, can be seen at all the drug stores. Mrs. Harlan's consumption began as consumption usually does, with a cough in the morning, raising of phlegm, tired and depressed feelings, a lack of appetite, the loss of flesh and pains throughout the body. She did not realize her extreme danger until it became almost too late, but she is in perfect health to-day. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption is sold by all reputable druggists. You can't afford to be without it.

FROM WEST DULUTH.

Building the Big Dredge; To Pave Another Street; Notes.

A petition has lately been quite extensively signed asking the council to order the grading and graveling of Fourth street north to St. Anthony street. It is highly probable that this will be withdrawn and a petition for paving made. It is the intention to make Fourth street north as fine a business throughfare as any in West Duluth.

The Herald stated yesterday that S. K. Duff of the Steam Forge works, had suddenly died. The information was telephoned to this office from Old Superior, but after the first few words "manager of Steam Forge works died of heart disease this noon, and—" had been said communication was interrupted and could not be again restored for a number of hours. It was Mr. Nichols instead of Mr. Duff.

The children of the West Duluth Presbyterian church are making preparations in the way of decorations, program and offerings for children's Sunday of June 8, at 10:30 a. m.

The car company paid off its men yesterday afternoon. William Evens, a catcher in the rolling mill, lost about $30 through a friend to whom he gave a time check to be cashed. The check was cashed and the money and the friend took to his heels.

The concert of the Methodist church takes place tonight with a program that includes the following: "Hail Smiling Morn," "Sleep While Soft Evening Breezes," "Let the Hills and Vales Resound." Pianoforte duet, Misses Danforth and Sawyer; song, "The Village Blacksmith," Joseph Parkes; song, "The Men of Harlech," W. Jones; song, "Dream Faces," Mrs. Thurber; song, "Supposing," Addie Sawyer. Refreshments will be served after the music and a time of general sociability spent.

The way the Iron Bay company can do work is illustrated by the fact that on Tuesday an order was received for a crank for a blowing engine, and on Wednesday evening the article had been made and shipped to its destination.

Mrs. H. Bacon and daughter arrived yesterday from Ishpeming to spend several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Osborn.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church hold a meeting Friday night. Subject: "Self-Denial."

Marine Notes.

The new side-wheel steamer City of Chicago made the run from West Bay City to St. Joseph in thirty-six hours, her speed being fifteen miles per hour. Twenty-nine revolutions per minute gave her a speed of seventeen and one-half miles, which was her maximum rate on the trip. Her length is 225 feet, beam 33 feet, 60 feet over all, and depth of hold 13 feet. Her cabins are richly carved and finished in mahogany, with upholstered divans and settees of old gold. Capt. Charles McIntosh, for many years in the employ of the Goodrich Transportation company, commands the fine new steamer.

WORLD OF COMMERCE.

Local Market Irregular and Inactive, Opening Lower.

Considerable Trading in Deferred Futures; Crop Prospects.

Reports received at the signal service office today show that a heavy storm was experienced throughout the West and Northwest last night. This morning the storm was central in northern Iowa and was moving slowly eastward. Rains were general throughout the West and Northwest. The rainfall as reported from the different stations was as follows: Bismarck, 1.18 inches; Moorhead, .74; Duluth, 1.04; St. Paul, .9; Huron, .22; Sault Ste. Marie, 1.9; Marquette, 7. There were also heavy winds through the Northwest, generally from the northeast. The velocity at the different stations as reported this morning was as follows: Bismarck, 42 miles; St. Vincent, 26; Duluth, 32; Fort Buford, 30; Helena, 30; Moorhead, 28; Huron, 30, and St. Paul, 26, accompanied by a fierce thunder storm. It is expected that there will be northwest winds tomorrow, after which the weather will be clearer.

The Duluth Market.

The local market today was rather firm but inactive, in sympathy with other markets, and, though fluctuating, the range was not large. The most noticeable feature was the trading in deferred futures, quite a number of sales of September and one of December being recorded. The first sale of the day was of September at 92, which later dropped to 91¾, advanced to 92⅛, closing at 92⅛. July opened at 93, ⅛ below yesterday's close, advancing later on buying to ½@⅝, declined to ¼, firming up at the close to ⅜ bid on a slight demand. Cash No. 1 hard in store sold at 91½.

Cash No. 1 hard closed at 91½, cash No. 1 northern 89½, cash No. 2 northern 87, June No. 1 hard 91¾, June No. 1 northern 89¾, all nominal; July No. 1 hard 93⅜ bid, July No. 1 northern 91⅜, nominal; August No. 1 hard 93½ bid; September No. 1 hard 92¼, nominal; December No. 1 hard 93 bid.

Curb Notes.

Walker & Co. wire W. W. Bill: Wheat has again been flooded with sensational reports regarding bad outlook for the coming crop. This all came via St. Louis. The Cincinnati Price Current says we will have 425,000,0000 of a crop. This is a fair average, and bigger than we ought to have if we take into consideration the number of times crop has been killed. Hutchinson sold wheat all day, but St. Louis and outside orders took it all. Exports don't improve any and cables come easier.

Capt. Shannon: They laugh best who laugh last. Those vesselmen who awhile ago laughed at some of their brethren for contracting to carry ore from Ashland for $1.35 must now be forcibly reminded of the truth of the above saying. The "foolish" fellows are still getting $1.35, while those who were "wiser" earlier in the season are glad to take $1.20.

Cincinnati Price Current gives the following synopsis of crop conditions for July: Ohio wheat, more encouraging; Illinois no better; Missouri maintained; Kansas about the same; Michigan somewhat better; Kentucky unchanged; Minnesota gives good promise; North Dakota not assuring; South Dakota good; Iowa fairly good. The outlook favors 275,000,000 bus winter wheat, possibly less, and 150,000,000 to 160,000,000 bus spring or 425,000,000 for the crop. Reports from Tennessee claim that the the state reports show 58 to 60 per cent of an average condition. Wheat has been hurt by rust and bugs. The oat crop is practically abandoned.

Along the Northern Pacific.

TOWER CITY, N. D., June 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—Light rain here yesterday morning lasting about thirty minutes, commenced again in the evening at 5 o'clock and is still raining with northeast wind. Farmers are encouraged and the general opinion among them is that there will be a good crop if nothing unusual happens. More rain has fallen this spring than for several years.

SANBORN, N. D., June 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—The aboundance of rain of the past week, has placed the growing crops in best condition of the past five years. Plants look strong and healthy. Still raining.

Further North.

LANGDON, N. D., June 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—The weather for the past week has been cool with indication to warmer, temperature ranging from 50° to 68°. Had several light showers during week with light thunder and lightning, June 1st had four hours fine rain weather, since continous foggy and warmer, exceptionally fine growing weather, all kinds of grain looking fine, prospects most encouraging.

The Kansas Crop.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 4.—From the correspondence of Secretary Mohler, of the state agricultural department, it is learned that dry weather at many points has cut down the general average of winter wheat to a point considerably below the condition a month ago. The average yield per acre will be a good deal below twenty-two bushels, which was last year's average. The oat crop will be very light.

Today's Movement.

GENTLEMEN OF DULUTH.

GOOD STYLES will be our text today. Good Styles are simply the result of good taste in selecting garments and articles of apparel which harmonize with the surroundings. Style cannot be governed by rigid rules, but may be as varied as the beauties of nature and is judged from the eyes of the beholder. We have heard remarked, "Clothes do not make the man." Certainly not, MAN makes the CLOTHES, therefore, while the clothes do not make the man, they PROCLAIM the man. See? By your dress you can say, "I am a professional man, a commercial man, or a man of leisure," and each style can proclaim the GENTLEMAN whether the aged and sober-minded or the sentimental youth, and all by their harmony add to the beauties of poetry. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Recently we talked to you of our GOOD GOODS, and now if you will combine our GOOD GOODS with our GOOD STYLES, don't you see, it will be like "killing two birds with one worm."

The census enumerators believe that they will experience much trouble in getting their work completed within the term allowed by law. The fact that so many laborers are living at boarding houses and are absent at work during business hours has already given the enumerators concern and unless some arrangement can be made whereby replies to the questions asked can be given by the boarding house keepers Duluth is in a fair way not to secure an accurate census report.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan—one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

OUR GROWING NAVY.

A Great Fleet and a Great Crowd to be Seen in Brooklyn.

Most Modern and the Most Antique Vessels Now There.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The United States ships of war Dolphin and Galena arrived at Charleston from Port Royal. The Baltimore, also from Port Royal is off the harbor. They will go on to New York in a day or two, and by Monday the Brooklyn navy yard will have the largest number of modern ships of war ever seen in America.

It is expected that the North Atlantic squadron will have arrived then, and the navy will be represented by all of the kinds, ancient and modern, of ships, and all of the various officers in the line, engineer, medical, pay, marine corps, warrant officers, from the grade of rear-admiral down. There will be the modern steel steam cruiser of the first class, represented in the Baltimore; there will be the battle-ship class, in the Maine, now being constructed, the steel cruiser of the second class, in the No. 7, also being built; the wooden sloop Kearsarge; the modern dispatch boat, in the Dolphin; the barbette vessel, in the Puritan; the double-turreted monitor, in the Miantonomah and the Terror; the cheese-box monitor, in the Nantucket; the old line-of-battle-ship, in the Vermont, and Ericsson's latest idea of a torpedo boat, in the Destroyer.

All these vessels will make the navy yard a decidedly interesting place to visit. The Baltimore, the flagship of Rear-Admiral Gherardi, together with the other vessels of the North Atlantic squadron, the Dolphin, the Kearsarge and the Galena, are to leave Charleston for New York tomorrow. The vessels of the squadron are to remain here a couple of weeks and then they are to go up the coast to Portland, where, on July 3, they are to take part in the Army of the Potomac celebration.

The Army and Navy Journal is authority for the rumor that there is to be another squadron of evolution in European waters before the end of the year, under command of Commodore W. P. McCann, who was recently relieved of the command of the Boston navy yard, and who was president of the naval policy board that submitted to congress an exhaustive report upon the number and kinds of ships and weapons which the navy needed. The subject is being discussed by Secretary Tracy and other department officials. Three new vessels, the Philadelphia, Bennington and Concord, and the Pensacola and Enterprise are booked for the squadron, and the monitor Miantonomah and the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius may also be included.

Japanese Warship Launched.

LONDON, June 6.—The new Japanese warship Chiyoda was successfully launched in the Clyde today. The vessel is iron-clad, 300 feet long and is designed to carry twenty-eight guns. She is also fitted with three torpedo tubes. Besides the Japanese officials who have been in England for some time, performing duties in connection with the construction of the new ship, 300 Japanese sailors with additional officers have arrived here for the purpose of manning and navigating her to Japan.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

Mayor Peck is Asked to Explain His Position.

MILWAUKEE, June 6.—Mayor George W. Peck is in hot water with the Masonic fraternity, and it is within the bounds of probability that the "bad boy" may be called upon to explain certain things in which the fraternity are interested.

The mayor is a Scottish Rite Mason of the thirty-second degree; a member of the Blue Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, a companion in a chapter of Royal Arch Masons, a knight in a commandery of Knights Templar. In fact he has taken all the Masonic oaths from the first to the last.

Last week Mayor Peck took occasion to formally welcome the delegates to the German Catholic convention on the Bennett law to Milwaukee, and was so extremely complimentary that the convention extended to him a special note of appreciation. Unfortunately, however, later in the proceedings Bishop Katzer of Green Bay made a violent attack upon the Masonic State Grand Lodge declaring that it originated the Bennett law, that it was an unchristian organization whose weapons were employed in the interest of divorce, free love, the destruction of parochial schools and the founding of institutions to emancipate women from the moral influence of religion.

Now that these sentiments have gone abroad prominent Masons are calling upon the mayor to declare whether he still adheres to the sentiments of fulsome flattery that he showered on the convention, and if not, what he intends to do about it. So far the "bad boy" has made no sign.

BOYCOTT BREWERIES.

The Irish Saloonkeepers Will Not Buy English Syndicate Beer.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The English syndicate business, it seems, has its drawbacks. In some lines, the very fact that it is an English syndicate is a drawback. It has proved to be so in the brewery business.

There are a good many Irish saloonkeepers, and almost without exception they decline to buy beer of the English syndicate breweries. So strong is this prejudice that an effort is being made to create the impression that the syndicate which bought out several Chicago breweries and malt houses is an American and not an English one.

There is good reason to believe, however, that it was an English syndicate that bought the properties.

Expects Obedience.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—The Rush has sailed for Behring sea. One of her officers said he expected very few seizures would be made this season, as the government had assumed a positive attitude, and few sealers would risk seizure by hunting in the Behring sea.

THE HARVARD PLAN.

President Adams of Cornell Approves a Three Years' Course.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 6.—President Adams of Cornell university, on being asked his opinion of the new movement of Harvard, said: "It is impossible to speak with perfect assurance. It appears, however, to be substantially the method which was adopted at the University of Michigan nearly ten years ago. While this scheme had certain merits, it had unmistakable faults. One of the emoarrassments Harvard has apparently tried to avoid by reducing the number of courses required for graduation from eighteen to sixteen. This will make it easier for the student to complete the required work in three years, without taking so many courses simultaneously as to depreciate the quality of his scholarship.

"With the scheme of reducing the college course to three years I am in hearty sympathy. The evil which Harvard by its courageous course is attempting to avoid is coming to be universally felt. I discussed it at length in my report of last year; but it seems to me doubtful whether the provision added by the Harvard faculty, allowing a student to graduate when he has completed a given number of courses, will not hinder, rather than help, the success of the movement. The great evil of our present system is the fact that the boys are kept so long in the preparatory schools and so long in the college course that at the time of graduation they are too old to begin the study of a profession. The consequence is that thousands skip the college altogether. An effort that promises to remedy the evil may be regarded as an act of educational statesmanship. I rejoice that Harvard is making the move."

FROM THE TOMBS.

Queen Cleopatra's Sarcophagus Offered for the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Alexander Tagliaferro of Alexandria, Egypt, writes to the directors of the World's fair that he is in a position to furnish them an interesting exhibit. He has sent the officials a photograph of a sarcophagus which he believes, and claims, is that of Cleopatra. It was recently discovered in Caesar's camp near Alexandria, by archæologists.

After paying the Egyptian government its dues, the writer says he sold it to a friend for speculation. When the sarcophagus was opened, the contents were in ashes with the exception of the skeleton, which is still preserved. Tagliaferro says he is prompted to negotiate with the Egyptian authorities from notices which he has seen in newspapers from the United States announcing that the Khedive of Egypt has been asked by the directors of the exposition for the mummy of Ramases. His price is $60,000, free on board at Alexandria.

MAY GET THERE.

Looks as Though the Lottery People had Louisiana.

BATON ROUGE, LA., June 6.—After an hour's debate the resolution to refer all bills relating to amendments to the constitution of the subject of levees, schools, charities, drainage and lotteries to a special committee named in the resolution, was adopted this afternoon by a vote of 49 to 26.

As this resolution was moved by Mr. Shattuck, who gave notice that the lottery amendment would be introduced, the action taken is regarded as indicating the strength of the proposed lottery legislation.

Hill Presidential Pointer.

NEW YORK, June 6.—There is something of a flurry in democratic circles over the arrival yesterday of Christopher A. Buckley of San Francisco, and who rejoices in the title of "democratic boss" of California. He traveled from the Pacific slope in a special drawingroom car, accompanied by his physician, secretary and several servants. Dispatches from San Francisco say that his mission is to consult with Governor Hill regarding the next presidential campaign, and his private secretary, while neither affirming or denying the report, said this morning that Mr. Buckley would go to Albany in a day or two. He is known to be particularly friendly to the governor's presidential aspirations.

Croker Coming.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The steamship Aller upon which ex-Chamberlain Richard Croker is a passenger is due here today, and his near approach has renewed the excitement created by the developments before the Fassett committee, not only in Tammany but all other political circles. Croker, it is said, has his war paint on and proposes to make things lively for some of those who have been taking his name in vain.

The Royal Arcanum.

MILWAUKEE, June 6.—The supreme council of the Royal Arcanum resumed its sessions this morning. Nearly the entire day was devoted to the consideration of proposed amendments to the constitution. Many of these have been adopted, but will not be made public until officially communicated to the various councils. Tonight the supreme delegates will be entertained by the Grand Army of the Republic.

Some Quick Flashings.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Associated Press report of the result of the great Derby race, run on Wednesday, which appeared in the afternoon papers of that day, was delivered by wire direct in the Associated Press office here by the Western Union cables within five seconds from the time of filing in England. This is the best time on record.

The Amalgamated Scale.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 6.—The amalgamated association spent the day in considering the boiler scale, but no conclusion was reached. Nothing definite is known but it seems to be the general impression that the scale will not be changed for boiling. The convention will not get through with the scale for several days, and it will not be presented to the manufacturers before the latter part of next week.

CITY BRIEFS.

A letter was received this morning by Frank Hayes announcing that the writer, John P. Clow, was out of danger.

The Canadian Pacific will run a through train from Chicago to Montreal, which will contain the finest rolling stock in the world. It will be full vestibuled and lighted by electricity.

The regular weekly meeting of the Reform club will be held at the Bethel this evening at 8 o'clock. There will be an address. Miss Maud Burns will give a recitation, and Mr. Cable and Mr. McLeod will each render a solo.

License to wed was granted today to Wm. G. Connelly and Barbara Madden, August Peterson and Mathilda Anderson.

HE TALKS ON SILVER.

Mr. Lind Gives His Views on Unlimited Silver Coinage.

Western Sugar Refineries; Fees for District Marshals.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The silver debate was resumed in the house this morning, Mr. Lind of Minnesota, being the first speaker. He represented, he said, an agricultural district, the farmers of which were not poor but not wholly prosperous; the pressing condition being due to the low prices of agricultural products.

He believed that prices of products were affected by the amount of money on circulation. The increase of circulation advanced prices and a shrinkage of circulation diminished them. The increase in the purchasing value of gold was due to the fact that its production was decreasing while its use in the arts was increasing. If silver had been allowed to retain its place as money throughout the world, it too, would have enhanced in purchasing power. Silver should be restored to its former position. This was demanded by the great mass of the American people.

It was no argument to say that the people did not understand the question. They did. The people could think and reason as well as a member of congress. The judgment of the popular mind like woman's reasoning, was generally right.

Commenting on the three measures before the house, he said that the treasury bill was the most objectionable. Under a friendly secretary it might be made useful in increasing the volume of currency, but under an unfriendly secretary it might be dangerous. Personally he believed that the free coinage bill presented not only the best but the quickest way to settle the whole question. But he believed that it was best to yield something, even to prejudice, if by so doing legislation almost equally efficacious and less objectionable to some classes could be secured. Such a measure was the republican caucus bill.

WORKED BY WASHBURN.

Senate Commerce Committee Raises Duluth's Total to $100,000;

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The senate commerce committee considered the river and harbor bill at some length yesterday. Senator Washburn, a member of the committee, submitted an argument favoring an increase of the appropriation for the general improvement of Duluth harbor. This argument was successful for the committee voted for an increase from $80,000 to $100,000.

Mr. Washburn said later that he hoped to secure an increase of the appropriation for the improvement of Agate Bay. The house bill fixed the appropriation at $20,000, but Mr. Washburn will seek to have it increased to $50,000.

Western Sugar Refiners.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The congressional committee on ways and means has been forced into a state of siege during the past two days by an influential delegation of the sugar refiners of the West and Northwest, and who are anxious to secure a rebate on all sugars in stock on July 1, on which date, according to present plans, the tariff bill is to go into effect. It is claimed that if the bill goes into effect without a rebate clause on present stock there will be a sugar famine, which will continue for an indefinate length of time, and that the entire North and Southwest will suffer, while the jobbers in the East, being close to the refineries, will have everything their own way. The bill provides for a liberal rebate on tobacco, and the sugar men are unable to see why they cannot be similarly treated.

Fees for Officials.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—A member of the house said today that one of the results of the present investigation by the committee on judiciary of the methods of United States district attorneys, commissioners and marshals would be the preparation of a bill fixing clear and definite fees for all court proceedings, providing that no prosecution shall be commenced, except in an emergency shown in an affidavit, until the United States district attorney shall have approved of such proceedings, and prescribing punishment for the violation of this law. It is thought that such a measure would do much to repress existing abuses and relieve the national treasury from illegal exactions.

THE CATHOLIC QUESTION.

Separate Schools Knocked Out and Annexation Wins in Windsor.

WINDSOR, Ont., June 6.—A parliamentary election in Canada, in which the annexation question was a feature, was held yesterday in the North Essex riding, of which, this town is the largest portion. Sol White, the foremost annexationist of Canada, was one candidate, opposed by Francis Clery, a strong Catholic, and Gaspard Pueand, a native Frenchman.

Religious questions, race prejudices and sectional hatred were all arraged against White, but in spite of it all, he carried the riding by over 600 plurality. His victory is all the more significant as he was not the nominee of any party, but stood alone on his record and well-known principals. White is the chief of the Wyandotte Indians, but to all intents and purposes he is a white man and a successful lawyer, his adherents are holding high carnival in rejoicing over his election.

HORRIBLY MUTILATED.

Prices Cut and Slashed Until They are Unrecognizable.

At an early hour this morning pedestrians on Superior street might have noticed an immense crowd of people gathered in front of No. 307 west. There was nothing wrong, simply a crowd of bargain seekers desiring to take advantage of the assignee sale of fine footwear which began there this morning. These goods are of the best makes and quality to be obtained, and must be sold regardless of cost, for the benefit of creditors. Don't fail to take advantage of it. A word to the wise, etc.

LATE REPORTS.

Some of the Effects of This Week's Storms.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, June 6.—The last four days have been remarkable for great atmospheric disturbances in this vicinity. There has been a succession of terrific thunder storms, drenching rain falls and violent gales of wind.

Monday a regular cyclone swept west in a straight path. On the farm of Hon. W. G. Stewart it cut a clean sweep ten feet wide through heavy timber, the trees being torn from their roots and leveled with the ground. Sweeping on it grazed the house of Isaac Dunkley, rocking it on its foundation and next struck the barn of Mr. Muntz. The building was lifted from its foundation and set down a foot out of place. Mrs. Muntz, who was standing near by, was blown into a barb wire fence and badly cut.

The storm has had a terrible effect on the railroads. There have been more than a half dozen wrecks in this vicinity within four days. Fortunately they have all been freight trains.

A Chicago, Burlington & Northern track walker Tuesday night discovered that a swelled creek had washed away twenty feet of roadbed at Lytle, Wis., leaving the tracks undisturbed. He got out his lights and torpedoes just in time to save a passenger train.

Two men were killed Monday night on a Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City on a freight train which went into a washout near here. Two passenger trains just behind were stopped with flags.

FLOODS IN ONTARIO.

A Very Disastrous Flood in the Thriving town of Barrie.

BARRIE, Ont., June 6.—The most disastrous flood that ever visited this town, took place today in consequence of two days' rain. The main drain caved in and it was of no use in hurrying away the tremendous flow that came down from the hills along the road like immense rivers. All the streets in the central portion of the town were completely submerged and the principal business thoroughfares presented an awful sight last evening.

The water was fully two feet deep and many stores were flooded. The streets in the vicinity of five point are washed away to a depth of from six to eight feet. The chasm at present is fully fifty feet wide. The vast body of water which rushed down, carried everything in its path to the bay. The railway track is washed away and traffic is blocked. A number of freight cars were washed into the bay. The rainfall was phenomenal. At noon the loss to the town was estimated at about $50,000.

IN NEW YORK.

The Storms of Last Night Widespread and Damaging.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The terrific thunder storms of last evening throughout the night and till long after daybreak seem to have been widespread. From all points of the compass and from hundreds of miles away come stories of floods and havoc by lightning and high winds. Several lives were lost. In and about the city several buildings were struck and burned, houses unroofed and fences and trees laid prostrate.

At Elmyra the most terrific thunder storm of the year prevailed yesterday afternoon and last evening. The house of James A. Ward was struck by lightning and burned. At Waverly, N. Y., there was a cloud-burst, and the streets and cellars were flooded, doing much damage. The Erie tracks were also covered for a time.

SEVERAL INJURED.

A Baltimore & Ohio Official's Car Goes Over a Trestle.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 6.—A telegram received at the offices of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad this morning states that engine 177 and private car 703 were wrecked about 255 miles south of Benwood, on the Ohio River road last night. The car rolled over the trestle work and injured the following: Mr. Hunter, bruised, chest and head injured; C. L. Williams, superintendent of the Ohio River road, badly bruised about the body and two colored porters slightly injured. The car was badly damaged.

In addition to the injured reported above, J. A. Hunter, division engineer Baltimore & Ohio, was seriously hurt inwardly, and J. F. Legge of the Baltimore & Ohio, who is perhaps the worst injured, with a broken arm and several severe flesh wounds. H. W. Williams of the Ohio River railroad, was on the train and received severe wounds, but was able to go to the nearest telegraph office and send news to this city. The injured are doing as well as could be expected.

Lightning Kills Several.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 6.—Lightning did some terrible work at the Pioneer coal works, six miles above this city, at 9 o'clock this morning. During a heavy storm a stroke of lightning struck the Pioneer Coal company's barn, killing Tom Hicks, stable boss; Sumner Stephenson, a colored boy, and partially paralyzing Wm. Dills, the company's store superintendent, and a boy by the name of Dick Alexander. Stephenson's clothes were ignited by the lightning. Dills and Alexander will recover, but narrowly escaped instant death. The barn was slightly injured.

At Greenwood, Ontario.

GREENWOOD, Ont., June 6.—The most disastrous freshet ever known here occurred last night, for the past two nights terrific thunder storms have raged and the waters were high. The climax was reached when four small dams north of this place gave way. Roads were submerged, cellars flooded, bridges carried away, and telegraph wires broken. Timber and trees along the line in all directions were destroyed. A number of cattle and horses were carried away.

Knocked Out a Postoffice.

PITTSBURGH, June 6.—During a heavy thunder storm this morning the postoffice building at Goff, Pa., was struck by lightning and completely demolished and Postmaster Henry was seriously but not fatally injured. At Tarentum, Pa., the bell tower of the Cumberland Presbyterian church was struck and demolished but no one was hurt. In this city the storm was very heavy but no serious damage was reported.

Standard Swallows Them.

NEW YORK, June 6.—There is every prospect that at an early date the control of the four largest oil producing companies, which own territory in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, will pass into the hands of the Standard trust interests. The companies are the Forrest, Union, Anchor and Washington, together with the smaller interests attached to them. The amount involved in the transaction will reach several million dollars.

WITHIN DULUTH'S REACH.

Recent particular inquiries in the East bring out clearly the drift of manufacturing and supply in leading lines from the East to the center of the country. Take the line of paints for example. It was not many years ago when the Central and Western markets obtained their supplies from the East. Today in New England and the Middle states, the chief supply houses are thankful that they are holding their own home market and have practically abandoned the attempt to cover the Central and Western field. The leading house in Boston is acting as the agent of Western manufacturers and obtaining its supplies very largely from St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit. Only in the case of specialties is competition in this field practicable, and branch establishments have commonly been discontinued as hopeless.

The general expert opinion in the East is that Duluth must look for branch establishments to the central cities ranged about her, St. Louis, St. Paul, Chicago and Detroit in chief. For independent establishments the opening in some lines is highly promising, it is thought, but in others the conditions of success are not yet ripe. All look to Duluth as a coming flour, lumber and steel center, with a good outlook for directly connected industries. The editor of The Wool Reporter, whose judgment is of the best, expresses entire confidence in the success of heavy woolen mills at the head of the lakes, and notes pre-eminent advantages in the Northwestern market for heavy clothing. This unbiased judgment confirms the prudence and business insight of the coming manufacturer whose enterprise has been fully noted in this paper.

It is thought that a dry goods jobbing house here should do well, but the establishment of a general cloth and clothing jobbing house is not judged profitable at present. Direct personal application is very strongly recommended as by far the best means of securing removals and establishments here, and a prompt canvass of firms burned out or likely to shift their ground for more favorable points of business. To attract active interest in this city as a trade center, it is recommended that application to any house which may be likely to locate here independently or by branch should be accompanied by a sheaf of actual orders from customers here, which an intelligent canvasser for this distinct purpose might readily obtain. This would bring indifferent interest to the point of attentive and obliged consideration at once.

The Herald proposes to test the worth of this latest recommendation at once, as it comes from men of the foremost business standing. A leading manufacturer and jobber has been examining the opening here, and is already favorably impressed with it. The Herald intends to rivet his interest and secure a branch location here at least by an exact and extended report of the situation confirmed by sample orders, and a member of The Herald's staff will be detailed to make this report and canvass for orders. This will bring the question of outlook to a head practically. We hope for the interested support of Duluth in this undertaking of general interest to all.

Complaint is made from many sources of the carelessness and omissions of more than one census taker here, and we earnestly urge the public at large to watch the census taking and report particularly any neglect of duty. If such reports are sent to The Herald they will be promptly laid before the supervisor in charge. It concerns everybody here to make the census as exact and perfect as possible. Let it be a credit to Duluth, and tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

Today orders were issued by the state adjutant general for inspection money to the members of Company K, of Duluth. Each "soldier boy" is entitled to $7 per annum. Out of this he is expected to buy uniforms, pay armory expenses and the like. When actually in camp a fee of $1.50 per diem is paid, and out of this rations must be provided. In other words, each man pays about $50 a year for the privilege of wearing a uniform and being under call for disagreeable or dangerous duty at any time ordered.

Our special dispatches from the Northwest show that Dakota has had more rain this season than for three years past, and that some parts of the twin states have had more rain than in the three previous seasons combined. There is no question about the crop so far as water can assure it, and there is another gratifying feature in the fact that in some parts of North Dakota the wheat is two or three weeks ahead of the average growth at this date, giving assurance of an early crop and lessening the risk of damage from late summer frosts. Everything points now to a big showing for the Northwest, however much falling behind there may be in Indiana, Kansas, and other sections. Hard wheat will be king this year.

We have no disposition to question the right of Bishop McGolrick to his conscientious convictions, but if he is correctly reported, his opinion of the value to this republic of the free to all unsectarian school is directly opposed to that of The Herald, and, we hope, of the great majority in this republic now and forever. And we further earnestly hope that the day may never be reached in this country when its people shall see state support of sectarian schools whether Protestant or Catholic. What does the example of ever-wrangling Canada or strait-laced Europe promise to us or matter to us? The Herald has no quarrel with the parochial school or any other private school in this free country, which gives secular education equal to that of the common public school, but it does not want a medley of sectarian schools blotting out the common school, the corner stone of democracy and union.

The public, not alone that of Manitoba but of northern Minnesota as well, will be interested in watching the outcome of the dispute between the Keewatin Lumber company and those Minnesotians and Duluthians trying to develop the mineral wealth of Sultana island in the Lake of the Woods. If the lumber company can establish the claim now made there will be an end to mining enterprise in that part of the country for years to come. The more the pity, as we are convinced it is unusually rich in deposits of gold and silver. The northern neighbors of Duluth especially that the Duluth & Winnipeg road is so soon to tap that rich section about Lake of the Woods, are very closely connected with us. Although the Lake of the Woods is in the province of Ontario, still it would, if developed as a mining region, be tributary in a large degree to the prosperity of Duluth. If the Keewatin Lumber company is right, some steps should at once be taken to remove the monopoly. A suit at law may be a tedious affair, and in this case will only affect the Sultana island, while the entire remainder, say three or four thousand islands, are locked up beyond dispute. We are surprised that a government like that of Ontario, so sound on all matters of public business, could have let such an important matter remain so long in its present position.

THE POLITICAL ONLOOKER.

The recent presence of Secretary of State Hans Mattson in the city revives the talk that the Merriam forces are to bring out E. G. Swanstrom for that place. The public need not be surprised to hear the Merriam advocates at St. Paul and elsewhere pushing Mr. Swanstrom. It is not that Swanstrom is loved especially by the Merriam forces, but he will be brought out to keep St. Louis county in line, if Mr. Swanstrom will consent to the program. I understand that he has stated within a few days that he was not a candidate, and would not be, either for that place, the senate or any other office, and I shouldn't be surprised if he meant what he said.

The democrats are active and are said to have fixed a full slate. It includes Tom Bowen, Duluth's own—that is, Duluth's for about three weeks—as a member of congress. The rest of the ticket is, as is telegraphed The Chicago Tribune from Stillwater: "E. S. Durant of Stillwater for governor, Adolph Biermann of Rochester for lieutenant-governor, Charles Canning of Hendrum for secretary of state, John S. Wise of Mankato for treasurer, John Frank of Austin for auditor, and John S. McDonald of St. Paul, for attorney-general. The following were selected for congress: Thomas Wilson of Winona, First district; O. M. Hall of Red Wing, Third; Robert A. Smith of St. Paul, Fourth and Thomas Bowen of Duluth, Fifth. The state also contains the names of A. A. Ames for mayor of Minneapolis, and O. O. Bolton for mayor of St. Paul. The ticket is arranged with great shrewdness and it was hinted by those who made it that it would excite a furore of enthusiasm. A sop is thrown to the Scandinavian element by giving Biermann second place on the ticket and the old faction fight ends with the recognition of Ames. The platform will contain an attack on the alleged insincerity of the republicans on the tariff, an indorsement of the Australian ballot system, and an educational plank intended to draw Lutheran and Catholic votes to the party. The convention will be held at St. Paul Sept. 10. So says the information.

There has been something of a lull in local affairs lately, but the pot is expected to boil very soon. But little is heard of the various state offices and but little will be heard for a week or two. Then the struggle will come.

IN LOBBY AND CORRIDOR.

According to Landlord Cullyford some of the Duluth papers are giving him credit for contemplating costlier improvements than he intends making this season.

Only words of highest praise for the getheractiveness of the New Duluth Land company could be heard last night. "As The Herald made an official statement it is hard to see what crumb of comfort The News can find from its when-everything-is-built-and-running-we'll-tell-you-about-it article published this morning," said a member of the land company to me.

It is seldom that a more distinguished crowd gathers than that at The Spalding yesterday. And among these capitalists are two men whose names are familiar to everyone in the West—Marshall Field and Philip D. Armour. Both are many times millionaires, and both started from the bottom of the ladder. Today Marshall Field own the largest drygoods establishment in America, and P. D. Armour controls the dressed beef market of the world. The Armours came originally, I believe, from Madison county, N. Y., and some years ago I ran across two old farmers whose chiefest love for the West lies in the fact that Phil Armour, their relative, lives in Chicago. They said he "was gettin' rich, they'd heard; had more'n $10,000 in the bank." They didn't quite see how he got so much, but they "was told he had it."

Lieut. Geo. W. Bristol, editor of The Guardsman: There are some individually fine companies in the Minnesota militia, but its great defect is lack of brigade organization and drill. This would prove a great defect if ever the entire militia should be called out for action. This is one reason for the lack of esprit du corps in your militia.

R. S. Munger: I heard the Strauss orchestra in the auditorium Wednesday evening. There were 3000 people in the house and Manager Blakley told me that on both evenings the house was crowded. Of course there are orchestras and musicians in this country as fine as the Strauss and as Strauss himself, but he plays music that takes, delightful waltzes—the elder Strauss waltzes are, of course, the sweetest ever written. Nobody puts the life and beauty into waltz music that Strauss does.

Geo. M. Eby, president of the Clerks' union: There are great things being done in a quiet way, and every store in Duluth will close its doors at 7 o'clock after July 1. All who were at first the bitterest opponents of this movement have become convinced that the clerks are right and show a willingness to accede to their request.

Judge Ensign: There is no doubt that the chamber of commerce is doing a grand work for the city and ought to be sustained. Those people who think that interest in the chamber is on the decline should bear in mind that there never was an influential chamber of commerce which was not built upon the ruins of a dozen others. This one is. The St. Paul chamber is a good illustration.

Prominent citizen: I am afraid Duluth will suffer at the hands of some of our census enumerators, and when the census report is issued will not be quoted correctly. I am informed upon reliable authority that some of the enumerators, in their eagerness to cover their territory quickly and make as much money as possible, are not asking all the questions or getting all the information required by law. I was informed this morning that an enumerator called at the residence of a gentleman residing on Fourth street and, after asking a few questions concerning him and his wife, departed leaving four children unaccounted for and without asking for other valuable information. I have the name and address of the family alluded to. Such work is certainly detrimental to Duluth's best interests, and should be stopped. Of course, I am aware that the enumerators haven't a financial snap, but having accepted it they should do thoroughly the work required of them. Rather than have Duluth grossly misrepresented, the city or the Chamber of Commerce should be allowed to offer additional inducements.

A MODERN PRODIGAL.

[Charles F. Lummis in Overland Monthly.]

Worse was mine than the Prodigal's wandering,
(He who in rioting ran to waste),
I who have been love's birthright squandering
On the dry sands of a life of haste.

He for women and wine and laughter
Flung the yellow adown the wind:
But I—I was only groping after
Further blindness; who now was blind.

Siren's kisses nor blood-red chalices
Wooed me wander, nor gave excuse:
Not e'en with the plea of pleasure's fallacies
Argues my heart for its wasted use.

Only working—working and blundering
On in the treadmill of every day,
Proud of the slavery—never wondering
If hearts could live "in a business way."

And now too late when the skies are hardening
I turn for a light that has ceased to shine.
He could go home to his father's pardoning,
I must stay with my husks and swine!

PROMISCUOUS JABS.

Appleton Press: The real object, like that of all trusts, is to monopolize the business. The proper way to thwart this proposed monopoly is for the state to manufacture the books itself.

Montevideo Commercial: "Boodle Bill's" type writer is kept pretty busy these days writing personal letters to the voters and telling them he is "somewhat disfigured but still in the ring." They are all accompanied by his autograph, so we are informed, but our informant failed to state whether the autograph was attached to a check or the letters.

Winnebago City Press-News: The dressed-meat law, over which there has been an endless discussion, is "knocked out" by a recent decision of the supreme court of the United States. After a while state legislatures will doubtless realize the fact that they cannot usurp the powers of the general government.

St. Peter Herald: One by one the acts of the last legislature are rudely broken down and withered as before an angry blast. While all the acts of that legislature may be forgotten and lost to sight, we can rest assured that the reputation will last as long as time exists, if for nothing else than the fact that it elected W. D. Washburn to the United States senate.

Don't Like Hart.

Stillwater Democrat: One day last week some person surreptitiously presented the editor with a silver headed cane bearing the inscription: "Presented to J. S. Vandiver for exposing an old 2x4 hypocrite." The only hypocrite of that particular dimension that we remember having alluded to in these columns is Half Holy (H. H.) Hart, and if this was the hypocrite whom the donor had in mind all we can say is to quote that fervent hymn, "The half was never told."

Ours is the Democrat.

Minneapolis Tribune: While politics doubtless had much to do in the choice of republicans [to the World's fair commissionerships], the democrats named have been drawn from the very best elements of the party. Mr. M. B. Harrison of Duluth and Mr. O. V. Tousley of our city stand for the state of Minnesota in this distinguished body, and the selections are highly creditable to the governor's good judgment. Mr. Tousley is very prominently mentioned for secretary of the commission—a position for which he has exceptional qualifications. The exposition will be fortunate if it secures his services in this capacity.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Last November a young girl was locked up in the jail at Sunbury, Pa., on account of being an important witness in a case, as it was feared she would not otherwise be on hand when wanted. The case was disposed of, but the girl's imprisonment was forgotten until she had been detained for four months.

THE BEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH!

TO BE MADE A MEMBER.

Mayor and Aldermen Believe in the Harbormaster Move,

But President Bunnell of the Board Wants no Addition.

The question of making the harbor master a member of the board of public works, ex-officio, has created considerable comment, nearly all of which has been favorable to such a move. Capt. Miller's idea is to make the harbor master a member of the board, simply for the mutual benefit of all parties concerned. Were he clothed with such authority he could have authority over the ends of streets at the water front and could do much more in the way of abating nuisances caused by dumping refuse matter into the bay.

One of the aldermen in speaking of the matter today said that it would be a very wise move and one which should be made as soon as possible. In order to make the harbor master a full fledged member of the board, would of course, require special legislation, but the council would, no doubt, have authority to make him a member, ex-officio.

President Bunnell of the board of public works is not very favorably impressed with the scheme. In speaking of it this morning he said: "There is no necessity of such a move in the first place, and there is no way in which it could be made if there were. The authority of the board of public works is delegated to us by the legislature and the council can do nothing to enlarge or detract from those powers. Besides that, what's the use of such a move? The harbormaster now has authority over all streets which are dock fronts and that ought to be sufficient."

Mayor Davis said that he had not given the subject much thought, but he thought that such a move would be a good one and for the best interests of the city. He believes, however, that the first thing that should be done is the revision of the city charter and make it so that the different departments can work under it more successfully. The best way to revise the charter, the mayor thinks, is for the president of the council to appoint a committee composed of members of the council, Chamber of Commerce and other bodies, to which the different departments might make recommendations, and then let the committee find as much fault as possible with these recommendations. This would undoubtedly bring about the desired result.

One Look Was Enough.

Quite a sensation was caused this morning by the report that "Jim" a colored individual and a familiar figure about the docks had been found hanging by the neck in the tool house of the Inman line. A large number who heard of the suicide hastened to the tool house, took one look at the cold and lifeless body and turned sadly away. So far as known, "Jim" never had any other name, and just where he came from is hard to tell. He did not grow, for he was made of iron and for a long time has occupied a position on the roof of the pilot house of one of the Inman tugs. He was removed the other day and after having been kicked about the docks by nearly everybody was brought into requisition by some of the men of the line who sometimes smoke cigars. No inquest will be held.

CITY BRIEFS.

The largest raft ever taken to Ashland reached there the other day in tow of the tug J. M. Bennett, for the Cranberry Lumber company. It contained nearly 16,000 pieces, aggregating 2,000,000 feet. The Bennett is in port today awaiting the inspection of Inspectors Chalk and Monaghan. She is not a large tug but is very powerful, her engines costing over $6,000.

What's the use of having gutters on Superior street when they are not able to carry off the water? The rain of the past two days has emphasized this fact. The water has run over the sidewalks in some places and flooded a few basements, though not badly. The gutters should be repaired.

An interesting feature of the Esty entertainment will be an exhibition of Indian club swinging by Miss Hunter.

SAW IT IN THE HERALD.

Relatives of Miner Quick Search for Him; Many Tower Notes.

Tower, Minn., June 6.—A letter was received here last evening from Ida Quick of Alton, Ill., inquiring for particulars of James Quick, who met his death at the Minnesota two weeks ago, and whom she suspects of being her brother. Attached was a clipping from The Herald, which gave a full account of the tragedy. If it proved to be as she suspected, she expressed a desire to have his remains removed to Alton and have Mrs. Quick come and make her home with her.

Rev. Dore of Minneapolis, will hold quarterly services at the M. E. church in Soudan next Sunday.

Mrs. A. L. McDermid has arrived and joined her husband at Soudan. They will occupy the cottage near the postoffice at that place.

Jasper Williams has purchased a small steam yacht and will run it on our lakes this summer. The boat is supposed to make ten miles an hour and is suitable for small fishing and picnic parties who wish to enjoy themselves among the numerous islands on Lake Vermilion.

A BOOM IN BIRTHS.

Double the Number of May a Year Ago; Board of Health.

The mortuary report for the month of May is as follows: There were 22 deaths, of which 11 were male and 11 female, 19 single and 3 married. Fourteen were natives of Duluth, 3 of other portions of the United States, 1 Germany, 2 Ireland, 1 England and 1 Norway. Ten were under 1 year of age, 3 between 1 and 5 years, 1 between 5 and 10 years, 6 between 20 and 40 years and 1 over 60 years of age. There was 1 death each from the following causes: Arsinical poisoning, nephritis, heart disease, phthisis, entritis, peritonitis, premature birth, brain fever, tuberculosis, bronchitis, accidental burning and pireperal fever; 2 each from pneumonia and inanition; 4 from meningitis and 2 were still-born.

There were 84 births, of which 36 were male and 48 female, 3 illegitimate and 2 still-born. For the same month in 1889 there were 27 deaths and 45 births.

Bids Opened.

At the regular meeting of the board of works yesterday afternoon the following bids for grading, were opened: First alley from First avenue east to Sixth avenue east, Zimmerman & Moore, $3618.80; Rasmus Johnson, $2695.45; M. Fitzgerald, $2978.05; J. C. Morrison, $3264.20. Grading First alley from Fourth avenue west to Seventh avenue west, Zimmerman & Moore, $2575; J. C. Morrison, $2623.40; M. Fitzgerald, $2972; Rasmus Johnson, $3029. Grading Fourth alley from 200 feet east of Second avenue west to Fourth avenue west, Zimmerman & Moore, $1283.10; M. Fitzgerald, $1405.40; Rasmus Johnson, $1437.34. No contracts were let, but they will probably be awarded to the lowest bidder in each case. Final estimates were allowed on the grading of First street from Connecticut avenue to Fourteenth avenue, and the street accepted.

"Spartacus."

R. D. MacLean, the tragedian, produces "Spartacus" at Temple Opera tonight. The play has not been seen in Duluth since Robert Downing gave it, and MacLean is said to be a much better actor than he. Besides possessing a magnificent physique he has a voice clear and resonant, and his interpretation of the lines of this heroic drama shows an individuality which has left the old familiar rut through which actor after actor has trod as Spartacus, trying for itself a new path to popular favor. Miss Prescott's methods in the role of Rosalind in "As You Like It" are peculiarly her own, and she has been compared favorably with Mary Anderson and Ada Rehan.

PLANS FOR THE STATION.

Contracts for the New Electric Station Let Next Week.

For Engines Also that are of 640 Total Horse Power.

Manager A. S. Chase returned from St. Paul this morning, where he went to attend the meeting of the Street Railway company and close up the contract for the engines and boilers for the power house. President Hill has not returned from New York and the contracts could not be closed, but the bids are all in and this matter will be settled as soon as Mr. Hill returns from the East, which will be in a few days. Mr. Chase thinks these matters will be closed up by the first of next week.

The plans for the new power house at Piedmont avenue and Eleventh avenue west have been completed and the contracts will be let by the first of next week. The building will be of stone and brick and three stories in height, fifty feet on Piedmont and 110 feet deep. In the basement will be located a 320-horse power engine with three boilers of 480-horse power. One engine will do the work at first, but another will be added as soon as it can be made, to be used as a duplicate in case of a break down. On the second floor will be located five dynamos of 80-horse power each. The third or ground floor on the Piedmont avenue side will be used for a car storage and the general offices of the company will also be fitted up on this floor. The smoke stack for the building will be 150 feet in height.

The present plans are for a building only one-third the size of what the building will be eventually. Provisions are made for an extension of 100 feet on Piedmont avenue and the same depth as the present building. There will be room, however, in the present building for the supplementary engine which will be put in position as soon as it can be manufactured.

SPORTING NOTES.

The Boston Brotherhood team would be a great deal stronger with Brown at left, Johnson at Center and Richardson at second base.

Heavy odds are offered against Harvard in its cycle team race against Yale on June 8.

The California Athletic club has decided to match Joe Cheynski and Jack Ashton. They will fight at catch weights in July.

There is trouble in the Columbus team. The men are not pulling together, and some of them are dissipating. Three or four of them had a high-old time in New York on their last trip.

F. A. Elwell has recived twenty-two applications to join his Euopean cycling tour. The party will sail for the other side on June 7.

Willie Windle of Millbury, the champion amateur bicycle rider, has a collection of nearly a round dozen of machines at his home.

Duncan Ross, the American athlete, was defeated a second time in a Græco-Roman wrestling match by Professor Miller of Australia, at Melbourne recently. Miller disabled Ross in the third bout with the "hammerlock" hold.

TO FISHERMEN.

A Chance to Get a Splendid Trout Outfit; Sporting News.

As an incentive to fishermen and to further a manly sport, The Herald offers a split bamboo pole, click reel and fine trout line, secured from the fine stock of Boyce & Totman, corner of Fourth avenue and West Superior street, and guaranteed by this firm to be all represented, to The Herald subscriber securing, between May 19 and the end of the legal trout season, the largest brook trout caught by rod and line.

If possible, the fish must be weighed by a Herald representative, and all weights not seen must be guaranteed and vouched for by witnesses or on the affidavit of the catcher. The prize will be exhibited in Boyce & Totman's window after today. Call and take a look at it, then go out and catch a trout that will bring you this splendid outfit.

Sad Memories.

"Ah," said the gray-haired wayfarer at the railroad lunch counter, "This is the old place. I recognized yonder landmark at once."

"What landmark?" asked the cashier.

"Forty years ago when I was traveling over this road," continued the stranger, "I carved my initials and date on yonder piece of apple pie. I see you have it yet. Excuse an old man's tears."

The travelers on "The Burlington" have no memories of that kind. Their recollections are of sumptuous meals in those dining-cars which were long ago given the title of "peerless" by their patrons, and they can say with the epicure of olden time—"Fate cannot harm me: I have dined today—(on 'The Burlington' dining-ca..") Other pleasing memories will be of the smooth track, quick time, elegant coaches, and luxurious sleeping-cars. For tickets by this line, apply to any ticket agent of this or connecting lines, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

TWO DROWNED.

Lost Their Lives Attempting to Save Another.

Ashley Lake, Utah, June 6.—During the high water season this year the people have been constantly watching the bridges and levees. The soil of this valley when water soaked, is very treacherous. There is a canal made to carry the water from Ashley creek around the west side of the valley which is thrown from its old warped channel by a levee. The water broke through this embankment and poured through the old gulch. Men have been working more than a week to repair the break, and yesterday, when completed, Mr. Wimmer attempted to cross it with a horse. The ground being soaked underneath, gave way and man and horse were washed into the ravine. Two young men, Workmen and Bird, seeing the danger of Mr. Wimmer, rushed to his rescue. They proved, unable, however, to compete with the torrent and both were drowned.

Mr. Wimmer was rescued, but not until he was so nearly gone that his recovery is doubtful. The body of Workmen was not found until late last evening, That of Bird was found later. The young men were highly spoken of.

A Celebrated Case.

Montreal, June 6.—The case of John Ross against the Canadian Pacific railway is settled. Ross sued the company for $150,000 balance of account for the construction of the Lake Superior section of the road. The company met that suit by a counter demand of $2,000,000 for alleged mismanagement and the damage resulting from it. Ross accepted $50,000, the company to retract their charges against him.

After the Redskins.

San Francisco, June 6.—Telegraphic information has been received at the army headquarters that no Apaches have left the San Carlos reservation. It is thought the murderers have crossed the Mexican border, and the troops who are changing positions along the line have been instructed to shoot them at sight. Permission is extended from the secretary of war for troops to enter Mexico in the search.

Steamer Hunt Burned.

Victoria, B. C., June 6.—The steamer W. G. Hunt, which ran on the Hudson river in 1849 and later plied on the Sacramento river and British Columbia waters, was burned to the water's edge yesterday.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan—one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

Better Than a Savings Bank or Building Associations—Cumulative Investment Company.

IN RESPONSE TO THE REPEATED DEMANDS for more stock in the Conservative Investment Association, a new corporation has been formed on the same principle by some of the officers of the same under the name Cumulative Investment Company.

The object is to give an opportunity for those unable to make large investments on their own account, to pool their issues by contributing monthly to a fund created for investment in real estate. The management of the affairs of the Cumulative will be vested in a board of seven directors who receive no salaries.

The capital stock is $100,000, divided into 2,000 shares of $50 each, payable in monthly installments of $1 per share. Not more than 50 nor less than 10 shares may be held by any one person.

No better opportunity to make small investments pay such large profits, has ever been offered.

The books are now open for subscription of stock. Call or write at once before it is all taken.

A DEAL CLOSED.

The Eastern Furniture Factory Deal is Finally Settled.

Readers of The Herald will recollect that about the last of March it announced the expected location here of a large furniture factory. The deal which brings this new industry to Duluth has been finally closed, and work on a factory to employ 150 men will begin at once in West Duluth.

The company which will locate here already does a thriving business in the East, and a market for its product is found in nearly every large city in the country. The plant to be built in West Duluth is an extensive one, and will cost over $125,000. A specialty will be made of common house furuishings, but fine grades will also be manufactured. The company receives from Duluth capitalits a small bonus and a site, the latter between the Grassy Point and the Hunter and Markell additions, and near the St. Paul and Duluth railway, and the factory will, it is expected, be turning out its product by December. That such men as Munger & Markell, the Hunters, Lovett & Brown, M. B. Harrison, A. Harrington and others are interested in the plant gives assurance that it exists on something besides paper.

CALIFORNIA'S AD.

The Tempting Display of the Golden State as Made in Duluth.

Three Southern Pacific cars, containing the exhibit of the California state board of trade, arrived in this city last evening over the Omaha and were opened to the public this morning. Two of these coaches are devoted to the exhibit, the third being the living apartments of the gentlemen who are in management. Hundreds of curious Duluthians, anxious to see the wonderful results of coast fertility, have crowded the cars today and gazed with delight at the display. If the fruits, vegetables, etc., there shown approximate to anything like the natural growth of the state, California is well able to supply the nation with all those tropical and semi-tropical fruits that are now imported.

Preserved in great bottles filled with alcohol can be seen the succulent onions, each which might weigh pounds, great luscious-looking pears, bunches of grapes, peaches, plums, apricots, limes, figs and other fruits, while from glass-incased frames are layers of dried fruits of many varieties. Bottles of grains—wheat, rye, oats, corn and the like—line the walls, while mineral and precious wood products are to be found. The Duluth Chamber of Commerce may learn a lesson in advertising from this grand exhibition.

Articles of Incorporation Filed Today; District Court Briefs.

Articles of incorporation of the American District Telegraph company of Minnesota were filed with the register of deeds today. The company proposes to construct and maintain a system of district telegraph, to construct pneumatic tubes or conduits, to connect their lines with the police and fire departments and other public and private offices and buildings and to maintain a line of hacks, coupes, express wagons or other vehicles. The capital stock is $50,000 and the incorporators are H. C. Hope, Wm. H. S. Wright, Jas. B. King, S. B. McConnell, Samuel Dearing and S. L. Perrin of St. Paul, and Geo. C. Howe of Duluth.

Next Monday will be the last day of the present term of court and those who are anxious to secure full citizenship papers would do well to call before that time, as it will be impossible to secure them after court adjourns.

In the case of Wm. McKinley vs. C. W. Osterhout, a suit to quiet title to certain pine lands, Judge Ensign has filed a decision in favor of the plaintiff.

The Lower Court.

The storm seemed to have dampened the ardor of the merry drunk yesterday, and as a result only three were gathered in by the police. John Tapper and James Gilfillan plead guilty and were fined the usual amount. Jennie Fowler, who is neither fat nor fair, but is probably forty, maintained that her mild exuberance of spirits did not emanate from a bottle and she will be given a hearing. W. J. Greene, was found guilty of keeping an unlicensed dog and was fined the usual amount.

Notice to Sons of Veterans and Others.

The encampment of Sons of Veterans will be held at White Bear, and for those wishing to attend, the St. Paul & Duluth railway, "Duluth Short Line," on June 9th and 10th will sell round trip tickets for $4, and to St. Paul and Minneapolis for $4.50. Good to return until and on June 14. For information and tickets apply to

WORLD OF COMMERCE.

Local Market Experiences an Off Day and Prices Lower.

Abundant Rains Reported from Dakota; Prospects Good.

This was an off day for wheat, the local market being a stagnant and declining one, although the opening was ⅛ higher than yesterday's close. and one curb sale of July was made at 94. Reports of continued rain and warm weather in Dakota caused a break at the start, and the impression also prevailed that there was too much wheat, consequently no demands. Other markets were also weak and declining. July opened at 93½, declined steadily and closed at 92⅝ bid. Cash No. 1 hard sold at 91⅛. There was slight trading in September and December.

Cash No. 1 hard closed at 91⅜ nominal, cash No. 1 northern 89¼ bid, cash No. 2 northern 86 nominal, June No. 1 hard 91¼ bid, June No. 1 northern 89¼ bid, July No. 1 hard 92⅝ bid, July No. 1 northern 90⅝ bid, August No. 1 hard 92⅞ bid, September 91 nominal, December 93 sellers.

Curb Notes.

It is predicted that the government report of June 10, will show an average of 78 against 80 reported on May 10.

McCormick & Co. telegraph W. W. Bill as follows: We have had today a heavy, dragging market. An effort was made by the bulls early to advance prices, but realizing from all quarters was too great, and market closes weak and near the bottom. There has been little news of importance in circulation, the usual crop news being very scant. Hutchinson has been a free seller, followed up by several large local operators. We believe that crop conditions are more than discounted in present prices.

Corn in Chicago today has been strong with good buying. A number of Western shippers who had sold short in that market against their holdings were buying in today. Trade was quite active at times.

Oats are very strong on reports that there had been considerable devastation from insects.

Ahead at Warren.

WARREN, Minn., June 6.—[Special to The Herald.]—Had seven-eighths of an inch of rain yesterday, gave the ground good soaking up, the best of the season. Weather has been very warm most of the week and has pushed the grain ahead very fast. Am informed by good authority that it is at least three weeks ahead of last year's crop. Prospects were never more favorable in the history of this country than at present. We look for good returns this fall.

Michigan's Crop Report.

LANSING, Mich., June 6.—The advance statement from the Michigan crop report for June upon the condition of wheat shows it to be 76 per cent of a full average, a gain during May, of only 3 per cent in the southern and 4 in the northern counties. In the extreme southern counties the wheat is beginning to head.

At Tower City.

TOWER, N. D., June 5—[Special to The Herald.]—It rained hard all last night and this forenoon it is sprinkling a little now. Farmers are all smiling; two weeks ago they were all scowling.

The Sloughs all Full.

DAVENPORT, N. D., June 5—[Special to The Herald.]—There has been three and a half inches of water fallen in the past seven days. The sloughs and all the low places are full of water. Crops are in the finest condition. The prospects are better for a large yield than they have been in the last six years. There is moisture enough in the ground at present to carry grain nearly to maturity.

Drenched With Rain.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., May 6.—[Special to The Herald.]—This section of the Red River valley is drenched with rain. Streets and highways are a sea of mud and farmers cry, hold, enough. The irrigation committee has been turned out to grass. Rains have occurred every twenty-four hours of the present week, being specially heavy on Sunday, Wednesday and Thursday. Best of all, Nelson county and other sections where rains have been light heretofore, have been thoroughly soaked this time. Grain has rooted prodigiously, and with warmer weather will grow rapidly. Very little more rain will be needed to mature the wheat crop. It's going to be an old fashioned season in the valley.

GENTLEMEN OF DULUTH.

GOOD STYLES will be our text today. Good Styles are simply the result of good taste in selecting garments and articles of apparel which harmonize with the surroundings. Style cannot be governed by rigid rules, but may be as varied as the beauties of nature and is judged from the eyes of the beholder. We have heard remarked, "Clothes do not make the man." Certainly not, MAN makes the CLOTHES, therefore, while the clothes do not make the man, they PROCLAIM the man. See? By your dress you can say, "I am a professional man, a commercial man, or a man of leisure," and each style can proclaim the GENTLEMAN whether the aged and sober-minded or the sentimental youth, and all by their harmony add to the beauties of poetry. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Recently we talked to you of our GOOD GOODS, and now if you will combine our GOOD GOODS with our GOOD STYLES, don't you see, it will be like "killing two birds with one worm."

FROM OVER THE BRINY.

Last Day of the Epsom Races; Farmers Decidedly Kick.

Reading the Government a Lesson on African Affairs.

LONDON, June 6.—[By cable to The Herald.]—This was the fourth and last day of the Epsom summer meeting. Next to the Derby, the principal race of the meeting, the Oaks stakes of 4000 sovereigns for 3-year-old fillies was run today. It was won by the Duke of Portland's brown filly Memoir, by St. Simon out of Quiver. Chevalier Ginistrelles' brown filly Signorina, by St. Simon out of Star of Portici, was second, and Mr. J. H. Houldsworth bay filly Ponza by Springfield out of Napoli, third. There were seven starters. The race for the Acorn stakes was won by Romanee, Gavotte was second and Jessamy third.

The English agriculturists, who bear the burden of supporting the established clergy in the way of tithes on their product, are very restless under the burden, and not at all satisfied with the government bill transferring the payment on rent charge from the tenant to the landlord; what they want is a revolution of the tithe, the circumstances under which tithes were valued in 1836, and the high prices then established being very unsatisfactory now. The farmers seem inclined to join in the clamor for disestablishment, but so far they content themselves with declining to approve the government bill and calling for re-adjustment. The action of the house of commons in committee last night, however in rejecting a proposal to revise the tithe system to meet the altered agricultural condition, will doubtless induce them to join the ranks of the howlers for disestablishment.

The Chronicle this morning offers another installment of advice to the government in regard to Africa, its article being directly antagonistic to the suggestions contained in the presumably inspired article in the Times on the same subject. "The only honest and patriotic course for Lord Salisbury to pursue, says the Chronicle, "is to stop his treatings with Germany with reference to the respective spheres of influence of Germany and England in Africa without delay, and see to it that British traders in east Africa re-occupy the positions from which the premier has evicted them through his desire to conciliate Germany. The spectacle of England turning her back upon Englishmen while assuming an attitude of supplication toward Germany, is one that the people of Great Britain are not accustomed to, and are not inclined to encourage continuance of."

Considerable indignation is being expressed over the discovery that Arthur Newton, the lawyer now undergoing a sentence of six weeks' imprisonment, is being treated as a first-class misdemeanant, being allowed to wear his own clothes, buy his own food, use the warden's office and receive visitors at will.

Newton pleaded guilty to an attempt to frustrate the ends of justice by smuggling out of the country some of the leading witnesses in the nortorious Clerkenwell street scandal, and furnished the funds by which the man Hammond, the principal in the affair, was enabled to fly first to Belgium and thence to the United States. Newton's slick methods in fact prevented the collection of evidence against the noble debauchees to whose vile tastes he pandered, and his present lenient treatment confirms the prevalent idea that the authorities are doing their level best to consign the scandal to oblivion.

It is probable that the matter may yet be made the subject of keen inquiry in the house of commons, although it seems more than hopeless to get beneath the veil of mystery with which the scandal shrouded.

Merely a Notification.

BERLIN, June 6.—It is announced today that Chancellor Von Caprivi's communication to the various European powers concerning Prince Bismarck is merely a notification of Prince Bismarck's resignation, it being usual to inform the powers when a high state officer withdraws.

Times no Criterion.

LONDON June 6.—The Times says the sending of American cruisers to Behrings sea smacks too much of Napoleon's methods and thinks that British men-of-war should promptly follow. The pressure of the Irish vote, The Times thinks, has changed Blaine's desire to settle the fisheries question in a diplomatic manner.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

A Pretty Compliment to Mrs. Harrison; Duluth's Building.

Still on Silver; Other Newsy Notes From the Law-makers.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—It has been known for some time that the President's family will spend the heated months of the summer at Cape May, but an incident occurred today which will be as much of a surprise to the friends of the administration as it was to the inhabitants of the White house themselves. Last summer Mrs. Harrison spent some time with Mrs. McKee and her children as the guest of Postmaster General Wanamaker in a cottage at Cape May Point. Mrs. Harrison enjoyed herself so thoroughly during this brief visit to the seaside that she was profuse in her acknowledgement of Mr. Wanamaker's hospitality.

When the announcement was recently made that Mrs. Harrison and the rest of the family would not go to Deer Park this summer but that they intended to spend their vacation by the seaside, the postmaster recalled Mrs. Harrison's enjoyment on the Jersey coast last summer. The result of this was that today Editor McKean, of the Philadelphia Ledger, accompanied by Mr. Wanamaker, called upon Mrs. Harrison at the White house. There, Mr. McKean, on on behalf of a number of subscribers to the gift, presented Mrs. Harrison with the deed and keys to the cottage at Cape May Point, where she enjoyed herself last summer. Mrs. Harrison was overcome by surprise. She is, however, greatly delighted with the gift and is especially proud because of the fact that this is the first piece of real estate she has ever owned in her own name.

The cottage is an old-fashioned building, coutaing about twenty rooms, and it is probable that Mrs. Harrison will visit Cape May Point in a week or two to inspect her new possession and make preparation for residing there during the summer. As the impression grows that congress will not adjourn until September the probability grows that the president himself will be compelled to remain in Washington during most of the hot weather Thus it becomes doubly pleasant to know that the ladies of the family will be able to escape the heat of Washington summer.

Silver for the People.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Before the beginning of the debate in the house on the silver bill, at the request of Mr. Payson, of Illinois, Mr. Conger, of Iowa, in charge of the bill, modified his substitute so as to provide that the treasury notes issued in pursuance of the bill shall be a legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, striking out the following words: "Except where otherwise expressly stipulated in the contract." Mr. Payson said that he realized that the substitute would in substance pass this body, and it would be done in obedience to public sentiment, which he believed to be universally in favor of a larger use of silver as a money metal and of a further increase of the currency of the country.

If the government used silver at all it should be used as a money metal and not as a commodity. He was opposed to the substitute because of that, but he expected to give it his support in this contingency. He hoped that an opportunity would be given to strike out the bullion redemption feature. This bill was bound to be considered at the other end of the capital. It would be amended there and the house would have an opportunity to vote on the amendments.

Mr. Bynum, of Indiana: Suppose it is not amended?

Mr. Payson—From assurances I have from another place I have no more doubt of that than that I am here.

Mr. Williams of Illinois—Suppose they should be controlled as you are?

Mr. Payson—But they cannot be. There is no previous question and no special order there. (Laughter.) Referring to a remark made yesterday by Mr. Walker of Massachusetts, to the effect that in caucus he (Mr. Payson) stated that he would support the bill because his seat would depend upon it. He expressed his regret that the gentlemen had permitted that remark to go into the record. The gentleman ought to know that he had in caucus uttered but one opinion in regard to this bill, and that was that 999 out of every 1000 of his constituents were opposed to it, and that if he should support it as their representative it would cost him his seat. Could the gentleman understand the difference between duty and policy? [applause]. He was here representing constituents who had honored him with four successive elections. He believed as they believed in the principles of the republican party, and he said in the presence of the house and of the country that 999 caucus would never compel him to misrepresent the people he represented. [Applause.] Mr. Payson then proceeded to criticise the silver policy of the last four administrations.

Got it on Senate Calendar.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The house bill increasing the limit of cost of the public building at Duluth from $150,000 to $270,000 was reported and placed on the senate calendar this morning.

NORTHWESTERN SYNOD.

More Lutherans in Session who are Against the Bennett Law.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, June 7.—The Evangelical Lutheran synod of Iowa and other states is holding its biennial meeting here. There are 150 delegates, representing 70,000 communicants and 300 clergymen. Washington, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Indiana are represented. The Rev. G. Grossman, D. D., of Waverly, Iowa, is president of the synod.

A committee was appointed, with Mr. Hope of Wisconsin at its head, to frame resolutions on the Bennett law and similar enactments. It is understood that the synod will put itself on record as opposed to any attempt to force the church to educate its children outside of the parochial schools. The treasurer's report shows the total income during the last year to be $3330. Missions have been carried on in five additional states. The synod will remain in session until Monday.

THEY WILL BE FREE.

So Say the Newfoundlanders, and They will Erect Fortifications.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 7.—Leading citizens say they feel that the first step taken by the government of Newfoundland in sending delegates to England to present the case of the islanders had been a success. The next step will probably be the organization of a volunteer force and the erection of fortifications.

The people of Newfoundland are showing a steady determinstion to maintain their rights. The newspppers are more outspoken on the subject than are the delegates. The St. John's Herald says England must fight France or abandon her British-American positions.

No More Boxing at Ann Arbor.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 7.—The state university faculty has taken another step in its aggressive policy toward the students. As a result of the hotly contested sparring at the field day sports recently, Farr, Fransen and Glidden, the men who entered the ring, have been prohibited from any more contests of the kind. This, however, is not aimed directly at the students in question, as it is intended that boxing will henceforth be excluded from the list of events at the regular field day sports. The students are angry at the action because they say it was not the students, but the visiting athletic men, who gave the punishment. The reason given for the decision is that the measure taken was necessary, owing to the attitude of the press on the subject.

Why Didn't They Shoot?

BURLINGTON, June 7.—Last evening a tough character named Olin Smith got into a quarrel with the driver of a beer wagon. When an officer attempted to arrest him, he retreated to a barber shop where he fought desperately, felling the officer with a chair. A second officer rushed in, but was kicked in the abdomen and so badly injured that he is confined to his bed. Bystanders attempted to assist the officers, but were driven off by the desperado who made his escape.

Big Damage—None Killed.

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 7.—A collision and wreck occurred on the Des Moines union railway track between Wabash and Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City passenger trains. The Wabash engine was badly wrecked and the rear end of the Kansas City coach demolished. The passengers were badly shaken up, but none of them injured. A Wabash brakeman had his hand badly hurt and the tracks were blocked for several hours. The loss is not far from $100,000.

The Association's Picnic.

PITTSBURGH, June 7.—The annual reunion of Amalgamated association of Iron & Steel workers was held at Rockpoint, Pa. today. Between 15,000 and 20,000 were present, including representatives from lodges in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. The day was spent in dancing and athletic amusements.

Shot His Father.

HURON, S. D., June 7.—Last evening Mr. Handley, editor of The Huron Herald-Democrat, was engaged in putting down a carpet in his house when he had occasion to rebuke his son Fred, a lad of 16 years. The boy instantly drew a small revolver and shot his father fatally in the back of the head. Examination showed that the bullet had penetrated the base of the skull. The boy was arrested and is now in jail awaiting his trial.

Would Militarize the Coast.

BERLIN, June 7.—A letter from Maj. Wissman has been received here, in which he states that the presence of cruisers on the east coast of Africa is not sufficient to stop the slave trade that is being carried on. Maj. Wissman holds that the only effectual way to put a stop to the slave trade is to establish military garrisons at different points along the coast.

"A Great Battle."

NEW YORK, June 7.—Clem Denning of New York and Dan Corbett of Brooklyn, both middleweights, fought near Coney Island this morning, according to London prize ring rules, for a purse of $300 and $200 a side. Denning won, after a great battle of twenty-three rounds. Two hundred persons witnessed the sight.

Salvage Allowed.

LONDON, June 7.—The admiralty court today handed down a decision awarding £7,500 to the British steamer Aldersgate and £900 to the American steamer Ohio for the services they rendered to the Inman line steamer City of Paris in towing her to Queenstown after the breaking down of her machinery in mid-ocean last March.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

An oil well known as No. 1, on the Neil farm near Murrinsville, Butler county, Pa., was drilled to the top of the sand this morning. The tools had hardly penetrated the oil rock when a terrific stream of oil poured out at the rate of about 100 barrels per hour.

A THING OF THE FUTURE

And Therefore News; A C. P. R. Ship Line Direct to Duluth.

With the Railways; A Woman Train Wrecker; Some Notes.

A gentleman prominently identified with Northwestern and Canadian railroad interest, was in town last night, and his official position gives reliability to statements he made to a Herald reporter regarding the true inwardness of the recent issue of $20,000,000 bonds by the Canadian Pacific for betterments and improvements of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic road. "It is no secret," said he, "that the Canadian Pacific practically owns the Duluth & Atlantic road, and Canadian Pacific people are also largely interested in the building of the Duluth & Winnipeg. In fact I may say that the Canadian Pacific is building the Winnipeg & Duluth road. The route from Winnipeg to the Sault, via the Winnipeg & Duluth, the Duluth & Winnipeg and the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic will form the fast freight and winter route of the Canadian Pacific.

"Part of the $20,000,000 raised by the recent bond issue will be expended in extending the Zenith City Short Line into Duluth, the establishment or terminals and the building of warehouses and docks. The survey into Duluth has, as everyone knows, been made for the past year. No work will be done this year on this great improvement, but by 1892 the South Shore will be running over its own tracks. The Canadian Pacific also intends to operate a line of boats between Buffalo and Duluth for its lake and New York business. This matter has been rumored several times before, but I can assure you all it is true."

Train-Wrecker in Petticoats.

COLDWATER, Mich., June 7.—Miss Kittie M. Frederick, a good-looking girl, 20 years old, was brought to the county jail in this city today from Union City, charged with trying to wreck a train on the Michigan Central railroad by placing ties on the track. She admits that she and another girl did place two broken ties on the track, and saw the engine of a freight train push them off, but they did it for fun and not because of malice. She appears not to realize the enormity of her offense.

The Tough Story of King Milan and His Prime Minister.

LONDON, June 7.—The application filed by M. Christich, formerly prime minister of Servia, and later Servian minister to Berlin, for a divorce from his wife, Artemesia, has caused considerable surprise, not, however, because of any belief that his petition his groundless, but rather that he should at this late day take action that any self-respecting man in his well known position would have resorted to years ago.

It is a matter of notoriety that the particular advancement on M. Christich and his retention of the several high positions to which he was raised were based solely upon his acquiescence in the scandalous relations existing between his wife and his soveresign, King Milan, and it is also equally well known that his social and finally his official ostracism in Berlin was due to his peculiar notion of his rights as a husband. Furthermore, no part of Europe is in ignorance of the fact that Mme. Christich finally left the husband to whom she had never been true to live openly with Milan, who was compelled to abdicate his throne by the clamor against his profligacy. It was King Milan's relations with Mme. Christich too that formed the basis of Queen Natalie's suit for divorce.

Yet with all these proofs M. Christich merely alleges an ungovernable temper on the part of his wife and her final desertion of his home as the grounds upon which he petitions for separation. Ex-Queen Natalie is too keenly incensed against the unfaithful father of her son the present King of Servia to allow an opportunity for revenge to go by, and it is expected that she will contribute very largely to the sensational character of the revelations of the proceedings in M. Christich's action.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 7.—The text of the proposed lottery amendment has been made public under the following caption: An act providing for the submission to the electors of the state for the adoption or rejection of an amendment to the constitution of the state by inserting therein: "An article on levees, schools, charities, pensions, drainage and lotteries." If adopted, said amendment shall read: "In the aid of levees, schools, charities, pensions and drainage." The proposed amendment embraces a contract between the state and John A. Morris, and associates under which for lottery privileges for twenty-five years from Jan. 1, 1894. Morris & Co. agree to pay the state $25,000,000, or $1,000,000 per annum, payable quarterly.

Provision is also made for the expenditure of the money to be received by the state anually as follows: Public schools, $350,000; levees, $350,000; charities and pensions, $200,000; City of New Orleans, for drainage and sanitary purposes, $100,000. The measure will be introduced on Monday next.

ON THE BIG ORE RANGE.

A Lot of Valuable News from the Great Northern Iron Beds.

Promising Mining Properties; Putting in Drills; Notes.

NO situation could be better than that of the Vermilion. No region could be in better shape than it, except that the majority of smaller mine owners want to see more railway facilities. Indeed, as The Herald has repeatedly stated, this one desirable feature is sure to come, and come soon. As was said today by a large owner of properties on the range:

"If a good share of the present explorations and developings show satisfactorily, the money is ready and glad to build all the rail facilities needed or wanted. That these explorations will be successful there is no practical doubt. In most cases they have traced the ore bodies for considerable distances and have positive knowledge of the veins, width, etc. The only question is as to the richness, of those where shafts have been sunk to any depth and as not a single body of what may be called poor ore has yet been found on the Vermilion this question doesn't cut much figure."

WANT A NEW ROAD.

The Profit for More Railways to the Iron Range Pointed Out.

To the Editor of The Herald.

The following article taken from The Manufacturing Record of Baltimore, May 24, will we trust add still more interest to the already interesting articles of The Herald on the iron business on the Vermilion and Mesabi ranges:

"The rapid development of the iron ore deposits of the Lake Superior region and more especially the Vermilion and Gogebic ranges entitles this wonderful region to rank among the phenomena of this remarkable industrial era. The history of the Vermilion range tells of an enterprise even more bold in its conception and execution than the developments of the Gogebic region. Over fifteen years ago the late Charlemagne Tower of Philadelphia, learned (through George C. Stone of Duluth) of the existence of rich iron deposits in the vicinity of Vermilion lake. The country was a tangled wilderness, a trackless forest, in which exploration was a difficult undertaking, but in 1875 Mr. Tower sent experts up into that region to make a thorough examination of all the ore property. Upon the strength of their favorable report he purchased 20,000 acres of land near Vermillion lake, and a few years later he set about building a railroad through the wilderness down to the shore of Lake Superior at Two Harbors, a distance of seventy miles, and thence along the shore twenty-six miles further to Duluth. The cost of this railroad was enormous and its construction was the work of many months for a force of 1500 men.

"It was not until July 31, 1884, that the first train load of ore came down from the Tower mines over the new Duluth & Iron Range railroad to Two Harbors, from which point it was shipped to Cleveland by barge. The shipments for the first year aggregated 62,124 tons. Last year the Vermilion range yielded 344,782 tons, and the total output up to the beginning of this season was 2,342,991 tons, of a market value of over $14,000,000. In June, 1887, Mr. Tower disposed of his holdings of Vermilion ore property and his railroad to a syndicate for $6,250,000."

You will notice in the above article that the shipments from the Vermilion range last year were 344,782 tons of ore, and all this from the Tower and Chandler mines, and all carried over the Iron Range railroad. I again quote from same article: "As a train of forty or fifty ore cars is handled by about three to five men, and the ore docks are so constructed that the ore is emptied from the bottom of the cars into pockets and then from the pockets into the vessels without manual labor, it can be readily seen that the expenses of such traffic are very light and the profits correspondingly good. Then there is a large traffic in other directions, as there is an immense amount of freight to be shipped into the mining regions. As a rule the regions surrounding the mine workings are productive of nothing but iron ore and the transportation of supplies for the large population of the mining district forms in itself a large volume of business."

As all know we have but one railway to the iron range, let us see, what the ore traffic alone has paid that road, to say nothing of their enormous lumber and general freight traffic. The ore shipments, as already stated, were 344,782 tons for last year, which at 90 cents a ton gives a total of $760,303.80. If we add to this $220,000 for the passenger traffic we have a grand total $980,303.80. We regret we cannot give the figures on the lumber and general freight traffic. In the face of these facts, why have we not another railroad to our ranges? or why do our railroad combines hesitate to enter into competition for this large trade which can be doubled in amount within one year after an assurance is given of a new road. It is a well-known fact that within sixty-five miles of Duluth on the Mesabi range, ore in large deposits has been developed by the Mountain Range Iron company, and that too, on a direct route to the iron range. It is equally well known that there is sufficient pine lumber along the route to almost, if not entirely, pay for the road in freight traffic. Again more than twenty really first-class properties on the Vermilion range are only waiting the starting of another road before commencing active operations, and the owners are all willing to enter into traffic contracts with the new road. All over the great Northwest we have a reaching out of new railroads extending through trackless forests and unbroken prairies, whose future dividends depend almost entirely on the settlements to be made in the "sweet bye and bye," when the forests shall disappear and the prairies "blossom as the rose," before the hardy frontier settler. Even the South is banding her surface with a network of steel rails, through mountain gorge, and over cedar swamps, to reach iron ore, that requires from two and one-half to three tons to make one ton of iron or steel, while our Vermilion and Mesabi ores require less than two tons of ore to make one ton of steel. Then on with the Duluth & Northwestern railroad or some other road that will give the ranges competition, relief, sure shipments and no monopoly. H. B.

THE THUNDER BAY.

Great Riches Hidden Away in the Soil of Western Ontario.

TORONTO, June 7.—A few extracts from the remarkable report of the Ontario mining commission that has been carrying on its investigations for nearly a year past are interesting. After calling attention to the fact that Ontario has abundant magnetic and hematitic iron ores, gold-bearing quartz, plumbago, zinc, copper, galena, silver, besides inexhaustible supplies of granite, marble, serpentine, and sandstone, the report says:

"West of Port Arthur is a silver district which, judging from explorations already made, promises to be an argentiferous region of great richness. Beyond this district, to the northwest, are found veins of gold-bearing quartz and extensive ranges of magnetic iron ore, while to the southwest is believed to be a continuation of the Vermilion iron range of northern Minnesota. The United States is the chief customer of our mineral products, and for seven years ending in 1887, Americans took nearly five times as much of our minerals as was sent to all the rest of the world. The great store of ore and structural materials possessed by Canada, and our transportation facilities by land and water for placing them upon the markets of the United States, could not fail to have built up trade to an immense extent in mine and quarry products but for the duties, which have served, in a more or less perfect degree, the purpose of preventing commercial intercourse. Ontario undoubtedly possesses large quantities of iron ore that might be delivered at all the furnaces of Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York as cheaply, except for the duty, as the ores of Lake Superior, but her mines are almost absolutely idle."

The report calls attention to the fact that half the capital invested in mines in Ontario is owned by Americans, that the desire for freer trade relations between the two countries in regard to the products of mines in general among those engaged in mining operations in Canada, and points to the great growth this industry would have attained if the commercial policies of the two countries toward each other had been different.

On the Anderson.

Messrs. E. C. Gridley, Jas. T. Hale and others of Duluth and interested in the Anderson property, were on the east range last week and made a trip to that property. They purpose buying a diamond drill and putting it in on the Anderson and if developments are as good as they promise they have a most excellent mine.

At the Camp and the Lucky Boy, close to the Anderson a good deal of work has been done, especially by Mr. Camp, who has put down a series of fifty holes. He has used an augur and hand drill and has gone down to the vein enough to know that he has a mass of ore running diagonally across a 40-acre tract and perhaps 100 feet wide at the narrowest point. He has also sunk pits and is sure of an excellent property. A good deal of developing has been done at the Anderson.

The Minnesota Mine.

At the development of the Minnesota Mining company, which, by the way, is not in any way connected with the Minnesota Iron company, the stripping is nearly completed, and a splendid body of ore is shown. Of course as yet, and until a diamond drill is at work thereon, the full value and depth of the ore body cannot be known. But the company undoubtedly has a splendid property and one that will make as famous a mine as any on the entire Vermilion range. The company has purchased a diamond drill and proposes at once to go ahead and find out. The drill will be put to work about the 15th of this month and is expected to make some remarkable showings.

The Herald has been shown assays from surface ore and from ore one or two feet down, and they are certainly most encouraging, showing ore without titanium and inside the Bessemer limit. Messrs. H. B. Moore, W. T. Bailey and Parsons have been on the property this week making arrangements for the drill work. Thirteen men have been busy stripping since snow went off.

The Great Norrie.

From an extended description of the Norrie mine, written by J. B. Knight of the Norway Current, we take the following concerning the leviathan of the Lake Superior iron districts:

While a day is only a short time to spend in a mine of the magnitude of the Norrie, and no pretense could be made of doing other than to get a general outline, we saw enough to satisfy the most skeptical that while the demand for iron ore holds good or at least for generations to come, the Norrie will continue to be a source of revenue to its owners. We can only give a general outline of the condition of the mine, for although we walked and climbed a good many miles, no attempts could be made to visit all the rooms and stopes. To begin we will give the relative depths of the shafts, a level being not less than 80 feet and in some cases as high as 100 feet. No. 1, the most westerly shaft, is down to the fourth level. No. 2 is to the seventh level. No. 3 is to the sixth, No. 4 is to the fifth, Nos. 5 and 6 are to the sixth, and Nos. 7 and 8 are to the fifth level. It will thus be seen that there are eight hoisting shafts with a good skiproad in each. A new plant of machinery has recently been put in which consists of four 10-foot drums. The mine is connected throughout as deep as the fifth level, and the bulk of the ore mined at present comes from this level, although more ore remains in the levels above which will all be reached, and the sixth level could be made available for a large output in a short time. The question with the Norrie is not the mining of ore but the hoisting of it. It is safe to say that less than half of the rooms ready for stoping are being wrought. The Norrie reaches across two forties and is therefore half a mile long. We measured one place in the lens and from the ore body 205 feet wide from wall to wall. Tuesday we walked across a place which was forty-five sets of timber in width and a set measures 7 feet 4 inches from center to center, being therefore 330 feet wide.

The Lake Superior Ranges.

The Lake Shore road hauled 601 carloads of ore into Ashland one day a short time ago. At the present rate the gross earnings of the company on ore alone to Ashland will be over a quarter of a million for one month.

The Republic Iron company has just purchased 12,500 shares in the West Republic mine for about $5 per share. The West Republic is capitalized at $500,000, in 20,000 shares. Though the mine had long been a good one, for various reasons it has been only partially worked of late years, shipping but 1510 tons of ore last year. During the previous ten years, however, shipments ranged from 10,000 to 30,000 tons. The West Republic is on the Marquette range west of the Republic.

The present force at the Colby is about 450, and new men are being added daily. Shipments are ranging from 1,800 to 2,000 tons a day, 900 tons being raised daily. New boiler houses, engine rooms, and improvements have been added recently, and new machinery is to be put in soon. This year's output is estimated at a quarter of a million tons.

It is said that good ore has been found on the farm of John Courier, near Negaunee. The new find is situated about a mile north of Champion and developments are being watched with interest.

The East Jackson mine is now on the shipping list. The large gang of men engaged in putting in the double track to the mine have the work finished and a cargo was shipped therefrom this week.

The new Schlesinger road will be built to Florence this year and will be ready for the ore traffic of 1891, although the contracts let thus far are only for the construction of the road from Escanaba to Iron Mountain. The contract for the line from Iron Mountain to Florence will soon be let.

J. O. Hayes says the Ashland will reach 400,000 tons this season. Every mine is being worked to its fullest limit at present, Mr. Hayes says, and the total output of the range will be very large. Plenty of prospectors are at work, mainly on the western end of the range, and iron has recently been found at several points.

Because of the short-sightedness of property owners and the general apathy of citizens of Ashtabula that port will lose the great ore docks which the Schlesinger syndicate is to build, and Erie or Fairport will get them.

Corporate articles have been filed by the Crown Point Mining company. The company's principal place of business is in Duluth. The capital stock is placed at $600,000. The incorporators are: A. D. Cummings, H. R. Tinkham, Emory Tinkham, J. H. Hillyer, George A. Elder, James Billings and C. E. Shannon, all of Duluth, and Joseph Bond, Jr., of Minong, Wis. The company will own and operate the noted Crown Point silver mine of the Rabbit mountain district, north of the line, on which Mr. Cummings has for a number of years been operating. The company has a most valuable property.

The Ore Outlook.

The iron trade shows signs of that returning prosperity that furnace and ore men have for the past few months been hoping for. After the unexampled output of last year there was a natural lull and a consequent setback, especially when the tremendous weekly pig iron output did not decrease. But this lull appears to be over, and there are renewed sales of ore as well as a better feeling and higher prices in pig iron. The Iron Trade Review speaks as follows in its summary of the week:

The first ripple of prosperity that agitated the market last week has not died away, bidding fair to stay awhile and grow in volume. The first advance in pig iron, last week, was immediately followed by inquiries for Bessemer ore, resulting in the sale of some 20,000 tons. While the quantity sold is so small as to cut no figure, the sale itself stands in evidence of the returning confidence of furnace men, and as a precursor of better things to come. The price obtained was up to the full quotation, which is another confirmation of the wisdom exercised by the ore interests in maintaining prices. The reports current in the Lake Superior country that the railroads and docks could not handle the large output predicted for '90, are hardly in keeping with the facts. The shortage, if any there is, will be due to the inability of the mines to provide cargoes as fast as required. Up to this date, nessmen complain that the stock piles, being still frozen, cannot be moved.

If the sale of a considerable quantity of Bessemer at an advance of over a dollar a ton is any sign of improvement, furnacemen will gladly welcome the news. A round lot of Bessemer was sold in the valley during the week, at a price rather better than $18.50 cash, at the furnace. Furnacemen are feeling less blue. There is considerable inquiry and some sales; but no heavy buying movement has set in. The demand, however, is unquestionably better and sales are made with less effort than for a long time.

Duluth ore men and mine owners are highly pleased over the prospect. They feel that the temporary setback, which it was feared might have a continued effect, is over, and that at least another year of as great prosperity as the last will ensue. They feel confident that the year will see active work begun on construction of another railway to the ore fields and they realize that this will affect them, as well as Duluth, as almost no other move can.

It Was a Trifle Odd.

Chicago Tribune: Harry Rockwood, a young man who has been around the globe more than once, was telling some acquaintances about his travels in the Richelieu last evening. Some one asked him what was the strangest sight he had seen in the Old World.

"That is a hard question to answer," he remarked, "but I think a turtle-ride in the Gulf of Siam was as unique as anything. While going over China I stopped at Hatian, a port on the Gulf of Siam, and there enjoyed a strange experience. The natives make the immense turtles common in those ports do service in drawing boats. They swim rapidly and are worth only a few dollars a pair. They are tamed easily, and then fitted out with a light harness and reins. They are attached to the small boats with traces. I rode about twenty miles one day, the animals being managed by the owner of the boat. After they were hitched up we jumped into the boat and the man took up the reins and we were off. The animals paddled along evenly and we went faster than one could row. They are guided by a long stick not unlike a fishpole, and can be handled as easily as ponies. It is not often that any trouble is experienced, but last summer a young man was drowned. Just as he was starting out from Hatian his stick broke, and instead of coming back then he went out to sea, thinking that he could guide the turtles by the reins. He would pull up the reins until he upset the animals, but they would soon regain the use of their flippers and go right ahead for the open sea. As a last resort he cut the traces and let his harness and steeds go. But he was so far from shore that he perished before drifting in."

Strong Language From An Ex-Mayor.

J. B. Loughran, ex-mayor of North Des Moins, Iowa, said recently: "I have just recovered from a severe attack of la grippe. I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm to my breast. These remedies were just the thing in my case. My child had croup some years ago, and we used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with perfect success, since then we have never been without these medicines in our house. I had a cousin who was a printer and was employed in a job office in this city, where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep-seated cold and a terrible cough, and while setting up the copy he made up his mind to get a bottle. It cured his cough and that was the first time I ever knew anything of Chamberlain's remedies. My own experience and that of my family convinces me that these remedies are the best in the world. That may be strong language, but it is what I think."

IN RE THINGS THEATRICAL

The Last a Very Light Week of Amusements at Temple Opera.

Latest from New York; A Lot of Interesting Gossip.

ONLY one attraction has held the boards this week at Temple Opera, the MacLean-Prescott company in "Virginius" and "As You Like It." The patronage was fair last evening and will probably be larger tonight, when Miss Prescott will be seen as Rosalind. It is said that her interpretation of the character is superior to that of any actress, excepting, perhaps, Mary Anderson and Ada Rehan. Next week the house will be closed, opening on the 16th for a four days' engagement with Rice's great spectacular, "Evangeline." The company presenting it is the New York troupe, which is now on its way East from San Francisco.

Manager Haycock is in New York. Before his return to Duluth he will, I understand, arrange for a season of summer opera, the dates to be the week of and the week preceding the regatta.

Croakers will croak and kickers will kick, and some people are so skeptical as not to believe the evidence of their own senses. Oh, no! impossible that another opera house will be built here! But, nevertheless, Architect Traphagen has let the contract for the Miller theater excavation. A. H. Truax began work Wednesday. The excavation will be finished by July 1, and it is probably that the foundation will begin before that date.

Manager Haycock is in New York. There will be gala night at the Broadway Theatre on June 12 when the graduating and furlough classes of West Point attend in a body to witness "Castles in the Air." Special features will be introduced at this performance for the benefit of the visitors, among which will be a verse and a laughable drill added to the duet between Mr. Hopper and Miss Fox in the second act. The amount of interest manifested in this occasion is evidenced by the fact that almost the entire house is sold already.

I hear that Signor Liberati has perfected arrangements for an extended tour of the States and Canada with his famous military band. Commencing at Boston, June 15, where the initial concert is to be given, the band will visit all the principal cities of New England and Canada and will then journey westward to Duluth, St. Paul and Minneapolis, along the line of the Northern Pacific railroad to Portland, Ore., reaching there in time to inaugurate the fall industrial exposition of that city. I give you my word Duluth will enjoy him.

We are to have some grand opera this winter. Edmund C. Stanton, director of the Metropolitan Opera house, who has been in Germany procuring new people for next season, has secured Gudephus, the famous Dresden dramatic tenor; Herr Dippel for lyric parts, and Mueller and Hilbberet. For leading soprano he has Mme. Mielke from Cologne, who has a superb voice. There is not a very promising outlook for procuring dramatic productions. A good many of the familiar attractions are to remain, and farce comedy will be as prominent as usual. But there is a feeling that high class melodrama is going to catch the public taste and that something in that line may even develop this year. The managers and the public are ready to shower gold upon the man who can produce the kind of a play they want.

FRANC FOYER.

Scott's "Ivanhoe" is supposed to be the subject of Sir Arthur Sullivan's new opera.

After next season, Robert Mantell and Augustus Pitou part company. Mr. Mantell proposes to manage himself.

Miss Patti Rosa will produce a new comedy next season, the last work of the late Fred Marsden, entitled "Imp." The play will, however, not be given as Mr. Marsden wrote it, someone having been employed to "monkey with it."

"The Ugly Duckling" is the name of the new play in which Mrs. Leslie Carter will make her debut in November at the Broadway Theatre.

Adelaide Ober has been engaged to play the character part in Mark Price's new play "Branded."

Edward M. Alfriend's adaptation of Howell's novel, "A Foregone Conclusion," was produced at Richmond Monday.

Ted Peiper, one of the cleverest of the coming comedians, has been engaged by Mr. David Henderson for the part of Mutti in "Bluebeard, Jr.," for next season.

"Amina," a comic opera by two amateurs, Messrs. Brunswick and Wink, booked by Mr. Brunswick, was produced in Philadelphia on Monday.

The Paris Theatre du Chateau d'Eau has scored the greatest success it has ever made in the new society drama, "Le Crime de Jean Morel."

Selli Simonson, one of our most competent musical directors, has written a comic opera called "Don Furiosa." Don Quixote and Sancho Panzha are prominent characters in it.

"Old Homespun," a very clever comedy written by Mrs. Adelaide Ober, will be produced soon at Harlem Theatre. The play made a success in the west. Mr. George Ober will appear in the leading role.

Miss Rose Wood, once a great New York favorite, and a prominent member of the late Lester Wallack's famous company, has returned to New York after a five years' residence in California. Miss Wood has not aged a particle during her absence and it is not improbable that her presence will be demanded in one of the local prominent stock companies.

Manager Tompkins, of the Boston Theatre, has purchased 300 uniforms worn by British soldiers in the Soudan, and will clothe an army of supes next September, when they will form one of the necessary adjuncts of "Human Nature."

The successful firm of Hoyt & Thomas will next season have four companies on the road. There will be "A Midnight Bell," the newest success, "A Texas Steer," "A Brass Monkey," and a new play not yet named, although the people for it have been engaged and includes Lena Merville, Harry Conner, Irene Murphy, Marie Hornby, and Charles Finninger.

AN INTERVIEWER AT WORK

The Chicago Newspaper Man Goes to a Little Kansas City.

The Troubles of the Women Who Governed Edgerton.

CHICAGO, June 3.—The Herald's Edgerton, Kan., special says: After a stormy and wholly unsatisfactory career of less than two months the female officials of this town have thrown off the yoke of office, and the third of a series of interviews gives some interesting talk not before published. Not the least amusing feature of the situation was the special election of last week, which resulted in the appointment of a board of councilmen composed largely of the husbands of the retiring female officials. After all, women out of office may exercise more influence in municipal affairs than women in power.

The causes leading up to the failure of petticoat government in Edgerton may be attributed to the utter inability of the quietly bred village women to rule and an additional unwillingness on their part to do so. After electing a full town ticket by a good round majority the women have not been able at any time to organize a government, although, to the credit of Mrs. Kelly, the ex-mayoress, it may be said that she made determined efforts to do so. She was the last to resign, but when she found her sisters falling away she yielded to the inevitable, and against her husband's wishes, sent in her resignation.

Mrs. Maggie Kelly, the ex-mayoress, is a very comely, quiet and unassuming little lady, about 23 years of age. When interviewed, she exclaimed. "Oh, my! I have had all the notoriety I want and I am so glad it is all over. Why, I saw an account of myself the other day in a British Columbia paper, and the New York, Chicago and Kansas City papers have been full of our doings."

On entering her pretty home the first thing that attracted the attention was a tiny baby lying asleep on a pillow placed on two chairs.

"This is the baby that the men said was mayor of this town," exclaimed Mrs. Kelly mournfully. "Poor little fellow, he is not 8 weeks old. Of course, if we had not held the council meetings at our house, I would have taken him with me and had a cradle for him at the meeting. He is too young to be left alone."

"The men say you were prevented from attending the inauguration ceremonies on account of the baby," timidly suggested the reporter.

"Now, that is not so," replied Mrs. Kelly with emphasis. "Baby was born two weeks before I was elected and was quite well. I qualified soon after my election, and just as soon as I found out that the other ladies were going to accept their offices. I tell you the men acted mean, and that is the reason the women all resigned. We would have gotten along well enough if we had been left alone, but the men insisted on turning out in troops and laughing at us at every council meeting, whether we held it at my house or at my husband's store. Of course, when baby was so small I wanted the meetings held at my house. The old council used to meet at my husband's office, but after a while I thought we could meet at Scott's hall and have some style about us. Several other ladies had small children and had to bring them with them. Mrs. Greer, the police judge, has a family of young children, and I think that is why her husband wanted her to resign. I wanted her to stay in, for I think she would have made a splendid police judge. She is just that kind of a woman. She always said she would fine a man and send him to the calaboose in a minute if she got a chance. I wish she had held the office. It would have been such a good joke on her."

Mrs. Jessie Greer, the recently elected police judge, who also resigned while her honors were thick upon her, is the wife of T. S. Greer, the leading druggist of Edgerton. People who know anything about the average Kansas drug store will see the anomaly of electing the wife of a druggist to the office of police magistrate. Besides, Mrs. Greer lives behind the drug store, and must perforce be cognizant of anything that goes on behind the counter. If, as has been stated, the election of this whole ticket was meant as a joke, the very pith and point of the joke was the election of Mrs. Greer to the office of police magistrate.

Mrs. Greer is a young and prepossessing woman, being but 22 years of age. To the reporter she said: "When I was elected to the office of police judge and qualified I proposed to fill the position. There is more lawlessness in this town than you might think. The boys either club together and send for whisky or buy it here, and then they fight and become drunk and disorderly. I proposed to put a stop to this, and would have done so, but some of the councilwomen did not qualify, and my husband wanted me to resign."

The only case that came before Mrs. Greer was a drunken tramp who said that he got his liquor at the drug store of the husband of the judge. This was soon proved to be a georgeous lie, and the police judge finally recovered from a threatened attack of hysterics.

"You ought to be fined, you nasty brute," she finally gasped.

The tramp was finally ducked at the town pump and ordered to leave town.

Mrs. Alderman Ross says she resigned on the account of the pressure of family duties. She has a large family of children who need her attention. She was elected on a platform providing that the two restaurants in the town be closed on Sunday. These restaurants generally have a gang of loafers around them on that day and are the rendezvous of the crabapple cider gang. The women of course were in favor of the closing of these restaurants, but the men declared that strangers and farmers must have something to eat, and made so much fuss that Mrs. Ross preferred that the men settle it among themselves.

Other ladies gave similar reasons for their resignations, and it was evident that the municipal cares of a little town of 400 inhabitants bore heavily enough upon them even during their short terms of office.

Complementary Colors.

Accidental colors are those depending on some affection of the eye and not belonging to light itself or any quality of the luminous object. If we look for a short time steadily with one eye upon any bright-colored spot, as a wafer on a sheet of paper, and immediately after turn the same eye to another part of the paper, a similar one will be seen, but of a different color. If the wafer is red, the imaginary spot will be green; if black, it will be changed into white; the color thus appearing being always what is termed the complementary color of that on which the eye was fixed.

Why We Marry.

New York Evening Sun: With the mass of men—ay, and with many women too—matrimony is largely decided by habit. Men marry women because they are used to them. They declare (and believe) that they marry them because they love them. But—here we come back to the original statement—they love them because they are used to them. A wise man declares that most men would marry their dressing-gowns or their favorite arm chairs if they could. And so you see, a clever young woman finds herself on the royal road to her employer's heart in the business necessity that keeps her constantly near him. The private secretary who takes the burden of his correspondence off his shoulders, or the typewriter, whose nimble fingers click over the keys—given the man whose heart is at leisure—this woman in some vague way becomes a part of his daily atmosphere. He needs her, and she is always there. He learns to depend upon her. He gets used to having her about. She understands his ways and humors them. One day a sudden thought strikes him. The next day he proposes to her. And then Julian Ralph finds that a strange new thing has come about. And she? She guessed how it would be from the very first.

Notice.

The partnership heretofore existing between F. J. Young and H. N. Randell under the title of Young & Randell has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. The business will be conducted in future by Randell Bros., who have bought out Mr. Young's entire interest. As before, the business office will be at the Hotel St. Louis, where orders can be left for coupes, carriages and express.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

WHAT OF THE SCHOOLS?

Unrivalled Educational Advantages Possessed by Duluth.

At the High; Hardy Hall; Yale School; Parochials and Cohn.

WHEN Duluth wants a thing it usually gets it. Of late it has been wanting manufactories—and it is getting them fast; it wants dwelling houses and it will build 900 of them this year. But there are other things a city needs besides the evidences and incentives of material growth. Such as churches, schools, places of amusements, libraries, and all the varied means that go toward a full rounded development in every line of material advantage and social and educational culture.

Duluth is hauling in the factories; it is building the dwellings. It has started in on a public library that in ten years will equal any now west of Chicago, it is building its second first-class theater, a magnificent building, to be magnificently arranged and finished; it is putting up an $75,000 church, will begin another in a few weeks.

And Duluth is not at all behind in the schools. Besides the great High school to be erected at a cost of $300,000, the contract for the basement of which is to be let this evening; it has the $60,000 Endion public school nearly completed. These for public schools. Work has begun on the fine Hardy girls' school, a correct and well-executed illustration of which appears herewith, and other private schools are doing most excellently. The Yale school is growing and has become a self-sustaining and successful institution under the careful management of Mr. Loman. The two Catholic schools, St. Clements and St. Thomas, have doubled their scholarship in the past year, and all show most gratifying business.

On a Liberal Basis.

Already there is under way one of the costliest and most magnificent high school buildings to be found in America. With the value of the site taken into consideration the city, when the structure is completed, will have a piece of property worth fully $500,000. And not alone as to its cost is this institution to be considered, for to graduate from its walls means a liberal education, in every line of modern culture, secured under the tuition of as reputable and competent a corps of instructors as can be found in the West.

The coming high school graduating exercises will take place in three weeks, and when the pupils step through its oaken portals, the doors will close on the last class which will finish education in the old high school. Commencement exercises, which for the past three years have held sway as each June came 'round, will become only memories, and the new building will supercede the old. Superintendent Denfeld is preparing an elaborate program for commencement, which will be observed with unusual eclat.

Duluth public school girls are learning how to cook, and the cooking school is meeting with great success. Over forty teachers in the public schools are taking a course of calesthenics under the direction of Miss Aime Hunter. It is the intention of the board to include in this training the girls of the high school next year, and then to still further broaden the scope of instruction. What with calesthenics, manual training, cooking, sewing, photography and the applied sciences that will be taught in the new high school, Duluth boys and girls will have unusual opportunity for full rounded education.

Those Who Go Out.

The graduating class of the High school this year consists of thirteen members as follows: Grace Maxwell, valedictorian; Bert Wheeler, salutatorian; Jessie Pattinson, poet; Alice Drew, historian; George P. Tvedt, propliet; Emma Johnson, English honor essay, and David Burbank, Grace Lowe, Kittie Dow, Charles A. Davis, James C. Geggie, Inez Hibbard and James C. Eaton. This is the largest class ever graduated from the High school. The commencement exercises will probably be held on the 24th instead of the 20th, as was first intended, Temple Opera, in which the exercises will be held, having been previously engaged. The school closes on the 20th of this month. A class song composed by the several members of the class will be sung and appropriate class day exercises carried out. Mrs. McKindley has kindly tendered her services as pianist for the evening. A program of the exercises has not yet been prepared.

The Hardy School.

A college-preparatory school for girls, that has been in successful operation in Eau Claire for three years will be moved to Duluth this fall. It is Miss Hardy's intention to open the school in its new building, shown in the illustration herewith on Sept. 23, but it may be doubted if it be ready at that date. In the erection of Hardy hall, special attention is to be paid to all details of sanitation, ventilation and heating, and the spacious three-story stone building will be 165 feet long. It will have accommodations for thirty or forty boarding scholars as well as a large number of day pupils and it will have all the study, and exercise rooms and accessories now so generally regarded as necessary to school life. The school prepares its pupils for such noted colleges as Wellesley Smith and Vassar, its certificates admitting to them and other leading colleges without examination.

Miss Hardy has gathered a most competent corps of teachers, the roster of those for next fall's work being as follows: Kate B. Hardy and Anna R. Haire, A. B., Smith college, principals; Julia W. Snow, M. S., Cornell university, science and mathematics; S. Louise Mitchell, Ph. B., Lake Forest university, English and history; Helen Cheney Brown, drawing and painting; Rachel M. Howard, music; Caroline M. Galloo, French; Wanda M. M. Schroeder, German.

The teacher of Latin and Greek has not yet been appointed nor has the primary principal been engaged.

The Yale School.

Professor Loman's popular and growing school will close on June 13, after the best term in its two years of life, after the first term, too, in which it could really be said that it made any money for its energetic principal. There have been fifty four pupils in attendance for longer or shorter periods since the beginning of the year, although the average attendance for the whole year has been only about forty. There were fifty-two pupils located in the school during the first term of this year, and about sixty-five during the year, although, for various reasons, chief of which was sickness, the grip having had a pretty solid hold on the scholars of this, as of all other schools—not all of those who were located were in actual attendance. The school began with only four regular pupils on Sept. 17, 1889; it opened last fall with twenty-eight present, and bids fair to open next fall with about seventy pupils present.

Mr. George L. Hunter, who recently spent a day in the city and in the school, will begin work next fall as instructor in Latin, mathematics and the English branches. Mr. Hunter is a graduate of Harvard, and was one of the four best classical scholars in a class of about 250 men. He is also a proficient in the French and German languages, and has done considerable work in Italian, Norwegian and Arabic. He is experienced as an instructor, and will undoubtedly prove a most valuable member of the corps of instructors.

The Catholic Schools.

On Sept. 8th 1884, the first Catholic parochial school was opened in the old public school building on the site of the present high school, corner First avenue east and Third street. This was conducted by four sisters of the Benedictine order, with an attendance of 213, including English, French and Polish. The same order still has charge of all the schools and some of the sisters who taught in that first school are still here.

In November of the same year two sisters came from the mother house in Stearns county and opened the Polish school with an attendance of 100. This school is about to be enlarged. In February, 1886, about thirty-five or forty pupils were gathered into the old Adams school on Sixteenth avenue west, and in January, 1888, were transferred to the commodious frame school building on Twentieth avenue west. This school now numbers about sixty scholars.

January, 1886, the present St. Thomas school was opened with an attendance of 130 pupils. This school is graded and has about 250 scholars enrolled. The bishop hopes to put up an additional building for the school Brothers before long. A Benedictine academy for young ladies will, no doubt, be begun this summer. The bishop frequently visits the schools and contributes not a little to their advancement in the different branches.

On Sept. 2, 1889 the school year began at St. Clements school at the West End. The number enrolled now is 185 and the average attendance about 112. The enrollment is 100 more than last year. The school occupies the lower floor of what is called St. Clements hall, and should the number of scholars increase next year as during the past season, or in anything like the same proportion, it will be necessary to occupy the upper story, which is now used for entertainments, festivals, etc. Two sisters have charge of the school, and all the branches of study as high as the grammar grade of the public school are taught. Vocal music is taught in the school by a special instructor. Instrumental music is taught in the hospital. The school year closes in the last week of June.

The Summer School.

The Duluth summer School of Languages will begin its next session Tuesday, July 8, and will continue until Aug. 16. The classes will meet in the commodious recitation rooms of the Duluth High school, daily, except Saturdays. The evening classes will meet Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. The opportunities for the acquisition of foreign languages are superior to those ever before offered at any summer school. The faculty is composed of the following experienced native teachers, who thoroughly understand the wants of the American public in reference to the study of modern languages: Henry Cohn, German; Ernest Sicard, French; Mme. Leontine A. Cohn, French; Karl Seligman, German; Mlle. Arcadie Villere, French; Miss Julia Bauer, German; Candido Rosi, Spanish; G. Mantellini, Italian. From advices received from Professor Cohn it is assured that the school will begin its initial term with a large class of pupils both from Duluth and elsewhere.

An Alliance Ticket.

ST. PAUL, June 7.—The executive committee of the Minnesota Farmers' alliance, met here yesterday. Secretary Lathrop announced that he had reports from nearly all the subordinate alliances, and that a large majority of them were distinctly favorable to the formation of an independent party and the calling of a convention to decide upon a ticket. It is understood that a special meeting of the state alliance will be called for early in July. Before election there will be 1500 alliances and a membership approaching 60,000. There are very few farmers in the state who would not vote the alliance ticket if one were placed in the field, even if they were not members of the alliance.

First National Colored Tournament.

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—The first national colored tournament ever held in the world opens here Monday at Brotherhood Park. It will be participated in by colored men from New York, Chicago, Washington and other cities.

FROM OVER THE BRINY.

Parisian Surgeons who Gauge Their Patients by Purses.

Monstrous Meetings at Hyde Park; Franking Privilege.

LONDON, June 7.—Some interesting particulars are floating around in the club gossip concerning the 50-year-old wife of the Shah of Persia, who recently visited Paris to undergo an operation for defective eyesight. The Parisian experts that she consulted appear to have made considerable inroads on the consort's purse, two surgeons alone presenting a bill for $9000 for a single consultation.

According to the interpreters to the imperial party, the shah would not permit his consort to journey to Europe to be operated upon until he had consulted the royal astrologers. These officials gave a favorable decision, and also prophesied that the operation would be entirely successful. The latter prophecy, however, has not been entirely fulfilled, and it is a question whether after his consort has returned home the shah will not declare the places of the astrologers vacant by the kind of civil service rules that prevail in Persia—viz: decapitation.

Paris has a new sensation in the arrival of a wealthy widow from Australia, and whose equipages are gayer than anything that has been seen on the Bois du Bolonge for many years. Mrs. Brodetick is her name, and she is a petite, brilliant, bewitching sprite of 27 summers. Five years ago her husband died in New South Wales, leaving her some shares in a silver mine, nominally valued at $500, but generally supposed to be worthless. Last year, however, it was discovered that the mine had a store of almost inexhaustable wealth in its bowels, and in the outcome the widow sold half of her shares for $950,000, and has been assured an income of $75,000 as her share of the profits.

Despite strong and influential pressure the government has declined to restore to members of the house of commons the "franking" privilege, which was abolished when the penny postage law went into operation. As a compromise, however, an offer has been made to furnish a "clerk" in the correspondence room, whose only duty will be to affix stamps to the envolpes of letters written by members, the latter, however, to pay for the stamps themselves.

One of the largest outdoor demonstrations held in London for many years took place in Hyde Park on, had an interview with Lapeu, and tried to get him to withdraw his suit. At first Lapeu wanted his money only, but the brother persuaded him that he had better take the girl and call it square. To this Lapeu consented, withdrew the suit, the brother telling him he would arrange the matter shortly. He persuaded Lapeu to go with him to White Plains Junction, saying he would set him up in business. He agreed to give him some goods to sell on commission. When the two got to White Plains Meaks gave the young man a lot of goods and compelled him to sign a paper in which he agreed to return the goods in a certain time or pay for them.

Then he left Lapeu in a desolate place in Vermont, and thought he had seen the last of him. The young fellow tramped back to this city, however, and made another demand for the girl or his money. The son in Vermont was again telegraphed for, and he arrived last night and had Lapeu arrested for embezzlement. This morning a number of Hebrews who had taken an interest in Lapeu's case sent to New Haven for Attorney J. P. Goodhart to come up and see what he could do for the young man. Mr. Goodhart had an interview with Attorney James P. Platt of this city. The latter inquired into the facts of the case, and, becoming convinced that Lapeu's story was true, nolled the case against him. Attorney Goodhart will take steps to recover the $3500.

A PRESSED BRICK TRUST.

St. Louis Men Have Taken Entire Control of That Branch of Industry.

CHICAGO, June 7.—A pressed brick trust came strolling into Chicago recently in the shape of some half dozen fat St. Louis capitalists. They represented the St. Louis Hydraulic Pressed Brick company. After lingering around for some time they went out to Porter, Ind., where are located the W. E. Hinchliff company of Chicago, which turns out annually something like 5,000,000 pressed bricks; the Purington-Kimball Pressed Brick company, also of Chicago, which makes yearly 4,000,000, and Thomas Moulding, whose plant produces 2,500,000.

The men from the Missouri village made no offer for the plants, but quietly bought up all the clay banks in the vicinity and then, calling upon the astounded brickmakers, spake in this wise: "If you want to sell, well buy, but we pay no fancy price. Things are coming our way and it's no use kicking."

Their reasoning was powerful and in the end they purchased the three yards, getting for $150,000 property which was worth fully $250,000.

The Anderson Pressed Brick company didn't sell out. They simply affiliated, and went on making brick.

Then the St. Louis men went on to Findlay, O., and in no time at all they had things in that place exactly as they wanted them.

Philadelphia was next selected as a point of attack, and walking into the Builders' Exchange the St. Louis men announced that they considered the good old town a fairly good place to make pressed brick, and they guessed they would open up a factory or two. They did it, and are now slashing prices at a terrific rate, and manufacturers in that place are in despair.

Their latest acquisition is the Gregg Brick company of Collinsville, Ill., which promised at one time to be a formidable rival of St. Louis.

The trust has the bulge on its rivals and claims to be able to produce brick at from $5 to $8 per 1000 cheaper than any other concern. Their hydraulic system is patented, and they control the manufacture of the machinery and will not sell to outsiders.

Esher is Down.

OTTAWA, Ill., June 7.—Judge Smith has rendered a decision in the Evangelical church dispute growing out of the trouble at Naperville, where the trustees locked the church against the anti-Esher ministers. In it he finds that legal steps in accordance with the church discipline had resulted in Bishop Esher's suspension. In view of this the judge thinks Esher had no right to preside over the Illinois conference, and that body acted in strict conformity to the discipline in appointing a presiding officer, and if their proceedings therein were regular all were bound by its acts, and if the ministers sent out with the seal of that conference attached to their certificates were the appointed ministers sent to their respective districts, he don't see any reasonable cause to doubt their authority.

Refused an Involuntary Swim.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Although Freddy Gebhard was announced to sail for Europe last Saturday, he is still to be seen on upper Broadway in the daytime and at the clubs at night. The reason for this was explained by one of his friends today. The voyage was to have been made in the cutter Hein, Freddy having as companions du voyage Messrs. Frank Ailison and John Wiley. At the last moment, however, it was declared by old salts that the Hein was too heavily sparred for an ocean voyage. The two gentlemen last named were willing, however, to risk it, but Freddy backed out and instead will take a cruise along the coast as far as Labrador.

A Promising Prospect.

NEW YORK, June 7.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: All indications regarding legitimate business continue encouraging. Reports from other cities are almost without exception favorable. The money market has been variable, the treasury having taken in about $1,100,000 more than it paid out. Exports from New York in May show an increase of 10½ per cent over last year. In short, the monetary prospect in all parts of the country is favorable to business activity. The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number 205, as compared with a total of 218 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 225.

A Trade.

I have a good business, stock of goods and store property at Wahpeton, North Dakota, to trade for property in Duluth. Call in.

J. A. BOGGS,

BOTH BRIDE AND BOODLE.

He Followed Them From Russia and May Recover the Money.

MERIDEN, Conn., June 4.—A curious plot came to light in this city today. In a little village in Russia some three or four months ago there lived a poor family named Meaks, consisting of the father, daughter and two sons. The daughter was a handsome young woman and had many admirers. In this same village lived a rich man named Lapeu, who had a son who was infatuated with the poor man's daughter, and wanted to marry her.

The girl's father would not consent to the match unless the young man paid him a certain sum of money. Young Lapeu then stole $3,500 from his wealthy father, and gave it to Meaks as the price of his daughter. The youth wanted an early wedding, and this was promised him, but meanwhile the Meaks family packed up their goods and came to this country, settling in this city. The money obtained from Lapeu was used to purchase a house. Lapeu came to this country in search of the Meaks family and arrived here a few weeks ago. He found where his sweetheart was living and called on her. She soon convinced him that she was not glad to see him and that she did not intend to marry him. Lepeu then demanded his money back, but when it was not forthcoming he attached the house to recover his $3500.

Meaks has a son who has lived in White Plains Junction, Vt., for some time, and he was telegraphed to come on and straighten the matter out. He came this afternoon, the object being to denounce the government's proposal to compensate the keepers of saloons for the loss of licenses. Fifty thousand people and forty members of parliament participated.

BRITISHERS GLUM.

A Funny Incident of the American Banquet to Stanley.

LONDON, June 7.—In a speech at the Stanley banquet Surgeon Parke, in singing the praises of his chief, happened to remark that when Stanley was ill, during the march, he said: "Doctor, run up the stars and stripes to cheer me; let me at least die beneath the shadow of the American flag." This anecdote made the Britishers look glum, but Stanley's face ware a quizzical expression.

This remark of Parke's, taken in connection with the obstinate silence of Stanley in the face of obvious attempts by the English to induce him to make a declaration "under which flag," and also in view of his recent severe criticisms upon England's African policy, gives good ground for the growing belief that Stanley has determined to transfer his allegiance and other services to other than British interests. His veiled praise of Germany's aggressiveness in opening up new fields for her commerce may perhaps be taken as an indication that he would not object to entering the service of Emperor William, for whom he is known to posess great admiration.

Look This Up

Better Than a Savings Bank or Building Associations—Cumulative Investment Company.

IN RESPONSE TO THE REPEATED DEmands for more stock in the Conservative Investment Association, a new corporation has been formed on the same principle by some of the officers of the same under the name Cumulative Investment Company.

The object is to give an opportunity for those unable to make large investments on their own account, to pool their issues by contributing monthly to a fund created for investment in real estate. The management of the affairs of the Cumulative will be vested in a board of seven directors who receive no salaries.

The capital stock is $100,000, divided into 2,000 shares of $50 each, payable in monthly installments of $1 per share. Not more than 50 nor less than 10 shares may be held by any one person.

No better opportunity to make small investments pay such large profits, has ever been offered.

The books are now open for subscription of stock. Call or write at once before it is all taken.

A TEST CASE.

Secretary Windom is now considering a test case made up and submitted by mutual agreement for his decision, determining the right of the department to station American customs' officers in Canadian ports to bond and seal merchandise there, and covering the general question of authority to ship grain and merchandise into this country free of duty in cars loaded and bonded in Canada. This is a case of high importance to Duluth and all other points on the great lakes.

The practice complained of grew out of an application of the Grand Trunk railway several years ago for the privilege of loading its cars with American grain and other products at Port Sarnia in Canada. The reason given for such a concession was the fact that there were no elevators, coal yards or other facilities for doing the business of its line on the American side. With the understanding that the arrangement was to be only temporary until suitable facilities were provided at Port Huron on the American side, the application was granted, and a customs officer stationed at Port Sarnia and authorized to seal and bond cars there.

No objection would have been raised to this temporary arrangement, but its continuance for years and subsequent extensions are now vigorously denounced. Port Huron men put up elevators at a cost of over $500,000 to accommodate the Grand Trunk railway and the road itself put up large flour sheds at the same point, but when it found that the privilege of bonding at Sarnia was not revoked, it suffered its Huron sheds to lie empty and made no use of the Huron elevators. In fact it has gone so far as to refuse the use of its cars to these elevators even when filled without its aid.

Meanwhile its business on the Canadian side at Port Sarnia has grown very greatly. Grain shipped from Chicago is run into its elevators, reshipped by the road and brought into the United States free of duty. So too with flour, cattle and other merchandise. If the cars were loaded and bonded on the American side, the products shipped from this side would go to Port Huron and other American ports. It is the interest of all American ports to hold the business property passing through them and not to suffer this unnatural diversion in the interest of Canada. We hope the treasury department will put a stop to this practice without needless delay.

If you don't see what you want in The Herald today, ask for it. But be sure before you ask that it is not in the paper under your eyes. Read it through and mark what is in as well as what is out.

Everybody here will be glad of a look at Hardy Hall, as the new school building on the heights is rightly named. In The Herald today we show the beautiful design and proportions of this coming ornament of the head of the lakes. It is a credit to the architects, Raeder, Coffin & Crocker, as well as to the founder whose name it bears. Rise up, Hardy Hall, and take the crown of Duluth!

A good example is set to wealthy men in Duluth and other cities by Everett H. Barney of Springfield, who has just deeded to that city government his fine estate as an addition to an existing park. The control of the grounds is reserved to him and his family for life, but the grounds will be open to the public under proper restrictions, and after the death of Mr. Barney and his wife the property will revert absolutely to the city. This form of gift avoids possible question of will, and was so made intentionally. Forest Park will be greatly improved and Springfield greatly advantaged.

The Herald calls special attention to its very full report in this Saturday issue of operations on the surrounding iron ranges. This report is a permanent feature of The Herald, and all interested in current developments are assured that no pains will be spared to make it as complete and exact as possible. It is a record which nobody directly concerned in the iron business on these ranges, or interested in the extension of this great industry around the head of the lakes, can afford to miss seeing, and we are pleased to know that it has already attracted general attention and approval.

We give in this issue the sketch plans prepared for the board of public works of the projected bridge across the ship canal. The scales to the inch are clearly indicated, and it is easy for any reader to construct the bridge in his mind's eye with this guide and the specified details of construction. The proposed structure is a swinging draw-bridge 475 feet in length, designed to afford a clear waterway passage 200 feet in width. It is to be built entire of steel, able to carry, in addition to its own weight, a moving train and highway load far in excess of any that will ever be put upon it in practice. We hope soon to see it in place and not merely on paper.

The matter of the side track on the slip west of Fifth avenue is one that should be settled without further delay. This track is urgently needed for the accommodation of the Wells-Stone company and for the warehouse extensions contemplated on the slip. The Herald is positively assured of the erection of a line of wholesale jobbing stores on this slip in case this accommodation is furnished, and work on this line would begin immediately upon the laying of the track. Whether the St. Paul & Duluth road or the Omaha road is responsible for the delay in furnishing this side track connection we do not know, or what may be the responsibility of the city for neglect to do its part, but we do know that it is time to cut the knot and put the track in. The Chamber of Commerce can do nothing of more immediate service to the business interests of the city than to secure this track extension, and we trust that it will press it to conclusion by most earnest and active exertions.

SEEN AND HEARD.

Travelers visiting Duluth invariably exclaim at the lack of foliage here, although we who stay at home are beginning to think we have a good deal in the line of greenery, as we should have indeed for all the work that has been spent on tree planting in the past eight or ten years. But I have an idea that may prove of some use and may aid in stilling the unpleasant comparisons of people who come from the green slopes of Buti, so to speak.

* * *

The absence of trees passes unnoticed when the eye is refreshed by constant glimpses of verdure on the house fronts. On the hottest midsummer days the residence streets of cities where there is ivy look cool and attractive. The monotonous character of the architecture is concealed by this most graceful and luxuriant of vines. The residents here have been slow to appreciate the necessity for screening and decorating their wood and stone fronts. Duluth streets have a bare and cold aspect. Ivy planting on a large scale is needed in order to improve and beautify Duluth. Architects have done much to vary the line of the detached fronts, but with narrow frontages and restricted conditions they have been seriously hampered, and have not been conspicuously successful. If there were wide streets with trees on either side the monotonous character of the architecture would not be so noticeable as it is; but trees will not grow and thrive among pavements and stone flagging, nor in gas-impregnated and impoverished soil, nor in rocks, nor in holes in clay banks.

* * *

The American ivy, or woodbine, is the best creeper that can be selected for covering the walls of a house in this latitude. It is perfectly hardy, is not attacked by insects, is a vigorous grower, clings readily to wood or brick or stone, and has a clean, beautiful foliage, brilliant in autumn. It needs little earth at the base, does not require much watering and is readily trained. It does not require much protection in the winter, indeed none is absolutely needed, though if the plant is taken from its trellis and laid flat on the ground in the autumn, there to remain covered by the snow till spring, it will thrive perfectly. Many Duluth houses where woodbine is already a beautiful feature will emphasize what little I have said.

* * *

Some of the physicians, in reporting a birth at the health office, are in the habit of giving the maiden name of the mother, and this often creates the impression that the child is of illegitimate parentage. One of these cases was reported in a morning paper this morning, thereby doing a great injustice to a highly respectable family living in the West End.

* * *

United States Commissioner Carey, who has just returned from Wrenna, where he went to attend the session of the grand jury, reports an amusing case of mistaken identity. A man from Grand Rapids who had been held to the grand jury by Commissioner Carey for selling whisky to the Indians had been identified by the witnesses, but the district attorney was not sure that the identification was complete, so the defendant was placed in a room with an insurance agent who was stopping in the city and when one of the Indians was asked to point out the man who furnished the fire water, he at once singled out the insurance man, and he stuck to it that he was right. The defendant was not indicted and the insurance man was placed in a very unenviable position.

IN LOBBY AND CORRIDOR.

The nickel-in-the-slot weighing machine is kept busy these tourist days. It's funny to watch the average tourist day by day. The minute he gets off the train he starts for the weighing machine, and his note book registers his avoirdupois. After each meal and before going to bed he stands on the scales. If he has gained an ounce he joyfully records the fact, and feels perfectly ready to pay double price to the landlord.

Landlord Emerson will treat the Minnesota Iron company people to planked white fish, which, in the eyes of the average Duluthian, is now considered equal in delicacy to the ambrosia of the goods.

The tourist season will begin in earnest next week, for the schools are beginning to close for summer vacations.

"SPARTACUS."

No more familiar character exists today on the stage than "Spartacus," and it might be added that no character has been attempted by a larger list of talent and mediocrity. Personally considered the MacLean-Prescott presentation of this tragedy at the Temple last night was replete with excellence. MacLean's impersonation of the gladiator is refreshingly individual. His splendid physique, resonant voice and mobile facial expression make him an ideal. He has left the beaten road and follows a path of his own, making the gladiator a man among men. Miss Prescott's Senona, for the limited scope this part has, was well received. The stars were ably supported by Rose Arthur, who took the part of Julia, and by John D. Craig, who made an excellent Phasarius.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Rev. Dr. Joseph D. Wickhan of Manchester, Vermont, who was graduated from Yale college in 1815, is her oldest living alumnus. He is 93 years old.

The popular subscription for erecting a monument to the newly made Duke of Lauenburg, Prince Bismarck, is very successful. At Berlin and Hamburg alone no less than $37,500 has already been gathered.

A Berlin antiquary has come into possession of the dagger with which Ravaillac assassinated Henry IV. of France. It was stolen from the palais de justice in Paris in 1815.

The English Countess of Carlotty died recently in Paris, where she lived alone and apparently in poverty. After her death $10,000 in gold and $40,000 in notes were found in her room.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

H. H. Porter: The Vermilion range is rapidly becoming known throughout iron manufacturing countries as the greatest producer of Bessemer ore in the world.

Marshall Field: The great future of this Northwestern country means the future of Duluth. It is the coming city of the United States.

Lazarus Silverman: I was up here last year for a time looking over some iron and other properties that I've got a slice in, and although that was less than a year ago I can see a great change in the city's growth.

Richardson, Day & Co.: With us, activity is confined to Highland Park and vicinity. Buyers begin to appreciate that the electric line will make this property most valuable. Our sales for the week, in Highland Park alone, amount to $33,750.

Chief McQuade: Next year we will need a regular dog catcher and a pound where owners of captured canines can redeem their property within a specified time.

City Attorney Allen: These dog cases are nuisances. One man with a good shot gun could do more good in a day than all the warrants that could be issued in a lifetime.

Bishop McGolrick. There were no Catholic ceremonies over the woman who was buried in the Catholic cemetery this morning. They asked to have services at the church, but the priest would not allow that. The body had to be buried somewhere and we simply furnished a spot for a grave.

LILAC BLOOMS.

[For the Herald.]

Soft purple flush, that draws my longing eyes
When spring first opens with her bravories!
How oft thy bloom has cheered the Pilgrim maid
And broken winter's fasts with vagaries
And feasts of fancy-love that was afraid
And dared the flower to speak the word unsaid!

Ever new beauties in thy mist I see,
And changeless has my heart kept friends with thee.

Let others praise their beauty in the rose,
And, wayward, change with every wind that blows;
Or with the lily pale her face compare,
Or hooded nun, y-bred in cloistered air;
Nay, naught can tempt me from my lilacs,
Tho' all the gardens in full dress appear.

THE DEATH OF PUCK.

[By Eugene Lee Hamilton.]

I fear that Puck is dead—it is so long
Since man last saw him—dead with all the rest
Of that sweet elfin crew that made their nest
In hollow huts, where hazels sing their songs:
Dead, and forever, like the antique throng
The elves replaced; the Dryad that you guessed
Behind the leaves; the Nalad weed-be-draped;
The long-eared Faun that loved to lead you wrong.

Tell me, thou hopping robbin, hast thou met
A little man, no bigger than thyself,
Whom they call Puck, where woodland bells are wet?

Tell me, thou Wood-Mouse, hast thou seen an elf
Whom they call Puck; and is he seated yet,
Capped with a snail's shell, on his mushroom shelf?

The Robin gave three hops, and chirped and said:
"Yes, I knew Puck, and loved him, though I grow
He mimicked oft my whistle, chuckling low;
Yes, I knew Cousin Puck, but he is dead.
We found him lying on his mushroom bed—
The Wren and I—half covered up with snow.
And we were hopping where the berries grow
We think he died of cold. Aye, Puck is fled."
And then the Wood-Mouse said: "We made the Mole,
The old, blind mole, dig deep beneath the moss
And four small Dormice placed him in the hole.
The Squirrel made, with sticks, a little cross;
Puck was a Christian elf, and had a soul;
And all the velvet jackets mourn his loss."

Peculiar

Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Hood's Peculiar in its strength and economy, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell than of all other blood purifiers. SOME SOCIAL EVENTS.

A Little That is New in the Dull Local Social Circles.

Something of People; Minor Events; Several by Churches.

There was a largely attended social at the Presbyterian church last evening, music and refreshments forming the entertainment. A delightful vocal and instrumental program was given, solos being sung by H. Parker Robinson and S. A. Thompson. The "assembly" expect to have another party at the Spalding in a short time.

Several leading Swedish gentlemen are taking preliminary steps for the celebration of the Swedish Forefathers day. The event commemorates the first landing of the Swedes on the coast of America in the early part of the seventeenth century. When Hans Mattison was here last week a delegation of Swedes waited on him and secured his consent to deliver an address on that occasion, the 14th of September next. This date coming on Sunday this year, other parts of the program will be deferred to Monday.

The meeting of the Reform club took place last night. Rev. Mr. Mitchell urged the cause of temperance most strongly. Several features of the program, in the way of instrumental music and declamation, failed to materialize. It is probable that some special efforts will be made to continue these services, which have proved of great interest to many.

The monthly meeting of the Estey society last night was a great success. The recitations, readings and songs were by Messrs. Ballard, Barnett and Misses Foote, Braithwaite and others. The club swinging by Miss Hunter was a very interesting feature.

The St. Jean Baptiste society is arranging a program for the celebration of St. Jean Baptiste day, the 24th of June. The members of the society will attend morning mass at the cathedral. In the afternoon an outing will be had at the lower end of Park Point.

Personal.

Rev. A. H. Ballard of the Second Baptist church has resigned his pastorate, to take effect July 1.

W. T. Baker, formerly register of deeds for Carleton county and also at one time cashier of the Eastern Minnesota, West Superior, has taken a position with J. A. Boggs.

D. G. Cutler of the firm of Cutler & Gilbert left for Chicago yesterday.

Mrs. E. M. Noyes and children leave Monday for Minneapolis, where they will be joined by Miss Simpson, and will then proceed to Bath, Me., for the summer.

Mrs. J. J. Barnes, who has been visiting relatives in the southern part of the state, returned home yesterday.

A son was added to the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wutterworth yesterday.

Miss Maren Miller, after the close of school at Ogontz, will not return to Duluth but will go abroad for six or eight months.

Miss Alice Munger returned this week from her school at New York city.

Mr. C. S. Douglass, the well known ex-newspaper man of Duluth and later a member of provincial parliament for Emerson, is now Vancouver's leading real estate agent. During the visit of the duke to the Terminal city Mr. Douglass entertained the Eastern correspondents with the party to a drive around beautiful Stanley park.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mason and Miss Roose, St. Croix Falls, are stopping at The Spalding.

Among the prominent arrivals at The Spalding this morning were Sir Duncan Cameron of New York and Mr. Leonard Baker, Baltimore. Both gentlemen are in the North Star Construction company.

Mr. S. L. Cowan and daughter and Miss Ada Stoughton, Stillwater tourists, are at the Spalding.

Mr. Clarence I. McNair, cousin of Mr. E. A. McNair, this city, is at the Spalding. Mr. McNair is manager of four pulp and paper mills.

Rev. Aug. Fleer, brother of Rev. J. H. Fleer, is here on a short stay. He will return to St. Louis next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Moody have gone on a visit of two weeks in Chicago. Mr. Moody has recovered from his recent severe illness, but is still far from being strong.

N. A. Gearhardt has received the appointment of deputy grand patron of the order of the Eastern Star, with jurisdiction extending over all the north and northeastern portion of this state.

Dr. C. P. Case, a physician of fourteen years' practice at Waterville, Maine, will locate in Duluth. Dr. Case has just returned from a two years' stay in leading French and English hospitals.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Otis are in New York. They go to their old home in Maine, where Miss Otis is in school. She returns with them.

Mrs. Wm. S. Morris of Lynchburg, Va., has arrived in the city and will spend the summer with her son, Judge Page Morris.

Miss French, the cooking teacher, has gone to Boston, where she will spend the summer vacation.

A Pleasant Social.

The Y. W. C. T. U. gave another of their pleasant sociables at their parlors in the Palladio building last evening, which was attended by a large crowd of young people. There was no literary program, but during the evening Master Donald Rockwell rendered a very pleasing recitation, and trials of the census-taker were shown in a very laughable manner by Mr. Martin, Miss Scoval, Miss Chant and Master Ralph Davis.

Bethel Notes.

The monthly sociable will be given by the ladies Tuesday, June 10. "An Evening in Venice and Naples" will be postponed till June 17. Flowers, recitations, and stereopticon views and special music will celebrate the children's service on Sunday evening at the Bethel. The views which are new will illustrate the "Voyage of Life" "The Love Home" and the "Lord's Prayer." The songs will be thrown upon the screen. Thomas Chalmers will recite "The Palace of the King."

Lakeside Ripples.

The Huntress residence on the lake shore has been rented to Mr. Z. D. Scott.

Mr. E. Featherstone, a capitalist from the northern part of New York state, was quartered at the Lester Park hotel during the early part of the week. He has been trying to purchase real estate and says he never saw a place where there were such a lot of young married people with bright and happy faces as he has met with since his stay at the hotel.

Mr. W. L. Miller will move into his new house at Lester Park July 1.

Everybody is telling about the condition of their lawns, for everybody has been grading—and what an improvement it makes.

Messrs. White and Johnson, of the D. & I. R. R. office, expect to get into their new house shortly.

Every week the ticket agent at the Lake avenue station sells a 100-ride ticket to several strange faces, and on the train in the morning new faces are noticeable. Senator Whiteman, Attorney Green and the Gilbert brothers are the new faces this week. Mr. Green has rented a house for the summer, and with his mother will enjoy the fresh air of the park.

Mr. Green leaves this evening to attend his class' decennial reunion at Princeton.

The contract has been let on the new Methodist church. The successful bidder on the sewer system was H. E. Stevens. The contract price was $26,500. Work on the water-pipe trenches has already begun and a carload of the mains is sidetracked at the Lester Park station.

Col. H. H. Stowell of the steel works has secured a beautiful suite of apartments at the Lester Park hotel for the summer.

OPENING SILVER ISLET.

The Golconda of Lake Superior to be Reopened for Mining.

H. L. Ennis, mining expert, who has been spending several weeks in the vicinity of Black bay in the interest of Duluth firms, has returned. He reports that Silver Islet, one of the richest silver mines in the world, will be reopened and worked this season. Operations on the island have been suspended seven or eight years owing to a hitch between the stockholders, but recently legal weight has been brought to bear, and it is stated that the New York parties now have complete control.

At present the mine is filled with water, and the preparatory work will necessitate a large outlay. The report, which Mr. Ennis says is well authenticated, is of considerable note to the silver interests of the ranges, and especially so to the north shore, which, with its iron country, is one of the richest mining countries on the globe.

As most everybody knows, who knows anything about the northern silver belt and Silver Islet in particular, this mine produced more metal during its palmy days than any other mine in the world is ever known to have yielded in the same time. Its drowned condition is owing to the non-fulfillment of a contract for coal by the Ohio Coal & Barge company by reason of which the pumps could not be kept going and the mine filled in the winter of, if recollections are correct, 1882-3.

HER LAST RESTING PLACE.

Ida Proctor, Killed by Electricity, is Buried This Morning.

The remains of Ida Proctor, the woman who was almost instantly killed by electricity last Wednesday night, were interred this morning in the Catholic cemetery. The expenses were borne by subscription among the deceased woman's sisters in shame. The body was neatly dressed in white and encased in an expensive casket. The features were badly discolored by the action of the deadly electric fluid.

There were no funeral services, but a large number of the residents of the Point followed the remains to the grave. The floral tributes were beautiful and extensive, each offering bearing a card on which was inscribed the name of the donor. At the grave the body was lowered to its last resting place without even a prayer, while the woman's friends stood quietly by engrossed in their own sad thoughts, and each undoubtedly wondering who would be the next to occupy a worse than nameless grave. Some of them shed tears, tears of grief mingled with shame, then turned sadly away.

Tonight the memory of her who was so suddenly snatched away will be drowned in wine and wassail and the midnight revellers will forget the occurrence.

Hurt at Lester Bridge.

Arrivals on the 6:15 train at Lester Park last evening came very near witnessing a most unfortunate catastrophe. William Rodgers, a brakeman on a freight train side-tracked for the passenger, was running to set a switch which is at the edge of the bridge crossing Lester river. His foot, however, caught on a spike, causing him to lose his balance and fall into the ravine, a distance of nearly forty feet. It is claimed that in falling the man caught on to one of the ties and hung on to the bridge for several minutes calling for help, but before assistance could reach him fatigue had compelled him to let go his hold. When picked up he was found to be severely shaken up, but uninjured, with the exception of an ugly cut on the head. This afternoon he was doing nicely.

For Valueless Dogs.

So far this year something over 980 dog licenses have been issued by the city clerk. This morning $20 worth of fines were paid into the city treasurer, and next Monday about $100 will be assessed unless owners of dogs who have been notified to procure licenses, walk up to the captain's office and settle.

The Lower Court.

The prisoners' row was well filled again this morning when the police court was opened, and the offenders were about equally divided between bums and people who had neglected to provide their dogs with brass tags in the form of a Maltese cross, dealt out by the city clerk for a monetary consideration. Four of the latter contributed $20 to the city treasury. A. Dunbar, a drunk, said that he had spent all of his money for whisky but a friend dropped $5 into the public slot and he was allowed to go. Lawrence Troy, a chronic, went out for ten days, and two others received the usual sentence. John Hays, for begging in the street, was retired for four days.

They Will Come Here.

Northwestern Miller: What the gentlemen will do who are now interested in the Washburn Crosby company is not yet decided. Should they conclude to retire from the milling business, it will be a source of regret to all who have been fortunate enough to know them. From the beginning of its existence up to the present time the C. C. Washburn plant has been singularly fortunate in the character of those who have operated it. Whether the lessees were Washburn, Crosby & Co., Washburn, Martin & Co., or the Washburn Crosby Co., the high standing, strict integrity and splendid reputation of the gentlemen identified with it made the concern a notable one, creditable both to Minneapolis and her chief industry. C. C. Washburn, John Crosby, Wm. H. Dunwoody, Charles J. Martin, James S. Bell, J. V. Martin and John Washburn are names which stand in the front rank among the millers of the Northwest, and it seems a pity that a company with such traditionary glories behind it and such sterling qualities still back of it should pass out of existence. However much we may wish Mr. Pillsbury the success to which his untiring energy and great administrative ability entitle him, it is not without sincere regret that we shall note the elimination of the name of the Washburn-Crosby company from the list of Minneapolis millers.

We are binding "The Battles and Leaders of the Civil War" in morocco with marble edges at $1.50 per vol.

THE HERALD BINDERY.

THE WORLD OF SPORTS.

All Efforts Turned Toward the Big Water Event of the Season.

Gossip of the Ball Field; Athletic Contests; Short Notes.

FROM every part of the country are coming assurances that the great regatta will be attended by a vast number of people. If the Twin City reports are true, the crowd from Minnesota's two big towns will be something to tax the capacity of the three St. Paul-Duluth roads. W. H. Robertson, who has been prominently identified with New York city regattas, arrived in town Thursday and has thrown off his coat and gone in for making the event a success. He has assumed the management of the regatta and has passed the last three days in becoming acquainted with the people at the head of the lakes, that he might be better able to carry out his duties.

The executive committee has ordered 25,000 advertising stickers from Chicago, and these will be distributed over the country. It is the intention to issue each week a circular, to be sent broadcast in the United States and Canada, giving the progress of the regatta. New subscriptions are slowly coming in but the association yet needs $2500. It now looks as though the Winnipeg association could not be induced to hold its regatta in Duluth, but the Winnipeg people promise to come here en masse. The professional entries will probably be the following: Hanlan, Teemer, Gaudaur, Hamm, Ross, Lee, Plaisted, Ten Eyck and perhaps Kennedy, Peterson and Courtney.

The Minnesota boat club, of St. Paul, makes the following announcement of regattas for the coming season: The annual regatta of the club will be held on July 4th. Full entries will be made in all races, which promise to be of more than usual interest. The regatta of the Minnesota and Winnipeg amateur rowing association will be held at Winnipeg, Man., July 18th and 19th. The regatta of the Mississippi Valley amateur rowing association will be held at Duluth July 23rd and 24th. The Minnesota Boat club will probably send to these regattas contestants in the junior single and junior double-scull races, and junior and senior four-oar crews, composed as follows: Senior four-oar, H. W. Brown, G. O. Nettleton, B. H. Wright, Archibald McLaren, bow; junior four-oar, L. S. Bigelow, D. Lemon, Thomas Scott, W. N. Armstrong, bow; senior single, H. W. Brown; junior single, G. O. Nettleton; junior double, B. H. Wright, stroke; G. O. Nettleton, bow.

A Boston writer in The Chicago Times has been comparing the two leagues. He says: Both Chicago teams have played here, and a good chance was given the cranks to size up the teams. They nearly all seemed to be of one mind when asked what kind of a show Anson's team would stand with Comiskey's men. According to the statements made by good judges of ball-playing, Anson's team could not win. Capt. Anson always says he has a team of world-beaters whether he thinks so or not, and this leads many to believe that his challenge was only his customary bluff.

The Chicago Players' league team played three of the four games scheduled, winning two and losing the last. Although it was called in the middle of the sixth inning it is doubtful if the Chicago team could have won, as the Bostons were six runs in the lead. Charley Farrell's throwing to second was very erratic. He throws the ball too low. Arlie Latham's freaks caught the crowd, and his coaching kept the spectators laughing throughout the game. Arlie is very popular here, as was proven during the last Chicago game. Upon coming to the bat he was presented with a handsome diamond ring by his Lynn friends.

Kelly is playing great ball now, and when he is behind the bat a player stealing second has to run very fast. Only one man has succeeded in reaching second while he has been catching.

It is rumored that there is trouble in the Players' league between Kelly and Radbourn. "Rad" has been advertised to pitch in several games, but for some reason or other he has failed to appear. Everyone is sick of the conflicting dates and a change should be made to please the patrons of the game. The Players' league still continues to draw good crowds and make money, but the attendance is not quite as large as it was a few weeks ago.

From an article in the June Century on "Track Athletics in America," by Walter Camp, we quote as follows: "The fastest running thus far done by any amateur for 100 yards from a standstill is ten seconds, and if one may believe the best authorities in the way of sporting journals, amateur runners have been coming up this limit occasionally ever since 1868, but not one has passed it. In that twenty-odd years some eight American amateurs and an equal number of Englishmen have dashed down the track in the even time of ten seconds, while hundreds have run the course in the next fraction of a second. This record was made first in London in 1868, and last in Detroit in 1889.

"Some time that ten-second record will be beaten, and it will be a story worth the telling if one has seen it done. Naturally, the fifth of a second by which this coming champion will dash into prominence will not be appreciable to the eye of the best of judges. Just the slightest movement less of the fine split second-hand on the watches of timers, and some man will be famous. When one thinks that these sprinters, as they are called, go at the rate of thirty feet a second, he realizes something of the meaning of the term "dash" as applied to the short-distance races. From a quarter of a mile down the races are run at the top of the man's speed, but the half mile, mile and above require the husbanding of strength and proper putting forth of just enough to run out the entire distance at the best uniform speed. The walking requires a more accurate idea of the rules to make it of the most interest to the average spectator. This feeling is but human, and it often seems to take possession of the contestants themselves, as one may see from the occasional warnings given by the judge."

Ely expects a time June 15, when the fat men of Duluth will swipe the ball championship. The Iron Home says: The Duluth Baseball club, composed of about sixty gentlemen weighing not less than 200 pounds under Manager Tom Dickens and Capt. J. F. Dacey have sent in a challenge to the fat men of Ely, to play a game of baseball on the Ely grounds on the afternoon of June 15. It is needless to say that Capt. Vail accepted the challenge and has already commenced to train his players. In connection with the baseball game there will be a canoe race on the lake between Capts. Dacey and Vail. Both gentlemen are experts in canoes having ridden in them about two different times we are informed. Capt. Vail "has it in for" the Duluth captain owing to his winning a running race about six weeks ago and has decided on the canoe method to "get even."

Coming Aquatics.

The national English regatta open to all scullers and crews, will be held at Putney on Aug. 18 and 19.

Ed Hanlan, the oarsman, having expressed his intention to challenge O'Connor immediately on his return from Australia, Mr. Joseph Rogers has authorized The Toronto Empire to state that Hanlan need not wait for O'Connor's return to agree upon the terms of a match, as he is willing to post a forfeit at once and sign articles for a race to take place within the month following O'Connor's arrival for anything from $1000 up, and over any distance.

The following are the aquatic events of the season:

June 8, Regatta at St. Louis, Mo.

June 17, New England Amateur Rowing association, annual regatta, at Worcester.

June 18, Cornell-Bowdoin match on Cayuga Lake.

June 18, Virginia Association of Amateur Oarsmen, annual regatta at Richmond.

June 23, O'Connor-Stansbury match, on Parramatta course, New South Wales.

June 25, Second annual invitation regatta of the Patapsco navy at Baltimore, Md.

July 2, Regatta at Haverhill, Mass.

July 4, Annual cup and people's invitation regatta at Philadelphia, Pa.

July 4, Boston, Mass., city regatta.

July 5, Ottawa, Ont., Rowing club spring race.

July 8, 9 and 10, Henley, England, regatta.

July 21 to 26, Mississippi Valley Amateur Rowing association, thirteenth annual regatta and Duluth-Superior regatta.

July 26, Valois (P. Q.) Boating club, annual regatta.

July 28, Long Island Regatta association, annual regatta at Whitestone, L. I.

Aug. 6 and 7, First regatta of the Middle States Regatta association at Newark, N. J.

Aug. 9, Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen, annual regatta at Lachine, P. Q.

Aug. 12 and 13, National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, eighteenth annual regatta on Lake Quinsigamond, Mass.

Sept. 1, Fourth annual eight-oared race for the Staten Island Athletic club cup.

Sept. 1, New England Amateur Rowing association, regatta at Boston.

Foul Tips.

Think of a Boston team only attracting a 2999 spectators at two games in New York.

Boston has the best percentage of games won by any teams in either of the big leagues.

Tim Keefe is pitching better ball this season than ever. His slow ball with a fast montion is doing the work.

Philadelphia is very weak in the box and will be in big luck to be in the first division at the end of the season. Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Chicago and Boston will beat her out.

Second Baseman Youngman, Pitcher Jones and Outfielder Kelly have been released by the Pittsburgh league club. Sam Crane will be a fixture at second base, and has been released outright by Mr. Day to Pittsburgh.

It's a remarkable fact that most of the old players who deserted the Brotherhood are having a hard time of it this season with sickness. Look at the men in the New York and Boston teams.

From the Shoulder.

Jake Kilrain, in a letter to a friend, says that if John L. Sullivan expects to get off at his trial in Purvis, Miss., on June 20, he had better reach that city a week before the day of his trial and make friends of everybody, because the officials who have his case in hand are determined to enforce the law.

Pete McCoy has offered to fight either Arthur Upham or Jack McGee in Providence, R. I., at some near date for $1000. Mike Slattery, in replying to this offer, has named $500 as the best purse which could be made up there for such a match.

One of the latest fads of the San Francisco ladies is to go to the sparring scrimmages dressed in male attire. One of them went to see the Choynski-Davis affair, disguised in her big brother's Derby hat, summer trousers and sack coat. She watched the preliminaries without exhibiting unusual emotion, but when the heavy weights began to battle like a pair of enraged bulls, she, like a true female, gave a spasmodic shriek and fell in a dead faint.

All Round Sports.

The second annual individual general athletic championship of the Amateur Athletic union of the United States will be held at the Staten Island Athletic club grounds, Tuesday, June 10, at 3 p. m. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be given to the first, second and third men.

Schaefer and McCleery have made arrangements for an eight-inch balk-line game, for $500 to $2000 a side. McCleery will play 500 points to Schaefer's 700, the latter to discount him.

Ben Taylor has been matched by Schaefer against McCleery for a straight rail game, 1000 points up, for $500 a side. The match comes off this Saturday night at San Francisco.

The Quaker City wheelmen of Philadelphia will hold a five-mile club handicap road race on June 21, in which some dozen members will compete.

James P. Reed, the champion checker player of America, will visit the Pittsburgh Checker club and give a series of exhibitions. Mr. Reed has posted a forfeit of $100 to play James Wyllie for the checker championship of the world.

J. F. McCleery says he will accept Ives' challenge to play 2000 points straight billiards against his 3000 points for $1000 a side, if Ives will deposit $500 as a forfeit.

There is no truth in the report telegraphed from Sioux City that the St. Paul club is about to disband, nor is there any truth in the statement that salaries for May have not been paid.

Sad Memories.

"Ah," said the gray-haired wayfarer at the railroad lunch counter, "This is the old place. I recognized yonder landmark at once."

"What landmark?" asked the cashier.

"Forty years ago when I was traveling over this road," continued the stranger, "I carved my initials and date on yonder piece of apple pie. I see you have it yet. Excuse an old man's tears."

The travelers on "The Burlington" have no memories of that kind. Their recollections are of sumptuous meals in those dining-cars which were long ago given the title of "peerless" by their patrons, and they can say with the epicure of olden time—"Fate cannot harm me: I have dined today—(on "The Burlington' dining-ca..") Other pleasing memories will be of the smooth track, quick time, elegant coaches and luxurious sleeping-cars. RUDYARD KIPLING'S VERSE.

Christmas in India.

Dim dawn behind the tamarisks—the sky is saffron-yellow—
As the women in the village grind the corn,
And the parrots seek the riverside, each calling to his fellow
That the Day, the staring Eastern Day, is born.
Oh, the white dust on the highway! Oh, the stenches in the by-way!
Oh, the clammy fog that hovers over earth!
And at home they're making merry, 'neath the white and scarlet berry—
What part have India's exiles in their mirth?

Full day behind the tamarisks—the sky is blue and staring—
As the cattle crawl afield beneath the yoke,
And they hear One o'er the field-path who is past all hope or caring,
To the ghat below the curling wreaths of smoke.
Call on Rama, going slowly, as ye hear a brother lowly—
Call on Rama—he may hear, perhaps, your voice!
With our hymn-books and our psalters we appeal to other altars,
And to day we bid "good Christian men rejoice"!

High noon behind the tamarisks—the sun is hot above us—
As at home the Christmas day is breaking wan.
They will drink our healths at dinner—those who tell us how they love us,
And forget us till another year begone!
Oh, the toil that knows no breaking! Oh, the helmweh, ceaseless, aching!
Oh, the black dividing Sea and alien Plain!
Youth was cheap—Wherefore we sold it. Gold was good—we hope to hold it.
And to day we know the fullness of our gain.

Gray dust behind the tamarisks—the parrots fly together—
As the sun is sinking slowly over Home;
And his last ray seems to mock us, shackles to a lifelong tether
That drags us back, how'e'er so far we roam.
Hard her service, poor her payment—she in ancient, tattered raiment—
India, she the grim Stepmother of our kind.
If a year of life be lent her, if her temple's shrine we enter,
The door is shut—we may not look behind.

Black night behind the tamarisks—the owls begin their chorus—
As the conches from the temple scream and bray.
With the fruitless years behind us and the hopeless years before us,
Let us honor, oh, my brothers, Christmas Day!
Call a truce, then, to our labors—let us feast with friends and neighbors,
And be merry as the custom of our caste;
For, if "faint and forced the laughter," and if sadness follow after,
We are richer by one mocking Christmas past.

The Story of Uriah.

"Now there were two men in one city; the one rich and the other poor."

Jack Barrett went to Quetta
Because they told him to.
He left his wife at Simla
On three-fourths his monthly screw.
Jack Barrett died at Quetta.
Ere the next month's pay he drew.

Jack Barrett went to Quetta,
He didn't understand
The reason of his transfer
From the pleasant mountain land
The season was September,
And it killed him out of hand.

Jack Barrett went to Quetta
And there gave up the ghost,
Attempting two men's duty
In that very healthy post;
And Mrs. Barrett mourned for him
Five lovely months at most.

Jack Barrett's bones at Quetta
Enjoy profound repose:
But I shouldn't be astonished
If now his spirit knows
The reason of his transfer
From the Himalayan snows.

And when the last great bugle call
Adown the Hurnai throbs,
When the last grim joke is entered
In the big black Book of Jobs,
And Quetta graveyards give again
Their victims to the air,
I shouldn't like to be the man
Who sent Jack Barrett there.

NO SHOW.

[S. W. Foss.]

Joe Beal 'ud set upon a keg
Down to the groc'ry store, an' throw
One leg right over t'other leg,
An' swear he'd never had no show;
"Oh no," said Joe,
"Hain't hed no show"—
Then shift his quid to t'other jaw
An' chaw, an' chaw, an' chaw, an' chaw.

He said he got no start in life,
Didn't git no money from his dad;
The washin' took in by his wife
Earned all the funds he ever had;
"Oh no," said Joe
"Hain't hed no show"—
An' then he'd look up at the clock
An' talk, an' talk, an' talk, an' talk.

"I've waited twenty year—let's see—
Yes, twenty-four, an' never struck,
Altho' I've sot roun' patiently,
The fust tarnashion streak er luck;
"Oh no," said Joe,
"Hain't hed no show"—
Then stuck like mucilage to the spot,
An' sot, an' sot, an' sot, an' sot.

"I've come down regerler over' day
For twenty years to Piper's store;
I've sot here in a patient way,
Say, hain't I, Piper?" Piper swore,
"I tell ye, Joe,
Yer hain't no show;

Wanted the Chump Arrested.

Detroit Free Press: He entered the Woodbridge street station shortly after dinner yesterday, with a torn coat, his back all dust and a red lump on his forehead, and when asked to state his case he began:

"Last March I met an acquaintance on Grand River street. It was raw and blustry, and he said it looked as if spring would never come. Says I to him, says I:

"'Possess your soul with patience. It is only a question of time.'

"I met him again in April. It was cold and rainy, and he said he doubted if we should ever have warm weather. So I says to him, says I:

"'My friend, don't blaspheme. Nature knows what is for our best good.'

"I met him for the third time in May, and he jumped up and down and swore that it was to be twelve months of winter. Says I to him, says I:

"'The impetuosity of some men works their ruin. Trust in Providence.'

"And just now I met him out here. He had his coat and hat off and was sitting on a box and panting like a dog. And I went up to him and says, says I:

"'Are this hot 'nuff for you, and didn't I tell you so?'

"And the inconsistent, erratic, impetuous chump arose and knocked me down, and I want him arrested."

Jokes on the Census-Taker.

New York Press: I discovered one of the census enumerators at work in a leading uptown hotel yesterday. He was requiring at the office the name of every guest in the house on the previous night, whether transient or regular boarder. The names of transients, he explained to me, would be transmitted to the supervisor in the district where the guest lives permanently, so that there would be a certainty that he would not be missed by being away from home. I heard during the day numerous funny stories of answers given to enumerators. A well-known speculator, when the defective mind question was put to him, responded:

"Just mark me down as crazy, with the remark that I got caught on the wrong side of Chicago gas last week."

A Sixth avenue wag, when asked whether he had ever been a convict or a prisoner, professed not to know what information was wanted, and when the enumerator, to make it plainer, asked if he had ever been in jail, this was the reply:

"Oh, yes, I was in jail once. It was to see a man hung. I expect the next time I go it will be to see you hung. You will murder somebody before the week is out."

ANGEL OR DEVIL?

Contrasting Opinions About Women by Men of All Ages.

Heine: Every man who marries is like the doge who weds the Adriatic sea; he knows not what he may find therein—treasures, pearls, monsters, unknown storms.

Balzac: Woman is a most charming creature, who changes her heart as easily as she does her gloves.

Victor Hugo: Women detest the serpent through a professional jealousy.

Thackeray: A good woman is the loveliest flower that blooms under heaven.

Punch: The proper study of mankind is woman.

Socrates: Trust not a woman when she weeps, for it is her nature to weep when she wants her will.

Thackeray: A woman's heart is just like a lithographer's stone: What is once written upon it cannot be rubbed out.

George Sand: Love is the virtue of women.

Fleming: He who trusts women draws water with pitchers full of holes.

Shakespeare:
She is mine own,
And I as rich in having such a jewel,
As twenty seas, if all their sands were pearl,
The waters nectar and the rocks pure gold.

Franklin: He that takes a wife takes care.

Goetz:
He who marries once may be

Anna C. Steele: Women are generally consistent in their insincerity, if in nothing else.

FOR THE CHURCH PEOPLE

A Duluth Pastor on the Baptist Conference; Some Notes

Of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. P. S. C. E. Work; Intelligence Locally.

THE Baptist people of America have a deep-seated feeling of satisfaction at the outcome of the May meetings in Chicago. Not only was much routine work done and extensive plans laid for the future, but the reports of the several secretaries, representing different branches of church work, revealed results at once pleasing and surprising.

"Of the $100,000 contributed by John D. Rockefeller to the Education society two years ago," said Pastor McClelland who has just returned from Chicago, "as a working capital, $87,000 has been expended as a nucleus for the founding of colleges and seminaries and has been the means of the collection of additional sums aggregating nearly $500,000. Dr. Galusha Anderson, ex-president of the old Chicago university, is authority for the statement that in the educational field alone the Baptists have already invested in the United States the sum of $20,000,000. The event of the meetings, however, was the announcement of the Education society, at present less than two years old, that the founding of the projected Chicago university was now assured. The first impulse towards this memorable achievement came in the munificent offer of Rockfeller, who gave $600,000 for that purpose if the Baptists would raise $400,000 more by June 1, and the additional offer of an eligible site, valued at $100,000, by Mr. Marshall Field, coupled with similar conditions.

"The site, a ten-acre tract, is adjacent to South Park, on the lake shore, a superb location. The institution is to be permanently under the auspices of the Baptists, without denominational lines and open to all classes.

"This instance is the first on record where an educational institution has been founded by contributions from the people at large, for subscriptions were received from every state and territory in the Union, and nearly every country on the globe. As a business venture the university will be a great thing for Chicago, and with that in view the citizens contributed right royally. The Standard club, a Hebrew literary and social order, is represented in the list with $27,000. The Chicago churches also gave $233,000 to the fund. In addition to this, Dr. George C. Lorimer, of Immanual church, Chicago, states that a well known gentleman offers conditionally $25,000 for the founding of a preparatory academy."

Says The Advance, the Congregational weekly of the central West: The church at Duluth is one of the well organized churches that are being happily educated into an all around interest and participation in all enterprises. This naturally put it into vital and inspiring sympathy with the best thoughts and movements of the time. A year or two ago, having just completed a new and elegant house of worship, it was burned to the ground and the task had to be all done over again. Nevertheless, they thought it best to keep right on doing as they had done before, giving as they were able to all the various causes. This church, of which E. M. Noyes is pastor, has lately assumed the entire support of Rev. and Mrs. Stover of the West Central African Missior. This church at its last communion received twenty-four new members besides eight by letter. There is nothing strange in the fact that such a church should be "as the field which the Lord hath blest." Such fruits of a large and rounded Christian character in a community never grow in connection with any "non-contributing" policy.

A Baltimore clergyman has been praising the newspaper. He says: "In a clean, live, progressive and aggressive press is found the pulpits' most valuable adjunct today." But what shall be said of a press that is unclean? It is an emissary of Satan.

It is a good sign that the Methodist church South has elected as one of its bishops, and that by a large majority on the first ballot, the man who first among Southern men struck the signal bell of the new and better era, in his book, "Our Brother in Black," Dr. Atticus G. Haygood. Eight years ago he was chosen to the same office, but declined, believing that the providence of God at the time was calling him to leadership in certain lines of educational work.

Episcopalians of South Carolina have decided to shut out any colored clergymen who may hereafter seek entrance to ministerial fellowship with the white brethren of the same order. This the diocese of that state has done despite the earnest protest of the bishop and thousands of rectors and others.

The Evangelist: What white Americans need more than anything else is to imbibe the spirit of the Golden Rule and to have the manhood to live it out in their dealings with the negro. It is in vain to talk about the settlement of this question in any way except that which is laid down in the Word of God, which involves full recognition as a man and brother. All this talk about natural inferiority, degradation, ignorance and incapacity has nothing whatever to do with the question as to treatment of the negro. Such matters have no place, and can have none in the Christian system. Christianity takes men as it finds them, and accords to all the same privileges, and demands for all the same consideration.

The largest number of new Christian Endeavor Societies ever reported in a single week was reported for the week ending May 4, when 179 were added to the list, about equally distributed among the leading evangelical denominations.

Among the speakers announced for the coming Christian Endeavor Convention in St. Louis are Dr. J. K. McLean of Oakland, Cal. The convention sermon will be preached by Rev. P. S. Henson, D.D., of the First Baptist Church of Chicago. The delegates to this convention from each state and territory have been assigned by the committee of arrangements to one of the forty-eight societies of St. Louis. From 6,000 to 9,000 are expected to attend.

Pres. F. E. Clark says: "In a recent article it has been claimed that the Christian Endeavor movement has not increased accessions to the churchee, and some misleading figures to support this view were shown. Though the society is largely for the training of those already Christians, yet it is glad to stand this test. It was not until the Congregational Year-Book of 1886 that these societies were numerous enough to exert any influence upon statistics. For the four years immediately preceding 1886 8355 were added to churches on confession. During these last four years 18,008 were added, a gain of over 100 per cent. It is certainly fair to ascribe some of this great increase to the influence of the Christian Endeavor. Every other condition in these churches, was the same before 1886 as after. The same results will be found in other denominations and other sections.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church has received a very interesting letter from its protege in Japan. Miss Fuyu Ashibayska, who is in the training school, and will graduate in two years. In it she says naively, that the school is divided into four grades according to scholarship. "Some are first class, some second, some third and some fourth. I am first class." The society is assured it has a first-class representative.

S. G. Conaughy, general secretary of the Worcester, Mass., Y. M. C. A., has accepted the call extended by the Y. M. C. A. of this city, and will become its permanent secretary from the second week in July. His brother is a representative of young men's christian work at Madras, India. Mr. Conaughy comes exceptionally well recommended, and the directors feel that they have made money by waiting.

The last number of The Outlook, the official publication of the local Y. M. C. A., shows a falling off in attendance at the gymnasium for the month. It is easily explained by the weather, which has drawn off the young men to the harbor and the trout streams. Those who get their exercise regularly at the gymnasium during the winter are glad to get into a boat or off for a tramp in summer. Other branches of the work show a steady and flattering gain.

In new buildings dedicated to its own work the Y. M. C. A. of America is most fortunate. The number increases yearly and there is now a veritable boom in splendid buildings. The Duluth association is looking with not a little interest to some man or men who will provide it with more commodious quarters and expects to find philanthropic individuals in a few years. It has a valuable piece of property where the present building is located, and there has been some talk of selling it, and with the proceeds and what could be raised in addition, build a new structure on First or Second streets. But it is more generally conceded that the time for this move has not yet arrived.

PARTICULARS OF LABOR.

Is Said the Party Will Put a Ticket in the Field This Fall.

Talks to the Clerks' Union on Early Closing; Labor Notes.

IT is more than probable that the labor barty will have something to say about the campaign this fall. There is a sentiment among the laboring people that the old parties cannot be relied upon at all times to fulfill their promises. A. O. Grigsby, editor of The Industrial Age, who is well known in labor circles throughout the Northwest and who was a prominent character in the convention which nominated Ignatius Donnelly for governor, is now in Minneapolis and in an interview in The Tribune he is quoted as speaking as follows on the labor movement:

"Yes, there will be a labor convention and a state labor ticket, too. You can be assured of that. But there is one thing that we won't have this year, that is withdrawals. A ticket that goes into the field goes there to stay. I have found that there is a strong sentiment in favor of deserting the old parties. And as soon as enough of the workers see this there will be a genuine change and not until then. The old parties are not to be relied upon. All the labor legislation we got in 1886 we lost in '88 and so it will always be."

The Farmers Alliance will meet in Fergus Falls on the 16th inst. and Mr. Grigsby is of the opinion that at this convention a plan of campaign will be outlined. He thinks the union labor platform will be adopted and the campaign run on those lines. The date of the state labor convention will probably be fixed at the farmers'meeting.

The Retail Clerks union of St. Paul is one of the strongest organizations of the kind in the country, and the members get pretty nearly all they demand. At a recent meeting, after an interesting musical and literary program, a short address was made by Bishop McGolrick of Duluth. The bishop expressed himself as heartily in favor of the early closing movement, as well as the other industrial reforms now being agitated. Other ministers spoke in the same strain.

Geo. M. Eby, president of the Clerks' union: There are great things being done in a quiet way, and every store in Duluth will close its doors at 7 o'clock after July 1. All who were at first the bitterest opponents of this movement have become convinced that the clerks are right and show a willingness to accede to their request.

Already there is a quiet canvass being made for officers for the state federation. The people who label themselves "representative" have a neat little slate. There can be no objection to this. It amuses them and is perfectly harmless. When the delegates for the federation meet it is feared that they will insist on selecting officers from the material on hand and be ungrateful enough to forget the good work that is now being done for them.

The next meeting of the State Eight-Hour league will be held at labor headquarters in St. Paul tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. A large amount of business of importance is to be transacted which insures a large attendance. The idea of forming a state federation is becoming more popular every day, and the league will probably take the initial step in this direction at the meeting tomorrow.

The St. Paul Shoemakers' assembly has decided to hold the first labor picnic of the season on July 19, and committees have been appointed to decide upon a location and arrange all details for the event. Some lake in the vicinity of St. Paul will probably be chosen, and the other unions invited to attend.

IN THE NEPIGON.

A Writer Who Calls it the Source of the St. Lawrence.

Northwest Magazine: Where does the St. Lawrence river rise? Some will probably say in Lake Ontario; others in Lake Superior. Neither answer is quite correct.

Like the Amazon, this river has a different name for each part of its course. The St. Lawrence, between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, is called the Niagara, between Lake Erie and Lake Huron the St. Clair and Detroit river, and between Lake Huron and Lake Superior the St. Mary's river. Yet are these all one and the same river, the lakes being but so many expansions of its waters.

Beyond Lake Superior, to the northward, there is still another portion of its course, called the Nepigon, a noble stream of clear, azure-tinted water nearly as large as the Hudson in volume, which flows down from the great Lake Nepigon in the heart of the Canadian wilderness.

Until recently Lake Nepigon has been but little known. On our maps it is figured as a much smaller lake than it really is. Its actual dimensions are about seventy-three miles in length by fifty-one in breadth. These figures give but an inadequate idea of its size, for there are five great bays varying from twenty to ten miles in length. The actual coast line of the lake is not much less than 600 miles.

Twelve rivers of considerable size, four of them rising far up on the "divide" toward James Bay, flow into it, and its waters rival those of Lake George in purity and clearness. It literally swarms with whitefish and trout.

The Nepigon river—the outlet of the lake—may be fairly termed the northerly and upper course of the St. Lawrence, not only from its size, exceeding greatly all other rivers flowing into Lake Superior, but from the clearness and color of its water, and other general characteristics.

Whereas the other smaller rivers of Lake Superior are "black-water" rivers, that is to say, having turbid or stained water, the Nepigon is a clear and beautiful river of the same azure, sea-green and marine-blue water which one sees at Ningara and in the St. Lawrence.

SMASHES AT THE SAULT.

Several Collisions at the Canal; Authentic News of the Viking.

SAULT STE. MARIE, June 7.—[Special to The Herald.]—The schooner Chas. Foster is aground at the head of the canal, just outside of the light. One of the luman tugs has gone to her assistance. The schooner Rhodes, in tow of the Fayette, ran into the steamer Nyanza above the locks at 11:30. The schooner's bowsprit was split and the turtle back of the steamer was badly damaged.

A report was brought down last night by the steamer Columbia, to the affect that steamer Viking and consort Michigan were ashore on Eagle river reef in Lake Superior and that they were going to pieces owing to a strong northwest gale now raging. Other down-bound boats report thick weather opposite Eagle river and impossible to see anything.

Later—The captain of the Kittie Forbes, down at 3 o'clock this afternoon, reports having seen a three-masted steamer and a four-masted schooner under shelter at Copper harbor, and it is thought here it may be the Viking and consort.

Marine Notes.

The report of lockings through the Sault Ste. Marie canal for the month of May passes any previous record for any month in the history of the canal. The number of passengers was 1944; registered tonnage, 1,353,088; freight, 1,294,686; daily average number of passengers, 53; daily registered freight tonnage, 43,667 tons. The passages exceed any previous month since the locks were started by 37 vessels, and the registered tonnage exceeds the record by 190,176 tons, and freight by 8807 tons. Considering the low stage of water, on account of which no vessel could carry a full load, this showing is beyond expectation.

Prospects Good at Bottineau.

BOTTINEAU, N. D., June 7.—[Special to The Herald.]—Heavy rain this morning. Ground is too moist. Grain in a good condition but weather very cold. Must have a few days warm weather and the prospect for a bountiful harvest will be very bright.

Crops Backward, Prospects Good.

NECHE, N. D., June 7.—[Special to The Herald.]—The past week has been very favorable to crops—fine cool weather. Last Sunday rain fell for seven or eight hours steady. Considering the time of year crops are a little backward, but prospects at the present time are for an exceedingly large crop. Some more wheat was hauled across to the Canada side, farmers netting three cents more than the American elevators are paying.

THE CENSUS.

No Trouble in Duluth; All Questions Answered; Work Proceeding Rapidly.

The census people in Duluth are getting on well with their work, and are having no trouble. Inquiry at headquarters this morning revealed the fact that not one local enumerator has had any trouble in getting answers to his questions, arising from refusal, though several have been unable to get what information they want because of the inability of those questioned to speak the English language.

Considerable difficulty is reported, also, in getting full information, or even names, of those residing in boarding houses, and some plan will be devised at once to wipe out this difficulty.

It is regretted by the census people here that the same plan was not carried out in Duluth as in other cities, where blanks were distributed from house to house before the work of enumerating began. Here, however, blanks could not be sent out, as some of the enumerators themselves did not get them till the middle of the week.

GENTLEMEN OF DULUTH.

GOOD STYLES will be our text today. Good Styles are simply the result of good taste in selecting garments and articles of apparel which harmonize with the surroundings. Style cannot be governed by rigid rules, but may be as varied as the beauties of nature and is judged from the eyes of the beholder. We have heard remarked, "Clothes do not make the man." Certainly not, MAN makes the CLOTHES, therefore, while the clothes do not make the man, they PROCLAIM the man. See? By your dress you can say, "I am a professional man, a commercial man, or a man of leisure," and each style can proclaim the GENTLEMAN whether the aged and sober-minded or the sentimental youth, and all by their harmony add to the beauties of poetry. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Recently we talked to you of our GOOD GOODS, and now if you will combine our GOOD GOODS with our GOOD STYLES, don't you see, it will be like "killing two birds with one worm."

The Reorganization of the Iron Car Company; General News Notes.

Special advices received today by officers of the Minnesota Iron Car company, and by The Herald, as well, from New York, indicate that the prospects now are that the negotiations for the reorganization of the Iron Car company will be consummated the early part of next week. The examination by the experts is about completed, and reveals a much smaller indebtedness by the company than was supposed at the date of earlier telegrams and statements, about agreeing with the original statement by President Dithridge upon which the conditional offer of the syndicate was based. The generality of creditors have signed the power of attorney authorizing the committee of creditors to act for them, which will greatly hasten matters when the syndicate is otherwise prepared to act. There is now but little doubt but that a speedy and satisfactory reorganization will be effected. As a result of this the Minnesota works at West Duluth are expected to start again in a week or more.

The Knights of Pythias elected the following officers on Thursday evening: G. G. Davis, C. C.; Dr. Forin, V. C.; J. Curo, P.; W. W. Browne, M. at A.; N. Darrah, J. G.; S. York, O. G. Harry Morgan will be recommended to the grand chancellor for district deputy.

The Methodist concert will be repeated next Monday evening by request. The program will be about the same.

Parents and friends are specially invited to the children's day services at the Baptist church Sunday. In the morning the pastor will give an eye and ear talk to the Sunday school, and in the evening the school will give a service of song, recitations and motion pieces.

Children's day will be observed at the Congregational church. In the morning at 10:30 there will be a sermon to young people on "What the Flowers Teach." At 8 p. m. a Sunday school concert, when the carol, "The Good Fight of Faith," will be rendered. The church will be decorated. During the evening reward books will be given to those children who have successfully answered Bible questions.

Rev. Feetham of Duluth will supply the pulpit of the Methodist church tomorrow. Rev. Brown, the new pastor, is expected to arrive about the 21st inst.

BAY VIEW NOTES.

Building More Houses, Grading Roads and Clearing Additions.

There is not a little activity at Bay View Heights, at West Duluth and the earlier activity in real estate purchases begins to show in dwellings and other fine improvements. There are ten houses now under way there, several of them very nice and all substantial and good. Several more are to be begun the coming week.

Besides work that it has done the Bay View Heights company is to grade a wagon road to West Duluth immediately. This will also be sidewalked and made excellent for travel. This is a most needed improvement and will be appreciated. The clearing of Bay View addition No. 3 has been completed.

Quite a steady and flattering inquiry for lots in the various divisions.

The Minnesota Iron Company Pays Six Per Cent for Year.

Iron Company and Iron Range Annual Elections Held.

The Duluth & Iron Range and the Minnesota Iron Company officials arrived in town this morning at 7 o'clock, from a two days' tour through the Vermilion range. All of the party left the city this afternoon over the Omaha for the East, well pleased at the annual reports and the outlook for the ensuing year's business.

The annual meetings of the Duluth & Iron Range and the Iron Company were held this morning at the Iron Range offices in Odd Fellows building. The elections of the railway company were held first, the following being chosen officials for the ensuing year: Chairman, H. H. Porter; president, H. R. Bishop; vice-president, M. J. Carpenter; secretary and treasurer, C. W. Hillard and H. A. Patterson; directors, L. Silverman in place of George H. Ball, and C. W. Hillard in place of David Dows, deceased; executive committee, H. H. Porter, H. R. Bishop, R. P. Flower, Marshall Field, M. J. Carpenter. The regular annual report was submitted and accepted. It showed that the business of the company for 1889-90 had largely increased over 1887-88, and the net earnings to be $150,000.

The affairs of the Minnesota Iron company are in a most prosperous condition. As already stated in The Herald the company will by next year have six iron boats in the water, two of which are now in service, two more being built and the remaining will ready for use by the season of 1891-92.

The most important business transacted at the meeting today was the declaring of a 6 per cent dividend, to be paid in 1½ per cent quarterly installments. Monies were also appropriated for various improvements. It is understood that the profits for last season amounted to about $1,000,000. The coming season will undoubtedly draw an increase over this sum, and members of the company say that the mines will have an unusually good investment, with prospect of constantly increasing dividends.

Several changes were made in the personnel of the company, Mr. D. and J. C. Morse retiring from the presidency. The officers elected were: President, H. R. Bishop; chairman, H. H. Porter; vice-president, D. H. Bacon, who has heretofore held the position of general manager; directors, D. O. Mills, H. M. Flogler, Benjamin Brewster and Henry Seibert.

The company recognized the death of David Dows with the following resolutions:

Whereas; This board learned with deep regret of the death of one of its members, David Dows of New York,

Therefore, resolved, That in the death of Mr. Dows this company has lost one of its most competent and faithful advisers, whose ripe experience, sound financial and business judgment were of great benefit to this company and to the members of this board, and whose well known integrity, loyalty and intelligent conservatism have been important elements in the success of the many enterprises with which he has been associated during a long and useful life.

Resolved, That we tender to the family of our deceased associate our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

Died at 101.

OWATONNA, Minn., June 9.—Mrs. Rolla Swaine, a personage of great historic interest, has just passed away at the ripe old age of 101 years. She was a cousin of Gen. Robert E. ARRIVED SAFE.

The City of Rome at Liverpool in Safety.

LIVERPOOL, June 9.—The Anchor line steamer City of Rome, Capt. Young, which struck on Fastnet rock at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, during a dense fog while en route from New York, arrived here this morning. As the passengers were leaving the steamer they loudly cheered Capt. Young, who bowed his acknowledgements from the bridge.

All the accounts of the accident concur that all the cabin passengers behaved with notable calmness at the time the steamer struck. Most of them came on deck fully dressed. The fog was so dense that lights could not be seen a ship's length away. The steamer was so close to the rock that any one leaning directly over the bow of the steamer could touch it.

Some of the passengers saw people from the Fastnet lighthouse looking over the deck at them. One passenger alleges that he reached from the steamer and plucked a flower that was growing in a crevice of the rock on which she struck.

There was intense excitement among the women and passengers in the steerage when the steamer struck. Most of the passengers were ignorant of the fact that the forepeak was full of water until the steamer reached Liverpool.

ELECTRIC FREAKS.

A New York Family Terrorized by the Antics of Lightning.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., June 9.—A most remarkable phenomenon is reported from the outlying country districts regarding the electrical display during the recent severe rain storms. A farmer named Jasper Bacon and his family, residing fifteen miles northwest of this city, were singularly affected. The house seemed to be enveloped in a bluish, hazy light. The air was pregnant with the electric fluid and balls of fire danced along the tops of chairs and slid over mantels or chased each other up and down hanging lamp shades. It was a terrible sight to the members of the household. There were no lights in the house, and the terror of the inmates was greatly increased by the total paralysis of their muscles. They were unable to move and sat like mummies, fearing that their end was near. The storm lasted four hours, and as it departed the electricity vanished and the use of their limbs and arms returned.

HONEST JOHN WILL GO FREE.

A New York Boodler's Fine Remitted by the Supreme Court.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Judge Barrett of the supreme court today remitted the fine of $2000 imposed on honest John O'Neill of the 1884 board of aldermen, in addition to the term of imprisonment to which he was sentenced on his conviction of bribery. O'Neil, under this decision, will be released from Sing Sing on June 16, when his term of imprisonment expires. Had the fine not been remitted O'Neil would have been obliged to serve a day for each dollar of the fine.

Recorder Smythe in part two of the general sessions court, this morning sentenced Broker Geo. H. Pell of Sixth National bank wrecking fame, to imprisonment at hard labor for seven years and six months in the state penitentiary.

A Bicycle Trip.

CHICAGO, June 9.—At 5 o'clock this morning Charles R. Nelson, a 19-year-old bicyclist of Marseilles, Ill,, and of some local fame, started on a trip to New York, and which he proposes to make in seventeen days. The journey is under the Inter-Ocean auspices. He proposes to average seventy miles daily going by way of Detroit, Buffalo, Utica, Rochester, Syracuse, Albany and down the Hudson, a total distance of 1180 miles. The previous best record is that of Van Wagoner, the famous Eastern rider, who recently made the journey from New York to Chicago in three hours less than eighteen days.

Profits of the Suez Canal.

PARIS, June 9.—The annual report shows that the profits of the Suez canal for 1889 amounted to 37,212,925 francs. The net dividend was 85 francs per share. The receipts from night traffic amounted to 71 per cent of the total, against 46 per cent in 1888. The average duration of transit has been diminished by four hours. The report asked a vote of confidence in the council on the tariff question. Charles de Lesseps announced that the dividend for 1890 would be 91 francs, without rebate. The report was adopted by a vote of 1244 to 200.

A Big Steamship Combine.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The state department has been officially informed of the combination of almost all the steamship lines in Brazil into one company, known as the Brazilian Lloyds. The capital is about $20,000,000, and the subsidies which the company will receive from thh Brazilian government amount to nearly $700,000 per annum. The charters and subsidies run for sixteen years. The Bank of Brazil has loaned the company $6,000,000, secured by a first mortgage on its property.

Rate War Over.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The passenger rate war in the West ends today in accordance with the recent agreement of the presidents, and harmony will once more prevail. The rates from Chicago are increased from $3 to $11.50 to St. Paul, $5 to $14 to Omaha, from $7 to $30 to Colorado Springs, Peublo and Denver and to other points in the West, Southwest and Northwest in proportion.

Sunday Ball Players Arrested.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 9.—The members of the Philadelphia (Athletic) and the Rochester base ball teams, American association, together with Umpire Toole, were arrested this morning and commanded to appear forthwith before Justice Coy of the town of Irondequoit to stand examination on a charge of playing ball on Sunday last at Windsor beach in that town. The members of the two teams have gone to the Forrest house for examination. It is thought bail will be given and the game this afternoon will not be prevented.

The Triple Alliance.

PESTH, June 9.—Count Kalnocky, minister of foreign affairs for the whole monarchy, addressed the Austro-Hungarian delegation today. He declared that the relations between the nations forming the triple alliance were clearer and firmer than ever before. During his speech he made a sympathetic reference to Bulgaria, whose position, he said, was being consolidated. Alluding to Servia, he said he regretted the excessive growth of radicalism in that country.

Fresh Vegetables.

A car load of choice green vegetables will arrive by express freight tomorrow morning at Clark Bros.' wholesale house, Michigan street.

WHITE CAP OUTRAGES.

An Indiana Farmer Taken From Bed and Brutally Whipped.

A Northern Pacific Train Held up by a Party of Masked Robbers.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., June 9.—The Harrison county White Caps are again on the road. Early on the morning of the 7th, at 2 o'clock, they visited the residence of Walter Rowe, five miles from Corydon, took him from his bed, tied him to a tree and gave him seventy-five lashes on the bare back with switches, lacerating him in a savage manner. They charged him with stealing some chickens, but this charge both Rowe and his wife deny most strenuously and their neighbors do not believe it. This White Cap organization, it is known, often whips men and women for the gratification of personal ill will and malice.

Rowe is a farmer and stands well with the people of his neighborhood. He and his family left their home Saturday afternoon and went to Corydon. He recognized two or three of the White Caps and proposes to prosecute them. It is a fact, however, that in all the prosecutions against the White Caps in Harrison, Crawford and Orange counties there has never been a conviction, as the accused have always succeeded in getting their friends on the juries.

MAIL TRAIN ROBBED.

North Dakota the Scene of a Professional "Hold Up."

MANDAN, N. D., June 9.—The through East-bound passenger train due at midnight arrived at 1 o'clock Sunday morning, the mail car presenting a sorry appearance. Two miles west of New Salem and twenty-five miles west of here, the engineer and firemen were surprised by two masked men climbing over the tender and ordering the train stopped at the end of big revolvers. Express Messenger Angevine, hearing shots fired forward and suspecting something, hid $600 in money from the safe, locked the small safe, put out the lights and ran back to New Salem.

The mail car was first tackled by the robbers. Only one mail agent was in the car and he immediately obeyed orders by turning over the mail matter. A number of registered letters were rifled and then the two robbers turned their attention to the express car. This they found deserted, much to their chagrin, and, mistaking the fireman for the express messenger, they ordered him at the point of pistols to open the safes. He protested that he knew nothing about it, and finally satisfied the robbers. Then the train backed to New Salem, and finally came on East. The passengers were not touched.

Ten sturdy vigilants were sent out from New Salem, yesterday morning, at 4 o'clock, mounted on fleet horses and armed to the teeth. They have not yet been heard from. The feeling is so strong that when caught, the robbers will stand a good show of figuring as principals in a quadruple lynching picnic. The seven registered pouches are estimated to be worth $5000. The whole country is thoroughly alarmed. There are so many men scouring the section that it is impossible for them to remain unmolested longer than nightfall.

SEVEN MEN KILLED.

Freight Trains Collide on the Wabash With Fatal Results.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—A very serious railroad wreck is reported from Warrenton Missouri, sixty-one miles west of here on the Wabash road. Dispatches to the headquarters of the road here, say that two freight trains collided just outside of Warrenton at 1:25 o'clock this morning, that both engines and eighteen cars were wrecked, and that seven men were killed and several wounded. There were eight palace horse cars attached to one of the trains, laden with race horses, en route for Kansas City, two of which were wrecked and seven men in charge of the horses are reported killed, but no names are yet received. Fifteen horses are also reported killed. Of the train men Engineer Shivelle had a rib broken, Fireman Lee Parsons had his collar bone broken, Fireman Brown had his legs badly sprained and Brakeman Norton was slightly hurt. A wrecking train was sent out from Moberly, and surgeons from several points were sent to the scene as soon as possible.

TOWER NOTATIONS.

A Friendly Game of Ball Between Tower and Soudan—A Mill Accident.

TOWER, June 9.—The Tower "Maroons" and the "Soudans" again crossed bats on the Soudan grounds yesterday. Trouble was at first experienced between the managers in regard to playing for a purse of $25 or $50. One of the Tower boys being sick, they procured the services of Billy McComber, a Duluth man, to play with them and he being a good curve pitcher the Soudan boys objected to playing on that principle, as they had challenged Tower and not Duluth. But a friendly game was arranged at last and no money was put up. Both teams played well, Bert Carrier umpiring, and at the end of the game the Tower boys left the field victorious on a score of 7 to 12. In all probabilities the next game will be for a purse of $25.

Saturday morning the cylinder head in the Howe Lumber Company's mill blew off and the mill was shut down for repairs, which will take a week or more to fix in running shape. Luckily the engineer was not injured, being near to the scene of the explosion.

Mr. Vivian, father of Postmaster and Clerk Vivian of Dodgeville, Wis., is visiting his sons at Soudan.

The pit from which the clay for the brickyard is dug at Soudan, and which had filled with water, is being pumped out preparatory to an active summer's work. All the brick blocks in Tower and the Minnesota Iron company's new engine and compressor houses at the mines are built from this brick, which is conceded by expert judges to be of the finest quality manufactured.

The officers of the Minnesota Iron company and the Duluth & Iron Range railroad have been in this city for the past three days looking over their interests as a forerunner to their annual business meeting, which occurs in Duluth today.

Consumers Attention.

A full line of garden vegetables will be on hand at Clark Bros.' wholesale house tomorrow morning.

CHICAGO RUMORS.

Stockholders Who Object to Control by English Syndicates.

CHICAGO, June 9.—English syndicate rumors in the stock yards district continue to be very numerous. It is now said that a number of small stock yard stockholders will make a legal fight against the proposed sale to the English syndicate. There is also a rumor that the purchasers of the Stickney tract of land are long-headed capitalists who foresee the ultimate removal of the stock yards further from the heart of the city, and it is predicted the movement of heavy stockholders to unload the yard on British capitalists is but a forerunner of a movement to establish these yards.

It is said the promoter, Reed, who first attempted the purchase of the yards and ultimately bought the Hammond Packing house, and has on hand a deal with the Chicago Packing company for the purchase of all the concerns under its control, it is said that the ground on which a legal fight against the stock yards by the heavy stockholders—the Vanderbilts and others—will be the decision of Judge Tulley last week in the gas trust case.

The small stockholders in that case were protected against the purchase which involved the mortgage of their heretofore unincumbered property.

CALIFORNIA ANNEXATION.

An English Corporation Charged With Complicity.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—A special to the Chronicle from Ensenda, Lower California, gives and interview with Gov. Terres, governor of the peninsula. Gov. Terres says that he has been in constant cypher communication with the Mexican government since the filibustering disclosures were made, and has sent a full report, substantiating all that has been published. He says that the Mexican government has decided to ask the United States government to punish Walter G. Smith, August Merrill, Bradford Werden, Edward Hill, Frederick Hall and others for their part in the conspiracy. Terres will soon send his government proofs that an English corporation was undoubtedly guilty of complicity.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—In the house today on motion of Mr. Comstock of Minnesota, the title of the silver bill passed Saturday was amended so as to read as follows: "Directing the purchase of silver bullion and the issue of treasury notes thereon for other purposes." Mr. Lodge of Massachusetts offered the following resolution: That the secretary of the treasury be directed to inform this house whether it is true that the Cunard Steamship company on Saturday last refused to obey the orders of the United States to give return passage to certain immigrants landed at New York by said company in violation of the contract labor laws of the United States, and if so what steps if any had been taken to refuse entry to the steamships of said company until said company has complied with the laws of the United States and made due reparation for their refusal to obey the orders of the officers thereof. The resolution was referred to the committee on foreign affairs. The floor was then accorded to the committee on the District of Columbia.

A Clever Invention.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, June 9.—A. Peeler of Lehigh has been arrested by the United States authorities charged with counterfeiting. Peeler invented a machine by which he could extract $15 worth of gold from a $20 gold piece, and was becoming rapidly rich when discovered. After scooping out the interior of the coin he filled in the space from which the gold had been taken with metal of the correct ring and weight, and had little trouble in passing them. He scraped too much gold out of one coin and his scheme was discovered.

The Columbus Strike.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 9.—The strikers remained masters of the situation up to noon today, no effort being made by the company to start cars early this morning as expected. The night police reported for duty at 11:30 and started for the barns of the Ling street line, from which the cars will be started. A large crowd of strikers and their sympathisers have collected at the barn awaiting the arrival of the police.

Still Seizing Slaves.

LONDON, June 9.—The European powers do not seem to be making much headway in their professed object of suppressing the slave trade, which is made the pretext of seizing and apportioning Africa. The Red sea trade in kidnapping children continues to flourish without any attempt being made for its suppression. Several thousand of these children are kidnapped from Africa every year and disposed of at various places along the Red sea where they are subjected to terrible treatment.

A Steamer Disabled.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The steamer Anchoria, at this port today from Glasgow reports that at 11:40 o'clock yesterday morning she sighted, 210 miles east of Sandy Hook lightship, the French line steamer LaBourgogne moving slowly westward. The steamer left here Saturday for Havre. She had a large passenger list. She was evidently disabled, but to what extent the Anchoria people have no idea.

The A. O. H. Convention.

The annual state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will open tomorrow morning and probably last for three days. The meetings will be held in the new Catholic hall on Second avenue west. At 10:30 tomorrow morning high mass will be celebrated at the church of the Sacred Heart by Bishop McGolrick, after which the delegates will be given a short excursion on the lake. Tomorrow evening there will be a literary entertainment at the hall. It is expected that there will be nearly 400 delegates in attendance, a large number of whom are already in the city. The others will arrive this evening and tomorrow morning in time for the first session, which begins at 9 o'clock.

OUR COMMON SCHOOL.

The Herald has directly and positively set its conviction against that of Bishop McGolrick on the question of the merits of our free common school system. It believes that this system, like any other republican institution, is rightly open to free discussion and intelligent, temperate criticism. It is convinced that the more thoroughly the service of this system to the republic is investigated, the more profoundly its value will be appreciated by impartial students. The free non-sectarian school is, from The Herald's standpoint of judgment, the cement of the unity of the youth of the nation and an enduring buttress of the principles upon which our republic is founded.

On this common plane of education the children of the whole nation can meet, without distinction of race, or creed, or condition, or fancied caste. On it they can unite in true democratic companionship, studying side by side from the same books, standing side by side in the same classes, and joining side by side in the same games, on the same playground. Here they can learn how many things all have in common, and how essentially liberal is the basis of fellowship in this government of the people, for the people, by the people. How far better is this assertion of unity, of this rock of fellowship, of this platform of association free for all than the marking out of lines of divergence, of contesting creed and strait-laced sect, of the bounds of disunion in place of the ground of union before the eyes of little children quick to note the obvious fact, but not the pretences of reason. The child sees that even in the earliest hours of his childish training, he is set apart in a pen day after day from the boy of his own age who lives next door, and when he asks why, he will get very little reason through his head except the bald notion that there is a wide gulf fixed between boys whose father and mother go to different churches.

Is this prospect, is anything that tends inevitably to alienation and division if not conflict of interest a pleasant thing for lovers of union and happy fellowship to contemplate? May the day never come in this republic which shall witness the widespread sundering of the common union of little children in childish study and play without thought of Jew or Gentile, of Catholic or Protestant! In maintaining this common union The Herald is steadfastly convinced that it is moving in the right way for the best interests of the children of the republic and the nation as a whole.

It quarrels with no man's conscientious conviction, however, and attributes no mean motives to those who differ from it on this question. It is radically opposed to the position of Bishop McGolrick in this matter, but it fails to see how the strength of its position will be advanced by intemperately assaulting the bishop or the church for which he stands. Believing that here it stands upon the rock of reason and truth, it sees nothing to be gained and much to be lost by obscuring this rock under clouds of darkening passion or leaving its vantage ground to wrangle over the contests of the past. It does not make for present union or for the public school to haul the church over the coals for its past offenses, or to uncover the embers of dark-age feuds.

Nothing will contribute so fast to build up the parochial school as intemperate denunciation of it and nothing will do more to break up the common school than hot sectarian altercations. In this free country institutions thrive the more under a pretence of persecution, and there should not be even a specious pretext given through the word or act of any champion of the public school for deserting it. The common public school of this country is not a Protestant school nor a Catholic school nor a Hebrew school nor an atheist school. It is not founded upon the Protestant bible nor the Catholic Bible nor upon the teachings of men without a Bible, and does not depend for its public service upon the reading of a text from any source. It is a place where children of any and every parentage and faith meet and should always meet to learn to read, write and cipher and to love one another and their common country.

The papers that are howling against the proposed duty on tin plate ought to be glad to quote the judgment of the London Iron and Steel Trades Journal that "the great obstacle to tin plate making on a large scale in the states is the entire absence of cheap female labor." But we have so far failed to observe the use of this striking sentence in any ante-tariff howl.

A prohibitive bill of general interest is just now under discussion in the French chamber of deputies. Its object is to prevent employers from combining to place their men under the ban for belonging to a labor association. The essential clause, which has already been adopted by a large majority, imposes a penalty of three months' imprisonment, in addition to a fine, on any master or overseer who either threatens to dismiss or refuses to employ a man because he belongs to a labor union. There does not appear to be any present prospect of labor being ground down by the iron heel of capital in the French republic or in our own. There and here, it is the bosses that are likely to do the sweating nowadays.

Waterworks in the United States and Canada, according to statistics presented at a convention just held in Chicago, have trebled in the last ten years, growing from 660 in 1881 to 1900 today. The capital invested is $500,000,000, their annual revenue is $50,000,000, their mains are 30,000 miles long, and they have 2,000,000 taps. The vast bulk of these are owned by the people and carried on by municipalities, and we wish the works in this city were ranked with the vast majority and the gas too.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"How do you enjoy the life of a book agent?" I asked a brown-eyed, black-haired girl who was trying to sell me a book I had no earthly use for. "Do you find the position a trying one?"

"Well, of course," she answered, "all pursuits have their drawbacks. Sometimes I find work a pleasure, and sometimes not to my liking. I have been very successful, however, and have earned enough money to give me a course in music. I think many gentlemen will buy books of a woman where a man would fail to sell. Perhaps it is because some men are naturally so gallant that they dislike to refuse a lady any request. No, rudeness is the exception. I was afraid when I first began to canvass that I should hear a good many rude remarks and meet men who would insult me, but, on the contrary, I have been treated with courtesy wherever I have been. I have been very successful in Duluth, and sold several hundred volumes.

The Superior papers are publishing amusing accounts of how Moore and Flaherty, the two men who entered John Currie's house in West Superior, were captured by the clever Superior detectives. The entire credit for their capture belongs to Detective Madden and Capt. Clements of the Duluth force. Madden was walking on the street with N. W. King when the two men passed them. Knowing that Moore himself was a thief, Madden knew that his companion must be of the same sort, and he decided to watch the men. While he was "shadowing" his men he was joined by Capt. Clements. Later the men attempted to pass a worthless coin and were arrested by the officers named. Mr. Currie read of their arrest in the Duluth papers and came over and identified the men. Where the Superior detectives played any great part in the capture is hard to be seen.

SHE WAITS.

[M. S. Bridges.]

Sweet, fair and slender,
Blythe, true and tender;
Oh, happy fates!
With eyes soft beaming,
In maiden dreaming,
For me she waits.

Brown birds are crossing
The sunlight, tossing
Their shadows fleet
On daisy faces
In grassy spaces
Beside her feet.

Oh, sky above her
Look down and love her!
Brown bird, fly near,
Her sweet doubt stilling
With joyous trilling
And song of cheer.

Through sun and shadow,
By field and meadow,
Dear heart so true!
With breathless sighing
And footsteps flying
I come to you!

POLITICAL PUFFS.

Battle Lake Review: Governor Merriam will not only have the confidence and support of the members of his own party, but he will win adherants from the democratic ranks for the marked characteristics of grit that he is displaying—that even commends admiration and endorsement from allies, and at least the respect of honest opponents.

Little Falls Transcript: State papers are suggesting Joel P. Heatwole as a possible candidate for nomination as lieutenant governor on the republican ticket. Heatwole is a worthy republican, and would have lots of friends in a fight for that place. It is not probable that he will be a candidate.

Pine Knot Vidette: So Joel Heatwole would like to be lieutenant-governor of Minnesota. Well, why not? Joel is one of the brightest newspaper men in the state, and a good newspaper man makes the best kind of public official. Many a worse man could be nominated for the position of lieutenant-governor, and very few, if any better.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Delmonico's chef is a valuable being. His work consists in ordering the supplies, forming the menus and pronouncing judgment upon every dish served. He samples the soups, sauces and salads, often seasoning them in person. By tasting the most minute particle he can discover exactly the ingredients lacking and the amount needed to insure perfection. The salary is $5000 a year.

Saratoga, which was once the gayest of fashion resorts, is now given over mainly to the interest of conventions, which are especially apt to be clerical. The features of the place are significant. The photographers take ministers at reduced rates, the local papers are devoted to convention news and the insurance companies offer especial inducements to D. D.'s and elders.

It is said that the province of Araucania in Chili, is infested by hordes of bandits, and atrocious crimes are succeeding each other with alarming rapidity.

A deposit of black slate 1800 feet wide and two miles long has been found near Pine Grove, Pa., on lands belonging to the Gettysburg & Harrisburg railroad.

A party of German sharpshooters, numbering 150, left New York on Tuesday to test their mettle in one of the greatest shooting matches that has ever taken place. The match will be held at Pankow, a suburb of Berlin, and 10,000 marksmen will shoot for prizes, whose aggregate value is nearly 1,000,000 marks.

110 ARTISTS, 110

With John Robinson's Circus Which Exhibits Here Tuesday, June 10.

Among the notable performers with this mammoth exhibition are twenty bareback riders, among whom are five lady equestriennes. Immediately after the grand tournament parade around the huge hippodrome track, the patrons of the show are given an exhibition of daring horse-back riding by four ladies in the four different rings at one and the same time. There are also hurdle riders, jockey riders, menage riders, four, five and six-horse riders, and a boy 9 years old who rides, drives and manages thirty-one ponies around the hippodrome track.

It stimulates and nourishes as none other, leaves no bad effects and is a flesh-former of the most approved type.

THE HERALD BINDERY.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy your confidence. It is peculiar in that it strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. Give it a trial.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan—one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

WILL BUILD THE CASTLE

The Pythian Castle Association Decides to Build This Year.

Work Already Begun Towards Clearing the Lot of Debt.

It is now an assured fact that the Pythian castle will be built this year. The association has remained dormant for some time, but active work was begun this morning and the work on the building will probably be commenced within the next month. At the meeting of the directors last Saturday evening the following officers were elected: President, J. K. Shaw; vice-president, H. P. Williams; secretary, C. R. Normandy; treasurer, Simon Clark. It was decided to build the castle this year and the secretary was instructed to begin at once the work of collecting the money subscribed for the purpose of raising the encumbrance upon the ground. Mr. Normandy started out for this purpose this morning, and as soon as this part of the work is completed excavations for the building will be commenced. The castle has already been extensively described in these columns. It will be of brick and stone, two stories high, and the estimated cost is $40,000. The dimensions of the building will be 75x140 feet. The first floor will be divided into lodge rooms, anterooms and a banqueting hall. On the second floor will be the armory and drill hall, and a club room. The latter will be 40x75 feet, and the former 75x100 feet in size. The building will be beautiful from an architectural standpoint and will certainly prove a valuable addition to the already large number of fine structures in Duluth. It is expected that the building will be completed and ready for occupancy early this fall.

ARE YOU NATURALIZED.

A Question Which is Misconstrued by the Census Enumerators.

The census enumerators certainly have an unenviable job. A gentleman who has had a great amount of experience in such matters, and who was for several years a clerk in one of the departments at Washington, stated today that nearly all of the enumerators were making errors in regard to the question of naturalization. In a number of cases people have been reported as naturalized who have only taken out their first papers. These people are allowed to vote, but they are not citizens of the United States. They have simply declared their intention of becoming citizens. They are not competent to serve on juries, neither could they hold clerkships in the government departments. This is an important matter, and the enumerators can not be too careful in securing proper answers to this question.

A DESIRABLE COUNTRY.

A St. Johns Resident Talks of the Advantages of Newfoundland.

I met a gentlemen from St. Johns the other day. St. Johns is a great sporting town, and she may send a crew of sturdy Canadian fishermen here to row in the regatta. "Americans have some curious ideas about Newfoundland," he said, "and associate the beautiful island with the North Pole and the Arctic ocean. Columbus discovered America, but Terra Nova has a history which antedates the history of the United States by 300 years. This country was the scene of thriving industry long before the Mayflower landed on a bleak and barren coast. You people are ignorant of the resources of Newfoundland, yet she leaves between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 here every year. If the government at Washington would lower its protection wall this trade could be doubled. On the island, which is nearly as large as Holland, are 250,000 sturdy souls, who pay as they go, and ask no odds of any man. There are many erroneous impressions about Newfoundland. Her climate is thought to be cold and dreary, the inlands bleak and barren. Just the contrary is true. Taken as a whole, the climate is much more even than that of the United States. It is rare, indeed, that the mercury sinks below zero in winter or above 80° in summer. As a fishing and hunting resort it hasn't its equal in America. The staple industry is cod fishing, and 1,500,000 quintals are shipped every year."

SPORTING NOTES.

Mutrie now regards himself as a mascot because his team has been winning since he has taken to sitting on the players' bench.

Despite their liberal outlay of cash for players the Boston triumvirs are in the consomme with their team.

Cleveland's League club has engaged Pitcher Garfield of last season's Pittsburgh club. He will join the team upon his return home.

Despite the addition of Cincinnati and Brooklyn, the attendance at the League games showed an aggregate fall off of about 106,000.

Mr. J. A. R. Elliott of Kansas City, has placed a forfeit of $50 with the editor of The American Field for a go at Mr. George C. Beck, the holder of the world's live pigeon championship cup. Mr. Samuel Gay, Jr., of Glenhall, Ind., did the same, but Elliott has the preference.

It is reported that the American Shooting association has decided to make an important change in the rules. There has been so much complaint that the charge of 1⅛ ounces of shot for 12-guage guns was too light that many clubs increased the charge to 1¼ ounces. The association has finally realized that this change would be beneficial.

Some remarkable shooting feats: In 1884, at New Orleans, Dr. W. F. Carver killed 1003 bats out of 1200 in 1h. 11m., four guns, loading himself; best record to date. At Cincinnati, April 15, 1882, A. H. Bogardus broke 501 clay pigeons out of 543 in 94m. 7s., loading his own guns. This is the best record to date. A. C. Bandle killed 1000 pigeons in succession at Cincinnati, Dec. 25, 1888; best record to date.

Eugene Carter of Paris, William Sexton of New York and Maurice Daly of New York and Brooklyn, the three cushion-carom experts of the world, are said to have their war paint on with the view of a tournament at this style of billiards in the near future. Such a trio should make things lively, if not decidedly hot at such a game, but how many trios are there in this country at present who would make things hot for the trio were such a tournament proposed? Cushion carons has had its day. It is deader than pool for drinks.

WEST END.

The Garfield House Visited by Both Welcome and Unwelcome Guests.

Host and Hostess O'Connell, of the Garfield House, were surprised last Friday evening to find about sixty of their friends at the door demanding admittance. Mr. O'Connell was, however, much more greatly surprised to receive the present of a handsome meerschaum pipe from the leading members. Dancing followed, which was kept up till a late hour, the guests feeling on their departure that they had spent a very pleasant evening.

The Garfield house was burglarized last Saturday or Sunday morning, and a watch and chain taken. The burglar had the audacity to exchange both hat and shoes with Hector McLean, from whom the watch and chain were taken.

H. C. Helm has returned from a short visit in Minneapolis with friends.

T. A. Pinto, the jeweler, is moving into his new location in the Dickerman block.

Children's day services took place at the Second Baptist church last night. Recitations and music formed a large part of the program. Mrs. Milne gave an organ voluntary and also by special invitation sang "Calvary."

Tomorrow is circus day, and the West End has the circus if it can't get anything else. Trains will stop at Twenty-Sixth avenue tomorrow so that outsiders will have but a short distance to go to the grounds, which are located on Superior street between Twenty-Sixth and Twenty-Seventh avenues west.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

There will be no attractions at the opera house this week. Rice's "Evangeline" holds the boards June 16-19.

Tomorrow comes the circus. Next to Fourth of July the circus makes the greatest holiday for the people. John Robinson has for many years catered to the amusement loving public with circus and menagerie, and was in his day no mean performer. This great aggregation, consisting of a combination of what was originally ten circuses, will probably be the only show of the kind to visit Duluth this year, and its patronage will therefore be correspondingly large. The usual street parade will take place in the forenoon, and a free balloon ascension on the grounds. Short line trains will stop at Twenty-Seventh avenue west, the location of the circus grounds. The street cars also run to Twenty-Sixth avenue.

Manager Miller leaves for New York tomorrow to book attractions for The Temple.

Why it Has Waited Two Years.

Those who bought lands in old Superior two years ago on the belief that the then newly organized Consolidated Land company would at once do wonders for the town have been constrained to hold on in alternate hope and despair. To judge from the last number of the Superior Times, the organ of the company and owned by its president, despair will be uppermost for some time to come. The Times says: The Consolidated company is still handicapped by the refusal of holders of water front lots to surrender, either by sale or consolidation, their individual interests. The company needs these lots to give to manufacturing industries and the longer they are withheld the slower will be the movements of the company and the development of the city. These lots are comparatively valueless as they are, but they are a most effectual block to the desired development of the place. We hope the company may be able soon to acquire enough of this property to allow them to begin operations. But until this is done we shall have to remain as we are or emigrate to some other town where the property owners are more consistent and liberal.

Monday Morning Drunks.

Five drunks were recorded on the municipal calendar this morning. Of these James Robinson and John Johnson chose to forfeit the usual bail rather than run the risk of a possible sentence. John Jones cheerfully paid $5 and thanked the court for being so lenient and John Brenan gave a like sum and departed making no comments. Lawrence Quinn acknowledged that he had taken a little too much, but was all right when he awoke, and seemed willing to look out for himself if permitted to do so. He was very much downcast when his honor read from the list a sentence of seven days' free board. John McDonnel paid $2.50 for neglecting to place the "Maltese cross" on the collar of a pet dog. Maggie Murphy and Sally Peppersauce were this afternoon arraigned for residing in houses of ill-fame.

THE ELKS LOCK HORNS.

Danger of a Split Among the "Best People on Earth."

The Malcontents Claim That Objectionable People are Now Admitted.

NEW YORK, June 9.—As the date approaches for the annual convention of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks it becomes more apparent that a dissatrous split in the order can scarcely be avoided. Under the charter of the organization it is imperative that the meetings of the Grand Lodge should be held in New York. Recently, however, a sentiment antagonistic to the East has developed in the order westward, originated and largely fostered, it is claimed, by the somewhat notorious Allen O. Myers, of Ohio, who is at present trying his luck as the publisher of a paper devoted to the Elks in Cleveland, and in pursuance of this sentiment the grand exalted ruler, Dr. Simon Quinlan, of Chicago, recently ordered that the coming meeting of the Grand Lodge should be held in the former city. When the New York lodge protested against this mandate it was promptly suspended from membership, while the supreme secretary, also a resident of the metropolis, was deposed and his office conferred upon a Chicago grocery clerk. The result is that no member of the New York lodge, which is the parent or No. 1 lodge of the United States, can be received or recognized in any other lodge in the country. Peremptory orders have been received by the New York lodge to report at the Cleveland meeting, but the reply has been returned that as a corporation, chartered under the New York laws, it cannot be represented at a meeting held outside of the state, while moreover, both Judge Barrett and Judge Lawrence have rendered decisions under which the supreme records and seal cannot be taken outside this jurisdiction.

During the past two weeks there have been several conferences of prominent Elks from Buffalo, Philadelphia, Boston and other cities, and it has been practically decided that if the scheme of the malcontents is persisted in, to withdraw from the order and form a new one. It is also contended that while, under the constitution, the Elks should be a theatrical organization, the lines have been so widened of late as to admit saloonkeepers, hackmen, butchers, hotel clerks, grocery salesmen and others having not the most remote connection with the profession.

The order owes its existence to a charter granted the Grand lodge by the state of New York, and as the New York lodge has not only the largest membership, but as much money in its treasury as all the others combined, it proposes to stay in the fight, to a finish. Eminent counsel who have been consulted say that the supreme officers are proceeding in defiance of the rulings of the New York courts, and threats have been made to arrest any of them that may come within its juridiction for contempt of court.

Suing to Recover a Bet.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Judge Fitzsimmons of the city court has been called upon to determine a case involving political sentiment, in which the aid of the gambling act is invoked. The suit arises out of wagers made during the presidential campaigns of 1884 and 1888 between Dillon Beebe, a republican, and John Peacock, a democrat. In 1884 they bet $50 on their respective candidates. As Cleveland was seated, Beebe paid Peacock the amount of the wager. When Harrison and Cleveland were nominated a bet of $50 was made, and Peacock refused to pay when Harrison was elected, and Beebe sued for the amount paid by him on the first bet under the gambling act. Ex-Senator Thomas F. Grady, who was opposed to Cleveland in 1884, is Peacock's counsel. Judge Fitzsimmons reserved decision on a demurrer by Peacock claiming that Beebe had no cause of action.

Municipal Election Case.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Judge Baker's court was crowded this morning in anticipation of the opening of the trial of Alderman McAbee, Mike Corcoran and Messrs. Collins, Harn, Lynch and Dingwall, who are charged with conspiracy and illegal practices in the recent aldermanic election in the Twenty-fourth ward. The case excites interest only second to that of the great Cronin trial in political circles, McAbee being a prominent democrat and Corcoran who is a saloon keeper of considerable wealth being a power in certain sections of the same party. States Attorney Longenecker conducts the prosecution in person being assisted by two of his chief lieutenants Baker and Neeley. The defendants are represented by Forrest & Duncan of Cronin case fame. A plea of not guilty was entered in behalf of the defendants, and all the tactics known to the Chicago courts will be resorted to in their behalf. The trial will occupy perhaps two weeks.

Results of Church Difficulties.

CHICAGO, June 9.—From advices received here from prominent Lutherans in widely scattered sections of the country, it appears there is great concern regarding the recent decision of Judge Smith, sitting at Ottawa, Ill., to the effect that Bishops Bowman and Esher were legally tried and suspended in accordance with the rules of the Evangelical church and that they have no right to preside over any conferences. Both bishops have persisted in ignoring the decisions of the trial conferences, and should Judge Smith's ruling be upheld by the upper courts it will follow that all the candidates they have admitted to holy orders and all the individuals received into fellowship will be compelled to resubmit themselves, as under existing circumstances they will have no locus standi.

To be Made Ready for Sea.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The man-of-war Pensacola, which recently returned with the solar eclipse expedition from the west coast of Africa, went to the navy yard this morning. The Pensacola will be put into dry dock at once to have her hull examined and to be partially recopered, some of the sheets being in bad condition from the results of her recent trip to the African coast. It is not decided upon what duty the vessel will be sent, but she will probably go to European waters instead of to the Pacific coast, where it was intended she should be sent last fall if the Baltimore had been ready to take the scientists to Africa.

National Typo Convention.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 9.—Representatives of the International Typographical union from all parts of the United States and the Canadas are gathering here to attend the national convention, which opens this afternoon and continues for one week. The attendance will be very large.

THE STORY OF A YEAR.

"Look on this picture and then on that." The above faces are exact reproductions of photographs taken from life of Mrs. Morton D. Harlan, who resides at No. 55 West 33th Street, New York City. The first one was taken in November, 1887, while in the last stages of consumption, abandoned by physicians and mourned by friends. The other was taken in December, 1888, when completely recovered, and entirely through the use of Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. The above pictures are wood cuts, but they are true to life and the original photographs, taken from life, can be seen at all the drug stores. Mrs. Harlan's consumption began as consumption usually does, with a cough in the morning, raising of phlegm, tired and depressed feelings, a lack of appetite, the loss of flesh and pains throughout the body. She did not realize her extreme danger until it became almost too late, but she is in perfect health to-day. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption is sold by all reputable druggists. You can't afford to be without it.

IN RESPONSE TO THE REPEATED DEmands for more stock in the Conservative Investment Association, a new corporation has been formed on the same principle by some of the officers of the same under the name Cumulative Investment Company.

The object is to give an opportunity for those unable to make large investments on their own account, to pool their issues by contributing monthly to a fund created for investment in real estate. The management of the affairs of the Cumulative will be vested in a board of seven directors who receive no salaries.

The capital stock is $100,000, divided into 2,000 shares of $50 each, payable in monthly installments of $1 per share. Not more than 50 nor less than 10 shares may be held by any one person.

No better opportunity to make small investments pay such large profits, has ever been offered.

THE CITY RESTRAINED.

The Third Avenue Storm Sewer Enjoined by the Railroad Company.

Judge Stearns today granted a temporary injunction restraining the city from building a storm sewer in Third avenue west emptying on the railroad property below Michigan street. The complaint is made by the St. Paul & Duluth company, and although Third avenue is specified, it is intended to cover all of the avenues in which storm sewers have been located. The matter will be argued in chambers on June 14. The question involved is an old one and one which the city officials are anxious to have settled. The company claims that the city should be obliged to construct culverts under the tracks to convey the water beyond their property, while the city officials claim that the company should be obliged to care for the water, having dammed up the natural outlet by filling in the swamp for the location of the tracks. They claim further, that instead of allowing the water to run down the hills in streets they simply confine it in storm sewers, and that not a pint more water is turned upon this railroad property then there would be if the sewers were not built.

Judge Stearns this morning heard arguments in the case of Arnold Fell vs. Bradbury, which occupied the time of the entire morning session, and was adjourned until 4 this afternoon. This afternoon he listened to the argument on a motion in the case of Whitman vs. Whitman. The latter case practically winds up the business of the term.

Highest Household Authority.

Royal Baking Powder Best in Practical Use.

I regard the Royal Baking Powder as the best manufactured and in the market.

* * Since the introduction of it into my kitchen, three years ago, I have used no other in making biscuits, cake, etc., and have entirely discarded for such purposes the home-made combination of one-third soda, two-thirds cream of tartar. * *

It is an act of simple justice and also a pleasure to recommend it unqualifiedly to American housewives.

Chicago Gossip.

The following dispatches received today by W. W. Bill & Co., Phoenix building:

Wheat: The market has been dull and weak all day. The news from all sides has been rather of a bearish character, including weak cables and fine reports from Minnesota. During the early part of the market, the outside public were the chief buyers, the sellers coming from local professionals, including Hutch. The decrease in the visible was rather more than expected and for a while served to support the market, but the selling was of too good character, and market closes at about the bottom prices. It is evident that some fresh news is absolutely necessary to support the enthusiasm of the buying public, and unless this comes, prices must decline to a point more nearly approaching a real value. In the meantime we will have dull markets and small fluctuations. Corn, strong and higher, under influence of disagreeable weather and rumors of very large charters of corn shipments. There has been good buying for foreign houses recently whose holdings do not come on the market either on small declines or advances, and who do not seem to regard the heavy receipts. While this is the case any considerable decline is improbable. Corn is cheap in any event and it has been many years since any large profits have been made selling corn short at 35.

Oats strong and higher. Rumors continue to come of damage by insects and mildew.

Provision market dull and uninteresting.

Chicago Close.

DR. DUNN'S HOT SHOT.

The Public Schools Defended by the Methodist Pastor.

The third of the series of sermons on the public schools at the First M. E. church last evening by Rev. Dr. Dunn, was an interesting discourse. During his sermon he said: Our school system owes its origin to the intense religious spirit of its founders. It is the child of pure christianity, with the Bible as its fountain head. If the state concedes to the Roman Catholic today, it must expurgate every text-book in use; it must eliminate every extract from the Bible, every allusion to God as a benefactor to Christians—as the world's redeemer. There must be no allusion to the first cause, none to the evidence of design either in the universe or the human system, no reference to man's responsibility to his maker, which is the true foundation of moral obligation and fundamental distinction between right and wrong. No one ever thinks of opposing the Bible in our courts, or a prayer at the opening of our legislatures or congress, or at the opening of a judicial court as an intermeddling of the state with the rights or duties of any church. Nor is it any attempt by the state to teach religion. Why do not the Catholics oppose these? No! it is not so much at the Bible that they aim their blows (though they are far from friendly to this book), but it is at the great system of public instruction, over whose history some of our Protestant clergymen are so glad to boast.

GENTLEMEN OF DULUTH.

GOOD STYLES will be our text today. Good Styles are simply the result of good taste in selecting garments and articles of apparel which harmonize with the surroundings. Style cannot be governed by rigid rules, but may be as varied as the beauties of nature and is judged from the eyes of the beholder. We have heard remarked, "Clothes do not make the man." Certainly not, MAN makes the CLOTHES, therefore, while the clothes do not make the man, they PROCLAIM the man. See? By your dress you can say, "I am a professional man, a commercial man, or a man of leisure," and each style can proclaim the GENTLEMAN whether the aged and sober-minded or the sentimental youth, and all by their harmony add to the beauties of poetry, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Recently we talked to you of our GOOD GOODS, and now if you will combine our GOOD GOODS with our GOOD STYLES, don't you see, it will be like "killing two birds with one worm."

MARINE MATTERS.

Gen. Poe on Water Levels; Iron Ore Shipments; Maritime Affairs.

Gen. Poe in a recent interview spoke at length on the condition of the water in the Sault locks. In the course of his remarks he said: "There is an interesting set of curves of water levels immediately below the locks at St. Marys Falls canal, taken from the beginning of the enlargement of the canal in 1870. Now on this sheet are platted the dates of the opening and the closing of the canal. They are found in every case, without exception, to correspond with the lowest stage of water at those respective periods. In the spring it is lowest when the canal is opened, and in the fall it is lowest when the canal is closed.

"This is due to the fact that Lake Huron opens earliest and the water is drawn off. In the fall Lake Superior freezes the first and retains the usual supply. The observation is quite new and quite interesting. It was first made by the vesselmen, who said the ice in Lake Superior held the water back. The popular expression was that the extreme low water at the canal when navigation opened this spring was due to the late breaking up of ice in Lake Superior. It is not often that popular expressions of this sort are correct, but it was in this case attributed to the proper cause.

She has triple expansion engines with 24, 38 and 61-inch cylinders and a 42-inch stroke, and two boilers 15 feet in diameter and 12½ feet long. Both boilers are made of 1 3-16-inch plates. THE CITY RESTRAINED.

The Third Avenue Storm Sewer Enjoined by the Railroad Company.

Judge Stearns today granted a temporary injunction restraining the city from building a storm sewer in Third avenue west emptying on the railroad property below Michigan street. The complaint is made by the St. Paul & Duluth company, and although Third avenue is specified, it is intended to cover all of the avenues in which storm sewers have been located. The matter will be argued in chambers on June 14. The question involved is an old one and one which the city officials are anxious to have settled. The company claims that the city should be obliged to construct culverts under the tracks to convey the water beyond their property, while the city officials claim that the company should be obliged to care for the water, having dammed up the natural outlet by filling in the swamp for the location of the tracks. They claim further, that instead of allowing the water to run down the hills in streets they simply confine it in storm sewers, and that not a pint more water is turned upon this railroad property then there would be if the sewers were not built.

Judge Stearns this morning heard arguments in the case of Arnold Fell vs. Bradbury, which occupied the time of the entire morning session, and was adjourned until 4 this afternoon. This afternoon he listened to the argument on a motion in the case of Whitman vs. Whitman. The latter case practically winds up the business of the term.

Highest Household Authority.

Royal Baking Powder Best in Practical Use.

I regard the Royal Baking Powder as the best manufactured and in the market.

* * Since the introduction of it into my kitchen, three years ago, I have used no other in making biscuits, cake, etc., and have entirely discarded for such purposes the home-made combination of one-third soda, two-thirds cream of tartar. * *

It is an act of simple justice and also a pleasure to recommend it unqualifiedly to American housewives.

Chicago Gossip.

The following dispatches received today by W. W. Bill & Co., Phoenix building:

Wheat: The market has been dull and weak all day. The news from all sides has been rather of a bearish character, including weak cables and fine reports from Minnesota. During the early part of the market, the outside public were the chief buyers, the sellers coming from local professionals, including Hutch. The decrease in the visible was rather more than expected and for a while served to support the market, but the selling was of too good character, and market closes at about the bottom prices. It is evident that some fresh news is absolutely necessary to support the enthusiasm of the buying public, and unless this comes, prices must decline to a point more nearly approaching a real value. In the meantime we will have dull markets and small fluctuations. Corn, strong and higher, under influence of disagreeable weather and rumors of very large charters of corn shipments. There has been good buying for foreign houses recently whose holdings do not come on the market either on small declines or advances, and who do not seem to regard the heavy receipts. While this is the case any considerable decline is improbable. Corn is cheap in any event and it has been many years since any large profits have been made selling corn short at 35.

Oats strong and higher. Rumors continue to come of damage by insects and mildew.

Provision market dull and uninteresting.

DR. DUNN'S HOT SHOT.

The Public Schools Defended by the Methodist Pastor.

The third of the series of sermons on the public schools at the First M. E. church last evening by Rev. Dr. Dunn, was an interesting discourse. During his sermon he said: Our school system owes its origin to the intense religious spirit of its founders. It is the child of pure christianity, with the Bible as its fountain head. If the state concedes to the Roman Catholic today, it must expurgate every text-book in use; it must eliminate every extract from the Bible, every allusion to God as a benefactor to Christians—as the world's redeemer. There must be no allusion to the first cause, none to the evidence of design either in the universe or the human system, no reference to man's responsibility to his maker, which is the true foundation of moral obligation and fundamental distinction between right and wrong. No one ever thinks of opposing the Bible in our courts, or a prayer at the opening of our legislatures or congress, or at the opening of a judicial court as an intermeddling of the state with the rights or duties of any church. Nor is it any attempt by the state to teach religion. Why do not the Catholics oppose these? No! it is not so much at the Bible that they aim their blows (though they are far from friendly to this book), but it is at the great system of public instruction, over whose history some of our Protestant clergymen are so glad to boast.

GENTLEMEN OF DULUTH.

GOOD STYLES will be our text today. Good Styles are simply the result of good taste in selecting garments and articles of apparel which harmonize with the surroundings. Style cannot be governed by rigid rules, but may be as varied as the beauties of nature and is judged from the eyes of the beholder. We have heard remarked, "Clothes do not make the man." Certainly not, MAN makes the CLOTHES, therefore, while the clothes do not make the man, they PROCLAIM the man. See? By your dress you can say, "I am a professional man, a commercial man, or a man of leisure," and each style can proclaim the GENTLEMAN whether the aged and sober-minded or the sentimental youth, and all by their harmony add to the beauties of poetry, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Recently we talked to you of our GOOD GOODS, and now if you will combine our GOOD GOODS with our GOOD STYLES, don't you see, it will be like "killing two birds with one worm."

MARINE MATTERS.

Gen. Poe on Water Levels; Iron Ore Shipments; Maritime Affairs.

Gen. Poe in a recent interview spoke at length on the condition of the water in the Sault locks. In the course of his remarks he said: "There is an interesting set of curves of water levels immediately below the locks at St. Marys Falls canal, taken from the beginning of the enlargement of the canal in 1870. Now on this sheet are platted the dates of the opening and the closing of the canal. They are found in every case, without exception, to correspond with the lowest stage of water at those respective periods. In the spring it is lowest when the canal is opened, and in the fall it is lowest when the canal is closed.

"This is due to the fact that Lake Huron opens earliest and the water is drawn off. In the fall Lake Superior freezes the first and retains the usual supply. The observation is quite new and quite interesting. It was first made by the vesselmen, who said the ice in Lake Superior held the water back. The popular expression was that the extreme low water at the canal when navigation opened this spring was due to the late breaking up of ice in Lake Superior. It is not often that popular expressions of this sort are correct, but it was in this case attributed to the proper cause.

REED IS IN THE RACE.

The Glencoe Statesman a Candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms.

The Tariff Bill Under Discussion Today; Minnesota Editors.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The republican senators will caucus tonight for the selection of a successor of Col. W. P. Canadia, sergeant-at-arms, who retires on the 30th inst by resignation. The candidates for the position so far as announced are: Messrs. Reade of Maine, Byington of Connecticut, Dunn of Delaware, Bailey of Pennsylvania, Swords of Iowa, Valentine of Nebraska, Reed of Minnesota, who have been heretofore named, and Gen. Lester S. Wilson of Bozeman, Mont. It is possible that the caucus may go farther in the reorganization of the senate than the sergeant-at-arms; but of this, there is no official notice.

THE COTTON CROP.

The Outlook Encouraging for a Good Season.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The statistical returns for June to the department of agriculture show an increase in acreage in cotton in nearly every state. The area as compared with the acreage of 1889 is reported in this preliminary investigation as follows: Virginia 93, North Carolina 102, South Carolina 103, Georgia 102, Florida 103, Alabama 102, Mississippi 102, Louisiana 99, Texas 105, Arkansas 99, Tennessee 100; average 102, average condition 88.8. The percentage of Virginia is 90, North Carolina 98, South Carolina 97, Georgia 94, Florida 92, Alabama 93, Mississippi 85, Louisiana 84, Texas 84, Arkansas 85, Tennessee 87. The fair price prevailing, with low prices for other products, stimulates the extension of planting. The overflows in Arkansas and Louisiana delayed planting in those states and prevented increase, which would otherwise have been made.

To Prevent Collisions.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—About forty of the newspaper correspondents here and other business men were witnesses today of the workings of one of the most noteworthy electric devices for the prevention of collisions between trains. It is an electric signal. About three miles of the track on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad have been provided with this signal system by way of experiment. The apparatus consists of an electric circuit formed by a single iron rod which is laid between the tracks, and a wire-brush attached to each engine in connection with an electric gong and telephone. Two engines approaching each other on the same track come into circuit at the distance, one mile and a half or more, according to strength of the battery and at once the telephone bells ring. This is a signal for the trains to stop, and the engineers may talk with each other on the telephone to discover the trouble, whatever it may be. Two trains were sent out on the Baltimore & Ohio this afternoon with the party. The tests were made and proved extremely satisfactory.

Junketing Journalists.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—[Special to The Herald.]—The special train bearing the members of the Minnesota Editors and Publishers association arrived in the city last evening. A number of the members were accompanied by their wives or ladies, and today they are all busy seeing the sights in and about the capitol city. The arrangements include a visit to the Soldiers home, Arlington Heights, the public buildings, parks and gardens; a trip down the Potomac to Alexandria, Mt. Vernon and other points of interest. Arrangements will probably be made for the members to pay their respects to the President at the White House. The party will leave Washington Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Chicago on a special train on the Baltimore & Ohio road.

Wholesale Court Martial.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A general court martial convened at Tucson, Ariz., this morning, for the trial of Capt. Alonzo E. Miltimore, assistant quartermaster and Maj. Joseph W. Wham and Albert S. Towar of the pay department, and Maj. Amos S. Kimball chief quartermaster of the department of Arizona. Capt. Miltimore is charged with fraud, and the others with renting a room from their personal quarters to the government for a sum nearly equivalent to the amount paid for the whole house thus getting their rent practically free and their regular allowance for quarters in addition.

The Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Senator Morrill, chairman of the finance committee, was with his republican associates this morning, and joined them in the further consideration of the tariff bill. The wool and silk schedules were examined and some items agreed to. Notwithstanding statements heretofore made by members of the committee, it appears that the minority members have not yet received any of the schedules, and that none of them are formally completed, although several of them are practically finished.

Discussing the Original Package.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The house committee on the judiciary today spent two hours in the discussion of the senate "original package" bill without reaching a conclusion. The discussion revealed the fact that several members of the committee disagreed with the decision reached by the supreme court, but it did not proceed far enough to show definitely how the measure is regarded by the committee as a whole.

Light Fantastic Assemblage.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The annual convention of the teachers of Terpsichorean agility, otherwise known as the National Association of the Teachers of Dancing, opened here today with a fair attendance. On Thursday the convention will adjourn to Baltimore, where a two days' session will be held. Over a dozen new steps and whirls will be submitted for the approval of the association without which they cannot be formally presented to dancing society.

AMAZONS AT WAR.

Rival Factions in the Camden Jail Fight Fiercely.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—The Camden county jail was the scene of a desperate encounter about 9 o'clock last night, when the female prisoners fought like enraged tigresses. Gore was spilled and Jailor Johntra and his assistant, Dan Robinson, were badly used up in their endeavor to preserve peace. Mr. Johntra explained the state of affairs substantially as follows: There are about seventy-five women of all sizes, ages and conditions, confined in the jail. Kate McCool was the acknowledged leader. Everybody in Camden knows Kate McCool. She is a notorious character who is no sooner released from jail than she is returned. She is 40 years old, tall, of athletic build, and has always led a life of dissipation since early youth. All the other prisoners cowed down before "big Kate McCool," as she is called. Some of them didn't like the woman, but they had to appear as though in abject fear of the McCool woman or take a thrashing.

Six weeks ago Mary Hoard, equally notorious across the river as a crook, was committed to the jail to serve out a sentence of six months. When Mary was led into the big cell "the queen" approached her and introduced herself. Mary said she "wouldn't take no orders from nobody, see?" The girl prisoners applauded her independent spirit. Open war was declared. Two factions sprang up, composed of the followers of the two women.

"They were bitterly opposed to each other," said Mr. Johntra, "and they used to fight with their tongues. I couldn't make them stop, but so long as they didn't fight among themselves I didn't care. The bitter fight was in progress for some time before their shouts of 'murder' and 'police' reached the ears of myself and my assistant. When we reached the room a scene long to be remembered confronted us.

"There they were battering each other with pieces of wood and with the heels of their shoes. I quickly unlocked the cage and we both hallooed to them to stop. They were so excited that they didn't hear us, for they began to belabor us. We had the greatest trouble in making our presence known. When they knew we were there they stopped.

"There were black eyes galore, bloody faces and enlarged heads. After having their injuries dressed I began an investigation. I learned that the Hoard faction began hostilities by demolishing the rickety settee and pounding their opponents with the boards. The others had nothing to defend themselves with, and they took off their shoes and struck right and left with the heels."

THE SEAL PIRATES.

A New Device for Circumventing the Revenue Officers.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—The seal pirates in Behring sea have adopted a new device for circumventing the revenue officers, which is even now being put in successful operation, and which can be carried on throughout the summer unless the United States government sends to the Arctic swifter revenue cutters than the Bear and Rush. The pirates have established a rendezvous at Sand Point, midway of the Aleutian group of islands. The schooners, when they have collected 100 sealskins, put in there, leave their cargo, and then resume hunting; thus, if they are overhauled by the American cutters, they will have so few skins that they can be thrown overboard or concealed, and all evidences of seal poaching removed.

A swift steamer has been chartered to cruise about Sand point and take the skins as the schooner comes in. The vessel is so fast that it can easily outrun any government vessel now in commission. The steamer will make trips to Victoria and unload skins when she gets a cargo and then return. The work, it is said, has already been in operation one week. The pirates expect to make a larger clean up than last year.

A Kentucky Deadlock.

CINCINNATI, June 10.—A Times Star Carrollton, Ky., dispatch says the sixth congressional district convention has taken sixty-one ballots up to the noon adjournment for a candidate in place of Mr. Carlisle, but has made no progress. Mr. Berry of New Port, leads with twenty-one votes.

A Boodler Fatally Injured.

PATTERSON, N. J., June 10.—Ex-Alderman James Pierson was fatally injured by an Erie train at Jersey City last night. Pierson was one of the "boodle" aldermen of New York.

Mysterious Blazes.

WINONA, June 10.—Fire last night gutted the basement of McNie & Co.'s store on the postoffice block. The damage to McNie & Co.'s stock is estimated at $1000, fully covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is a mystery. McNie's store had been closed about 9 o'clock and the gas in the rear of the store was left burning. When the alarm was turned in it was noticed that the gas in the store was turned out. This gave rise to the suspicion that some person had entered the store and taken the precaution to turn out the gas before firing the building.

The Roman Campagna.

BERLIN, June 10.—A German company with a capital of $10,000,000 has made an offer to the Italian government to cultivate on scientific principles the sterile district, known as the Campagna de Roma. At present the district is a desolate, pestilential plain, whose condition is believed to contribute much to the unhealthy condition of Rome.

Chinamen Captured.

TUCSON, Ariz., June 10.—Treasury Agent McCoy, who has been on the trail of a number of Chinese who landed in Guyamas a month ago, followed them to Arizona and arrested twelve, taking them on the desert when they had nearly perished for want of water. They were taken before the United States commissioner. There are four boys among the captives.

Only Slightly Damaged.

LIVERPOOL, June 10.—The only apparent damage sustained by the Inman line steamer City of Rome, which struck Fastnet rock early last Sunday morning while bound from New York for this port, is the starting of several of the plates on her forefoot and the straining of her bow above the water lines.

Quiet at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., June 10.—Everything is quiet in the street car strike today, and both sides are apparently waiting for the other to make a move. No attempt is being made to run cars and the strikers are quietly lounging about the different barns of the company. The directors of the Consolidated announced last night that a full meeting of the board would be held today, but they had not come together at 11:30, and no prediction as to what the next move will be can be made at this time. There is no excitement in the street, nor is there any evidence of a compromise.

HIBERNIANS IN COUNCIL.

The Fourth Annual Convention of the A. O. H. Opens This Morning.

An Eloquent Sermon by Father Corbett; Program for Tonight.

The fourth annual convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians assembled its delegates for the transaction of business at Duluth this morning. About 200 delegates are present, representing twenty-three divisions in the state. The local divisions in full regalia, headed by the French band, marched from the Catholic Association hall to the Hotel St. Louis, the headquarters for the delegates, and escorted them to the procathedral, where high mass was said by Father Mayerhofer, with Father Roy as deacon, Father Stevens as sub-deacon and Father Corbett as master of ceremonies. Bishop McGolrick pronounced the benediction.

Father Corbett delivered the sermon, which was an eloquent tribute to the benefits that religion had bestowed upon mankind. Man could not rebel against the authority of God with impunity. The day of reckoning was sure to come. Nations which had rebelled brought disaster upon themselves. He then invoked his hearers to obey the admonitions of the church and to avoid affiliation with those societies which she condemned. He said that the devotion of Irishmen to the church was the bulwark of their strength and would deliver them from the bond of tyranny. He urged his hearers to be good citizens and to apply their consciences to the exercise of their right of suffrage.

In conclusion Father Corbett pointed with pride to the stand taken by the Irish in the war of independence of the United States, and said: "I honor and love your native land. Aid her in times of persecution by all peaceable means, but love and uphold the land of your adoption."

Professor Schilling's orchestra furnished fine music for the occasion. After mass all delegates and members repaired to the hall. The call for the convention was read and a committee on credentials appointed. After a short session the convention adjourned to meet again at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The excursion planned by the members of Duluth on the lake was postponed owing to the dense fog. A very fine program will be carried out this evening at the hall. Mr. Daniel Lawler of St. Paul, and Bishop McGolrick will address the assembled delegates and friends. The public are cordially invited to be present.

BUYING B. & O. STOCK.

The Company Closes a Deal For the Shares Held by the City of Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, June.—Mr. E. R. Bacon, president of the Southwestern Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company and who represented the syndicate, on the recent negotiations for the purchase of the city's holding of Baltimore & Ohio railroad stock, brought that operation to a close this forenoon. He deposited the $500,000 required by the terms of the ordinance, signed yesterday by Mayor Davidson, to be held a guarantee for the fulfillment of other fiscal agreements to be completed in July. Mr. Bacon fully accepted the terms of the ordinance. The finance commissioners, on behalf of the city, agree in virtue of these deposits to sell to Mr. Bacon the 32,000 shares of the common stock of the Baltimore & Ohio now owned by the city, at $100 a share—$3,250,000. This sum is to be paid on or before July 1 next, when the transfer of the stock will be made to Mr. Bacon and the transaction will then be completed. The agreement, of which the above is an outline, is signed by Mayor Davidson and W. W. Spence for the finance commission, and by Mr. Edward R. Bacon for the new purchasers.

Willing to Sell.

CHICAGO, June 10.—A morning paper says: If present indications are to be relied upon, the stock of the Union Stock Yards and Transfer Company will pass into the hands of the English syndicate that has been negotiating for it since before the first of July. Upon the testimony of one of the highest officers of the company, the only thing that can prevent the transfer is the withdrawal of the offer by the English capitalists. By far the greater number of the owners of stock, in fact enough to furnish the ninety per cent. of stock required by the Englishmen look upon the deal with utmost favor, and are willing to part with their property at the terms offered.

Will Manufacture Twine.

ST. PAUL, June 10.—The report in regard to the binding twine manufacture was presented to Governor Merriam. A committee from the Farmers alliance and state prison inspectors make the report. They favor the establishment of a manufacturing concern at either Stillwater or St. Cloud to consist of not less than two full systems of machinery. The cost is estimated at $20,000.

A Mill Failure.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 10.—The Oriental Mills company made an assignment today to Samuel Amee, attorney-at-law. The firm became embarrassed a month ago. There are unsecured debts of $335,000 and assets valued at $134,000.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

The public library which was presented to the city of Edinburgh by Andrew Carnegie of Pittsburgh, Pa., was opened today.

The Egyptian government has paid to Capt. Casati, in behalf of Emin Pasha, more than £5000 as Emin's salary for seven years' service as governor of the equatorial province in Africa.

The business portion of the town of Moosomir, Northwest territory, was almost entirely destroyed by fire. A building used as a hotel was being moved, and while in the best part of the town was left over night. It is supposed incendiaries put the torch to the place. The flames spread, and several stores, shops, the dwelling houses were burned. Loss, $25,000; insurance light.

A Missing Preacher.

PITTSBURG, June 10.—C. A. Young, a Mt. Washington clergyman, left his home last Saturday night to conduct services at DeHaven, Pa., and has not been seen since. He was a married man and 31 years of age, and no reason for his mysterious disappearance can be assigned. His friends fear that he has met with foul play.

QUEEN VIC'S BIRTHDAY.

A Correspondent Describes the Features of the Celebration.

ON BOARD THE ATLANTA SQUADRON OF EVOLUTION, GIBRALTAR BAY, May 24.—Today being the seventy-first birthday of her Brittanic majesty, the squadron dressed ship with the British flag at the masthead, and the Atlanta fired the royal salute. The day was observed as a general holiday on shore, all business being suspended and almost every store closed. At noon the Spanish captain-general, Don Jose Gamier, commandant of the camps of Gibraltar, and staff, arrived from Algeciras, and on landing at the "Ragged Staff," a salute of seventeen guns was fired. The guards of all of the ships were paraded and presented arms as the Spanish governor passed. After lunching with the British government, the Spanish officers proceeded to the "north front" facing the Spanish lines, where 3000 British troops and a naval contingent were present. The troops were in line, formed in two brigades, the first consisting of artillery, engineers and rifles, the second of three regiments of infantry—one the famous Black Watch. The naval brigade was on the right of the line with several field pieces, and, on the extreme right, two guns of a field battery of artillery. When the governors passed through the barriers a salute of seventeen guns was fired by the guns on parade, and on their arrival at the parade grounds they received a salute from the rock casements. After an inspection a royal salute was fired, followed by a feu-de-joie, commencing with seven guns from the field pieces before each round of the infantry. Before each round three lusty cheers were given for Queen Victoria. The troops were then formed in line of quarter columns and marched past in reviewing order before the two governors. Admiral Walker and the officers of the squadron received invitations to the luncheon and tickets for the reserved enclosure to witness the march past. On Tuesday night the governor of Gibraltar gave a full-dress ball, the band of the famous Kings Royal Rifles playing a well-selected program. On Monday evening the pleasure steamer Ceylon, in getting under way, collided with the Yorktown. The Yorktown sustained slight damage, but these proved of a very aggravating character, her most conspicuous part, the figurehead, being broken, and the shield and eagle torn asunder. The Ceylon promptly anchored and sent a boat on board the Yorktown to inquire the extent of damage.

BURIED ALIVE.

A Chicago Man Murdered Through the Carelessness of Relations.

CHICAGO, June 10.—An afternoon paper prints the following story with details that seem to affirm the truth: Last Saturday the funeral of John Buske, who died suddenly, was held at his residence, and after the services the body was carried to the cemetery. While the body was lying in the casket, the friends had remarked at the lifelike appearance of the face, but the doctor had pronounced the man dead. When the cortege reached the cemetery someone suggested that the coffin should be opened, but this was voted down, notwithstanding that a tapping from the inside of the coffin indicated that there was life there. As the body was being lowered into the grave the tapping became more pronounced, but the people had assembled for a funeral and it had to take place. Yesterday the grave was opened, the coffin removed, and an examination of the body showed that the victim had been murdered through the carelessness of the attendants. Buske's body was twisted, his features distorted, his tongue bitten nearly in two, and his finger nails imbedded in the flesh. There was every indication that a horrible struggle had taken place.

THE WABASH WRECK.

Men and Boys Injured and Valuable Horses Killed.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 10.—The remains of the wrecked horse train did not pull up at the race course across the river until 10 o'clock this morning. In a caboose next to the last car in the train were the eight wounded men and boys, the most of them belonging to Chinn & Morgan's stable. Scarcely one of them escaped with less than a broken leg. They were all removed to the Wabash hospital.

The stable most affected by the wreck was that of J. Kellar of Cythiana, Ky., who, together with his son, perished. They had five horses and every one of them was killed.

Still Another.

HANNIBAL, Mo., June 10.—A construction train collided with a freight train on the St. Louis, Keokuk & Northwestern on a curve about twelve miles south of here yesterday and twelve cars were wrecked. Fireman Arthur Taylor and Berry Nelson were scalded to death. Engineer Lewis Carver was injured about the hips and arms. Engineer Fitzpatrick jumped and escaped with slight injuries. Conductor O'Mar Lemons was slightly injured internally and Head Brakeman Tucker was seriously hurt. An error of Train Dispatcher Davidson, said to be his first in twelve years, caused the wreck. He at once resigned.

COWLES MAY DIE.

The Cleveland Kidnapper's Condition Serious; The Mother Gets the Child.

MONTREAL, June 10.—This morning Mrs. Cowles appeared in court before Judge Tait with her daughter Florence and her friends. The letter which Cowles wrote renouncing all claims to his daughter, and the order from him to the nuns with whom she had been placed, authorizing them to deliver her up was produced. This was regarded as concluding the case. Cowles' condition is not improved and his wound may result fatally.

A commission of physicians has been named to examine Cowles tomorrow to ascertain if he is in fit condition to come into court. If so, the case of Hale will at once go to the grand jury, and if a bill be found against him he will be tried at once. None of the party will leave Canada till everything is finally settled. Judge Ingersoll is at present engaged with the Canadian counsel making out a plan of defense for Hale. It will be that the shooting was done in self defense. It is known that Cowles had a revolver in his pocket when brought to the hospital, and that there was some injury to his shoulder as if a struggle had taken place in the cab. The Cleveland people speak in the highest terms of the treatment they have received here from every one interested in the case.

THE CATHOLIC POSITION.

If Dr. Dunn's recent sermon has been correctly reported, he has wholly misapprehended the position of the Roman Catholic church in regard to religious teaching in the schools. He says: "If the state concedes to the Roman Catholic today, it must expurgate every text-book in use; it must eliminate every extract from the Bible, every allusion to God as a benefactor to Christians—as the world's redeemer. There must be no allusion to the first cause, none to the evidence of design either in the universe or the human system, no reference to man's responsibility to his maker, which is the true foundation of moral obligation and fundamental distinction between right and wrong."

This misstatement is the more astonishing because it is precisely on the score of the alleged lack of religion in the public school training that the Catholic church rejects it and supports a system giving an avowedly religious education in direct connection with mental training. The parochial school is founded on the theory that proper and complete education includes moral training as well as mental. The essence and heart of morality in the view of the church is religion. Consequently there cannot be a satisfactory moral training which is not heartily religious, and the church insists therefore upon religious education directly coupled with mental in its schools. It is for the absence of this essential element, for the alleged godlessness of the common school, that the church refuses to countenance it, and sets up its preferred parochial system in place of it.

For a fair comprehension of the stand of the church, it is absolutely essential that this pivotal point should be exactly noted. The real line of division between the church view and that of the common school supporter is this. Both hold that moral training is essential to a rounded education, but the latter maintains that the home and the church and the Sunday school should be relied upon to give this training by every agency at their command outside of the moral influence exerted inevitably by the refining and disciplining conduct of the common school. The church now contends that the common school training is not refining and elevating, and that religious training cannot be separated advisedly from mental in the regular school course. It is urged that many children of depraved or reckless parents can only be reached effectively by the redeeming power of religion and the church, the instrument of religion, during the school hours, and that the parochial school supplies the means of carrying on steadily and broadly systematic religious education hand in hand with mental.

Now the loyal supporter of the common school may fairly oppose this position and combat it with every argument and fact at his command, but he has no right to misstate or pervert it. The Herald is most earnestly in favor of the common school training, for reasons already given and others yet to be adduced, but it can find no warrant in fact for the assumption of Dr. Dunn that the use of the Bible in the schools is a prime cause of offense to the seceding Catholics. In many public schools in this country there is no reading from the Bible at all, yet the parochial schools are pushed equally, if not with more ardor, in these school districts. Undoubtedly the church does not recognize the Protestant Bible as the orthodox version, but we have yet to hear of the complaint of any such representative Catholics as Archbishop Ireland or Bishop McGolrick of Bible reading in the schools. In fact the rooted church objection appears to be not because there is any religious education in the common schools, but because it is so lamentably insufficient from the church standpoint. So the church would give its school children more of the Bible instead of less of it. This is the fact, and it is impolitic and unjust not to face it squarely.

That was an excellent resolution of the council last evening which called upon the board of public works to see to it that all public improvements are pushed to completion, and notified contractors that no extensions of time will be granted. By reason of grade changes now under way, the East End streets in particular are now in such a state of upheaval and blockade that no pretext for an hour's delay in fulfilling the letter of the contracts should be listened to. The inevitable nuisance from interruption of travel is as much now as the city is willing to put up with, and a few ounces more, by reason of dawdling, would break the camel's back.

Today is the anniversary of the opening of The Spalding and a white-stone day for the big house and the city. In the face of many doleful predictions, the success of the enterprise from the start has been notable for a first year run, and what was rose-colored promise a year ago is sober fact today. To the indefatigable effort and expert conduct of its proprietor, undoubtedly the best hotel manager in the Northwest, this assured success must be chiefly credited. Duluth needed a big hotel, but the big hotel needed a big man to run it. The winning combination was made by The Spalding and E. P. Emerson.

Life is too short to follow the Hon. Roger Q. Mills of Texas, in his rambling run over the tariff wall in the current Forum. But one of his stumbles is notable, because he has been picked up and set on his feet so often at the same point in the wall. He rolls over with the ancient gibe about the use of shoddy by New England manufacturers. Of course he charges this shoddy up to the protective tariff, discoursing solemnly upon the "development of a large shoddy industry that could never have come into existence if there had been no restriction on the importation of wool." Now Great Britain has no restriction on the importation of wool, and yet so well-informed an authority as The Boston Journal of Commerce says that this "does not seem to affect the liberal use of shoddy, mungo and the like in her woolen manufactures. One hundred and twenty-five million pounds of such materials are annually worked up into the woolen fabrics of Great Britain. This is from 50 to 60 per cent of the amount of wool (clean) used in our domestic manufactures." The fact is notorious that in free trade England expertness in working up shoddy in bulk has reached a point a long way beyond the craft of protected New England.

SEEN AND HEARD.

A New York friend told me a funny story about Dr. Talmage last night. "It was at a baseball game at Washington park, Brooklyn," he said, "and it was my lot to be seated near a loquacious individual who was very critical of the good and bad points of the game and of the people around him. After he had exhausted about every possible subject of conversation, he said:

"Ah, there is Dr. Talmage over there. I see him here quite often. He is a mighty good man, but it's too bad he swears so."

"Swears!" I exclaimed. "Do you mean to say that Dr. Talmage is profane?"

"Oh, yes. He swears like a pirate. It was like this: He was sitting next to me at a game here last week, when O'Brien stopped a red-hot liner which ought to have been good for two bases. Forgetting that I was so near the doctor, I said: 'By jove, that was a d—d clever play!' and the doctor, who is a great admirer of O'Brien's, replied, 'That's so.'"

"Wolves won't attack a man so long as he shows a brave front and don't run," said an old settler, one who has lived within twenty miles of Duluth for the past fifteen years. "When I say wolves," he continued, "I mean the north Minnesota kind. I remember, some six years ago, that two Swedes started from a lumber camp in the interior of Wisconsin to walk to Duluth. It was in the winter, and they began their journey early in the morning. Along about noon they came upon a pack of wolves. The creatures didn't offer to touch them until they began to run, and then the animals started in pursuit. Away they went, the men looking for trees to climb. One of them swung himself up by a branch that overhung the trail, but the other poor devil, just as he tried to follow suit was caught by the back by a ferocious looking wolf and dragged to the ground. In two minutes all there was left of him was some bones. The other fellow was kept in the tree for half a day, and finally made his way to town.

A long time ago, before Duluth amounted to anything, I started for town one cold morning, following the old Indian trail. I was unarmed; didn't even carry a stick. About half way to town I came across two big wolves. They looked gaunt and hungry, but I put on a bold face and marched directly towards them. With this they took up a position directly in front of me, not further away than thirty feet. I walked fast, and was somewhat startled to find that I was gaining on them. This kept up, until I could have hit them with a club if I had had one in my hand. Finally one of them jumped out of the path, and sat on his haunches, grinning at me as I walked by. The other one kept ahead of me for a quarter mile, then he, too, took a position beside the road. They followed me a short distance, then left me. A wolf is only a wild dog. You boldly face a dog and he will not bite you; run and he will attack you. Wolves are just this kind of animals.

The St. Louis is the headquarters for the delegates to the Hibernian convention. Some of the most prominent Irishmen in the state have registered with Landlord Cullyford.

Future Duluth will possess some of the finest summer hotels in America.

Ha, ha, ha! A half million dollar hotel pay in Duluth? Impossible! Half the world finds fault at the doings of the other half, and croakers foretold a most dire fate for The Spalding. Yet, nevertheless, this magnificent pile of pressed brick and brownstone celebrates its first birthday today, for it was on June 10, 1889, that Landlord E. P. Emerson held his grand opening, an event long to stand without precedent on the pages of Duluth's social history. What a gala night it was! Hundreds thronged the wide corridors, promenaded through the velvet-carpeted halls, admired the costly furniture and frescoes, and later danced the night away on the floor of the beautiful diningroom, whose walls echoed with Strauss' waltzes drawn from strings by Hoare's orchestra. In the lobby Walker's band delighted the crowd, while every part of the house was filled with visitors. The house has paid, and the dark clouds of financial disaster which so many gloom heads prognosticated have failed to put in an appearance. During the past 365 days, not once, but many times, has the hotel been taxed to its utmost capacity to take care of crowds of guests. Over 75,000 people have been entertained at the hotel, and Landlord Emerson has piloted the house through all the dangerous channels which break the course of new hotels, into an open sea of prosperity.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

The circus managers: Sorry we struck a bad day in Duluth. We have the oldest circus in existence, and expected to fill the tent both morning and evening.

Landlord Emerson: Business has become so heavy at The Spalding that I have been obliged to get an assistant manager.

Mr. Morton: New Duluth will be a small city inside a year.

Temple Opera stockholder: There's no cause for complaint. The theatrical business may not be so paying, with two theatres in town, but in three years there will be enough people here to patronise both houses.

Chief McQuade: We didn't find any reporters when we visited the gamblers last evening. We surprised them a little when we called and we do not propose to have any of that sort of business going on in Duluth if we can help it.

Building Inspector Shanley: Building is picking up a little now. I believe June will be a good month for building in Duluth.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Washington Post: "I can't see what you are driving at," was the remark of the blind horse.

Lawrence American: Women, like poker players, raise the blind to see what the neighbors have got.

Courier Journal: What a darling world it would be if everybody were as polite as a candidate!

Berkshire News: The time is approaching when you'll need your lawn mower and more as the season advances.

Pittsburgh Dispatch: The Waterbury clocks are about the only organizations going that are not striking for eight hours a day.

New York Sun: "He doesn't paint very well, but he is wedded to art." "Then art should get a divorce on the ground of incompatibility."

Washington Post: "When I was a small boy," said De Binks, "everybody said that I had a great future before me." "And now?" "I've got it yet."

Puck: Kirby Stone—Your typewriter seems to work very rapidly.

Willson Deeds—Well, rather! She was one of Liszt's favorite pupils.

Patti has reached her native shore,
Her silvery tones we'll hear no more;
Her "Home, Sweet Home" was dearly sweet—
We spent a "V" for one back seat.
—Chicago Evening Post.

Munsey's Weekly: Rev. Mr. Choker—"Has your congregation raised your salary lately, Brother Thirdly?" Brother Thirdly (from the country)—"No, sir; it seldom raises more than half of it any given year."

Judge: Col. Arkens (of Denver)—Young man, what was that dose you gave me afore you yanked th' tooth?"

The dentist—Cocaine and whisky, sir.

Col. Arkins—Pull some more!

Washington Post: Distinguished Statesman—"If a reporter calls tonight tell him I have nothing to say." Servant—"So I have, sor. There waz one tin minutes ago." "What reply did he make?" "He said he wondered you hadn't found that out long ago."

Paris Edition Herald: Isaac—"So you vas in dot theater last night, Schacob. Vat did you see?"

Jacob—"Dot 'Merchant von Venice.'"

"Dot 'Merchant von Venice.' Dell me, Schacob, did dey get off last night dot old chestnut apout a pound of flesh?"

"You pet! Dey got off dot same old gag apout a pound of meat schoost off der preast pone."

ODDS AND ENDS.

Senator Edmunds is reported to make $50,000 a year by his law practice. Some of his arguments have brought him $10 a word.

An order has been issued at the press censor's department in St. Petersburg that no telegrams can be either received or sent by the papers between 6 in the evening or 8 in the morning. The only reason is that the officials of the bureau object to remain on duty at night time.

The district attorney of Saratoga, N. Y., has secured a pane of glass recently taken from a house in Ballston, near the old iron spring where Washington Irving, stopped in 1802. Upon the glass, written with a diamond, is the famous author's signature: "Washington Irving, 1802."

Mr. W. W. Story, the distinguished American sculptor and poet, writes from Rome thus: "All I have to say is that in my opinion the tax of 30 per cent on foreign works of art is disgraceful in theory, unworthy of any great country, disastrous to art and beneficial to none."

The Franciscan Order of Monks are attempting to gain a foothold in the Dominion of Canada, and have sent out the Rev. Brother Otton, provincial superior of the order in France, to establish a monastery in the neighborhood of Montreal. The intention is to build a large monastery in the neighborhood of Cote des Neiges and to open a novitiate.

THE ALLIANCE AND POLITICO.

Fergus Falls Journal: It has taken the farmers of this country a long time to find out their strength and satisfy themselves that they are able to walk without leaning on the professional politicians. We have confidence in the ability and honesty of the men who are at the head of the alliance movement, and trust the experience of past years has taught them the necessity of keeping the alliance as far removed from politics as possible.

Sauk Rapids Free Press: It is high time that the laboring and industrial classes should arouse themselves to activity and sweep all obnoxious legislators and law makers into obscurity. Farmers be true to yourselves and vote as a unit for men whom you can trust to represent your interests in congress and the legislature.

A UNIQUE AFFLICTION.

An Iowa Girl Gradually Becoming Copper Colored.

DAVENPORT, June 10.—Miss Hildegrade Whittleborn, a most excellent and highly-esteemed young lady of this place is suffering from an affliction of a most extraordinary nature, and which is pronounced by the medical authorities who have seen her to be unique. About a year and a half ago, Miss Whittleborn began to notice that the tips of her fingers and the soles of her feet where slightly discolored, but paid no particular attention to it until the discoloration deepened from a faint yellow, hardly more than sallowness, to a saffron tint, which began to spread slowly but certainly, until her limbs and the greater part of her body are covered with the stain. It is of a rich copper color, which is growing darker perceptibly from day to day and spreading with alarming rapidity.

The young lady's face. which had hitherto escaped, has within the last day or two become infected, one ear and part of one cheek being already discolored, and it is apparently only a question of time until the entire surface of her body becomes of the same dark tint. The physicians are much puzzled over the case, and, while ascribing it to some change in the coloring pigment of the skin, are at a loss to account for that change. The health of the young lady prior to this strange alteration of her color was fairly good, and since it has been going on has become exceptionally so.

There seems to be no disease of the skin, which remains satin-smooth and performs its several functions as usual and, indeed, were it not for the singularity of her appearance, owing to the contrast presented to the dark places by those which have as yet retained their natural color, the dark olive hue of her skin is far from being ugly or repulsive, and doubtless by the time it has entirely enveloped her she will find herself as comely an Indian girl as she was as a type of a fair American.

Miss Whittleborn is naturally extremely sensitive on the subject of her strange affliction, and when attending any public place goes shrouded in a veil. She professes such horror of her condition that she says she can feel its dark shadow actually creeping and spreading over her body like a blight.

Underwriters In Convention.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The large clubroom of the Metropolitan hotel was crowded this morning with delegates from twenty-one states when President Daniel J. Avery of Chicago called to order the fifteenth annual convention of the National Association of Mutual Fire and Accident Underwriters of the United States. After a brief address of welcome, an exhaustive report was presented by Hon. George D. Eldridge of Washington, chairman of the executive committee. One of the most important matters to be discussed is the reserve value of an assessment policy. This is the one great problem of assessmentism, and although at the last convention an attempt was made to stifle discussion upon this point, there are those in the present gathering who are determined that it shall receive practical attention, with the idea that there shall be given to assessment insurance a reserve which shall be fair and equitable, and give to it a stability which, without something in the nature of a reserve, it cannot have.

English Market Glutted.

LONDON, June 10.—American beef is cheaper in this city today than was ever known before. There is a regular glut in the market. Out at Deptford market there are over 8000 beasts which must be killed and delivered within ten days, while advices say that several cargoes are afloat. Wholesale prices are ranging from seven to ten cents per pound for the very choicest cuts, and the retail figure ten to fourteen. Medium cuts and boiling beef is to be had at five to eight cents at retail. Several hundred head of prime cattle were yesterday sold to a Manchester butcher at the rate of fifty cents per stone (eight pounds) on the hoof. The enormous inpour of American cattle has for the time being, driven native beef out of the market.

A handsome double corner, 100 feet frontage, in Endion for sale $2,000 below market price if taken within eight or ten days. For terms, etc., call on Richard F. Marvin, rooms 1 and 2, Exchange building.

FROM DESPAIR TO JOY.

The Painful Story of a Lovely Lady, and How She Finally Secured Happiness.

Mrs. Morton D. Harlan, residing at No. 58 West 25th Street, New York City, has passed through a most wonderful experience. Mrs. Harlan had a happy home and through her devotion to her home duties over-taxed her strength. She had depressed feelings, entire lack of energy in life, and finally a cough at night and morning which grew worse each day. Upon looking in the glass she saw dark circles under her eyes and found that she was growing thinner and losing all interest in life. This painful state of things continued for months until finally she became so weak she could not attend to her duties and was confined to her bed the greater part of the time. One day Mrs. Harlan's very dear friend Mrs. Willard called and was amazed to see her so wan and faded. Two bright hectic spots stood upon each cheek, her lips were blue, her face pinched and drawn, and there was a piteous look in her eyes. Mrs. Willard knew this meant consumption and her heart was touched for her friend. At her earnest request, the use of an English Remedy for consumption was tried. At the start very little effect could be seen, so great an inroad had the disease made, but by degrees Mrs. Harlan began to regain her lost appetite, then her strength, then her hope, then her health, and she is today in perfect physical condition, wholly as a result of the use of Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption.

The lesson of this simple story should be plain to all. No man or woman can afford to neglect those first symptoms of consumption, which seem so slight but which becomes so terrible unless taken in time. This Great Remedy has saved the lives of hundreds of well known men and women who were on the verge of the grave from consumption but who are well and happy to-day. It is sold universally.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan—one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

DULUTH SUMMER OPERA.

The Thompson Opera Company to be Here July 14.

And With Forty People Present All the Latest Successes.

Manager Miller left for New York today to book attractions for Temple Opera. The house will have its fall opening with some well-known opera company, probably Duff's. Mr. Miller will also make arrangements for an attraction to open the new West Superior Grand.

Temple Opera is closed this week. Rice's "Evangeline" begins an engagement next Monday.

Duluth is to have a season of summer opera on a much more magnificent scale than that on the boards at either the St. Paul or Minneapolis houses. Manager Haycock, who has been in New York for the past two weeks, in a letter to The Herald says:

"I have just signed contracts to give Duluth a grand presentation of comic opera by better people than have ever given opera (comic) in Duluth. I have engaged the Thompson Opera company of this city. Mr. Thompson is now organizing here, and we will take the entire company from New York to Duluth and open July 14, and run for three weeks. There will be about forty people in the company, and you know my idea of a good company so you can safely say it will be "out of sight." I will give Duluth people a better company than St. Paul or Minneapolis have now. The operas to be given in Duluth will be "Beggar Student," "Black Huzzar," "Nanon," Gypsy Baron," "Queen's Lace Handkerchief" and all such successes as those. In fact, I am doing everything to make my summer opera season in Duluth a grand success. For the new theater I am booking the very best, and hope to keep up the reputation I have made in our city, viz: That anything that plays in my house will be the very best."

The site of "Midway" theater is nearing readiness for the foundation. Architect Traphagen is preparing the working plans for the house as rapidly as possible. In point of architecture no building in the city will be so beautiful, while the interior decorations of both theater and offices will be more magnificent than any business block in the Northwest.

THE WEEKLY GRIND.

Nothing of Especial Interest Transacted by the Council.

At the regular meeting of the council last evening the usual amount of routine business was transacted. A resolution was passed authorizing the appointment of a committee of three to revise the city charter, the mayor and city attorney to be members ex-officio of the committee. An ordinance was introduced making it the duty of police officers to inspect all electric wires daily and when found not in proper order, to report the same to the respective company, the latter to make the necessary repairs at once under the penalty of a fine not less than $10 nor more than $100. The peddlers ordinance after being amended so as not to include newsboys, took its final passage. Orders were authorized to be drawn on the treasury in favor of Andrew Rosewater for $1314.75, and Rudolph Herring for $1533.75, for services as consulting engineers. The May fire department and general bills were ordered paid as well as estimates of $1309 in favor of Forrestal Bros., and $2010 in favor of T. A. Sheridan.

The board of fire commissioners was given authority to purchase a team of horses for No. 4 engine house, and fire hydrants were ordered in at Ninth avenue west and First street, and Nineteenth avenue west and Superior street.

A sidewalk was ordered on the north side of Fifth street from Lake avenue to Piedmont avenue east. It was decided to give no extension of time to contractors, and the board of public works was instructed to see that all public improvements were completed on schedule time.

Jefferson street from Thirteenth avenue east to Montana avenue and Twentieth avenue west from Superior street to the St. Paul & Duluth tracks were ordered graded.

A petition asking for the regulation of hackmen and draymen was referred to the ordinance committee. Harbormaster Miller's monthly report was received and filed. A petition for a sanitary sewer in Twenty-fifth avenue west from Michigan street to Eighth street was referred to the board of public works.

Circus Day Drunks.

Every chair in the prisoners' row in the municipal court was filled when court opened this morning, most of the occupants being charged with drunkenness. Dan Tendon paid a fine of $3, and the same amount was assessed against Tom Ryan, Tom Gray, Wm. Aasamer, Frank Miller and Frank Conway, in default of which they went out for seven days. Being unable to pay a fine of $7, John Sullivan, charged with fighting, went out for ten days. John Berghmann paid a fine of $5 and costs for shooting in the street. The examination of the gamblers arrested last night at Nos. 20 and 124 Superior street west was this morning continued until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Building Permits.

The following permits to build have been issued: G. O. Clark, one story frame residence, south side of railroad track, between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth avenues west, $400; F. Zillmer, two story frame dwelling, Sixth street, near Fifth avenue east, $500; A. E. McCordie, two story frame residence, Bench street, near Oregon avenue, $6500; A. L. Langellier, one story frame addition to residence, Fourth street, near Fifth avenue east, $600; C. T. Cash, two story frame dwelling, Third street, near New York avenue, $5000; J. L. Pember, two story frame residence, West Third street, near Sixth avenue, $500; H. M. F. Davis, two story frame addition, East Third street, near Fifth avenue $800; J. B. Sutphin, two story brick addition, East First street, near First avenue, $1500.

Notice.

The partnership heretofore existing between F. J. Young and H. N. Randell under the title of Young & Randell has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. The business will be conducted in future by Randell Bros., who have bought out Mr. Young's entire interest. As before, the business office will be at the Hotel St. Louis, where orders can be left for coupes, carriages and express.

THE CLERKS WIN.

Members of the Merchants' Union Agree to the Early Closing Movement.

The Merchants' union held its regular monthly meeting last evening. The following firms were represented: Page & Grady, Block & Tobin, Carlson & Co., Polinski Bros., Call, Cannon & Kriz, L. J. Wixen, Srederen & Johnson, M. R. Lawton, Frost & Peachy, David Buchanan, Simon Clark & Co., T. L. Dow & Co., Adam Kirst, A. Borgan, Sjoeslins & Teft, Thomas Clark, Ruff Bros. and C. S. Eppling.

It was decided to make no exceptions to the wholesale merchants in favor of any but the three principal hotels, the Merchants, St. Louis and Spalding. This will exclude such large consumers as Bell & Miller, Boyle Bros., the Saddle Rock and Thurston's restaurant.

Geo. M. Libby, the president of the Retail Clerks' union, made a plea for early closing, promising the members of the union the united support of 2000 workingmen and their families if the stores were closed at 7 o'clock. After a short discussion it was decided to close the stores every evening, except Saturday, at 7 o'clock, and an agreement to this effect will be signed by the members.

WEST END.

Preparations for the Electric Street Railway; Social Matters.

Workmen are busy unloading timber for the electric street railway along Superior street between Twentieth and Twenty-Eighth avenues west. Work on tracklaying will be begun there first.

The Estey society celebrated flower mission day by supplying about forty or fifty patients of St. Marys hospital with flowers. The gifts though small were greatly appreciated.

A party of up-town friends surprised the Misses McKay last night at the Clarendon hotel. Dancing formed one of the pleasant features of the evening.

George Whitman, an employe at Pecks sawmill, was badly injured about the thigh and left leg yesterday afternoon while unloading logs.

J. A. Scott, late circulator of The News, arrived last night from New York having been detained there by sickness. Mr. Scott will be the West Duluth manager of the new Duluth Times.

REGATTA NEWS.

Railroads Coming to the Front With Rates; Money Needed.

All the Eastern sporting papers are giving the regatta satisfactory notice. In the "fixtures" the Duluth-Superior regatta occupies a regular place. Manager Robertson has been busily at work since his arrival, and has sent out a thousand or more circulars to the newspapers, giving details of the regatta up to date. The Western and Central States Passenger association, at their meeting this week, will make a schedule of rates sufficiently low to bring thousands of tourists to the head of the lakes during July 21-26. The St. Paul-Duluth roads have made a round-trip rate of $4.50, notices to this effect having been received by the secretary. A meeting of the executive committee will be held tomorrow evening.

Sporting Notes.

Boston has a good lead for the pennant.

Ned Hanlon is playing the game of his life.

Tim Keefe has won nine straight games. He lost his first three, and has won every one since.

George La Blanche has telegraphed to the California Club from Denver that he will be on hand to fight young Mitchell June 27.

Gaudaur, Hamm, McKay and Ten Eyck will make up a four to row Hanlan, Hosmer, Ross and Teemer at the Duluth regatta.

The Buffalo players' club has occupied every possession in the pennant race the last month. They have gone from the first to the last.

The president of the Audubon Club of New Orleans telegraphed to the Police News yesterday that the club would give a $1,000 purse for a fight between Pete McCoy and Arthur Upham, winner to receive $750.

Budd Doble paid $15,000 for Lady Bullion. This is the largest price ever paid for a Michigan trotter.

The following cable was received at the Police Gazette office yesterday: "Alf Mitchell, the middle-weight champion, challenges Jack Dempsey, London prize ring rules, for £200 a side. He will go to America if the California Athletic Club will put up a purse and allow him expenses, or he will meet any man in the world at 154 pounds for £250 or £500, London rules.

A Montana paper is authority for the statement that Mascot is all right again, that Favonia is in good health, and that Yolo Maid did not hurt herself.

Umpire Gaffney says that his observations of the attendance in the East forced him to the conclusion that one or the other of the two leagues should change its schedule. Should the national league insist on carrying on the warfare, then the players' league should make the shift. Who had the best end of it, "Gaff," old man?

The accidents to Bassett, Esterbrook and Murphy came at a very bad time. But for these accidents the New Yorks would now be in first place. As it is, a blanket, so to speak, covers the first six clubs. Manager Mutrie says that his men will win the pennant yet. They are only five games behind the leaders.

NORTHERN ROAD SHUT OUT

The Northern Pacific Purchases the Seattle & Lake Shore.

What About the Pueblo & Duluth? Local Notes.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Times says: A conference of railroad men held in this city a few days ago resulted in an agreement by which the Northern Pacific Railroad company gains control of the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern railway, an incompleted road projected from Seattle to Spokane Falls, Wash.

The work of building the road was begun at each terminus three or four years ago, and something over 100 miles of the main line were completed last year. In addition several short traffic spurs were built.

The Northern Pacific secures control of the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern railway assuming the obligation of its bonds. The contract was signed by H. O. Armour, Gen. Thomas M. Logan and Edward D. Chester representing the Seattle road. This deal practically shuts out the Great Northern from a connection at Puget Sound, and it is authoritatively stated that Villard has secured most of the land bordering on Lake Washington, and that the line will run around the lake.

IS IT THE ATCHISON.

What is the True Inwardness of the Pueblo-Duluth Road.

Some time ago, as The Herald stated, the Pueblo & Duluth road was incorporated in Nebraska to build a railroad from a point on the southern boundary line of the state of Nebraska, in Hitchcock county, in a northeasterly direction through the counties of Hitchcock, Red Willow, Frontier, Gosper, Dawson, Buffalo, Custer, Sherman, Howard, Valley, Greeley, Wheeler, Boone, Antelope, Madison, Pierce, Wayne, Cedar, Dixon and Dakota, to a point at or near the town of Covington, in the county of Dakota. The incorporators were: Wm. A. Winant, Wm. H. Ceyscutt, Ralph A. Weill, R. W. Carman, New York; J. M. Coleman, O. W. Williams, Thomas Marwood, G. E. Malloy, D. Hitchcock, Peter J. Monahan, M. A. Dunn and John J. Stillson of Antelope county, Nebraska.

Another road was also incorporated in the same state, called the Pueblo, Duluth & Nebraska, its terminal points also being Pueblo and Duluth. This route would open to Duluth the corn fields of Nebraska and the mines of Colorado, putting this city on a footing with Chicago in the Southwest.

It is hardly probable that this company is formed on an independent basis, but that some one of the transcontinental roads is back of the scheme is more likely. Three roads enter Pueblo, for any one of which a Duluth connection would be desirable. Of these three—the Atchison, the Missouri Pacific and the Denver & Rio Grand—only the Atchison has ever made a pretense of desiring to enter Northwestern territory. Is this road back of the Pueblo & Duluth?

The South Shore & Atlantic has issued its increased tariff, the rates being on a basis of 74 cents.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic has at last its summer tourists' guide, Julian Ralph the author, The little pamphlet was gotten up by the American Bank Note company, and some of its eighty-two pages are filled with illustrations that are artistic and tasty. The frontispiece gives a view of Duluth as seen to the southeast from Eighth avenue and Second street. Of this city the guide says: "Duluth's attractions as a summer resort have spread the city's fame far and wide within the past two years. The numerous small streams along the north shore furnish the best kind of trout fishing. The delicious lake whitefish need no praises here, and of late the fame of the planked whitefish, as that dish is served in The Spalding house, is co-extensive with all knowledge of good living. Feathered game is plentiful the year around, and all along the St. Louis river, as well as far back in the tangled wildwood, deer are still found in great numbers, in spite of the advancing sound of the woodman's axe and the ravages of the sportsman's rifle.

Duluth's hotel accommodations are not excelled by those of any city of its size in the world."

Will Not Restore Rates.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 10.—It is announced here that General Passenger Agent Shattuck, of the Ohio & Mississippi, has telegraphed to officials of eastern roads to the effect that the Ohio & Mississippi will not restore the east bound rate which should have taken effect today, but on the contrary, as soon as the tariff can be issued the Ohio & Mississippi will make a $7 rate from St. Louis to Cincinnati first-class, with a corresponding reduction to all eastern points.

Strong Language From an Ex-Mayor.

J. B. Loughran, ex-mayor of North Des Moins, Iowa, said recently: "I have just recovered from a severe attack of la grippe. I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm to my breast. These remedies were just the thing in my case. My child had croup some years ago, and we used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with perfect success, since then we have never been without these medicines in our house. I had a cousin who was a printer and was employed in a job office in this city, where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep-seated cold and a terrible cough, and while setting up the copy he made up his mind to get a bottle. It cured his cough and that was the first time I ever knew anything of Chamberlain's remedies. My own experience and that of my family convinces me that these remedies are the best in the world. That may be strong language, but it is what I think."

Cumulative Investment Company

IN RESPONSE TO THE REPEATED DEmande for more stock in the Conservative Investment Association, a new corporation has been formed on the same principle by some of the officers of the same under the name Cumulative Investment Company.

The object is to give an opportunity for those unable to make large investments on their own account, to pool their issues by contributing monthly to a fund created for investment in real estate. The management of the affairs of the Cumulative will be vested in a board of seven directors who receive no salaries.

The capital stock is $100,000, divided into 2,000 shares of $50 each, payable in monthly installments of $1 per share. Not more than 50 nor less than 10 shares may be held by any one person.

No better opportunity to make small investments pay such large profits, has ever been offered.

The books are now open for subscription of stock. Call or write at once before it is all taken.

THE CHAMBER'S SESSION.

Congressman Comstock Thanks the Chamber for Its Good Wishes.

In a letter received by Secretary Thompson, Congressman Comstock thanks the Chamber for its congratulations at his defeating the Minnesota Point survey section in the river and harbor bill. Senator Washburn, Congressmen Lind and Hall also thanked the Chamber for its good wishes.

Advices from Minneapolis informed the Chamber that about 700 millers would attend the Minneapolis national convention, and that most of them would visit Duluth. Secretary Thompson was directed to continue correspondence regarding the establishment of a life-saving station at Duluth. Senator Washburn informed the Chamber that there was good prospect that an amendment would be made to the interstate commerce law relative to the oil shipment discrimination.

The jobbing committee made a lengthy report, which was adopted. A company will be formed, with a capital of $75,000, and 200 feet purchased on Sixth avenue. This property will cost about $100 per front foot, while $40 a foot must be expended in cribbing and filling. About $35,000 is to be expended in two buildings, with dimensions of 50x100 feet, which will find ready rental.

Dr. J. E. Bowers, who was called from St. Paul by the illness and death of Dr. Walbank, has concluded to settle permanently in Duluth. He has taken a suite of rooms in the new Buchanan building, where he will devote special attention to the treatment of mental and nervous diseases. The doctor has had more than twenty years' experience in this special line of work as physician and superintendent of the insane hospitals of the state. Neurologists have achieved wonderful success in the treatment of a great variety of nervous maladies by the application of electricity, and Dr. Bowers has in his office a complete outfit of electrical apparatus.

THE CIRCUS.

John Robinson's not the Only One in the City.

There was a circus in the city today that had no parade, but was interesting just the same. In fact it has been here several days. It can be seen at 307 Superior street west, the scene of the great assignee sale of fine footwear. It was amusing to witness the rush and scramble of bargain seekers. It is a matter of no surprise when one considers that these goods are being sold at way below manufacturers' cost. Call and examine goods and get prices for yourself.

An expert accountant with heavy Duluth concern, wants extra work on books. Address, "Expert" Accountant, care Herald.

POLICE PROTECTION.

Chief McQuade Proposes to Make Things Lively for Crooks.

A circus without a following of crooks would be too paradoxical to believe, but any that attempt to work the gullible in Duluth today will find they have made a great mistake. Two crooks who tried to do a little work on the docks last evening were promptly gathered in by Detective Madden and locked up at the West End station where they will remain until tomorrow. Among their paraphernalia was a cleverly arranged "flash roll" of greenbacks. They gave the names of James Jamieson and Corger Salverson. The latter is better known as "Swan the Swede" and is one of the best known "cappers" in the country. The police arrangements at the circus grounds today preclude any more work by such sharks. The night men were called in at 2 o'clock this morning and at 9 o'clock they reported at headquarters for duty at the grounds, the majority of them in citizen's clothes. Part of the day regulars were also sent to the grounds, and extras put on their beats, while the detectives looked after the crowds on the streets.

The Circus.

Circus day has come, and with it joy unrestrained for the boys, both young and old. The parade was witnessed by large crowds on Superior street, and while some were disappointed, it must be remembered that the weather was very unfavorable for a fine appearance. The afternoon performance was largely attended and all who went were well repaid. Robinson's circus is the oldest now on the road, and it has always borne the reputation of being one of the best. The riding is one of the finest features of the show, and the races, which have come to be regarded as indispensable in a circus performance, are exciting enough to satisfy the most exacting. The clowns are up to the usual standard in their line of business. The evening performance will begin at 8 o'clock and the St. Paul & Duluth will run trains to Twenty-sixth avenue west for the accommodation of those who wish to attend.

Bids for the Bridge.

The board of public works has advertised for bids for the construction of the piers and foundations for the bridge over the ship canal. Only contractors who have had experience in this class of work are invited to submit bids. The plans and specifications for the bridge were on file at the office of Alfred P. Boller, the consulting engineer, No. 71 Broadway, New York, until today. After June 15, they can be seen at the office of the board of public works in this city.

BROKEN BY DEATH.

A Dubuque Boy Dies After Fasting for Ninety-six Days.

Dubuque, Iowa, June 10.—Tommy Sutton, after living without solid food for ninety-six days, died yesterday. During all his fast his only sustenance was sodawater. Previous to the death of the boy a council of physicians was held and all united in pronouncing it a case of paralysis of the stomach and bowels. Some years ago the lad suffered a fall and was never in perfect health thereafter. Ninety-six days ago his stomach refused all solid food, and sodawater was the only liquid he could retain. His sufferings were most intense, but he bore them without complaining.

It's a Pity.

New York, June 10.—Alfred J. Perrine, the inventor of the Gatling gun, for which he received but $30,000, has died in destitute circumstances. A somewhat similar case was recently before the house of commons in the shape of a plea to the government to do something for the relief of the daughters of Sir William Palliser, who are in a condition of extreme poverty. Sir William made numerous improvements in guns and in the screwing on of armor plates, and contributed materially to economy and efficiency in both the military and naval departments, so much so that less than a year ago it was stated in the house by a cabinet minister that his inventions had saved the country over $30,000,000. The cabinet decided, however, that there was no precedent for allowing a pension to the daughters, and the decision was affirmed by the house by a majority of twenty.

Fixing Excursion Rates.

Chicago, June 10.—More than ordinary interest attaches to the meeting in progress today of the passenger department of the Central Traffic Association, Commissioner Blanchard, presiding, from the fact that the rates for the National Encampment of the Grand Army Encampment at Boston in August, are to be fixed. The conflict between the railroads and the veterans over the rates to the encampment at Milwaukee last year has not yet been forgotten, and the attendance at Boston depends largely upon the liberal proclivities of the managers, who last year tried to kill the hen that laid the golden eggs. Rates will also be fixed for the triennal convention of the Knights Templar in Chicago in August.

Convention Proceedings.

Atlanta, Ga., June 10.—The delegates to the convention of the International Typographical union got down to solid work today, President Plank in the chair. A lengthy report detailing the general prosperity of the union was presented by Secretary McClevy. The committee on laws comprising Charles Leonard, New York; W. B. Prescott, Toronto, Can.; M. J. Johnson, Fort Worth, Texas. and J. M. Bonnell, Boston, have prepared a report in which various changes in the constitution are suggested. Nearly 200 delegates are in attendance.

Sad Accident at Oberlin.

Oberlin, June 10.—Several members of the Oberlin college who were drawing the Oberlin college base ball team about the city in a parade yesterday, fell to the ground and before they were able to rise were run over by a band wagon containing about thirty-five people, which was following immediately after the carriage in which were the ball players. Before the team could be stopped, the wagon wheels passed over the prostrate boys, and three of them, B. A. Williams, John Luthia and F. D. Ellis, are so badly injured that it is feared they cannot live.

Was Beneficial.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, June 10.—Advices to The Nonpareil from points covering the territory flooded by the tremendous rains of last week, indicate that the damage to the growing crops has been greatly over-estimated. Innumerable insects were destroyed and it is fair to presume the beneficiary effects of the rain will offset the damage done.

A Settlement Expected.

Vienna, June 10.—Strong efforts are being made to reconcile the differences between the old Czechs and Germans in the Bohemian diet. Emperor Francis Joseph today gave an audience to the leaders of the two parties and in his conversation with them his majesty declared that the arrangements looking to a settlement of the difficulties adopted by the recent German-Czech conference in Vienna would certainly be effected. This utterance was a departure from the Emperor's customary reserve and is expected to have a decisive influence in settling the long standing troubles between the two political parties.

Shot a Burglar.

Minneapolis, June 10.—[Special to The Herald.]—At an early hour this morning, a colored man was shot by W. P. Ives, of this city, while attempting to burglarize the latter's house. He ran out and was afterwards found by a policeman in an insensible condition about 100 feet from the house. He was hit in the neck and will probably die. When taken to the hospital he gave the name of Bruron, but it has been discovered that his name is George W. Frisbie, and that he is a notorious crook who was recently discharged from the Minnesota state prison.

Omaha Gets It.

Omaha, June 10.—The commission of the Methodist Episcopal church having in charge the location of the next general conference has decided that it should be held in Omaha some time in 1892.

A New York Fire.

New York, June 10.—The Hyde and Behman theater on Adams street in Brooklyn was gutted by fire at 12:45 last night. The big Arbuckle building is also on fire, and the Germania bank next door is threatened. The loss is estimated at $125,000. The fire was under control at 2 o'clock. The theater was vacant at the time, except for the janitor and his family, and no one was injured as far as known. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Wants a Fast Line.

Ottawa, Ont., June 10.—The Dominion government has decided to advertise in the leading English newspapers for a fast Atlantic steamship line. The advertisement will call for a minimum average speed of eighteen knots per hour from port to port, a French port being the starting point on the other side, the boats to stop at Southampton or Plymouth as may be hereafter agreed upon.

American Delegates Sail.

New York, June 10.—Among the passengers for England today were Revs. Drs. O. F. Gregory of Baltimore, Lansing Burrows of Augusta, Ga. and J. S. Thomas of South Carolina, who will represent the Southern Baptist association in the meetings of the English Baptists to open two weeks hence.

The Weather.

Washington, June 10.—Forecast till 8 a. m. Wednesday: For Wisconsin: Rain; slightly cooler; variable winds. For Minnesota, North and South Dakota: Occasional showers; stationary temperature; southerly winds.

Four Children Drowned.

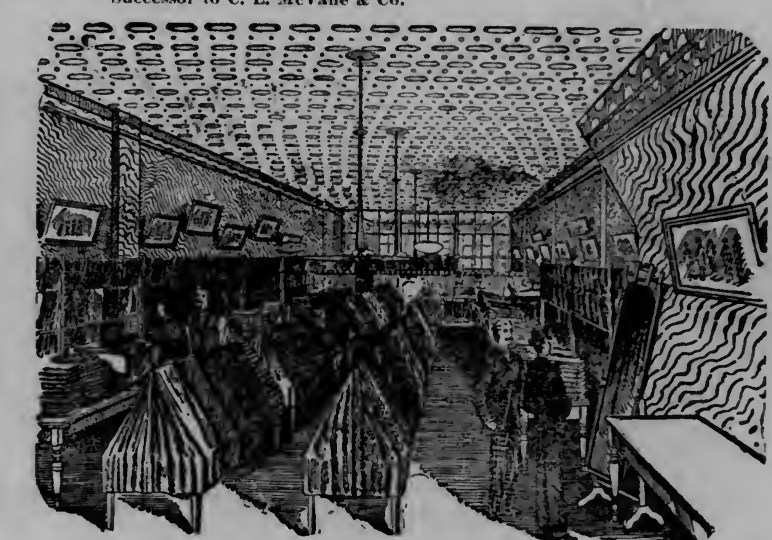

Rock Island, Ill., June 10.—Maggie Baker, aged 10, Lola, Alfred and Chas. Seib, aged respectively 9, 7 and 3 years, were drowned at Rapids City on Sunday. They were boating and the boat struck the shaft of an old water wheel belonging to a mill and capsized. The bodies of the two girls and Alfred have been recovered, that of Charles Seib has not.

Wherever Malaria Exits,

The bilious are its certain prey. In intermittent and remittent fever, dumb ague and ague cake, the liver is always seriously affected, and the blood contaminated with bile. One of the chief reasons why Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such a sure defense against chills and fever and every form of malarial disease is, that it does away with liability to the disease, by reforming irregularity of the biliary organ in advance of the arrival of the season when the disease is prevalent. There is no finer fortifying preparative for those about visiting or emigrating to a locality where the miasma-taint exists. There is no certain immunity from disease in an endemic or epidemic form, to be secured by the use of the average tonic and anti-spasmodics. But where quinine fails the Bitters succeeds, both in preventing and curing. Moreover, it removes every vestige of dyspepsia, and overcomes constipation, rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, and tranquilizes and strengthens the nervous system.

FROM OVER THE BRINY.

A Noted Irishman's Wedding Today; Great Fires in Siberia.

Troubles in Silesia; Stanley; General Foreign News.

LONDON, June 11.—The marriage of William O'Brien, M. P., and Sophie Raffolvitch was solemnized at the Brompton oratory this morning. The Archbishop of Cashel officiated, while Cardinal Manning pronounced the benediction on the happy pair. Solemn nuptial mass was afterward celebrated. John Dillon officiated as best man. Forty members of the Irish parliamentary party, headed by Parnell, were present, together with Jacob Bright, Right Hon. Shaw Lefevre and other prominent representatives of the Gladstonian party. As a brilliant background to the political friends of the groom were the Dowager Countess Russell and her daughters, Lady Sandhurst and other acquaintances of the blushing bride. The wedding presents include a valuable oil painting from Cardinal Manning, and an elaborate silver service from his colleagues in the house of commons.

The bride of the distinguished Irish patriot is the daughter of a prominent Parisian banker. She is a Jewess, but adopted the Roman Catholic tenets a few weeks ago. Mr. O'Brien made her acquaintance a few years ago, and her brilliant accomplishments as well as her ardent admiration for the struggles of the Irish race soon caused the acquaintance to ripen into ardent affection. She has rendered the cause valuable help.

She is French by birth, but speaks the English and all other European languages fluently, and the magnificent family mansion in the Champs Elysee has for years been famous for its hospitality to the most distinguished writers and thinkers in Europe.

Miss Raffolvitch has an income of over $20,000 yearly in her own right while the groom, whose abilities should bring him tens of thousands of dollars every year, has devoted so much of his life to efforts in behalf of his country, and is moreover of so generous a disposition, that he is as poor as the proverbial church mouse.

The groom is perhaps the most popular man in Ireland and among the Irish race throughout the world excepting Mr. Parnell himself. His zeal in the cause he has espoused amounts almost to fanaticism, and he is prepared at any moment to sacrifice liberty or life for its sake.

The strikers at Bennissch, Silesia, are acting in a riotous manner. They attacked the factories yesterday and with clubs and stones smashed in the windows of sixteen of them. Several of the factories were otherwise damaged by the rioters. A number of the strikers were arrested and their comrades assulted the police in their attempts to rescue them. The trouble became so serious that the military was called upon, and the troops soon quelled the rioting.

The Edinburgh municipal authorities today presented the freedom of the city to Mr. Stanley. He made an appropriate reply to the address of presentation, thanking the authorities for the honor conferred upon him. Much enthusiasm was manifested.

Reports have been received at St. Petersburg of disastrous conflagrations and great losses of life and property in the mining districts of the Ural mountains. The iron works at Eufaleisk and New Jansk, 1000 dwelling houses, four school houses, three churches, the hospitals and the magazines were completely destroyed. Forty persons were burned to death and 18,000 were made homeless by the destruction of the towns.

In deference to the clamor of the Paris public and the demands of the society for the protection of animals, the prefect of peace some time ago divested the sport of bull fighting, which had become popular in Paris, of its bloody features, by establishing a code of rules rendering the bulls comparatively harmless, and prohibiting the employment of picadors, whose lance thrusts ordinarily enliven the spectators and correspondingly depress the spirits of the bull. Stripped of the elements of danger, the sport became too tame even for the tender-hearted Parisians, while the Spanish authorities accentuated their disgust by persistent absence from the entertainments, and popular clamor once more arose demanding the restoration of the picador. The police have again responded to a public call, and an order was issued yesterday permitting the picador to resume his functions.

GIVE THE WEST A CHANCE.

Democrats West and South do not Want a New Yorker for President.

DENVER, Col., June 11.—The Rocky Mountain News, the leading democratic paper in this part of the country, contains a double leaded editorial this morning taking strong grounds against the nomination by the democratic party of either Cleveland or Hill or any other New York man for president. The News states that this desire is not the outgrowth of any hostility to these gentlemen, but the attitude of the party in going to New York for a candidate ever since the war has sectionalized the party. The South and West have been compelled to submit to New York, and with New York to Wall street.

Until these bonds are broken the democratic party can never claim to be what its founders made it. Since 1873 the country has been suffering evil from the silver demonetization. It was partially destroyed by democrats in 1878. New York alone dominates and controls the whole party in this great financial struggle. Democrats in congress are almost a unit for free coinage. In national conventions this candor vanishes in the superstitious fear that only a New York candidate can be elected. New York will never cast its vote in convention for one not bound in bonds of gold to Wall street. Even before Cleveland was inaugurated, he shocked the country with a letter in opposition to silver.

If Cleveland or Hill were nominated neither could escape from his Wall street environment. The convictions of the St. Louis convention which nominated Cleveland were smothered. The democratic party stating that it can win success only through a New York nominee, admits fatal weakness and almost merits defeat. The News concludes by an appeal to the party to give the West and South a chance.

THE COLUMBUS CARS.

Trouble Grows Very Serious and the Militia will be Called.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 11.—The effort to start the cars was a complete failure and it is claimed by the strikers as another in their series of victories. The cars were returned to the barn, and it is intimated that another attempt to get out cars will be made this afternoon. The company and police are keeping their own counsels and not publishing their movements in advance.

The Columbus, Ohio, Consolidated street railway made another attempt to start cars this morning, and the scenes enacted were similar to those of Monday. The cars had proceeded but a few squares when thousands gathered and the tracks were blocked with stone and rubbish.

The women took a big hand in stopping the cars. The mayor was present and ordered the arrest of two citizens who were blocking the tracks. The situation was threatening, but no one was injured. The employes at some of the leading manufactories closed down and turned out as soon as they learned the cars were to be started. Their object was to aid the strikers. The mayor is preparing a list, and getting ready to call a meeting of leading citizens to consider the threatening situation. The company insists on protection from the police and the mayor claims the police force is inadequate to the task. If a compromise is not reached the mayor states he will ask for the militia if the demand is made by the street railway company.

A Haul of Jewelry.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., June 11.—Thieves broke into W. D. Norton's jewelry store last night and stole about $20,000 worth of jewelry, among the articles taken, being several hundred gold and silver watches, a number of chains, finger rings and pieces of solid gold. Twenty diamond rings were also taken. The safe was blown open and the detectives on the case say that the robbers were undoubtedly professionals.

A. U. O. W. Dedication.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—Prominent members of the Order of United Workmen from several states are arriving today to participate in the exercises incident to the dedication of the Upchurch monument, and which take place in the Grand Music hall of the Exposition building this evening. In 1808 the order was founded in a little town in Pennsylvania by John Jordan Upchurch, and before his death it had become one of the strongest and most popular of the secret benevolent societies of the country with a membership aggregating nearly a quarter million. Shortly after his death three years ago the Missouri members of the order initiated a movement for a memorial to his life and work, and as a result of their efforts a magnificent monument now stands in Bellfontaine cemetery in this city. The dedication exercises tonight will include an address of welcome by W. H. Miller, grand master of Missouri; dedication address by Rev. J. A. Brooks, past supreme master workman, and an oration by Supreme Master Workman W. R. Graham of Iowa.

Rampant Sioux.

PIERRE, S. D., June 11.—Chief Hump's hostile band of Indians which is camped at the north of Cherry creek on the north side of the Cheyenne river, 100 miles from here, has had a big feast and sun dance, lasting since Sunday. A large number of persons went from this city to see the doings, knowing that several companies of troops were stationed there, but when they reached the Cheyenne river they found it so swollen that it was impossible to cross. The hostiles warned them that if any attempt was made to cross the river serious results would follow.

On general improvements the company will expend over $10,000 this season. A committee has been appointed to choose a site for a depot, and a handsome structure of this kind will be built and a suburban train service will be instituted. At least twenty-five contracts have been made for houses to be erected at Spirit Lake this year, these building to cost from $2000 to $10,000 apiece.

"It is probable," said C. E. Lovett, vice-president of the company, "that we will build a summer hotel at Spirit Lake this year. Our plans call for a buildings to cost something like $20,000, and it will make Spirit Lake one of the best summer resorts in the Northwest."

Last Night's Session.

At the Catholic hall last evening John Flood acted as toastmaster and welcomed the Hibernians to Duluth. He introduced Bishop McGolrick, who was the first speaker of the evening. He gave the Hibernians a cordial and hearty welcome. He prophesied, for the benefit of the Twin city delegates, that there could be no doubt that the time was coming when the Twin cities will dwindle and that Duluth will loom up as a Chicago of the Northwest. "For twenty years and over," said he, referring to an editorial in a Minneapolis paper, "I have worked for Minneapolis, but within the last few weeks, since coming to Duluth, as you have probably seen by the papers, I am an enemy. Since coming to this city I have been stigmatized as trying to keep you in complete ignorance and let you know nothing of the sciences and scriptures because I could better ride rough-shod over you. I have always been friendly to the public schools in Minneapolis and was hoping that some member of the congregation would start up and contradict statements made to the contrary. He felt gratified to be able to say to his hearers that there were a great many people in Duluth who did not believe all the bad things that have recently been said against him. The bishop said that this closed his remarks on this subject once and for all. Continuing, he said: "You have my warm and hearty co-operation and blessing in your work."

Mrs. Dr. Phelan then favored the audience with a solo which received a merited encore, to which she responded, at the close of which she received a basket of flowers. E. G. Darragh of St. Paul, was introduced and spoke on: "Young Men as Hibernians." His speech was well delivered and was interesting and instructive.

S. A. Thompson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, rendered the song of his own composition, entitled, "The Day I Left Ireland." Pierce Butler, another brilliant young man of St. Paul, spoke very wittily. A declamation by Master Tommy Chalmers was next in order. W. W. Morgan of Minneapolis came next, and, upon being introduced, took the subject of previous speeches for his theme. Miss Farrell next rendered "The Last Rose of Summer" in a charming manner, and was also the recipient of a beautiful basket of flowers. T. P. Dwyer of Minneapolis was called upon. He refused to speak long.

BRIBERY EXPOSED.

Nicely Cooked Plan of the Book Trust Dished Up.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 11.—T. H. Leach of Vancouver, a member of the state board of education announced to the board yesterday that he had been offered $5000 as a bribe to bring about a reconsideration of the recent action of the board in regard to text books. He also laid before the board a check for the money drawn in his favor by C. Eames, on the First National bank of Portland, Ore.

Last Thursday the board adopted text books for the state, the American Book company representing the book trust, receiving about 28 per cent of the awards. Two members of the board voted constantly for all the trust books. The trust agent, represented by Eames, who is connected with a detective agency in Portland, was to buy Leach to move for reconsideration so far as readers and arithmetics were concerned, which would give the trust houses 80 per cent of the awards. Leach was promised $5000 and certain other considerations.

Leach moved to reconsider Monday. The motion was accepted and the matter left open. He then received the check and exposed the plot yesterday. The board promptly reaffirmed its action of last Thursday and passed resolutions condemning the American Book company.

SUBMIT IT TO PEOPLE.

A Project to Submit the Lottery Question to Louisiana at Large.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 11.—W. A. Crandall, chairman of the democratic state central committee, last night wrote a letter to State Senator Foster, leader of the anti-lottery faction in the legislature, suggesting a means of settling the lottery question and avoiding dissensions within the party ranks.

He wants the state central committee to convene within ten days, and wants it to order primary elections throughout the state at which white people only will be allowed to participate, the said election to be held within thirty days, and if a majority voting at the primaries favor the submission of the lottery amendments to the people, the governor is to call a special session of the legislature for that purpose within thirty days after the said election. "You will, of course, understand," writes he, "that in order to carry out the above suggestion the co-operation of the government will be necessary." The lottery amendment was introduced in the house Monday, and was referred to a special committee without opposition.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Adverse reports were made in the senate from the finance committee on Mr. Stanford's bill for government loans on liens of real estate and on the bill to abolish metal money and the bills were indefinitely postponed. On motion of Mr. Edmunds a senate bill extending the criminal jurisdiction of the circuit and district court to the great lakes and their connecting waters, was taken from the calendar and passed. Mr. Morrill, from the committee on finance reported back favorably and with sundry amendments, the house silver bill, and gave notice that at the proper time he would offer it as a substitute for the senate bill. The senate silver bill was taken up and Mr. Eustis addressed the senate.

The senate committee on finance amended the house silver bill. The provision making the certificates issued in payment of bullion legal tender for public and private debts was struck out leaving them receivable for customs, taxes and public dues. The bullion redemption clause was stricken out, also the section providing for free coinage of silver whenever the market price is $1 for 371¼ grains of pure silver. This act is made to take effect thirty days after passage and shall terminate at the expiration of ten years therefrom.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

A violent shock of earthquake has occurred at Opoliga and other towns in the department of Jura, France.

Married.

RICHIE-PERRY—Last night at the residence of the bride's father, J. N. Richie, Miss Lillie Richie and Mr. Adam P. Perry.

There were very many friends of the bride and her husband present at the ceremony, and Miss Richie was given away by her father. She received many expressions of good wishes and the groom many congratulations from friends. Presents were very many and very nice, and were received from white and colored friends both here and elsewhere. The bridesmaid was Miss Thompson of St. Paul, while Mr. Newsome was best man. The bride was attired in cream satin, with veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The parlors were prettily decorated in similax and cut flowers.

Visiting Their Properties.

A number of Ishpeming iron men arrived in Duluth yesterday and left in the afternoon for the East Vermilion, where they have large interests. Those who are now on the range are interested in properties near Ely, the Bessemer, Harvey and Long Lake Iron companies.

SOME DAKOTA ROBBERS.

Participants in the Robbery of a Northern Pacific Train.

Wanted to Rob Passengers Also; $10,000 From the Express.

DICKINSON, N. D., June 11.—Intence excitement prevailed here last evening when the news spread that Sheriff Hayes of this county, had captured one of the participants in the robbery of the Northern Pacific at New Salem last Sunday. The sheriff and two other men arrived with the prisoner and lodged him in jail.

In crossing Drummond river, eighty miles from here, the robber's horse was injured, compelling him to stop in his flight, and when the officers first discovered him yesterday morning he made a desperate effort to escape, but after a race of several miles, seeing that escape was impossible, he surrendered.

He supposed that his time had come to die and gave some valuable information showing that the robbery of the train had been deliberately planned. He gave his name as Charles E. Bailey.

There were five men in the band, two of whom came from the west on the train they assisted in robbing. The other three were in readiness at the scene of the robbery with horses, and after the job was completed, the three latter started south and separated when a few miles out, one going towards the Missouri river, one west and the prisoner was making for the Black Hills.

The two who came from the West, remained on the train and from what the prisoner says there is no doubt that it was their intention to rob the passengers, but for some reason this was abandoned. The prisoner offered the sheriff $1000 to release him.

Sheriff Hayes left again last night to attempt the capture of the bandit who started East. The prisoner claimed he was under obligation to assist the others, but he is a desperate looking man and evidently a desperado. When captured he was supplied with a fifty pound sack of flour and some bacon, and could have subsisted two weeks on the provisions he had.

The country south of here is almost barren of settlement, and the sheriff is deserving of much credit for his success.

Express Robbery.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 11.—Yesterday morning an express car attached to the north-bound train was robbed between Camden and Texarakana by four masked men and $10,000 taken. Express Messenger Nesbitt was killed.

At Little Falls.

The republican committee for the Fifth congressional district met at St. Cloud yesterday, and decided to hold their convention at Little Falls, September 4. There is a quiet movement on foot for the nomination of Knute Nelson.

A LEGAL FIGHT.

Small Stockholders in the Chicago Yards will Resort to Law.

CHICAGO, June 11.—A morning paper says that there will be a fight on the part of the smaller stockholders in the Stock Yards company against being frozen out at a loss by the big stockholders is now beyond doubt. At an informal discussion last night a fight was decided upon, and it is highly probable that before the week ends, possibly Thursday, legal process will be commenced against Nathaniel Taylor, John B. Sherman, the City of London Contract company and others interested, enjoining them from putting a mortgage upon the yards' property for the purposes intended, namely, to enable the foreign company to acquire the stock.

The case is identical with the gas trust matter, and the law will probably protect the smaller who have purchased stock at an advanced price and are to all appearances at the mercy of the larger holders, who have purchased stock at a point below par.

National Temperance Congress.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Nearly every seat in the Brooklyn tabernacle was occupied at 10 o'clock this morning when Hon. Neal Dow opened the great national temperance congress with an address on "State and National Prohibition." Among those supporting him on the platform were Gen. Fiske of New Jersey, Rev. Joseph Cook, Gen. Green Clay Smith of Kentucky, ex-President McCosh of Princeton college, Hon. C. C. Bonney, Chicago; Judge Noah Davis, Howard Crosby. In the audience, which was one of the largest ever assembled in this country to discuss the temperance question, were representatives of every shade of anti-liquor views. The aim of the convention is to discuss the moral, legal religions, and legislative aspects of temperence reform. The convention will last two days.

Grant and Lee.

IDDLESBORO, Ky., June 11.—A movement is on foot here to erect a colossal monument on Pinnacle rock on the top of Cumberland Gap mountain in memory of Gens. U. S. Grant and R. E. Lee. Pinnacle rock is 3000 feet above the sea and 2000 feet above the surrounding country. To reach it one must pass through Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee, as they corner very near. The matter was started by the ex-Confederate and G. A. R. soldiers here, who subscribed several thousand dollars. The plan is to call on the old soldiers all over the country to contribute.

Valuable Discovery.

DRUMMOND, Wis., June 11.—A very rich strike of copper ore has been made on a farm west of here and near Eau Claire lake. The vein was traced three miles and the find is creating great excitement. A new range is to be opened there to be called Allouez, though it is properly an extension of the Gogebic range.

Ran With Rings.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The familiar old game was worked on the jewelry firm of Shrouds & Kasper, in State street, yesteday afternoon. A well dressed young man desired to see some diamond rings. When a tray full was placed before him he picked up three, valued at about $1200, and darted out of the store. Three clerks pursued him but he made his escape in the crowd of shoppers on the street and has not been caught.

NO SPACE TO WASTE.

The Herald does not propose to waste any time or space in wrangling with any other newspaper in this city over any matter, and nailing lies about it is tiresome and profitless to the public or itself. But it takes its space for once to hang up the particular lie which is published in The News this morning as a sample exhibit of the stuff which The Herald declines to notice not because it has a glimmer of truth in it, but because it is too contemptible for reputation.

"The Hibernians were in town yesterday and The Evening Herald told what it didn't know about the public schools in such a manner as to give people the impression that it favored their suppression. But that was not the fact. The Herald was only indulging in its favorite act of fence-riding in order to please the boys. If, instead of the Ancient Order of Hibernians there happened to be a convention of Methodist ministers in town, The Herald would have wobbled over just a little on the other side of the fence. Not possessing any local circulation, because of its namby-pamby views on local subjects, The Herald has to depend on street sales and therefore goes with the crowd that happens to be on the street.

It is known, of course, to every reader of The Herald that on Friday and Monday last as well as yesterday, The Herald stated as positively as words could state its unwavering faith in the common unsectarian school as "the corner stone of democracy and union," and declared that "the view of Bishop McGolrick as to the value of this republic of the free to all unsectarian school was directly opposed to that of The Herald and we hope to the great majority in this republic now and forever." Only willful misrepresentation could distort this position, and The News shows by its comment that it is willing to stoop to just such willful misrepresentation.

For the sake of common fairness The Herald stated yesterday the exact claim and position of the Catholic church as represented by Archbishop Ireland and Bishop McGolrick touching the use of the Bible in the public schools and the need of parochial schools to supply an alleged lack in the public school training. For this offense it is stoned by The News and it expects to be stoned by everyone without any idea of common fairness. It does not care a straw for such stoning and is entirely willing to lose any subscriber or reader who is not willing to see the truth stated fully and frankly. If a fair presentment of both sides of any question is standing on the fence then The Herald is glad that it does stand on such a fence of justice to all.

As to the general position of The Herald on public questions, its readers know that since the day when its present editor took charge of the paper by lease it has been unqualifiedly a straight republican newspaper, heartily in favor of the American system of protection and loyal to its party, though not hesitating to mark out bluntly what seemed to it errors in its conduct from top to bottom. It has, furthermore, been loyal in every word and thought to Duluth and to Duluth's best interests, first, last and all the time. That is its platform, and it submits to every man of sober judgment whether that platform is an objectionable "fence." It does not glory in mugwump vanity itself, but it disputes the right of no paper to stand on its head and kick its legs by turns at democrat and republican. It has not represented this city as smeared all over with stinking blots and run by an unscrupulous gang, but it has never contested the privilege of any other paper to ladle out bile in room of news. It has not cared to put gall and spite in place of circulation, but it is glad at any time to welcome any impartial comparative investigation.

The general government declines to accept the canal lots offered by the city, as officially reported in The Herald today. Uncle Sam is getting uncommonly particular in refusing to take anything with a string tied to it.

Governor Hill of New York has signed a bill exempting editors, editorial writers and reporters of the daily press from jury duty. The newspaper workers of that state are heartily to be congratulated on being relieved from the annoyance of being placed on jury lists. From the nature of their occupation they were unfitted for jury service, since they were invariably familiar with the facts at issue and had preconceptions which incapacitated them for filling the box. They were invariably excused by the judges, but the attendance upon court involved the frittering away of time which they could ill afford to spare from their daily work. Oh, would that some legislator would rise up in Minnesota who will introduce a similar measure.

The improved tone of the iron market has a lasting quality; the confidence of iron manufacturers has been restored, and there is every reason to believe that the iron business will, for the season at least, continue in a most satisfactory condition. The iron makers of Pittsburgh are imbued with a wholesome spirit, and the fact that they are refusing to make contracts at the present figures augurs well. Bessemer iron was quoted at the end of the first week in May at $17.50 a ton; now the price is $19 to $19.25. Steel rails have improved in price from $1.50 to $2 a ton, and steel blooms and billets have also gone up. Reports from various points reflect the improvement at Pittsburgh, but while the East has felt the better spirit, prices in that section have not yet responded to it. In the South the furnacemen have all the orders they can fill during June, and the iron manufacturers there are reported to have established a policy of making sure of their position before they demand higher figures. Viewed from every side, the condition of the iron and steel market is very satisfactory, and with the lesson of the boom of last fall still a smarting reminder, the iron manufacturers are in a position to establish the market on a solid basis.

At a time when so many are building houses here the latest expert judgment on the rod which has been stuck up over so many houses in the past is worth noting. An expert who is fit to pass judgment writes to The Manufacturers Gazette to smash the lightning-rod folly from end to end. The common iron rod, according to him, is worse than useless. To be of service at all a copper rod should be at least three-fourths of an inch in diameter, and an iron rod, owing to its inferior conductivity, at least eight times as large. Insulation by glass, as commonly attempted, is totally inadequate. A spark from an ordinary induction coil will pierce glass one-eighth of an inch thick and wood or paper two or three times thicker. "Now compare," he says, "such a diminutive spark with a discharge of lightning, which has been known to reach one mile in length. If the spark of the induction coil, measuring two or three inches in length, pierces glass or wood as above, what must be the insulation required to control a spark or discharge half a mile to a mile in length, with all the batteries of the sky, and with an electromotive force millions of times beyond the computation of man? It is apparent that the usual insulators used on buildings must be entirely inadequate for such a purpose." He concludes, therefore, that the ordinary rod is of no value for protection and a dangerous fixture in so far as it attracts at all. For its attracting power will only serve to draw lightning to a house which might otherwise waste itself harmlessly. The Herald notes with satisfaction how few of these worthless iron fire catchers there are in Duluth, and hopes to see no more fooling with them.

SEEN AND HEARD.

When people read the paragraphs in the funny papers about the buttons and the punched and the counterfeit coins which are dropped in the contribution boxes, they usually give the man who wrote the article credit for drawing largely upon his imagination. The fact is, however, that the truth is funnier than all the humorous men's fictions. The treasurers of nearly every church in the city receive regularly a lot of punched and counterfeit coins on which they realize not much more than half their face value. The treasurer of one of the best known churches in the city showed me a collection of punched coins the other day, the face value of which amounted to about $10, and all of which were put into the contribution boxes in one month. A queer looking collection it was, too. There were coins representing nearly every civilized nation in the world. Among the collection were German pfennings, English sixpences, shillings and half-crown pieces, and a sixpence struck in honor of Queen Victoria in the year of her jubilee; French fifty-centime pieces of the time when Napoleon ruled that country and pieces of the same denomination struck since the country became a republic; lots of Norwegian small pieces, Mexican coins, pieces from Venezuela, and from numerous other countries.

Of mutilated pieces the largest was a United States half dollar; there were several of these. There were a number of quarters, dimes, half-dimes, five-cent and three-cent silver and nickel pieces and copper one-cent pieces, all mutilated, either by having a hole punched in them or a piece cut out of the edge. Each hole was carefully plugged with lead so that the sharp-eyed collector would not observe that the piece was mutilated unless he inspected it closely. There were more dimes than pieces of all the other denominations put together. No doubt many of these pieces have an interesting history, for the reason that many of them contain monograms, and during the time that bangle bracelets were the rage they undoubtedly adorned some fair wrist. Some of them were undoubtedly tokens of love, and how they found their way into the contribution box will probably remain a mystery. Perhaps some of them were spent in dire necessity and finally reached the contribution box after passing through several hands. Maybe some of them were spent for caramels by a proud beauty to show her disdain for her former admirer. Possibly some of them were lost.

"What beautiful lawns some Duluth people have," remarked an out of town landscape gardner to a friend on the street. "The terrace work especially is fine, and I like it better where there is no retaining wall. Some of those who are sodding are making a great mistake and will regret it in the future too. Those sods are full of lawn grass, June grass, buffalo grass, dandelion and almost all kinds of trash that is an eyesore to lawns. Take the average lawn grass, for instance. It grows at an angle and lays almost flat on the ground. The mower won't touch it until the grass is long enough to make your yard look like a school boy's head with his hair uncombed. There is nothing for lawns like the old fashioned timothy raised from the seed. It is the richest, darkest green of any and with proper care will grow as evenly as the nap of velvet.

The gambler and his ilk kept rather shy yesterday, and very few of his persuasion were conspicuous at the old resorts. Chief McQuape's prompt action in making the early arrests was the right thing at the right time.

CAUGHT ON THE PENCIL TIP.

M. O. Hall: I have just returned from a business trip through the western and southwestern parts of the state and the Red River valley. I never saw crops looking bettter than they are this year in all the sections that I visited. The rains have been general and the seed is catching well. They had good crops in some parts of the North Dakota last year but there is a prospect of a good yield all through this section this year. The encouraging outlook has created a good demand for farming lands.

Health Inspector Rossiter: The mortuary record for May is an interesting document. It shows that there are no diseases prevalent in the city at present. This must certainly be due to good sanitary conditions. It is also an astonishing fact that so far this month, only two deaths have been reported, and one of these was accidental.

A Rochester man: The Memorial day address by Senator Whiteman at Rochester was the finest speech ever delivered in our city on a similar occasion.

IN LOBBY AND CORRIDOR.

The presence of three such popular clerks as "Johnny" Langton, "Clara" Raedt and "Danny" Palmer has conduced to no small extent to the popularity of The Spalding. Langton and Raidt have been with Landlord Emerson since the opening of the house, and it shows his perspicacity that he has surrounded himself with such well-liked lieutenants.

The watermelon crop of Georgia and Florida this year is estimated at 10,000,000 melons.

The beech is said to be crowding out all other trees in the struggle for existence in the Danish forests.

Dr. Chascot, the eminent scientist at the head of the Saltpetriere hospital, Paris, has finished a long series of experiments in hypnotism, and gives it as his opinion that not more than one person in 100,000 is subject to the influence.

Plans are being perfected by a Roman ministerial committee for the building of a central port in the Azov sea in the Bay of Bielossaray and four moles in the Gulf of Taganrog, at a distance of forty versts apart. The expense will exceed 18,000,000 roubles, or about $13,000,000.

Phonography is fast becoming one of the standard branches of education in Great Britain. From returns made, though incomplete, it appears that in the first quarter of this year the teachers of phonography had under instruction, in the whole of Great Britain, 34,739 males and 3028 females, a total of 37,767, while the number under instruction during the whole of last year was 44,630.

A MASK OF GOLD.

[E. W. Shurtleff.]

Rich satins decked her form with charms elate,
Her step was grand, her features cold, her mien
As high as that of any jewelled queen.
Admiring throngs dropped roses at her gate,
Where liveried servants stood in humble wait.
But hush! Death came, a silent guest unseen,
He stilled the scene where revelry had been,
And left the proud to mourn in icy state.
She left her glory to the greedy world,
Her gilded halls, her treasuries impearled;
But while her golden knell on earth was tolled,
Her long neglected soul, with penury shod,
Disguised no more in shining masks of gold,
Stood like a beggar, pleading alms of God.

Kicking at Haugen.

Superior Inter-Ocean: After reading the proceedings of the day in the house on the occasion of the knocking out the provision for a survey of this harbor, we can only express the most complete surprise at the lack of information possessed by our own congressman about the situation. Last week's Inter-Ocean supported Mr. Haugen for a re-nomination, in the friendly belief that he had done his whole duty in this matter, but now we find it impossible to express any but the most sincere regret that such record does not support the theory that Mr. Haugen did not do his whole duty.

AT BROOKLYN YARD.

Kaleidoscopic Sights of Beauty at the Big Navy Yard.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The navy yard has put on its beauty today, and will, for the next three or four weeks, be a sort of kaleidoscope. It exhibits to the eye a great variety of beautiful colors and symmetrical forms of naval architecture and naval weapons. There is the coming and going of the modern and the ancient—if a vessel built twenty years ago may be called ancient. There is the stately white Baltimore, with its steel hull, its heavy armor belt, its breech-loading rifles, rapid firing and machine guns and torpedoes; and there is the old frigate Minnesota, now used as a ship to train American boys to become good and worthy seamen, with her old smooth-bore guns. There is the trim white-painted Dolphin—as its name implies, a swift swimming and beautifully formed vessel—recently returned from a 58,000 miles' cruise, a vessel of the modern steel construction with the latest improved fighting fittings, as the Baltimore also has; and there is the Kearsarge. Then there are the great ironclad monitors, now being completed.

The seamen on the Yantic are ready to sail, and today go down the bay to take ammunition on board and to wait for the apprentice boys whom she is to take on a cruise. The old sailing-ship Monongahela, which has been used as a storeship for the Pacific squadron for several years, will arrive here within the next few weeks. She left San Francisco for New York on March 28, and she will probably be the last United States navy vessel to round Cape Horn. It was this vessel which in February, 1889, started from Mare island for Samoa with supplies for the crews of the vessels which had been wrecked there during a hurricane, and which was believed to have been lost because of the long time she was at sea without being heard from.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Wharton Parker of Philadelphia, has organized a great American and European banking company, with capital of $25,000,000, one-half of which is to be issued at once. The company will conduct a general financial business, with many branch offices.

The supreme court of California reversed the judgment of the lower court granting alimony and council fees to Sarah Althea Sharon in her well-known divorce case against Wm. Sharon. The alleged contract of marriage, on which she based her claims, was declared by the United States circuit court in 1886, a forgery.

The Louisiana lottery admits its defeat. Its bill was read a second time in the house and referred to the packed committee appointed last week. John A. Morris has made a proposition to withdraw his bill from the legislature if the democratic state committee will order a democratic primary election on the subject within the next sixty days, and the governor will promise to convene the legislature in extra session in the event that a majority votes for the lottery.

Wherever Malaria Exits,

The bilious are its certain prey. In intermittent and remittent fever, dumb ague and ague cake, the liver is always seriously affected, and the blood contaminated with bile. One of the chief reasons why Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such a sure defense against chills and fever and every form of malarial disease is, that it does away with liability to the disease, by reforming irregularity of the biliary organ in advance of the arrival of the season when the disease is prevalent. There is no finer fortifying preparative for those about visiting or emigrating to a locality where the miasma-taint exists. There is no certain immunity from disease in an endemic or epidemic form, to be secured by the use of the average tonic and anti-spasmodics. But where quinine fails the Bitters succeeds, both in preventing and curing. Moreover, it removes every vestige of dyspepsia, and overcomes constipation, rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, and tranquilizes and strengthens the nervous system.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan—one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

AT WORK NIGHT AND DAY

Grading of the Duluth & Winnipeg is Proceeding Rapidly.

Tracklaying in Ten Days; Surfacing East of La Prairie.

Work on the Duluth & Winnipeg road is going on rapidly and satisfactorily, except that the recent rains have filled up the swamps and rendered grading a little more difficult. There are now over a thousand men at work on the line northwest of La Prairie and Grand Rapids, and they are grading the road close along behind the locating engineers. The road runs, as was first and exclusively told by The Herald a few weeks ago, northwest of La Prairie to the center of Red Lake and then to the lower end of the Northwest Angle.

The locating engineers are pushing along, and enough has been learned to show that there will be no difficulty from the swamps that were feared in the original line south of the Mississippi river and west of Itasca. These swamps are very deep, and it has been claimed by the Great Northern people cannot be crossed by railways. The new route avoids them all.

On the line east of La Prairie and toward Cloquet, ballasters are at work and a steam shovel is rapidly bringing the road up to grade. It has been expected that track-laying on the extension toward the boundary would begin on the 15th, but it is hardly probable it will commence so soon. The large purchase of steel rails, made some time ago, will begin to arrive at the end of the track in a few days and will be distributed along as quickly as may be. The contractors and the railway company expect to get the road through to its connection at the boundary at the time heretofore set.

"About thirty miles have already been graded on the extension," said a local officer of the North Star Construction company this morning. "A thousand men are working on parts of the line night and day, and the grading will be done as fast as men and supplies can be furnished. Another gang of men is surfacing the completed road, and twenty-five miles are already completed and the line will be surfaced by July 1, making as good a piece of track as can be found in the Northwest.

"We will begin laying rails by the 22nd of this month, north of La Prairie. The Pennsylvania Steel company begun rolling the iron the 5th of June at its Steelton mills, and will begin shipping rails this week. We are, in fact, expecting a cargo at any time now." The North Star Construction company is getting its offices in the Hoppman building in shape, and Mr. Callahan, the construction agent, H. P. Haskell, right-of-way agent, Mr. Knowlton and Trainmaster McManus now have their headquarters there.

A HARVEST DAY.

The Most Business the Municipal Court has Ever Known.

The circus day harvest of bums, gathered in by the officers was a large one, so large in fact that they were brought into court in two installments. There were thirteen upon whom circus lemonade had gotten in its deadly work. "I was drunk all right enough," responded Thomas Ludgent when his name was called. "Sure thing," said John Burke, in response to the same question. John McCort, Thomas Spencer, Robert Hayes and Daniel Carroll, all plain drunks, were fined the usual amounts. John O. Johnson was not only drunk, but he used abusive language and drove too fast. He admitted everything and was fined $12. Erick Anderson had the additional charge of indecent exposure and paid $12. M. Christianssen was fighting on the streets, but was bested by the officers, and he has gone into fourteen days' training with the street gang. John Anderson charged with the same offense plead not guilty and will have an examination. James Burke said he was not drunk, in fact had drank only three glasses of beer. His case was continued. Pat Farrell, a drunk, is sparring with little green devils and boa constrictors at the lockup and was unable to appear in court, likewise John Williams, Peter Burke and John Johnson, vags, went out for four days. "I'll tell you how it was judge," said John Galvin when his name was called to answer to the charge of vagrancy. "I just got out of jail, and I wanted to head myself out of the city, but they didn't give me a chance." His story will be continued tomorrow. Martin Ryan was in the row, but his name was not on the books and he was allowed to go. Louis Lussener paid $5 for keeping an unlicensed dog.

Geo. Wood, Wm. Martin, Pat Carroll, Napoleon Botan, Ed Anderson, Jas. Brennan, Dan McClow, Ben Dimon and Chas. Cohen, who were surprised in a little game Monday night, plead guilty and drew a rebate of $5 from $25 bail, deposited by each. Wm. Tonguay and Dave Bolier plead not guilty and Geo. White failed to appear. This concluded the list, by far the largest number ever arraigned in the municipal court in one day.

ARE GETTING THROUGH.

Several Enumerators Done; Others Will Have Not Enough Time.

Saturday of this week is the limit of time given by the census bureau to complete the enumeration and several of the Duluth enumerators have completed their work. Superintendent Stulz today finished up and filed his blanks while several others are about through. But others are not so well along and as it looks now an extension of a few days will have to be asked for a few. The census is expected to show 42,000 to 44,000 people, and according to estimates made carefully, the number of names taken daily averages 150 to 180. This for fourteen days, the full term, or for twelve days, probably a more correct average, would equal 42,200. This is probably as good a preliminary estimate as can be made.

Handsome Flats.

Ground was broken yesterday for a new row of flats to be built on the corner of Fourth street and First avenue west by Jos. Mannheim and M. Haug. The plans are not yet completed, but they are far enough along to show that the building will be a great addition to this part of the city. It will be two stories high built of pressed brick and brownstone. There will be two store-rooms on Fourth street with flats above, and in the rear of the stores running back to the alley will be a row of tenements. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000.

WEST END.

Circus Theories Numerous; Personal Mention; Notes of News.

The circus has come, has gone, and has made lots of money. It also brought a lot of prisoners to the West End station, the biggest part of whom were drunks. Two men came with broken arms, one having been broken in attempt to steal a watch at a Superior street saloon, the other in a street fight. A farmer from Hermantown came in to see the animals loaded on to the cars, and as a result lost two buffalo robes. Gust Lundmann's house on Garfield avenue was broken into and a watch and chain taken. The circus people themselves missed two good overcoats.

Charles C. Shapleigh of Crookston is here visiting with old friends.

Mrs. Emma Olson returned last night from a three months' visit in the southern part of the state.

Mrs. Hulberg, Aug. Hulberg, her son, and Miss Gertie Olson arrived from Farmington last night, Mr. Hulberg and Miss Olson having been visiting friends there.

Julius Larson and Miss Anna Severson arrived from Christiania, Dakota county, and are visiting with Larson, the Superior street grocer.

The reason that there was no balloon ascension yesterday was because the ballon was burned. A darkey was placed under the balloon to attend to the manufacturing of hot air but the flame got the better of him. His cries of "Help," "Pull me out," were heard when the first sheet of flame was seen from the balloon.

Scarlet fever is reported at 11 Twenty-fourth avenue.

The engine house of the Scott-Holston company is nearly completed, brick work having reached the second story.

A PLAIN STATEMENT.

Senator Whiteman Returns and Answers the Late Assaults.

Senator Whiteman returned this morning from the East where he has been for a few days. He was shown the articles which appeared in yesterday's papers and made the following statement:

"The action is, of course, no surprise to me. It is something of which I have been apprised for a long time. The motion was to be argued on Monday, and my attorney, Judge Flandrau, was here to contest the motion. It is a simple case of blackmail. To a man of sensitive nature, it is most disagreeable to say anything upon such a subject. The matter has attained such publicity that it seems not only a matter of justice to myself, but to others who are interested that a true statement of the case should be made.

"I married the plaintiff in this action nine or ten years ago, and separated from her in six weeks from the time we were married. As the papers now in the possession of Judge Stearns will show, I brought an action in the supreme court of New York for an absolute divorce on the ground of adultery. The complaint was duly served on Miss Clark. No defense was attempted. On ample proof and testimony the decree was granted in 1884. The evidence in the case is with the papers and is irrefutable.

"The decree of divorce granted by the supreme court of New York, refused the defendant permission to marry again, but she claims afterwards to have done so in South Carolina. Her adulteries with two or three men were open, and it was not until 1887 that I ever saw her. I never lived with her after I was divorced from her. She commenced a system of blackmail in 1888, to which I submitted for some time, and about eight months ago, she threatened to bring such an action as she has now attempted to bring, and for the sake of others nearer and dearer to me, I consented to pay her $3000 in full of all demands of every name and nature. This agreement was duly executed at my attorney's office in St. Paul. Within three months she again made further demands which were refused and ever since have been refused. Blackmailers do not stay bought, and on the advice of my counsel and those who are nearest and dearest to me, we decided to pay no more money to avoid publicity of any kind.

"It is hardly necessary for me to say to my friends that in my position and with my resources, I would not allow such an action, or any action of a similar nature, in which there were the least grounds for the charges made, to be brought. Had there been the slightest possibility that the motion made by her attorneys, would be allowed, I would have effected a settlement at once. There is no truth whatever in the charges made, and it is blackmail pure and simple. After a most careful consideration and a full knowledge of the effect and result of such an action, I conclude to pay anything for defense but not one cent for tribute. The case was thrown out of court, and I would only say to anyone who has sufficient interest to examine the papers that they have only to examine them to be convinced of the statements herein made. I think some of the newspapers might have been a little more considerate than they were, and I have no doubt they would have been had I been here at the time.

"It is with much reluctance that I make this statement, and were I alone interested in the verdict of public opinion I should remain silent, as I have always done before where my individual interests were concerned. My immediate friends have known of the threatened proceedings for a long time, and it was on their unanimous advice that I refused to accept the offers made for further immunity from a most disagreeable notoriety, and it was in justice to one who is dearer to me than life itself that I boldly faced false and slanderous charges, which could never be proven or sustained.

"I quote the following from a letter received from my attorneys, Flandrau, Squires & Cutcheon of St. Paul, under date of May 13, 1890:

"Our Mr. Flandrau has just returned from New York, where he has made a thorough examination of all the papers in the case of Whiteman vs. Whiteman. Everything is perfectly straight as far as you are concerned, and there is not the slightest possibility of any flaw in your proceedings on the decree. You might as well make up your mind to face the music. Blackmailers never stay bought. Against our advice you paid this woman $3000 last October and took a receipt in full of all demands of every name and nature. This woman has no claim upon you whatever, and if you continue to pay money to keep out of the newspapers, you might as well make up your mind to pay for the next twenty years, or as long as she lives. She has no grounds whatsoever for an action; her only motive must be revenge. She can never have any standing in any court in the country, on that question we are willing to stake our professional reputation."

TO FISHERMEN.

A Chance to Get a Splendid Trout Outfit; Sporting News.

As an incentive to fishermen and to further a manly sport, The Herald offers a split bamboo pole, click reel and fine trout line, secured from the fine stock of Boyce & Totman, corner of Fourth avenue and West Superior street, and guaranteed by this firm to be all represented, to The Herald subscriber securing, between May 19 and the end of the legal trout season, the largest brook trout caught by rod and line.

If possible, the fish must be weighed by a Herald representative, and all weights not seen must be guaranteed and vouched for by witnesses or on the affidavit of the catcher. The prize will be exhibited in Boyce & Totman's window after today. Call and take a look at it, then go out and catch a trout that will bring you this splendid outfit.

COMES APPARENTLY DIRECT.

A Well-Known Duluthian Responsible for an Important Statement.

The members of the Minnesota Iron company by no means informed Duluth reporters of all of its doings at Monday's annual meeting. For the past year various rumors have been going the rounds regarding the establishment at Two Harbors or elsewhere in this neighborhood of a rolling mill and steel plant by the stockholders of the Iron company. A morning contemporary has stumbled over the news and today rightly remarked that such mills must have Gogebic ores to mix with the Minnesota ores, and the distance from Ashland across would not justify shipping by water, hence the other alternative of drawing around by rail through Duluth to Two Harbors. Duluth is too great a rail and water and shipping center to be passed by in a case of this nature. A few miles out will do, but twenty-eight miles out on a single line is at too great a disadvantage.

From semi-official authority The Herald received this morning information as to the intentions of the Minnesota Iron company in regard to the recent purchase of the Webb tract for $175,000 by Capt. Sellwood. The Iron company has considered the practicability of putting in an iron plant at Two Harbors, but as the great advantages of this city were compared, the company, so it is said, put Two Harbors out of the question and turned its attention wholly to Duluth, with the result that Capt. Sellwood was authorized to make the purchase of the Webb tract.

The Herald's informant says: "The Minnesota Iron company has bought the Webb tract for the purpose of erecting blast furnaces and a steel plant. This I have from a member of the company. I was talking with a member of the Iron company Monday afternoon. 'It is probable,' he said, 'that the Minnesota Iron company will build a rolling mill at West Duluth. We can find no town that offers half the advantages this city gives. The matter has not been definitely arranged, but it was brought up at the meeting and seriously considered. We intend to purchase a site at once, and will, at a meeting to take place soon in Chicago, formulate plans for the erection of a plant. However, it is improbable that anything will be done on the works this year.'"

A member of the Minnesota Iron company, interviewed on the subject this morning stated that there was as yet nothing to say in regard to what use it was intended to put the property.

Cumulative Investment Company

IN RESPONSE TO THE REPEATED DEmands for more stock in the Conservative Investment Association, a new corporation has been formed on the same principle by some of the officers of the same under the name Cumulative Investment Company.

The object is to give an opportunity for those unable to make large investments on their own account, to pool their issues by contributing monthly to a fund created for investment in real estate. The management of the affairs of the Cumulative will be vested in a board of seven directors who receive no salaries.

The capital stock is $100,000, divided into 2,000 shares of $50 each, payable in monthly installments of $1 per share. Not more than 50 nor less than 10 shares may be held by any one person.

No better opportunity to make small investments pay such large profits, has ever been offered.

The books are now open for subscription of stock. Call or write at once before it is all taken.

A. MACFARLANE, Secretary.

THE THIRD DEGREE DULUTH Encampment will be handled tomorrow night at the Odd Fellows hall. All should be present.

WONT HAVE IT.

The Government Refuses to Take Lots Tied by a String.

The United States government refuses to accept Duluth's deed to canal lots 247 and 260 under the conditions imposed in the deed of gift recently sent to Washington. Under recent date Maj. Quinn received this morning an official notification of this fact from Gen. Casey, chief of engineers.

The letter is as follows: "The decision of the secretary of war and the opinion of the acting judge advocate general having been communicated to municipal authorities of Duluth, a deed has been executed by its mayor and city clerk conveying to the United States lots 247 and 260 on Lake avenue, Upper Duluth, reserving to the city the right to build upon and swing over said lots or any of them a pivotal drawbridge. The war department has reported against granting permission to bridge the entrance to the harbor and the acceptance of the property described in the deed upon the conditions stipulated."

A note at the end of the latter reads: "The secretary of war concurs in the report of the chief of engineers."

Maj. Quinn said that he had nothing whatever to say in regard to the matter.

WORLD OF COMMERCE.

The Bears Have an Inning and Pound Wheat Hard.

Market Active But Lower; Heavy Failure in Chicago.

The market today was very active, but weak and nervous, following closely the Chicago and other markets. The government crop report was much more favorable than was anticipated, showing a decline in the crop condition of only 1.9 points. This, together with news of a heavy failure on the Chicago board, gave the bears an advantage and they hammered industriously.

The opening was ⅛ above Tuesday's close, but a decline immediately set in under free selling orders occasioned by the Chicago failure, the market slumping gradually to 89¼, but firmed up just before the close to 89⅛. The transactions on the board today aggregated fully 750,000 bu.

Cash No. 1 hard closed 87½, cash No. 1 northern, 85½; cash No. 2 northern, 83; June No. 1 hard, 88½; June No. 1 northern, 86½, all nominal; July No. 1 hard, 89½; July No. 1 northern, 87½, nominal; August No. 1 hard, 90¼, nominal; September, 88⅛, nominal; December, 89½, nominal.

Shipments: Flour, 6017 bbls; wheat, 29,375 bu; corn, 28,800 bu.

Curb Notes.

W. G. McCormick & Co. of Chicago, wire W. W. Bill as follows: "It is evident that the wheat traders construed the government report as being bearish, and believe that the 430,000,000 bu, which is meant by that report, is enough to prevent prices soaring skywards. The result has been the toppling of numerous inverted pyramids, and the selling out of long wheat by more prudent operators who are generally bulls on the situation, but still accept the inevitable. The trouble with the market has been, that it was congested by the holdings of parties who have had it at higher prices for the past sixty days, and who have been unwilling to sell at a loss. The further selling of these lots is liable to carry the market still lower. When that time comes purchases will pay, but we expect a further decline before we have any material reaction."

Rumor of the failure of a prominent operator caused great excitement in pork in Chicago today.

The failure of Robert Warren & Co. of Chicago was reported today. Following the report were two sales of "to whom it may concern" on the local board, aggregating 95,000 bu.

The Government Report.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The monthly crop report shows that while several states increased the area of winter wheat last autumn, the heavy reduction by plowing and planting in other crops to replace winter-killed wheat in Illinois and Indiana has reduced the acreage in every state except Kansas and Oregon. The percentages represent the actual area now growing and include all that was seeded last fall, except what has been replaced by other crops. The general average is 91.2, a reduction of 8.8 per cent. of last year's winter wheat area. The percentages of the principal states are as follows: New York, 98; Virginia, 97; Texas, 75; Ohio, 95; Indiana, 89; Missouri, 96; California, 80; Pennsylvania, 99; Georgia, 88; Kentucky, 94; Michigan, 90; Illinois, 76; Kansas, 109; Oregon, 108.

An increase in the acreage of spring wheat is reported, except in Wisconsin and Dakota. The percentages are: Wisconsin, 97; Iowa, 104; the Dakotas, 95; Minnesota, 113; Nebraska, 105. There is also an increase in Colorado, Washington and the territories. The general percentage is 103.8. Taking winter and spring wheat together the percentage of last year's breadth is 95.4, showing a net loss of nearly 1,750,000 acres. The following are some of the spring wheat percentage of condition: Wisconsin, 82; Iowa, 93; Dakota, 90; Minnesota, 97; Nebraska, 85; Colorado, 99.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The following report will appear in this week's Farmers Review: Correspondents scattered throughout Illinois, Indiana and Ohio report that the soil generally is hard and cloddy. Corn and oats are not thriving as they should. In Ohio the condition of wheat has visibly improved. No particular change in Indiana. Illinois reports show a decline of several points. This is in part due to injury by insects

Robert Warren & Co. Fail.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Announcement was made on the board of trade that Robert Warren & Co., one of the oldest houses in the trade, had failed. Liabilities are supposed to be quite heavy. The firm has been long on both wheat and provisions. The announcement caused a break in the articles in which the firm was interested, especially in pork, which momentarily dropped to $11.75. Mr. Warren would give no particulars of his standing. "My money is tied up," he said, "but I guess it will be an even deal."

STEAMSHIP IN THE WATER.

The Steel Steamship 106 is Launched This Afternoon.

Her Powerful Engines; Minor Marine News; The Port List.

A large crowd assembled at and near the McDougall shipyard this afternoon to witness the launch of the steel steamship 106. But little notice had been given of the event, so there was not as large an attendance as otherwise might have been, still the shout that went up as she slid of the ways, shortly after 4 o'clock, showed that voices not a few were there.

The interest of vesselmen centers in the 106 because of the fact that she is the first McDougall craft to be fitted with propelling engines. The boat is the same size and model as the 104 and 105. Her engine is a massive piece of machinery and is as graceful and well proportioned as it is substantial. It is a fore and aft compound, built by the Riverside Iron works of Detroit, Mich., and is one of their standard make. It is constructed with gallows frames of square section, and all working and governing parts are so arranged to be very easy to handle. The high pressure cylinder is fitted with a single porter slide valve and a double porter cut-off valve, adjusted by means of right and left hand screw; the low pressure cylinder is fitted with a double porter rolling valve, adjustable by means of a slot in the reverse arm. The links operating the main valves are of the double bar type, with all parts adjustable for wear. The links are reversed by means of a direct acting steam cylinder controlled by a hydraulic cylinder. Steam is supplied from two Scotch boilers 11 feet in diameter by 11½ feet long, each having two furnaces and tested to 120 pounds pressure to the inch. The propeller wheel to be driven by this engine is 11½ feet in diameter of the Hodge type, and the shaft is a solid piece 10½ inches through.

Marine Notes.

Work on the Chicago shipyard has been almost completed, and the laying of the keel of the first steamer will be commenced soon. General Manager Pankkurst of the Globe yard, said to a Cleveland Leader reporter the other day: "We got right into a hotbed of socialists and anarchists, and if we have any more trouble there I'll shut the yards up till the police are able to give us protection. If it had not been for the fact that I had made a contract which had to be carried out, I would have closed the yards during the carpenters' strike. There has never been a word of complaint among our men here, but would be if we had a crowd of labor agitators around us as there is in Chicago."

When the steamer Viking struck Eagle Harbor reef she ran out five feet forward. Though exposed to very severe weather, in a perilous position, all hands worked incessantly, and jettisoned over 500 tons of iron ore. Friday morning the tugs succeeded in pulling the Viking off, and soon after released the Michigan. The nearest harbor was Copper harbor, thirty miles off, and thither the vessel proceeded.

The Campana had twenty-eight cabin passengers.

The North Wave has again smashed the record for running time from the Sault to Duluth. Capt. Waite shows the log-book of the last trip, which records the time as exactly twenty-three hours and seven minutes.

LAST EDITION.

ON THE LAKE FRONT.

The World's Fair Location Claimed to be Finally Settled.

A Splendid Location Taking in the Entire Lake Front.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The Times asserts that the World fair directors have practically decided to locate the exposition on the lake front. An organized effort has been made, it says, to clear the lake front of all its objectionable features by coming to a definite understanding with the Illinois Central railroad, and with this end in view all other projects, so far as site is concerned, have been left in abeyance.

The formal proposition was made to the railroad officials yesterday. Should it be accepted, it is said that the railroad company will abandon its tracks along the lake front, and leaving the lake shore at Twenty-second street, it will run out into the lake as far as the government pier, thence north just inside the breakwater to a point opposite the foot of Randolph street and thence west to its depots, warehouses and elevators. Inside of the projected new tracks a massive stone wall will be erected high enough to shut out its tracks from view of the Lake Front park. This wall is to be terraced to the westward and ornamented with plants, trees and flowers, so as to present an attractive appearance. Should the proposed plan be carried out, the World's fair site will extend from Randolph street south to the present Illinois Central pier at the foot of Fourteenth street. In consideration of the permanent right of way and the depot site at the foot of Randolph street, acquired by the railroad, it is proposed that the company fill in the basin from Twenty-Second to Fourteenth street. The special merit claimed for this scheme is that it will afford the city one of the most beautiful parks in the world, and that too, in the very heart of the city. It will further forever settle all litigation as to the ground.

SMUGGLING ON BIG STEAMSHIPS.

More Inman Line Employes in Trouble; Some Surprises Expected.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The recent cases of smuggling by petty officers on Inman line steamships culminated today in the arrest of the barkeeper and storekeeper of the City of Chicago, of that line, on an old charge of smuggling. When the City of Chicago arrived at her pier, she was at once boarded by treasury agents, who instituted a search for contraband goods. They then arrested James Leytham, the barkeeper, and Archer, the storekeeper. The special charge upon which these men were held is said to be the smuggling of merchandise on the last trip of the City of Chicago from Liverpool, when a quantity of contraband goods were secreted on the Hoboken pier.

The captain of the City of Chicago seemed much depressed over the arrest of his two subordinates. The general impression prevailed that the arrest of Leytham and Archer was due directly to confessions made by men now confined in Ludlow Street jail for smuggling off the City of New York, to the effect that Leytham and Archer were members of a regular band of smugglers. It was also learned that if certain passengers could be prevailed upon to testify in the case some sensational facts would be learned relative to smuggling on many other ocean steamers.

THE TRANSFER MADE.

Sacs and Foxes Have a Good Bank Account.

SAC AND FOX AGENCY, June 12.—Today the papers transfering 479,668 acres of land to the government will be delivered by the Sac and Fox Indians. The commission concluded its work yesterday. The allotment of lands in severalty to the Indians will be made in the next sixty days.

The Indians have already at Washington $1,000,000, the interest on which brings them $60 per year for each man, woman and child. Under the treaty each person will get 160 acres of land wherever he choses to select it.

The boomers are becoming more numerous daily and the Indians are becoming restless. A delegation of Kickapoos has arrived and are counseling with their attorney relative to meeting the commission before it leaves.

Two Sets of Officers.

WINONA, June 12.—The annual meeting of the Winona City Street Railway company proved to be of an extremely lively nature. Ever since the annual meeting of 1889, when St. Paul gentlemen bought in stock and took a hand in the control of affairs, there has been bad feeling among the stockholders, who have been divided into two factions. The novel spectacle of two presiding officers conducting two conventions at once in the same room for the same purpose made the meeting interesting from the outset. There are thus, if both factions are to be believed, two sets of directors and two sets of officers in the Winona City Railroad company. It is probable the courts will have to settle the dispute.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Mr. Mills of Texas resigned his membership on the committee on rules to which he was appointed yesterday. The resignation was accepted and Mr. McMillan of Tennessee appointed to fill the vacancy. The vote was then taken on agreeing to the conference report on the anti-trust bill, and resulted—25 to 56. Mr. Stewart of Vermont raised the point of no quorum, and the speaker being unable to count a quorum, a call of the house was ordered. A quorum having appeared the conference report was rejected—12 to 115.

No Winnipeg Extensions.

WINNIPEG, June 12.—General Manager Graham stated this morning that the Northern Pacific would not build any road in Manitoba this year, but merely complete the present lines. Mr. Graham says the poor crops last year and the present business outlook do not warrant further extensions this season, but if there are good crops this year the company will do considerable work next year. The company is disappointed at the treatment it has received at Ottawa.

RUSK TALKS.

A New York Interview Construed as a Presidential Pointer.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—There is a good deal of comment in political circles over a published interview with Secretary of Agriculture Rusk, who was in New York last week, and in which he was made to say that in his opinion "President Harrison will not only be renominated but re-elected. There is no doubt but that he is the choice of the people, for he has given a splendid administration and made no mistakes."

Although it has been understood all along that the President discourages all talk having reference to the next election, this utterance from one of his confidential advisers, and a cautious speaker to boot, is taken as indicating that those closest to the President have already adopted his renomination as a part of their program. Were this not so, it is said, Gen. Rusk would not have ventured to make the suggestion that has occasioned so much comment, and which is regarded as semi-authorized.

A Church Anniversary.

READING, Pa., June 12.—One hundred and fifty-five years have elapsed today since the seeds of the Universalist church in this country were planted by Dr. George de Benneville, and today in the old stone mansion near Oley, where he made his first address the event is being observed with appropriate ceremonies. At 10 o'clock this morning the delegates to the state convention now in session here, together with representatives from the churches in Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Iowa, Illinois and other Western states, took carriages for Oley. On arriving at the mansion there were religious exercises, after which Rev. James Shregley of Philadelphia delivered an oration upon the life and times of de Benneville and Mrs. Phoebe B. Hanford of New Haven, Conn., read an original poem. At the conclusion luncheon was served on the grassy bank fronting the mansion and the party returned to Reading.

New Temperance Organization.

NEW YORK, June 12.—A new National Temperance union will be the outcome of the temperance convention which opened yesterday at the Broadway tabernacle. The officers will be elected at the closing session this evening. It is thought that such an organization will command the support of tens of thousands of temperance people who will not affiliate with existing organizations. The main object will be to abolish all license laws, to support measures providing that any person selling liquor on Sundays, on election days, after midnight, or to minors shall be fined and imprisoned; and also providing that any person opening a saloon in any election district against the written protest of a majority of the voters residing in that district, or a majority of the property owners, shall be imprisoned.

Ninth National Y. P. S. C. E.

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—Over 5000 delegates to the ninth annual international convention of the National Young Peoples Society of Christian Endeavor are in the city. They come from nearly every state and territory in the United States and represent 5000 societies, with an aggregate membership of over 800,000 The convention will be called to order this afternoon, an address of welcome being delivered by Governor Francis and Rev. Dr. Nicholls, and responded to by Rev. Dr. Barrows of Chicago. Tonight Rev. Dr. F. T. Clerk, the president of the national union and the founder of the Christian Endeavor, will deliver the annual address and Rev. Dr. P. S. Henson of Chicago, will preach the annual sermon.

Stockholders Meet.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The offices of the Worlds exposition were crowded this morning with stockholders when Lyman B. Gage called to order the special meeting which had been called to consider the desirability of increasing the capital stock to $10,000,000, and of changing the title to the Worlds Columbian exposition. Most of those present were heavy stockholders, and it was apparent that the bulk of the voting would be done by proxy. The recording of the votes was commenced without delay and the polls will be kept open until 7 o'clock tonight. The indications are that both propositions will be adopted by a unanimous vote.

Encouraging Immigrants.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The department of state has been officially advised of the issue by the Spanish government of a royal decree, article 14 of which states that foreigners emigrating to the island of Cuba as colonists or field workers may introduce into the island, without payment of tariff duties, their baggage, implements, etc., also two head of cattle, horses or mules, and four head of small live stock. The sons of such immigrants are exempt from military service, provided they work four years as agricultural laborers.

Cheyennes on the War Path.

HELENA, Mont., June 12.—The Cheyenne Indians are on the war path. They have left their regular camps, and are gathering into small camps of from fifteen to twenty-five in tepees, and are firing at settlers' houses and making the most threatening demonstrations. Cattle are being shot down by the Indians through pure malice, as no parts of the animals are used for beef. One troop of cavalry and two of infantry have been sent from Ft. Keough to the Cheyenne agency.

Annual West Point Event.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 12.—The graduating exercises of the West Point military academy took place today in the presence of a brilliant throng. Among those present were Secretary of War Proctor, Gens. Schofield and Sherman, George W. Childs, Gen. Hazen, Hon. C. W. Whitney, Mrs. Gen. Grant, Mrs. John A. Logan, Governor Gordon and wife of Georgia, Edward Everett Hale, and visitors from nineteen states.

A Monster Convention.

BROOKLYN, June 12—The largest state Sunday school convention ever held in this country comes to an end this evening after a three days' session. Over 2000 delegates are in attendance. The closing addresses were delivered this afternoon by Mrs. L. C. Roath, Rev. Lindsay Parker and Rev. Drs. J. O. Peck and R. R. Meredith.

Vassar's Twenty-fifth Anniversary.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 12.—Vassar college is twenty-five years old today and the event is being celebrated with appropriate exercises. A large proportion of the 900 living graduates and the 2000 former students are in attendance. This afternoon the venerable historian, J. Benson Lossing, will give an historical sketch, and George William Curtis will deliver the oration.

A Newspaper Man Dies.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Charles R. Dennett, managing editor of The Globe, died suddenly last evening.

KICKER ON THE CENSUS.

So Duluth Proves to be, and in Her Usual Very Lively Way.

Supervisor and His Assistants Held Up For Trouncing.

If Superintendent Porter could have attended the meeting at the chamber of commerce this morning he would have thought that the wheels of the census machine were woefully out of order. About fifty prominent citizens were present and some caustic comments were indulged in about the left handed manner in which the census is being taken in Duluth.

It is a notorious fact that the enumeration is, in some cases at least, being made in a scant and hurried manner. Whole buildings which, while they look like business buildings, have in fact, many roomers, have been passed over without one name being taken from them. Sometimes this is the fault of the enumerators, sometimes of the citizens themselves. There is no question but Duluth is an extremely difficult city in which to procure a correct census list. Fully eighty per cent of the population are foreigners, who do not seem to realize the importance of the census taker's work, or the necessity of answering even the simple question as to their name. Often the foreign born citizen does not understand the questions put to him, and to remedy this the enumerators at St. Paul and Minneapolis are given interpreters.

There is no question, either, but that the reports of the Twin cities are being padded. And they need to be to tally with the 250 odd thousands both cities claim. Instances of this padding were given this morning.

Instead of padding the Duluth census, as it is being taken this town will not be credited with over four-fifths of its proper population. It may not be the fault of the enumerators, but the people of this city should understand that a penalty of $100 is fixed in cases where boarding house keepers or heads of families refuse to answer questions, and that they are liable to prosecution.

The meeting this morning was a vigorous one. Remarks were made by Messrs. Hartley, Baldwin, Geggie, Henry, A. J. Miller, Secretary Thompson and others, and all seemed to think that the Duluth census was being badly handled. Many cases were cited to show that the enumeration was not faithfully made. Residents in the Pastoret-Stenson building, the Ayr and Sherwood boarding houses, the houses of Alderman Long, Charles Moore, William Craig, R. S. Payne and many others have not been visited by enumerators. Many men who have gangs of men at work, have not been called upon. At the meeting at least half those present had not been seen by the enumerators. Mr. Geggie spoke of one case where a house with eleven living in it had not been reported.

Several enumerators present asked to be heard. They said they had met great difficulty in getting the names of foreigners. Many boarding house keepers had refused them information. In some of the houses of wealthy people they had been obliged to go away without receiving responses to their questions. One enumerator had walked up four flights of stairs a dozen times to get at three men.

A committee of three reputable citizens from each of the twenty-four districts was appointed to procure information as to negligence on the part of enumerators, and a meeting called for tomorrow morning, at which Superintendent Smith will be present. The matter will be laid before him, and he will be asked to give Duluth more enumerators so that the census will be taken in a thorough and complete manner and Duluth given justice.

The Herald will take the names of all those upon whom the enumerators have not called if the same will be kindly left at the office of this paper. If you have not been called upon in reported districts leave your names.

A meeting of real estate men to talk over the same trouble, will be held this evening.

Points the Moral.

Mr. B. Silberstein was this morning appointed on one of the district committees to look up the enumerators. In less than an hour he found sixty people as yet unentered, and whose homes had been passed by enumerators.

A NEW FIND

Where Ore was not Supposed to Exist at all; Tower News.

TOWER, June 12.—A new find of lean red ore has recently been made about forty miles due west of here and eighteen miles north of the supposed trend of the Vermilion range. Some very good specimens have been brought into Tower. The ore does not outcrop in a body, but is intermingled with chloritic states, jaspery quartz and red oxidized earth. The strip of iron-bearing rocks is very narrow, can be traced for many miles and is flanked on both sides by a granite formation. These formations are pronounced good by iron experts.

An excursion to Ely is on for next Sunday to witness the game of ball between Duluth's 200-pounders and the Ely fat men. After the above game the Tower Maroons will play a picked nine of Ely's best baseballists. The train leaves here at 1 o'clock and returns after the games.

Fearful Scenes Prevented.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, June 12.—By prompt work of thirty nuns in the Catholic Mercy hospital this morning, the forty helpless patients who were in the institution were saved from a horrible death. Before it was light, one of the sisters, who was sleeping on the fourth story of the main building, was awakened by smoke and discovered a fire in the closet of her room. A general alarm was sounded, and the work of removing the helpless patients was begun and successfully accomplished. One nun called Sister Irene, and whose name was Ellen Murry, perished. Loss on building, $10,000.

The County Commissioners.

The county commissioners are in session this afternoon auditing road bills and transacting other routine business. A call for a town meeting for the election of officers for the new town of Independence, to be held June 24, was also issued. Some disposition will also be made of the woman supposed to be insane who has been in jail for several days. She will probably be sent back to St. Paul.

FROM ABROAD.

A Condensed Foreign History of the Day; More Russian Plots; In England.

LONDON, June 12.—Advices received at Lisbon from Africa state that Silva Portto, captain-major of Bipe, whose suicide has been before reported, killed himself by blowing up his residence with gunpowder after the Portuguese defeat at Bipe. His body was found wrapped in a Portuguese flag in the ruins of the building.

James Munro, chief the Metropolitan police force, has resigned in consequence of the quarrel between himself and the government regarding the regulations adopted by the police on the occasion of the demonstration in Hyde Park on Saturday.

The caucus of the conservative party called to consider the present status of matters now before parliament, was held at the Carleton club today. Lord Salisbury announced that the government would not abandon the tithes bill, the licensing bill or the Irish land purchase bill.

The St. Petersburg government has received information that a new movement against the life of the Czar is contemplated. Consequently the guards in the imperial palace and at all the approaches to the building have been doubled. A number of arrests have been made of persons who are suspected of being connected with the movement.

Honoring Cardinal Manning.

LONDON, June 12.—The Parnellite members of the house of commons are preparing an address to be presented to Cardinal Manning in honor of the silver jubilee of that prelate, in recognition of his services in the cause of the freedom of Ireland. The Protestants among nationalist members, including Mr. Parnell himself, are unanimous in endorsement of the eulogistic terms of the address.

Gen. Siliceretoff, a special agent of the Russian police has arrived in Paris for the purpose of obtaining information concerning the nihilists recently arrested there and if possible identifying them. In an interview today, he expressed himself as confident that the prisoners were connected with the most atrocious and dangerous conspiracy against the life of the Czar and the institutions of the Russian government that nihilism had yet organized. Indeed, he has positive information that the French contingent of nihilists were in collusion with those in Russia and Switzerland to murder the Czar and precipitate simultaneous outbreaks in other countries. The arrest of the Paris nihilists and the vigilance of the Russian police had frustrated the plans, but the plotters were still active, and a large number of arrests would be necessary to their complete separation.

Seven shocks of earthquake have occurred in the French jura. The people are panic-stricken and have refused to re-enter their houses. Thousands of men, women and children are camped in the open fields. No loss of life is reported, but a large amount of property has been destroyed.

HAD A CONSTITUTION.

The Constitution All Found for the State of Lower California.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 12.—United States Marshal Geo. S. Card arrived from Ensenada, lower California yesterday, where he had been making an investigation of the filibustering movement which was recently exposed.

During his investigation a copy of the provisional constitution of the new republic which the filibusters expected to form, was secured and this document has been forwarded to Washington. It asserts political freedom from the United States of Mexico and declares that the people hereby delegate their authority to a council of administration for the purpose of a war of independence and that the authority of the said council should be complete until peace should be declared, when a constitutional convention of the people shall be called. All legislative, judicial and executive functions are vested in the said council, and until the declaration of peace, martial law should prevail on the peninsula. The writ of habeas corpus is declared suspended during the war for independence; the president to preside at all meetings of the council and have the casting vote.

The constitution also prescribed the duties of the commanding general, secretary-general, treasury-general, surveyor-general and other offices composing the council of administration.

SETTLING THE STRIKE.

The Columbus Street Railway Trouble to be Arbitrated.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 12.—The fifty citizens invited by Mayor Bruck, to meet him in conference with a view of suggesting some plan for settling the street railway strike at 10 o'clock this morning were still in session at noon. The meeting is held with closed doors and no move by either the strikers or the company's officials will be made until it ends. The company's directors claim it is impossible to operate the road with the protection offered the men, and the indications are that no cars will be started today.

The conference by an almost unanimous vote, passed a resolution favoring arbitration and appointed a committee of five to deliver it to the directors of the company this afternoon.

Maine Republicans.

AUGUSTA, June 12.—Chairman Manley of the state committee called the republican state convention to order today. Over 1200 delegates were present. Gen. C. E. Littlefield moved that Governor Burleigh be renominated and he was so renominated. The Third district republican convention today nominated Seth L. Milliken of Belfast, for congress.

AT WORK TOMORROW.

Active Work on the Street Car Line; Now Let the Dirt Fly.

The first active work on the Duluth electric street railway line begins tomorrow morning. All the contracts have been let, and supplies are arriving every day. The electrical contract, as The Herald has before stated, has been given to the Thomson-Houston company, while the engines of 320 horse power each will be made by the Allis company of Milwaukee. Babcock & Wilcox, New York, will manufacture the boilers.

Active work will begin first on the extreme eastern terminus of the road, but the rails, which were made by Johnson & Co., Johnstown, Pa., are being laid along the route ready for use. Only a few men will be at work tomorrow, for no large force can be used until the poles arrive, which will be about the first of July, then wire stringing will begin.

The motor line will be entirely operated from the power of the Duluth line, and the motor company is now grading and laying rails.

The steamer Barker will leave for Lake View Grove, Spirit Lake, from St. Paul & Duluth slip, at 10 a. m. and 2:15 p. m. Saturday and Sunday.

ON THE LAKES.

In its comment on the naval appropriation bill The Minneapolis Journal remarks with reason that there is no need to be alarmed about a foreign naval attack, and we do not know anybody who is. No foreign nation has any desire or any motive for running the risk or paying the cost of fighting us, and our own country is sincerely disposed to mind its own business and interfere with nobody who lets us alone. But for proper oversight and protection to our commercial interests and foreign stations, for the swift and just resentment of any contemptuous affront, for the safeguard of our wealthy ports, and for the honor of our flag, a naval force of respectable proportions and modern standard should be provided and maintained.

So, we understand, The Journal thinks and we are well pleased to be in union with it in calling for action upon a very desirable part of our naval establishment, the guard of the great lakes. It is true, as The Journal says, that "even with a war with England while we have no navy on the lakes, the swift grain vessels could be pressed into service and we might be able to save Duluth from an attack by sea, without much trouble." Still "as a matter of fact, there ought to be a few steel cruisers on the lakes, for an emergency might arise in which they would prove very useful."

This is so patent that there should be no difficulty in securing such a provision by the ready assent of congress. The commerce of the great lakes in volume and importance far exceeds that of any other waterway on the globe, and it is advancing with great strides to make good any lamented falling off of our foreign commerce under the brunt of the sharpest free trade competition. To protect its free flow, a few modern cruisers of the speediest kind, readily rallied at any point of attack, would prove of timely service in the hour of need, and such a squadron would hold and hand down the honor of the flag on the great lakes, an inheritance as famous in its way as the trophies on the high seas.

For the builders of this lake guard we have no need to look farther than the lake shore. Already a firm of ship-constructors on the lakes has entered the competition for the supply of our new navy, and has put in the lowest bid for the 800-ton vessel called for in the navy department specifications. This firm, F. W. Wheeler & Co., of Bay City, is prepared today to furnish a war ship of any dimensions that may be called for on the lakes, and other lake shore firms, no doubt, would be able to contract for such a supply. In speed, material, construction and efficiency a squadron built in our own lake ports can be guaranteed to compare advantageously with the product of any shipyard on the sea coast. Give the lakes a fair show and a fair guard!

An interesting report is given in The Herald today on the slate quarry explorations and developments on the north shore of the St. Louis. This is a field from which Duluth may reasonably hope at least to reap a harvest. Chalk this down on your slate.

Congressman Comstock has been doing his part to make his calling and re-election sure. In the faculty of getting there, the essential equipment of the serviceable representative of the modern day, he has taken the A. M. degree. Stick at it, Mr. Comstock and the "Hon." will stick to your name for more than one term.

How genially the spirit of the part of the press that calls itself The Leader in Superior views any gain on this side of the bay was shown up this morning in its head lines announcing the passage of the bill increasing the appropriation for Duluth's new public building. "Duluth Will Get It. No Manufacturing Establishments—Extra Allowance for Her Public Buildings." If The Leader was not manufactured exclusively for home consumption and the tickling of blind men, we should invite it to come across the bay and pick up some news occasionally. If it would pay more attention to building up Superior and less to crying down Duluth, it would be better for itself and its side. But it is free to act the clown if it wants to, and keep on offering nonsense to all consumers.

The New York Evening Post sneered at The Boston Journal's "claim" that the disparity of wages is the reason why there are few American and many Norwegian steamers in the fruit trade. The Journal has just made the sneer and the sneerer very faint by showing that the contemptible "claim" was not its own, but the official testimony of a report of the state department under the Cleveland administration. And The Journal then puts its smelling salts under the nose of the sufferer in the form of the resolution unanimously adopted by the New England Ship Owners association, directly repudiating "free" ships. There are still some Americans in this country who are not agents of British importers.

There is every evidence that the census taking in this city is being shamefully slighted by the working force of enumerators. We believe that the force engaged is altogether too small for the work, but that is no reason why those actually engaged should be sliding over the city in such a recklessly slip-shod fashion. Districts reported as covered are clearly shown to be uncovered at many points, and the reports are so defective as to be wholly untrustworthy. The supply of blank forms moreover was so deficient that some agents were three days behind hand in starting and cannot possibly complete their work in the time allotted. The superintendent in charge of the state has been summoned here by telegraph and will arrive tomorrow morning to inspect the returns. A force sufficient to execute the work properly will be imperatively demanded, and the instant discharge of the incompetent and unfaithful workers. Duluth asks no favor, but she is clearly entitled to a fair count and a small section of the attention that has been corralled by the Twin cities, and there will be music in the air if she doesn't get it.

Great interest is felt in both Spain and Italy in proposed celebrations of the centenary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus. At Genoa the commune has voted the sum of £8000 for monuments to Garibaldi and the Duke of Galliera, to be inaugurated during the festival. Franchetti, the composer, is to produce an opera on a subject to be taken from the life of Columbus. A geographical and historical congress is to form part of the program, Columbus' birthplace in Vico Ponticello is to be restored, and regattas will be held. In Spain the centenary will be celebrated at Madrid, Valladolid, Huelva and other places; and it is said that the most eminent among Spanish statesmen, as well as artists, writers and scientists, will assist. It is evident that this country is not the only one that will rejoice at its discovery.

SEEN AND HEARD.

Duluth needs more houses to rent to her working people. The men whose wages range from $4 per day down can't afford to pay some of the prevailing fancy prices—"regulated by the laws of demand and supply"—and the consequences are not beneficial to a growing city. Let us have more houses built to rent.

New realty firms are blossoming out, so to speak, about as fast as office room is available. At this rate another building the size of the Palladio will be needed before fall. Hardly a vacant office in its whole eight stories now.

"I'll be glad when the public library is opened," said the owner of a large collection of books last evening. "Next to the public schools it will be an institution the city wants most. I have a personal interest in it, in a peculiar way, and I presume there are others who will hail its advent from the same causes I do. I am besieged with book borrowers. I know nothing so despicable among our everyday sins as the prevailing habit of borrowing books and the neglect to return them. I would not say a word about it for fear of hurting the feelings of more than one who will find my name in some volume upon his shelf if he will look for it; providing, of course, that he has not erased it. I can't afford to buy books for people to keep, but there seems to be no way to avoid it unless I refuse to lend. The library is sure to help me out, however, for it will furnish all the reading the people want and they'll quit borrowing at private libraries after a while."

A good band is a first class advertisement for any town, but somehow the citizens of Duluth don't seem to appreciate this fact. Let us tell a little incident. There is a little town in New York called Canastota. It's a small place of perhaps 3000 inhabitants. But lately the town has been growing rapidly, and partly from its band. They have an organization there of forty pieces, and this band has never entered a tournament but it takes one of the best prizes. The town has been advertised extensively by this means, and the people appreciate it so well that they support the band. Duluth, did it do justice to Walker's band, would see that the men are put out of debt, that uniforms and instruments are purchased and that the organization wants for nothing.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

C. P. Maginnis: I understand the Street Railway company is to put on a sleeping and dining car service.

A. S. Chase: The Street Railway company has closed all its contracts and will begin its improvements at once.

State Auditor Braden: Duluth has more corporations to the square block than any other city in the universe. The last to file artecles is the Capital Land company. The capital stock is $50,000, and the incorporators are Frederic W. Paine, William McKinley, W. W. Sanford, William G. Hegart and John H. Logie of Duluth.

A boarder at the Ayr house: There's about fifty people in the Ayr and the Sherwood house adjoining and no census taker has struck us yet.

Benjamin Nute: I have telegraphed Supervisor Smith of several cases of oversight and error by census takers. It would pay the city to put a man on some one district as a sample and see how he jibes with the census takers.

An army officer who had his arm amputated while perfectly conscious, says it doesn't hurt except when the first cut around the limb is made, cutting the skin. That's because the nerves are situated just under the skin, and after they are cut there is nothing to convey the sensation of pain.

THE COUNTRY PRESS.

Princeton Union: If the friends of J. D. Jones wish to see him renominated for the office of clerk of the supreme court they must be up and doing. Mr. Jones' home has a voting strength that is not to be despised, especially if Knute Nelson is an independent candidate for governor.

Battle Lake Review: To hear the democratic papers tell about what they are going to do with Gov. Merriam this fall, a stranger might be led to believe that the democrats had got in the habit of running things in Minnesota.

Stillwater Democrat: Slowly but surely the opinion is gaining ground that the nomination of E. W. Durant as the democratic candidate for governor is a political necessity. The selection is a wise one and if he is not hampered with an unpopular running mate he will make the greatest race ever achieved by any democrat in any state election.

Anent Four State Officers.

Moorhead News: The rule against a third term in the higher offices of the state seems to be founded on sound principles, and has had many ratifications by the people at the polls, or in nominating conventions. It is probable that a good many reasons may be advanced why exceptions may be made in the cases of one or more of the state officials, and that one or two may well be given another term. Let them be avowed and announced. The newspapers should discuss these matters. Now is the time.

Duluth is Not in This.

Fergus Falls Journal: The work of abusing the census enumerator has begun, especially in those places which are going to fall short of their boasted population.

SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings in the neck; which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

Wherever Malaria Exits,

The bilious are its certain prey. In intermittent and remittent fever, dumb ague and ague cake, the liver is always seriously affected, and the blood contaminated with bile. One of the chief reasons why Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such a sure defense against chills and fever and every form of malarial disease is, that it does away with liability to the disease, by reforming irregularity of the biliary organ in advance of the arrival of the season when the disease is prevalent. There is no finer fortifying preparative for those about visiting or emigrating to a locality where the miasma-taint exists. There is no certain immunity from disease in an endemic or epidemic form, to be secured by the use of the average tonic and anti-spasmodics. But where quinine fails the Bitters succeeds, both in preventing and curing. Moreover, it removes every vestige of dyspepsia, and overcomes constipation, rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, and tranquilizes and strengthens the nervous system.

W. W. MOORE of the Grand Opera House, Des Moines, is an early settler in that part of Iowa, and has had a great deal of experience in his time. He says: "At various times I have had acute attacks of bilious colic and violent pains in the stomach, and found nothing that gave me relief like Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Every person," he says, "should have a bottle." For sale by all druggists.

THE LEADING QUESTION

Now is: "Are you provided with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as a safe-guard against an attack or bowel complaint during the summer months?" No family can afford to risk being without this invaluable medicine during the hot weather. It is almost certain to be needed, and is a friend indeed when required, as it never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all druggists.

The above bright and benevolent face, is Dr. A. W. Acker, of England, discoverer of the celebrated Acker's English Remedy for Consumption and other popular preparations. Dr. Acker practised in his younger days among the middle classes of London, and was the means of doing great good, but his health failed and he found himself in the grasp of consumption, with a wife and child depending upon him for support. While in this condition, he discovered the celebrated English Remedy, saved his own life and has since saved the lives of thousands who were on the sure road to death. Any man or woman who feels a tickling in the throat, who coughs, especially in the morning, who raises or has a tight feeling across the chest, who has sharp shooting pains through the lungs or difficulty in breathing, should realize that these are the first symptoms of consumption ... neglected, are sure to result fatally ... English Remedy has cured more ... persons who unquestion... and who were given ... merits its popularity ... druggists in every city ... can't afford to be ...

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

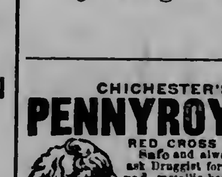

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan---one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

BUILDING SHORT RAILWAY

Surveyors Working on the New Logging Road; at Local Mills.

A Dam on Iron River; the Big Cranberry Company; Notes.

Surveys for the logging railway of the Mitchell & McClure Lumber company of this city, have begun and will soon be completed. A party of engineers is now in the field. The road will run for about ten miles and will connect the company's vast pine ownership with the river shore, a mile or two above the Grassy Point bridge of the St. Paul & Duluth road. A most excellent route has been found. Mitchell & McClure are continually buying more timber, and a day or two ago closed a deal for $30,000 worth, situated close to their body of pine. The firm now owns in a comfortable body on the Nemadji about 500,000,000 feet of good pine, most of which has been bought in the last year. Mr. McClure wrote his Duluth representative yesterday that he would be here the 1st of July to begin active work. No contracts for machinery or mill have yet been made.

Huntress & Brown will raise the frame of their new West Duluth mill next week. It will be pushed to completion, and will be sawing in August. The Marinette Iron works are making the mill machinery, and the Iron Bay company will soon begin on the boilers. Over 2,000,000 feet of logs are already in the boom at the site of the new mill, and will keep the machinery busy for nearly two months after starting up.

Nearly all the Duluth drives are now safe, the only one of importance still back is that of Iron River, where Pat Hines is now busy building a dam and will soon get it out.

The Cranberry Lumber company, limited, of Ashland, is cutting a wide swath in lumber circles, and also in the forests. The company has 200,000,000 of pine on the Cranberry river, operations on which were begun last fall, when they banked about 20,000,000 feet, which is being manufactured into lumber at Mowatt & Thompson's mill at Ashland. The company, determined to do nothing by halves, in March purchased the tug J. W. Bennett of Detroit parties, one of the largest and most powerful tugs now at the head of the lakes, which is busily engaged in towing their logs to Ash land, arriving there last week with a raft of 2,000,000 feet. This summer the company will construct about three miles of railroad into their timber, sixty tons of steel rail for which is already on the ground, and for which a locomotive and eight cars were purchased last week. The road will be extended from year to year as rapidly as found necessary. Mr. G. W. Stevens, a member of the firm, and under whose personal supervision the operations are conducted, and who is also vice president of the Cranberry River Improvement company, has rather surprised the natives in an imitation of how they lumber in the Saginaw valley, where he is at present and has for many years been engaged in the business. He has already made two large sales of this season's cut, 1,000,000 feet of which was purchased for shipment to South America. Mr. Stevens knows the value of good lumber and has sold well, much to the discomfiture of certain Eastern buyers, who say that he has bullied the Ashland market. manufacturers.

Ashland shipments of lumber by water for June will equal 25,000,000 feet.

Next Sunday's Game.

Tom Dickens of the surveyor general's office, is commodore of the Duluth Whalebacks, a new professional ball nine that intends to wipe the ground with all competitors. They go to Ely Saturday afternoon for their first game, and will probably be heard of again. The following are the weights players and positions:

Chautauqua Circle.

The Chautauqua circle enjoyed a very pleasant reception at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McKinley on East Fourth street last evening. The last meeting of the circle was held Monday evening, and last evening's entertainment was a sort of pleasant finale for the season. Refreshments were served and the members present enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

The Pioneer Shipping.

Ely Iron Home: The Pioneer mine shipped its first car load of ore for this season on Wednesday last. The car was consigned to an Eastern furnace, and will be tested in regard to the iron properties of the ore. Manager McQuaid informs us that about 150 tons will be shipped daily hereafter.

Notice.

The partnership heretofore existing between F. J. Young and H. N. Randell under the title of Young & Randell has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. The business will be conducted in future by Randell Bros., who have bought out Mr. Young's entire interest. As before, the business office will be at the Hotel St. Louis, where orders can be left for coupes, carriages and express.

SPORTING MATTERS.

The Executive Committee Meets and Does Business; Sporting Notes.

The executive committee of the Duluth-Superior Regatta association held an important meeting last evening, the first one in which Manager Robertson was in attendance. Much important business was transacted. Owing to the many letters received from prominent oarsmen who will enter the professional "fours" asking that the first prize for this event be raised to $1200, the association decided to raise it. This will bring many crews here, who would otherwise not enter. In all the extra amateur events the distance for racing has been placed at one and a half miles. The professionals will row over the following courses: Singles, one and a half miles and turn; doubles, one mile and turn; fours, one and a half miles and turn; quarter mile dash.

The association appropriated $300 for gold medals for those amateur oarsmen and crews who are not members of the Mississippi association. In a letter to the association received yesterday Paul Boynton accepts the association's offer of $500 for two exhibitions. He will enter Wallace Ross for the professional events. He will give one entertainment at Superior and one at Duluth. Manager Robertson was given carte blanche in the matter of advertising, and will issue a weekly circular, giving the progress of the regatta.

It is probable that Walkers band will furnish the music. Professor Tonning has composed a "Regatta March," which the association accepted last evening as its official music. It will be set for the use of the band. It will be published by a local music house. Close figuring places the sum absolutely needed at $16,500.

Sporting Notes.

All of the players recently released by the Pittsburgh National League club have been offered positions on the Indianapolis club, which has been admitted to the Interstate league.

Philadelphia is the banner city for attendance at the ball games, 98,000 at the Players' league and 77,000 at the National League games, making a total of 150,000 at the games so far, besides the Athletics did very well while at home.

Counting bonus, purchase money and increased salaries, it will cost the league from $75,000 to $100,000 more than the Players' league to run the institution this season. This doesn't include the money put out in building new grounds by the new league.

The National Baseball league of Great Britain has started the championship season with four clubs, which are located in Derby, Stoke, Preston and Birmingham. The Derby team is under the management of W. C. Bryan, formerly of the Des Moines club.

John L. Soules of Muskegon, Mich., and Samuel Smith of Lewiston, have arranged for a race through the dangerous whirlpool rapids of Niagara Falls on July 4. They will leave the old "Maid of the Mist" landing on the same boat, and will ride as far as possible in it. The first man to land at the whirlpool will be considered the winner of the race and $100, while the loser will receive $25.

Unless something unforseen happens a great race will be seen on the Charles river, Boston, July 4, as both Gaudaur and Teemer have stated positively that they would take part in the single scull race. There will be a fight for second money between Hosmer, Ten Eyck, McKay, Casey and Hamm, and again in the four oared race there will be plenty of sport, as two big crews will be made up of scullers.

Tommy Kelly, the sporting man and ex-champion light-weight pugilist, who on October 26, last year, cut the throat of Tommy Shea during a row about John L. Sullivan in a barber shop on Dover street, was arrested today at Boston. Kelly has been missing since his case was called, over seven months ago.

TO FISHERMEN.

A Chance to Get a Splendid Trout Outfit; Sporting News.

As an incentive to fishermen and to further a manly sport, The Herald offers a split bamboo pole, click reel and fine trout line, secured from the fine stock of Boyce & Totman, corner of Fourth avenue and West Superior street, and guaranteed by this firm to be all represented, to The Herald subscriber securing, between May 19 and the end of the legal trout season, the largest brook trout caught by rod and line.

If possible, the fish must be weighed by a Herald representative, and all weights not seen must be guaranteed and vouched for by witnesses or on the affidavit of the catcher. The prize will be exhibited in Boyce & Totman's window after today. Call and take a look at it, then go out and catch a trout that will bring you this splendid outfit.

A Chance for the Fool-Killer.

The public school discussion has furnished material for some facetiously-inclined person. Yesterday Dr. Dunn received a letter signed by "A Friend in Disguise," warning the doctor to keep his mouth shut on the Catholic school question or he would be roughly handled. The writer solemnly swears that the doctor will die by his hands or a committee of twelve will dispose of him in some way. The doctor is not very much alarmed over the receipt of the letter, as he takes the same view of the writer of such an epistle as of a barking dog; there is not much danger of his biting. Rev. E. M. Noyes received a similar postal this morning warning him not to speak of the school matter lest he "may be dragged from his bed before dawn."

The Retail Clerks.

The Retail Clerks union held an enthusiastic meeting last evening in Olsons hall. Eleven new members were taken in and the grocery clerks will probably join next week. After routine work had been disposed of the subject of early closing was taken up, and decided to take definite action at once. They say they will use heroic measures, but just what line of policy will be pursued they refuse to tell. The women clerks will be taken into the union before long.

TESTING THE SLATE BEDS

Experts Now at Work on the Slate Deposits Below Cloquet.

Result Most Satisfactory; Quarries Will Be Developed.

The slate quarries of the region lying between Northern Pacific Junction and Thomson, that have been lying idle for twenty years, since first a little work was done in the early 70's, are now in a fair way for active development and big work.

Levi Deetz of Central Wisconsin, who is owner of an undivided half interest in a large share of these slate quarry lands on the north side of the St. Louis, a few miles out of Duluth, has at last wakened to the necessity of active business and active development if he would get anything out of his property. He is associated in ownership with three of the leading state officials of Minnesota, one of whom is a man of great wealth, and there is abundance of money behind the company. Mr. Deetz is now at work with a party of experts from Pennsylvania, and they have been at the quarries for some days. They are now at work on an island four miles above the Junction and about eighty rods from the railway tracks, and have traced the vein clear across the island to the main shore north of the river. They have sunk a number of holes and have found a vein of the most excellent slate thirty to sixty feet wide. The test pits and holes so far have been made to a depth of sixteen feet.

One of the experts, an old slate miner from the East told a Herald reporter last night of the state of developments. Said he: "We have been surprised at the quality of the slate, not less than at its quantity. I took a piece ¾ of an inch thick and split it carefully into not less than eight leaves, and they were as smooth as glass. I have never seen in Pennsylvania or elsewhere any finer deposits of slate or any that promised better. If the explorations we are now making continue as satisfactory as at present for a little longer, Mr. Deetz and his associates will at once make arrangements to develop and will open the quarries on a large scale."

"Do you think the showing will continue excellent?" said the reporter.

"I am practically sure of it; and I've been engaged in slate mining and exploring all my life. There is no practical doubt of the extent or value of these deposits, and a little more testing will remove all technical doubts. If the company goes in for business, as it will, a great many men will find employment, and Duluth will have a new big market. Not only that, but the slate will find its leading market in the East, and will go by lake from this city. The development of this industry means more than you think."

Before the Old Man.

There was a lighter docket in the municipal court this morning. P. Gabrielson was charged with using language towards Noble Sampson, calculated to provoke a row. His case was continued. Billy Donnelly pleaded not guilty to stealing a pair of pants from the time-honored John Doe. He'll be heard tomorrow. John Brooks, Dennis Morrow, Thos. Coburn and Pat Farrell, plain drunks, were fined the usual amount. James Manning, Irwin West, Charles Mier and J. Conley, a quartet of box car vags, were sent out for four days. Z. D. Scott failed to appear as a juror, and he was brought in on an attachment. It cost him $3 in addition to an explanation.

Better Than a Savings Bank or Building Associations.

Cumulative Investment Company

IN RESPONSE TO THE REPEATED DEmands for more stock in the Conservative Investment Association, a new corporation has been formed on the same principle by some of the officers of the same under the name Cumulative Investment Company.

The object is to give an opportunity for those unable to make large investments on their own account, to pool their issues by contributing monthly to a fund created for investment in real estate. The management of the affairs of the Cumulative will be vested in a board of seven directors who receive no salaries.

The capital stock is $100,000, divided into 2,000 shares of $50 each, payable in monthly installments of $1 per share. Not more than 50 nor less than 10 shares may be held by any one person.

No better opportunity to make small investments pay such large profits, has ever been offered.

The books are now open for subscription of stock. Call or write at once before it is all taken.

PERSONAL.

Mr. C. F. Forsell, wife and child leave for Sweden on a visit tomorrow, and expect to be away from three to four months. They go via New York and will also visit France and Germany.

An unusually large number of Duluth physicians are going to and have been in New York this season for special courses in the hospitals of that city. Dr. McComb returned a short time ago. Dr. Stewart has just returned from a month's sojourn in the metropolis. Dr. Alden left for that city last Saturday night and Dr. McGiffert left last evening for a month's trip, combing both pleasure and business.

Messrs. W. H. Phipps and J. A. Humbird, Hudson, Wis., iron men, were in the city this morning.

Mr. W. Kelsey and wife, New York, and Mr. and Mrs. William Jennings, Minneapolis, are at The Spalding.

Mr. J. W. Paul and wife, St. Paul, are at the St. Louis.

Mr. George Repert, traveling passenger agent of the Rock Island road, is in town.

Mrs. Milie Bunnell and child have returned to town from Kansas City to spend the summer months.

A very pleasant party was tendered to John Williams, who has been in the employ of Stone & Ordean for many years, by a large party. The affair was prompted by the desire of Mr. William's friends to give him a cordial greeting before he starts on a visit to his old home in Sweden, where he has not been for twenty years.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Rawson of Boston, are in the city. After remaining here a few days they go west and north to Alaska. They will return to Duluth in August. Mr. Rawson is a son of Banker D. G. Rawson.

H. R. Howard, the deputy dairy commissioner, is in the city today, looking after the milk dealers.

Among the railroad men in town today are: E. P. Wilbur, traveling passenger agent of the Milwaukee & Northern; W. H. Dixon, assistant general passenger agent, and R. Lewis, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago & St. Paul road.

Dr. C. W. McFadden has returned from a visit to Manchester.

A. C. Miner, traveling passenger agent of the Wisconsin Central line, is in town.

Was Insane.

Officer Thos. Caplies' wife made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide yesterday afternoon during the absence of her husband. Four shots were fired, but none of them took effect. The weapon used was a savage-looking British bulldog 44-caliber revolver. The neighbors were attracted by the shots and quickly came to the rescue. Mrs. Caplies had no explanation to make for her strange conduct further than that she was tired of living and wanted to die. She has been partially deranged for some time, and of late has become rather melancholy, but has never shown any violence before, and has never been considered dangerous. She will probably be sent to the hospital in the hopes that she will regain her health.

Other Markets Generally Lower; Interesting Trade Notes.

Wheat was firm today, which is all that can be said of the market. The transactions were quite numerous, but small. July opened at 89¾, ¼ above Wednesday's close, and under free buying orders advanced to 90⅜. After orders were filled it declined to 89⅛, firming up again to 89½, where it closed. There was considerable trading in futures. December opened at 89¾, sold up to 90½, declined and closed at 89¾. August opened at 91¾ and held steady until just before the close, which was 90½. SPECIAL CROP REPORTS.

SANBORN, N. D., June 12.—[Special to The Herald.]—Weather very warm with abundance of moisture. Splendid growing weather, and as a result the crops are growing rapidly, stooling out well and giving a most encouraging outlook for a good harvest

BOTTINEAU, N. D. June 12.—[Special to The Herald.]—Weather very warm; crops in excellent condition. Grain growing very rapidly. No more rain needed at present. Farmers think grain will average thirty bushels to the acre unless frost kills it.

LANGDON, N. D., June 12.—[Special to The Herald.]—Weather for past week, temperature from 60 to 82. High northwest winds changing to high southeast; very drying. No rain for past week. Crops growing very fast and in splendid condition. We could, however, stand a good deal of rain, still the plant is not suffering for want of it yet. Old farmers say it is a little behind what it was at this time three years ago, the year of the big crop, but the plants have splendid root, and the farmers wear a large smile and seem to feel confident that the earth is theirs. No frost during past week. Wind at present in the south and looks like a thunder shower.

Curb Notes.

W. W. Bill's Chicago advices are: Today's market indicated that yesterday's liquidation was more thorough than we had believed. At no time today has there been heavy pressure to sell, and there has been on this break some rather good buying. Some bull news arrived in the shape of export for ten loads from New York and the rumor that they were working on nine more. During the early morning Hutchinson appeared as a buyer and there are indications that conservative bears are willing to cover their shorts. Trading has been light and at no time of sensational character.

Canadian Crops.

TORONTO, Ont., June 12.—Crop reports for every section of the country are most encouraging. The outlook in Ontario is generally a bright one, but much depends upon the weather during the next few weeks. Wheat suffered severely for want of snow and excess of rain, and in some places will not average much over half a crop. Spring wheat looks very well, particularly on high lands. Roots of all kinds are in fine shape. Corn is backward and the acreage of barley below the average. Fruit bids fair to be a good crop. Hay will be a magnificent crop. Manitoba takes a cheerful view of things and expects an immeuse wheat crop.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The Hibernians Elect Their Officers; They Will Adjourn.

The morning session opened a 9 o'clock and adjourned until 4 this afternoon, after being in session five hours. Several important measures were passed. The newly elected officers of the state are John McCarthy of Stillwater, state delegate; Geo. M. Giltman of St. Paul, state secretary, and John Sheehy of Montgomery Le Seur, state treasurer.

All business will be finished in the afternoon session today, which will consist of electing directors and revising the by-laws and constitution. John Flood of St. Louis county was offered the state treasurership, but declined. Numbers of the delegates left on the 1:55 train for their homes. The remaining ones will be given a carriage drive by the division of St. Louis county, over the city.

CRUISERS ON THE LAKES

Wheeler's Bid Was the Lower; Fitting Out the Steamer 106.

The Ryan Sunk; Port List; Full Sault News; Local Marine.

It is probable that a United States practice cruiser will be built on the lakes. As the following dispatch shows there were two bidders at Washington for a practice cruiser, one of them being the F. W. Wheeler company of Bay City, Mich. This vessel is to be of 800 tons and is designed as a big model for use by the students at the naval academy and will be fitted as thoroughly and completely as though she were of 8000 tons. The Wheeler bid was the lowest by $5000, being a total of $245,000, and the vessel will probably be built at Bay City. The dispatch is as follows:

Proposals to build the three new vessels provided for by congress were opened. They were for the armored cruiser No. 2, 8100 tons, limit, $3,500,000; protected cruiser No. 6, limit, $1,800,000; practice vessel, $260,000. Bids were received from the Union Iron Works of San Francisco, Cramp & Sons of Philadelphia, the Risdon Iron & Locomotive Works of San Francisco, F. W. Wheeler & Co. of West Bay City, Mich., and Samuel L. Moore & Sons of Elizabeth, N. J. There will be no awards for several weeks.

The last number of the Cleveland Marine Review contains two fine half-tone views, one of the new steel steamer Emily P. Weed, built by Wheeler, the other of the new wooden steamer John Harper, built by Davidson, of Bay City. The advance of the review, as a marine periodical, has been steadily onward, until now it ranks with the leading sea-coast publications.

Keels of the 108 and 110 will be laid at the new yard of the American Steel Barge company next week. They will both be steamers.

The Ryan Sinks.

PORT HURON, Mich., June 12.—The freight steamer Ryan has foundered ten miles north of Port Austin light. All hands were saved except Patrick Slattery of Buffalo.

Marine Notes.

During May there were 179 lake disasters, against 138 in April, aggregating $193,800 damage. Stranded $27,600, disabled $37,300, collisions $73,700, heavy weather $19,100, fire $16,000, ashore $14,100, sprung aleak $6000. April losses were $246,800.

The 106 was not launched "stern first" as a morning paper says, but by the breaking of a leg of a stern stanchion came pretty near being. It will be a month before she is ready to go down the lake. The boilers and stack lie on the Northern Pacific dock and will at once be put in place. A lot of the plates on the side of the ship have been fastened with bolts so they can be taken out to make a way for the boilers. Most of the engine is now in place and will be set up at once. The 107 is well along.

Pleading for the Sault.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The senate committee on commerce gave a hearing today to Messrs. Stockbridge, Conger and J. A. Hubbell, who argued in behalf of increased appropriation for the work on Hay lake channel and St. Marys canal. Tomorrow Gen. Casey, chief of engineers, will be heard.

ON THE SOUTH SHORE.

President Finney About to Connect Himself with the Duluth & South Shore.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 12.—It is rumored in railroad circles that E. N. Finney, for a long time connected with the Wisconsin Central, and who a short time ago was elected to the presidency of the Minneapolis, Sault Ste. Marie & Atlantic road, will in a day or two take the position now occupied by Senator McMillan of Detroit as president of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic line, and will represent the Canadian Pacific interests in the United States.

It is also said that there will be numerous changes in the offices of the Soo road when Mr. Finney takes charge, which will be at an early day. The removals will begin in the manager's office and pass down the line. Nothing is definite yet other than that there is a well-grounded rumor that Manager Underwood of the Soo will go.

ELECTED A MANAGER.

Hon. J. W. Earl of Fergus Falls Will Manage a Townsite Company.

The St. Louis Land & Improvement company elected its first general manager yesterday afternoon, the choice falling upon Hon. J. W. Earl, late of Fergus Falls.

Although a comparatively recent comer, Mr. Earl showed faith in the new St. Louis townsite enterprise by investing largely in the stock of the company. Since his connection with the company, he has intersted himself with its affairs and shown such executive ability, that he was unanimously appointed to serve in the capacity aforesaid, until the annual meeting of the company which occurs the first Tuesday of next July, when he will undoubtedly be selected for the full term.

For eighteen years Mr. Earl was a resident of Fergus Falls of which thriving city he has been mayor for the past two years. He was elected the first term on a no license ticket issue over the democratic nominee, and his administration gave such general satisfaction that he was re-elected in the face of the combined opposition of whisky and state interests against the strongest republican candidate that could be pitted against him. He has been engaged in real estate. During a recent business visit to the city Mr. Earl became so impressed with the advantages offered and the absolute certainty of profitable return on investments that he decided to identify himself with Duluth.

Mr. Earl is strongly backed as a candidate for governor on the prohibition ticket, but he has no political aspirations whatever, and informs The Herald that under no circumstances could he accept the nomination. He bears a strong resemblance to Attorney-General Clapp, for which gentleman he is frequently mistaken.

A large party went up to St. Louis this morning, consisting principally of men who go to look over the ground for the purpose of clearing it. The contract for clearing will probably be let today. It is the intention of the company to clear 400 or 500 acres at once.

LAST EDITION.

THE SHAMEFUL CENSUS.

Many Reports by Citizens of the Way Duluth has Been Done Up.

This Morning's Indignation Meeting Will Have Results.

Today has disclosed much of the grossly slack manner in which the census of Duluth is being taken. Whole sections have been missed in reported districts, and there are thousands of citizens who have not been called upon by enumerators. If the people of Duluth had not arisen in their wrath and instituted a thorough investigation, the census of this town would not have shown more than 30,000 inhabitants, if indeed, it gave even that number.

Some of the enumerators have been shamelessly negligent in their duties, one, so it is said, even making the statement that he "had gotten all the names he could afford to for two cents a head." One man, it is stated, works only nights, as he cannot give the enumeration all his time. Duluth people are inclined to kick over such botch work, and kick they have to good purpose.

Another enthusiastic indignation meeting was held this morning at the Chamber of Commerce, a large number of prominent citizens attending. No regular reports were made by the district committees appointed yesterday, but a number of individual reports were given. A. J. Miller was all yesterday afternoon industriously engaged in looking up those who had been missed by the enumerators. He found 150 people who had been left out, and will probably double his list today. C. C. Brown claims to have done even better than Mr. Miller, for he reports 200 names not reported, and of these many were in the Pastoret Stenson building. Alderman Dingwall looked up 100 good and true citizens who deeply feel the slight the enumerators have given them. Sixty-eight names were reported by B. Silberstein, and Messrs. Geggie, Hoover, Baldwin and many others had stories to tell of negligence on the part of the census takers. C. B. King informed The Herald that fully forty families living east of Chester brook had not been seen by enumerators, and none of them have visited "Walkerville" or "Superior View," as the map gives it. Only a few of The Herald force of fifty have been taken, and several contractors who have Duluth men working for them near the city, say that nobody has been for the names of their crews. On Lake avenue there are thirty boarders in one house, not one of whom has been listed. The enumerator who went through the Pastoret building was told that five men whose names were unknown were out, but who would return at night. The enumerator promised to "call again" but "call again" he did not. So it has gone throughout the entire city, and family after family are being left out of the reports.

All that could be done until Secretary Thompson returns from an interview with Superintendent Smith at St. Paul was done this morning. Mr. Smith has telegraphed that he will be here tomorrow, and he will be presented with an array of facts that will startle him, showing, as they do, the utter incompetency of many members of his chosen corps of enumerators.

A central committee of two business men from each of the twenty-four districts have been appointed, and these, with an executive committee composed of Messrs. Thompson, Baldwin, Miller, Ingalls and Gearhart, will attempt to assist in a correct enumeration of Duluth's population. The meeting adjourned, subject to the call of the chairman.

A MARVEL IN METAL.

The Fine Statue to be Erected at New Ulm.

NEW ULM, Minn., June 13.—There is being constructed at Salem, Ohio, a heroic statue of the German hero Arminius, or Hermann, who drove back and slaughtered the Roman legions under Varus. The finished statue, which is over 35 feet high, measuring from the foot to the point of the sword, is to be erected here this fall, and will stand on a pedestal of elaborate architecture and appropriate height. The figure is made of sheet copper, ranging from 24 ounces to 4 pounds. The seams are all countersunk and riveted, and the statue itself is supported on a strong framework of iron. The statue of Herman is the finest piece of work of the kind ever attempted on this side of the Atlantic. The colossal figure of "Liberty" in New York harbor, which also is of sheet copper, was executed in France, and so, of course, would not come into competition with it.

The modeling of the figure was done by Alfonz Pelzer, and the magnitude of the work will be realized when it is stated that about 20 tons of clay was used in the model, and that the roof of the building in which the modeling was done had to be taken off and an annex added to make room for the construction of the figure.

Says They Don't Want It.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 13.—Hon. Oliver Mowatt, premier of Ontario, who is in this city on private business, was interviewed on the subject of annexation, he said: "There is no sentiment for it in Canada. The election of Sol White should not, as is reported, be taken as an indication of a desire for annexation. White himself says he is for independence, not annexation. There is at present no desire for a change in the political system of Canada, but if a change ever does come it will be independence from Great Britain's control and not for annexation to the United States."

Justice Disappointed.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Judge Cowing in the court of general sessions today dismissed the indictments against John Keenan and ex-boodle alderman, Henry L. Sayles. They were charged with bribery in having participated in the steal of the Broadway railway franchise.

Return to Work.

COLUMBUS, Ohio June 13.—The striking street car men have accepted the proposition of the consolidated company made last night, and will return to work at a compromise scale of $150 for conductors and $160 for drivers.

NEW YORK'S FREE BATHS.

A Clean and Philanthropic Feature of that Sinful City.

NEW YORK, June 13.—All of the fifteen free baths in the city were formally opened yesterday, and all bore on their fronts a sign which read "Ladies' Day." Today the men will have a chance, and the baths will be used on alternate days hereafter by men and women.

It is estimated that 7000 or 8000 persons used the baths yesterday. The largest of all the baths is the new one to be placed at Market street. It is 130 feet long and has 1000 dressingrooms.

The bath most frequented yesterday was that at Battery Park. Nearly 1000 persons, from toddling mites 3 years old to women of mature years, splashed and plunged there to their hearts' content.

Yesterday a crowd of boys who were waiting around the entrance caught the superintendent of baths as he was just about to enter and importuned him to throw the doors wide open. He did so, and the boys around the Battery thus gained a three days' start on their less fortunate brothers in other parts of the city. On that day not less than 4500 boys and men were in swimming there.

WHICH LIVED LONGEST?

A Queer Legal Point Growing Out of the Johnstown Disaster.

BALTIMORE, June 13.—Claimants to a beneficiary fund of $3000 in the order of the Golden Chain appeared in court here today and the sad story of the terrible death of Walter Hoopes, his wife and two children in the Johnstown flood was retold by Henry W. Smith, who alone of eleven persons gathered at the time of the flood in one house lived to tell the story.

Young Hoopes was a secretary of the Somerset & Cambria Iron Works and prominently connected in this city. His sister, Mrs. Bertha Cowman, and the administrator of his wife's estate are the contestants. The beneficial order is awaiting the decision of the court to pay the money. The question involved is which of the two, Hoopes or his wife, died first.

Mrs. Cowman, who was Hoopers' sister and administratrix, claims the money as against Mr. Rogers, administrator of Mrs Hooper, but the two children, it is alleged, survived some minutes after the death of the parents. Mrs. Cowman claims that all of the parties died on this one occasion, and that removes intermediate interests, and that she, therefore, is entitled to the fund. For the defendants it is claimed that as Mrs. Hooper is not shown to have died before her husband, the fund must belong to her estate, but if not it must go to the friends of the infant children, as they survived.

His Holiness' Complaint.

NEW YORK, June 13.—A private letter from Rome says that Rt. Rev. Bishop Brondel of Helena, Mont., who is now visiting the vatican, will take back to the United States an important address from the holy pontiff to the faithful of that country. The bishop has had several interviews with the Pope, in the course of which the latter has bitterly lamented the persecution to which he is subjected by the Italian authorities, and which he claims are on the increase. He feels very keenly the fact that for twelve years he has been compelled to remain within the boundaries of the vatican, but denies the reports that he is contemplating accepting a refuge elsewhere, and says that he proposes to remain and defend the rights of the holy see to his last breath.

In the Footsteps of Randall.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—There has been something of a flutter in senatorial circles during the past few days over the report that Senator McPherson of New Jersey, is preparing for a speech on the tariff question that will riddle the McKinley bill. Although a democrat, the senator has always allied himself with the Randall protective-tariff contingent, and has especially stood by the industries of his own state. One of his friends says he is strongly opposed to many features of the McKinley bill; that he has been for weeks preparing his coming speech, and that he has expended nearly $1000 in material for it.

The Baron Silent.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Baron Fava, the Italian minister, still refuses to talk concerning the rumor that himself and the consul general at New York had been recalled to explain charges that they have been implicated in certain tobacco irregularities, and had connived at the padrone system that has proven such a curse to New York and other cities. In diplomatic circles, however, the story is discredited, as it is known that the baron has a strong political as well as personal pull with the royal family of Italy as well as with the government.

Sarah's Situation.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Tuesday's decision of the supreme court reversing the lower decision by which Sarah Althea Terry won $7000 alimony out of the Sharon estate knocks the last prop from under that celebrated litigation, and probably puts a quietus on it forever. Sarah has little or no estate with which to continue the fight, and in legal circles the belief prevails that not a loophole remains by which she can gain even a temporary advantage.

A New City Hall.

LARIMORE, N. D., June 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—The first load of stone to be used in constructing the new city hall, was drawn today. The structure will be of brick, 44x66, two stories high, with a large tower, and when completed will be an ornament to the city. The Elk valley bank has changed hands—Messrs. Warren and Smith retiring in favor of Messrs. John Birkholz, A. S. Brooks and Anthony Stonehouse.

That Explains It.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—People close to the White House say that the statement that Mr. Bayne's declination of a renomination for congress, which has occasioned so much stir in republican circles in Pittsburgh, was due to the probability that he will receive the appointment of minister to Spain, which is now vacant, is about correct, and that the appointment may be expected at an early date.

University Commencement.

EVANSTON, Ill., June 13.—Many visitors are here from states near and distant to attend the week's exercises of the commencement of the Northwestern university. Today the graduating exercises are in prgress. In the list Missouri, Kentucky, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Kansas and Indiana are represented by the students.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

The second day of the great convention of societies of Christian Endeavor at St. Louis is being devoted to state reunions, which are being held in churches of all denominations throughout the city. Tomorrow s steamboat excursion will wind up the gathering.

MAY BLOSSOM IN BLOOD

The Rosebud Reports are Not so Fiery But Trouble May Break.

Settlers Gathering in Settlements; Indians All Armed.

MILES CITY, Mont., June 13.—The attitude of the Cheyenne Indians continues to be menacing, though no overt act has occurred since the killing of Ferguson. Owing to the fact that the Indians are away from the reservations and are scattered about in small bands, the settlers are becoming frightened and are sending children and women into town. Indian lookouts are placed at different points and are constantly signalling by mirror flash and blanket code.

Friendly Indians have reported to whites that there is to be an outbreak and that they are now making medicine, which is generally accepted to mean that they are waiting to be joined by allies from the Standing Rock, Sioux and Pine Ridge Cheyennes, to whom messengers have been sent. The northern Cheyennes of themselves only number about 250 bucks.

At the agency on Rosebud Maj. Carroll of the First Cavalry has three troops of cavalry, about 140 men. Detachments of a troop of cavalry and three companies of infantry, 150 all told, left Fort Keogh yesterday to proceed up the Rosebud and co-operate with Carroll. Three companies at Fort Keogh could be sent out, but no transportation can be had.

In compliance with a request of the sheriff of this county, 100 rifles and 10,000 rounds of ammunition arrived here today in charge of Col. Curtis, aid to Gov. Toole. The sheriff expected that the arms would be turned over to him for issuance to the soldiers, but Col. Curtis will not do so unless in case of great emergency, which he is not satisfied exists now. It has been arranged for Col. Curtis and Stock Inspector Smith to go to the Cheyenne agency and confer with Maj. Carroll, and on their return report the situation to the government.

The Indians are all well armed with Winchester rifles and government ammunition, while the ranchers and cowboys are unarmed. Calf branding and the round-up has been stopped entirely, owing to this fact. If the Indians could be disarmed and put back on their reservation, settlers could take care of themselves, but in the present condition of affairs, there seems to be nothing for them to do but abandon their homes and business, and congregate in the towns.

While nothing of a more serious nature may occur, it is quite probable that any day may bring news of an outbreak.

NEWS FROM ABROAD.

How They Treat American Citizens in Germany; Foreign Notes.

BERLIN, June 13.—It is reported that the announcements of Gen. Du Vernois, the minister of war, relative to further military requirements, were made without the consent of Chancellor Von Caprivi, and that in consequence the resignation of the war minister may be expected.

A tremendous sensation has been caused in Berlin this week by the arrest of Joseph Jonasson, of the firm of Meyer Jonasson & Co., New York, on the charges of libeling the emperor.

It appears that Mr. Jonasson met a couple of students one evening, whom he had seen before, and went with them to several places, when suddenly both of them turned upon him and accused him of making objectionable observations about the emperor, although as a matter of fact the latter's name had never been meutioned. Jonasson then noticed that both the students were drunk. He tried to smooth the matter over as a joke, but they refused to listen to him, and called for the police, who were only too glad of the chance of arresting an American. Jonasson was rudely searched and all his valuables, papers, etc., taken from him. Mr. Jonasson protested against this treatment and called the officer's attention to the drunken condition of both students and demanded to be released. But all his protests were in vain. He was rapidly driven to police headquarters. The officers at this station likewise declined to entertain protests and ordered his instant removal to jail. For three days and nights he was kept in solitary close confinement and given food in a filthy condition.

At length, after suffering great privations, Mr. Jonasson succeeded in getting one of the best lawyers in Berlin. The two drunken students, his accusers, now say they made the charge while drunk, and, therefore, remembered nothing about the affair. But it is hardly likely they will be allowed to go off with such an infamous excuse. Efforts have been made to hush up the case, but Americans refuse to listen to such a proposal. The case is still before the court. There is no doubt as to Mr. Jonasson's ultimate acquittal. When he is really free he will probably move an inquiry as to the conduct of the police officials who refused all assistance to him.

The Novoe Vremya invites ex-King Milan to spend a few years in Russia in order that he may overcome prejudices and be enabled to work in the Pan Slavist house. The invitation has made a sensation, in view of the intention credited to Russia that it desires to secure Milan's influence with the Servian army.

The Czarwitch will start on a tour of the world on Aug. 12. He will return via the United States.

A serious riot occurred at Barmen, Rhenish Prussia, owing to the entry into the city of a band of salvationists in spite of the strict prohibitory laws. As they attempted to march a crowd of people pelted them with stones and clubs. The police protected the salvationists and attempted to disperse the mob, but they refused to move and continued to throw stones at the "army," wounding several of them severely. The police finally put the mob to flight and made a number of arrests.

Fatal Fights.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 13.—There was a free fight Wednesday among a number of cowboys in Socorro county, resulting in the death of John and Jarat Davis on one side and Fred Groselett on the other. Owing to the isolation of the point where the affray took place particulars cannot be given. There are two factions in that county.

MANY NARROW ESCAPES.

A Bad Rail Wreck That, Strangely, Killed None.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 13.—A train load of passengers on the Cleveland, Canton & Southern railroad had a miraculous escape from death in an accident at the crossing of that road and the Cleveland & Pittsburgh line near Jones avenue, this city, this morning. As it was, several persons were more or less seriously injured and the other passengers were badly frightened.

A Cleveland & Canton southern passenger train, consisting of three coaches and a locomotive, and the Pittsburgh way freight, both bound toward the city, approached the crossing of the roads. The target man at the crossing set the signal giving the passenger train the right-of-way. It approached, but the Cleveland and Pittsburgh freight did not slacken. The express engine and half of the forward car were over the crossing when the freight locomotive struck the coach. The heavy car was lifted into the air and then thrown upon its side on top of the target house.

W. R. Carver of Kent, Ohio, was seriously injured about the head and hips; Mrs. Joseph Nash of Kent, was injured in the spine, also internally; Mrs. W. W. Westfall of Bedford, Ohio, was caught between the seats and her back injured, she was also cut with flying boards; Mrs. Stephen Parker of Bedford, was cut on the head and her back wrenched; Miss Ada Fisher, of Miles avenue, was seriously shaken up the shock rendering her temporarily blind; Rev. Dr. D. H. Muller of Canton, was injured painfully. His seat was near where the locomotive came into the car, and it was a wonder he was not killed.

Another.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., June 13.—A train on the Chesapeake & Ohio ran off an embankment by reason of a washout and Engineer Roadchap and Fireman Honaker were killed. Another train man was drowned.

CIVIL SERVICE.

The House Committee; Two Faithful, One Very Lax.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The house committee on reform in the civil service which, during the present session of congress, conducted an investigation in the charges filed against the civil service commission, held a meeting today and finally agreed upon the report, which will be presented to the house. It is said it has been signed by all the members of the committee, excepting Messrs. Stone and Anderson. Chairman Lehlback of the committee will present it in the house at the first opportunity.

In concluding its report, the committee says: With regard to the conduct of the civil service commissioners in the matters submitted to your committee, we find first that Commissioners Roosevelt and Thompson have discharged their duty with entire fidelity and integrity; second, that the official conduct of Commissioner Lyman has been characterized by laxity of discipline in the administration of the affairs of the commission and is therefore censurable. Your committee will proceed at once to investigate the work and present its report when said investigation shall have been completed, together with a report of this conclusion.

IN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The Y. P. S. C. E. Gathering is Formally Opened.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—The work of the convention of the Young Peoples Society of Christian Endeavor opened this morning with a very generally attended prayer meeting at Music hall, from 7 to 7:30 o'clock.

The first business session of the committee opened promptly at 9 a. m., President Clark presiding.

After music and religious exercises and various announcements, invitations and greetings were read from abroad.

Says We're Salt Eaters.

NEW YORK, June 13.—According to an interesting statistical table just issued by the French Academy of Science and Industry, the people of the United States consume more salt than those of any other country. For the year ending in December last it is claimed, although the table does not tell how the results were arrived at; that the consumption was as follows, per inhabitant: United States 25, grammes, Great Britain 20, France 15, Italy 10, Russia 9, Austria 8, Prussia 7, Spain 6, Switzerland 45.

Prosecuting the Strike.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 13.—At the various headquarters of the striking carpenters in the several sections of the city yesterday, secret meetings were held to take a vote of the strikers on the question of further holding out. After several meetings, it was ascertained there were an aggregate of over 800 strikers, and there was an unanimous vote to continue the strike to a successful end. Arrangements are being made to hold a series of mass meetings next week in different sections of the city to interest the public more generally in the strike.

Killed His Father.

ELMIRA, N. Y., June 13.—Frank Warren was shot and instantly killed by his 16-year-old son about 2 o'clock this morning. Warren was a traveling man working for the Owego Wagon company. He went away yesterday morning telling his wife he would be gone ten days. He returned, however, about 10 o'clock last night and commenced quarrelling with his wife. The quarrel continued for some time, when his son Herbert arose from bed and interfered. During the trouble Herbert produced a revolver and shot his father in the right breast. Warren died almost instantly. Young Warren, who is a school boy, has been arrested. He is very cool and collected, but says nothing.

Build no Depot.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—It is reported here that the scheme sometime since entered into by the Milwaukee, St. Louis, Soo and Northern Pacific railways to build a new union depot in this city has been abandoned. The site for the same has already been condemned and paid for. It is believed that an arrangement has been made with the Great Northern railway, which owns the present union depot, by which all roads will eventually run their trains to that depot.

IT ANSWERS THE BISHOP

The Unique and Splendid Exhibit of the Public Schools.

In all Careful Handiwork Great Excellence is Shown.

The first public exhibition of the Duluth public schools in the departments of drawing, manual training and kindergarten and the like, opened this morning in the Ray building, Superior street, near Fourth avenue east, and all day long the hall has been crowded with interested spectators.

The specimens are tastefully arranged upon the walls of the two large rooms on the first floor and on table and racks, forming a picture most pleasing to the eye. The exhibit is worthy a minute and detailed description, which, however, is impossible today on account of the limited time and space. Such a description, moreover, could not be made satisfactory; the work must be seen to be appreciated.

As one enters the hall the first thing to catch the eye is the specimen work of the kindergarten. This consists of paper cutting and folding, sewing, embroidery sewing, mat weaving, parquetry, drawing and writing, and the work, considering the fact that it was executed by children 10 years of age and under, is truly wonderful. Specimens of carving executed by pupils of the sixth and eighth grades also attracts much attention, and shows skill that should be cultivated. Tastefully arranged on tables are specimen books in drawing, writing, music, arithmetic, language and spelling from the different grades of the several schools.

The rear room is devoted almost entirely to high school and manual training school work, and contains really the most interesting part of the exhibit, because that most advanced. The manual training school has been in existence but a single year, and the proficiency acquired by its pupils, as attested by specimens of their work here displayed, is extremely gratifying. To give each special mention would be impossible, but some are especially deserving. A beautiful backgammon and checker board of inlaid woods, the handiwork of Charley Hutchinsin, aged 17, is among the most noticeable specimens, also a handsome fire screen, made by Willie Upham and D. Moore, each 16 years of age; Upham also displays an elegant antique oak writing desk, and Charley Davis and Ward Ames, Jr., each 17 years of age, display artistically constructed oak commodes. Here also are to be seen specimens of dove-tailing and joiner work that would cause an old knight of the hammer and saw to turn green with envy. The pupils of the manual training school draw their own plans, that for each specimen exhibited accompanying it.

Beautiful specimens of drawing and penmanship are shown, also of panel carving. Prominent among the latter is a perfect locomotive, the production of Miss Sophie Bloedel, of the fifth grade of the Washington school.

The exhibit throughout shows thorough training and careful study, reflects great credit upon both teachers and pupils, and cannot fail of gratification to the citizens of Duluth, speaking volumes of praise for our school system.

The hall this evening and tomorrow evening will be lighted by electricity, which will add greatly to the attractiveness of the exhibit, and it is hoped it will be seen by very many.

A Most Flattering Standing.

At the closing exercises of the Duluth Yale school this morning, the first prize for excellence in scholarship was awarded to Mary J. Salter, whose average for the year was 94.86. The second prize, $5 in gold, was awarded to Anna White of the preparatory department.

Miss Salter's average is remarkably high, considering the amount of work she has done during the past ten months. Her work for that time embraces fourteen of Cicero's orations, all of Virgil's Aeneid, an advanced course in Latin composition, and a heavy course in English literature, besides much regular work and a general review of mathematics. She enters Wellesley in September.

At the Hardy School.

A good deal of work is being done at the site of the new Hardy school and both architects and contractors claim it will be ready for opening on the date set, late in September. The excavation for the building is completed, the foundation is partly in and the rest is being pushed fast. Miss Hardy and her associate principal are in Duluth today looking after business.

ITS LAST SESSION.

The Cecilia Society Will Now Adjourn for the Summer.

The Cecilian society held its last season's musicale at Steinway hall this afternoon, Beethoven's compositions being presented. The hall was tastefully decorated with potted plants, and an engraving and bust of the great master held prominent positions near the piano platform. About 100 guests were present and all thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. Ten numbers were rendered, among them being solos by Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Loman.

"Evangeline."

Rice's "Evangeline" opens for four nights next Wednesday. The cast contains many names familiar to Duluth theater goers. The dingy old fishing-rod and line nightly used by James S. Maffitt as the Lone Fisherman in "Evangeline" has done duty for seventeen years, and is more prized by Mr. Maffitt than if the rod were silver and the string of gold.

Granite Quarrymen Organize.

ST. CLOUD, June 12.—A number of granite owners and lessees of quarries in this vicinity met and elected Thomas M. Breen, president; Walter Arnold, secretary, and James Holee, treasurer. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws. The association is called the Northern Granite Protective association, and its object is to strengthen the granite owners in keeping up prices, etc.

A Good Outlook.

WASHINGTON, June 13. — Senator Washburn says that although the President has vetoed one or two bills calling for increased appropriations for public buildings, he is confident that the bill increasing Duluth's appropriation from $150,000 to $270,000 will receive favorable consideration, as the President is well aware of the growth of Duluth and its needs in this direction.

Ives & Staynor's Accounts.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The report of Referee Stetson in the matter of winding up the affairs of Ives & Staynor was filed today. The original liabilities of the firm were $19,000,000, but $11,000,000 has been extinguished by closing out of loans, sales of securities, etc. The total amount of claims proved before the referee was $6,324,874. Ninety-eight per cent of these agreed to accept 5 per cent. The others will receive about 4½ per cent.

Have You Caught On

To some of the immense bargains being offered in footwear at the assignee sale, 307 Superior street west? If not, why not? Such values were never before heard of in Duluth. And they are going rapidly, the people being eager to take advantage of the opportunity. They are selling ladies' fine kid Burt shoes at the ridiculously low price of $3 per pair, and the same money purchases a pair of gents' fine calf Burt shoes. A word to the wise, etc.

A BAD BOTCH.

It must be clear to most people by this time that the current census appropriation is stupidly insufficient, or else there is wretched cheeseparing in portioning it out. The gathering of the record in this city is grossly bad, and Minneapolis is complaining of carelessness and neglect as earnestly and justly apparently as we are. There was disgraceful delay and stinting in the supply of the necessary blanks here, the number of enumerators was far too small, and the pay is plainly too little to ensure a thorough and faithful count.

There are doubtless competent and trustworthy men on the working force here, but it is certain that some are not, and how many the city is likely to find out to its cost and injury for ten years to come. Obviously the pay offered was not enough to secure the right kind of men, and not enough even to induce poor agents to cover the field with any approach to thoroughness. In some districts they have simply skimmed the cream of the count at two cents a head, and let the balance which they had to climb for or stir about for go by default. In many instances, even, they have been in such a hurry to do up and turn in their tiresome and poorly paid job, that they have passed by some of the most prominent houses and heads in their districts. Such a mass of evidence to this effect has been brought before The Herald that we judge this count the most rotten we have ever known.

Scarcely one half of the entire working force on The Herald, in all its departments has yet been counted in, and inquiry in other business offices shows often a neglect or delay in the count as bad or worse. Skimping the allowance to two cents a head, and tagging on a long list of questions, of which a big share at least is not truthfully answered, if answered at all, is almost certain to make this eleventh census of bad repute. In the last census a white elephant of jumbled stuff was left over, after the patience and pocket of Uncle Sam had been strained to the limit of the old man's temper, in sorting and boiling down and chucking away, and the present census has not profited much by the example of the past. The prime thing of importance to this city and country was a full and exact count, and every other item should have been sacrificed to this essential, instead of sacrificing the main point to the offshoots. The one thing absolutely needful has been left undone or poorly done, and much has been done which was not worth doing.

For ten years to come, this city will suffer directly and inevitably from a rotten count, if such a count is allowed to stand, and its attaching injuries may be of even greater damage and larger effect. Such a count will determine our political representation and comparative weight in the affairs of state and nation for ten years to come. The head of the lakes should be the acknowledged head of northern Minnesota and the rallying point of all the country districts against the over-weening assumption and greedy grasp of the Twin cities. With a rotten count it will be a sore and a weak head for such a leader to show. Moreover the patent result of such a count without the explanation of it, will be spread broadcast throughout the country to the contempt of Duluth's fair claims and certain detriment. For not only must our city combat the unconsciously unjust impressions but the willful thrusts as well of unscrupulous rivals. This must not be. There should be organization at once to secure a recount in every reported district and a thorough count in every district not yet returned. At the worst, in default of organization, or the grant of a recount a volunteer committee with every enumerator can do much even in one day to improve the record. We are glad that the Chamber of Commerce is stirring so actively in this matter. It concerns every one in Duluth personally and as a citizen to make this public business his own business.

The natal day of the republic is close upon us, and what is Duluth going to do about it?

The Canadian Pacific, in placing F. N. Finney at the head of the Soo road, and probably Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroads, as noted in this paper yesterday, evinces an inclination to do some vigorous bidding for increased traffic from the Northwest. In view of the advantage now possessed by the great Canadian line in the way of securing business from American feeders, the enlivenment of competition by new management of the Soo and Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic lines may be interpreted to mean more war for the American lines and a better state of things for the cities along the northern frontier.

The current number of Garden and Forest states that the white pine of the Northwest is so nearly exhausted that there is only about two years' supply of standing timber in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. According to its statement the timber remaining last year in Michigan was only about equal to the average annual cut since 1880. These statements are "important if true." The Herald is not only inclined to question their strict accuracy, but most emphatically denounces such reports. Neither the market supply nor the prices of pine lumber and timber indicate that the great pine forests of the Northwest are so nearly exhausted. Such talk shows the denudatic in his worst light. He has, in many cases, a good deal of sound sense on his side, but when he makes such wild statements as this his value in any line is to be doubted.

It has just been decided by the Pennsylvania supreme court that a guest at a hotel or restaurant may carry away to eat at his leisure all the food that is served to him, which he is unable to eat or doesn't want to eat at the time. How our own state supreme court will rule on this vital question to guests and hotel keepers remain to be seen. But it will be well for the waiters here to keep a sharp eye on the napkins from this day on, and see that the law is not stretched to cover the table spoons as well as the food. It is likely that the Pennsylvania decision will do away with the reckless practice of serving butter on a separate dish or putting up fruit stands in front of fond parents. But till the Pennsylvania law is in force here, we warn the public that it is not safe to use this paper to wrap up cold potatoes, or any other remnants, except when the head waiter is not looking.

The Chicago News thinks that it has unearthed a dark and damnable plot to sand-bag the directors of the World's fair. There is no intention, it admits, "to cripple seriously the great enterprise. But the directors are to be harrassed, their motives to be impugned, and an attempt will be made to acquire political capital at their expense. There are hints of bids for other kinds of capital also, but these may be erroneous. Now that the governor—unwittingly, perhaps—seems to be lending himself to the wishes of the "sandbaggers"—as shown by his postponement yesterday of the call for an extra session—it is deemed well to place the people of Chicago on their guard." Eternal vigilance, it seems, is to be the price of the Worlds fair as well as of liberty. But Chicago is willing to pay this price and all other charges, and the governor should give her a chance by calling the extra session of the legislature which will permit her to tax herself $5,000,000 more. Plots and politics should not be put in the way of the great exhibit as stumbling blocks.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"It is not our fault, in many instances, that the census isn't complete," said one of the enumerators, as we sat talking about the indignation meeting yesterday. "We have many things to contend against. In the houses of those people to whom we look for intelligent answers, we are sometimes the most bothered. In many wealthy homes we are made to stand in halls and seek our information through servants. What kind of reports can we make of these people? Then boarding house keepers make us lots of trouble. Some of them absolutely refuse to answer our questions, but we have their names, and if the government desires to prosecute them they can be fined $100. Many of the foreigners who live here cannot understand our questions and we have to let it go at that."

* * *

But nevertheless, there have been some queer manipulations with the enumeration. One enumerator coolly informed a business man that he "had made as complete a canvass as he could afford to for two cents a head." Another enumerator is said to work only nights, as he hadn't time to do his duties in the day.

"Why doesn't Duluth have a smelter," said a prominent mine owner last night. "I don't mean an iron furnace this time, but a moderate sized smelter. I'm sure if the ores of the Thunder Bay district can be taken, as they are, to Newark and elsewhere for reduction and the lead carried from Mexico, they can be reduced here at a great deal less cost. There is a vast amount of valuable silver ore in the Thunder Bay district, a good share of it owned by Duluthians, and nearly all of it under control of Americans, and as soon as the road, now building, is well started the output will be remarkable. A smelter here could handle this ore as well as the gold from the Lake of the Woods, which will be brought here as soon as the Duluth & Winnipeg is in operation, and it would be a very profitable industry."

One of those unfortunate little lads whose fond mother insists upon adorning his well-shaped head with the yellow curls of babyhood even after he has donned knee breeches and other evidences of building manhood, attracted the attention and sympathy of the pedestrians of Fourth street west this morning. The little fellow was a manly looking lad of about 10 and while his long curls greatly added to his attractive appearance, he showed by his manner that he wore them not from choice but at his mother's mandate. He was followed by a crowd of jeering street gamins and seemed heartily mortified at the ridicule which his appearance excited.

IN LOBBY AND CORRIDOR.

With all the building going on in Duluth there never was a time when houses for rent were scarcer. In St. Paul hundreds of residences are being built, and hundreds of buildings are tenantless. It is the same in Minneapolis.

‡

"If the Superior papers would use the same space for pointing out the advantages of the East and West Ends that they do in showing the disadvantages of Duluth, they would gain more in the end," said a gentleman who resides across the bay.

NO UNCERTAIN SOUND.

A Preacher Writes.

To the Editor of The Herald.

Dear Sir—I see you ask for the names of those upon whom the canvass enumerators have not called. No one has called on me.

A. H. BALLARD.

Another Sample.

To the Editor of The Herald:

No enumerator has called on Nos. 924 and 922 upon two families at least—E. D. Baker and wife, W. H. Williams and wife.

E. D. BAKER.

How is This?

To the Editor of The Herald:

There are eight people living in my house. So far not one of us have been visited by a census enumerator.

FRANK HIBBING.

Sixty-Eight Uncounted.

To the Editor of The Herald.

I, as a member of the citizens' committee, have received since yesterday afternoon, sixty-eight names of people unvisited by the census men and uncounted. Of these a large number were in my own store.

B. SILBERSTEIN.

Telegraphed Mr. Smith.

To the Editor of The Herald.

In the district where I board the enumerator "finished" his work a week ago. I didn't go around at all but heard of several neglected cases and telegraphed Supervisor Smith myself. I should like to see that district, and several others, gone over by competent men and checked carefully. It is a bad enumeration and I know it.

BENJ. NUTE,
Agent Polk Directory.

A Hundred Missed Here.

To the Editor of The Herald:

No enumerator had called on the Ayr or Sherwood boarding houses up to last night, what may have been done today I don't know. There are full fifty boarders in the two houses and they are in the center of the city and could hardly be missed. The Pastoret-Stenson building has fifty or sixty roomers and has not been visited at all.

AN AYR HOUSE BOARDER.

East of Chester.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In the east part of the city the enumerators have by no means done their duty. I know of forty families east of Chester brook upon whom no enumerator has called.

AN EAST ENDER.

An Addition Unvisited.

To the Editor of The Herald:

It is a disgrace to the city the way the census is being taken. Hundreds of names have been left off in reported districs. In Superior View addition not a name has been taken and there are many families living there.

NATHANIEL A. GEARHART.

The Worst of All.

To the Editor of The Herald:

There is no question but that the Duluth census is being taken in a scandalously unthorough manner. As one of the committee appointed at yesterday's meeting at the Chamber of Commesce, I found no less than 160 citizens who had not been seen by the enumerators. Some of these may be by tomorrow, but it is probable that over half these names will go unrecorded.

A. J. MILLER.

TO HER WHO KNOWS.

Because your eyes are blue, your lips are red;
And the soft hair is golden on your head,
And your sweet smiling nea make glad the day,
And on your cheeks pink roses have their way,
Should I adore you?

Since other maids have shining, golden hair,
And other cheeks the June's pink roses wear,
And other eyes can set the day alight,
And other lips can smile with youth's delight,
Why bow before you?

But if the eyes are blue for me alone,
And if for only me the rose has blown,
And but for me the lips their sweet smile wear,
Then shall you mesh me in your golden hair,
I will adore you.

And as my saint, my soul's one shining star,
That lights my darkness from its throne afar,
As lights the summer moon the waiting sea,
With all I am and all I strive to be,
I'll bow before you.

Wherever Malaria Exits,

The bilious are its certain prey. In intermittent and remittent fever, dumb ague and ague cake, the liver is always seriously affected, and the blood contaminated with bile. One of the chief reasons why Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such a sure defense against chills and fever and every form of malarial disease is, that it does away with liability to the disease, by reforming irregularity of the biliary organ in advance of the arrival of the season when the disease is prevalent. There is no finer fortifying preparative for those about visiting or emigrating to a locality where the miasma-taint exists. There is no certain immunity from disease in an endemic or epidemic form, to be secured by the use of the average tonic and anti-spasmodics. But where quinine fails the Bitters succeeds, both in preventing and curing. Moreover, it removes every vestige of dyspepsia, and overcomes constipation, rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, and tranquilizes and strengthens the nervous system.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, causing distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet efficiently. It tones the stomach, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, banishes headache, and refreshes the mind.

Distress After Eating Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would have a faint or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble was aggravated by my business, painting. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. Not in the "Book Trust."

The statement has been widely circulated, probably by parties who wished it might be true, that John B. Alden, publisher, of New York, Chicago and Atlanta, had joined the "Book Trust," which is trying to monopolize the publication of standard books and to increase prices from 25 to 100 per cent. Mr. Alden has not joined the trust, and there is not and never has been any probability of his joining it. The "Literary Revolution," which has accomplished such wonderful results within the past ten years in popularizing literature of the highest character, still goes on. Instead of increasing prices, large reduction in prices has recently been made, particularly on copyright books by American authors. A catalogue of ninety-six pages is sent free to any applicant. One of the latest issues from his press is "Stanley's Emin Pasha Expedition," by Wauters, a very handsome, large-type, illustrated volume, reduced in price from $2 to fifty cents. This work tells a most interesting and complete story, beginning with the conquest of the Soudan and continuing through years of African exploration, the revolt of the Mahdi, the siege of Khartoum, with the death of Gordon, the return of Dr. Junker, besides the story of Stanley's own adventures, including his successful relief expedition.

THE STATE PRESS.

Fergus Falls Journal: At Wadena the prohibitionists talk of Mayor Earl for congress. He has got a good sized boom for governor and the Wadena contingent should fall in.

Brainerd Dispatch: There is talk in political circles of placing Senator Clough in the field for nomination as lieutenant-governor on the republican ticket. There are many people in this section who would not be dissatisfied with the selection.

Little Falls Transcript: Governor Merriam is now on very friendly relations with republican leaders who opposed his nomination two years ago, and it now seems certain that there will be little opposition to his nomination. His election is quite certain, as he certainly has gained in popularity and standing during the past two years.

Midway News: Every indication points to a hotly contested campaign in Minnesota this year. Whatever may be the ground of their confidence, there is no disputing the fact that the democrats are hopeful of making a winning campaign.

'Twas All Boom Talk.

Superior Leader: It is learned on good authority that all predictions as to the South Shore railway contemplating great improvements here this season, are without foundation. Nothing in the line of dock or depot building is being considered, for this year at least. If anything at all is done, it will be in track building.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Female barbers are numerous in Seville.

Charles W. Hamilton, a naval surgeon, claims to have found in the seed of the kola a remedy for seasickness. He says that half to one drachm of the seed chewed slowly was followed in about forty minutes by complete cessation of the various symptoms of mal de mer.

The Dry Goods Chronicle gives this advice: "When you are ready to put away furs and woolens and want to guard against the depredations of moths, pack them securely in paper flour sacks and tie the latter up well. This is better than camphor, tobacco or snuff."

A new colonial coinage is being struck in Rome for traffic between the Italian ports on the Red sea and Abyssinia. The coins consist of 2-francs, 1-franc and 50-centime pieces, bearing the portrait of King Humbert and the value of each coin in Italian and Amharic. There are also "crowns" or 5-franc pieces, which resemble the Marie Theresa dollar, but display the effigies of King Humbert and the Emperor Menelek on the two sides.

Black ice cream is a new fad. It is colored by the addition of charcoal and the juice of Turkish prunes.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the only official program of the Duluth-Superior regatta is under my charge, and is the only one authorized by the association or to which the association will give its sanction. This is the only one, too, which will be correct, or which will contain the correct program of the races.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan—one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on LOCAL DAY'S SUMMARY.

Work of the Park Commission in the Chester Brook Ravine.

Crown Point Development; Arrested for Rape; Notes.

The park commission has been steadily at work on the new drives in the valley of Chester brook for some weeks and today wishes to state that the work has been completed, completed so far, at least, as to allow pleasure seekers to ride down into the bottom of the ravine cross the stream on a handsome rustic bridge, and ride out on the west side up a gentle incline. This road starts in from the drive on the east side of the brook at a point just below the big falls, curves gently around the side of the ravine and reaches the bottom some distance above the falls, where it crosses on a bridge completed today, and rises on the west side of the stream, reaching the old drive below a steep hill that has always been a bad feature of the drive.

This new road cuts off, if one wishes to shorten the trip of the boulevard, a ride of a mile or more around the upper part of Chester brook to the Wakelin farm and avoids several hills. At the west end work is about finished and the entire drive is in excellent shape.

The issue of city bonds for park purposes will probably be sold and delivered very soon, when the board will go to work on land purchase with vigor.

WORKING A MINE.

Splendid Prospects for Duluth Owners of the Crown Point Silver Mine.

The recent sale of the Crown Point silver property on Silver mountain to a stock company of Duluthians, in which the former owner, A. D. Cummings, has a half interest, has been noted in these columns. But that the new company intends to push with vigor on and make a paying mine, has not been told. There is abundant capital in the new company, and nothing will be spared to make the work successful.

Mr. Cummings has run in a drift, on the vein, for about 550 feet in the ore, carrying quartz all the way. He is 250 feet below the surface, and as the vein was close to the top, the new owners are confident that they have a splendid thing. The vein has been traced three-quarters of a mile.

The Port Arthur, Duluth & Western roadbed is graded across the base of Silver mountain close to the Crown Point and the work of placing ties is being done. Rails are laid nearly to the silver mines and by fall the road will be in operation. Then the output of all the mines in the district will be larger and then Duluth should grasp the opportunity and put in a silver smelter which could be made a paying investment very easily.

FOR ATTEMPTED RAPE.

A Criminal who is Quickly Caught by the Police.

William Pitt, a dissolute character about the city and a chimneysweep by occupation, was arrested about 5 o'clock last evening for attempted rape upon Mrs. Murdock Matheson, a lady aged 58 years, residing at 311 St. Croix avenue. Pitt entered the house and finding the lady alone made indecent proposals to her, which she resented. He then attempted to accomplish his design, she struggling violently. Sounds of the struggle reached the ears of a little son playing outside, who came into the house and his mother appealed to him to go for help. At this Pitt struck her a terrific blow and left the house. The boy fortunately came upon Officer Slattery who hastened to the house, and finding Pitt gone, gave chase, finally running him down in Staulbusch's saloon, on Lake avenue south, and placing him under arrest. Pitt was arraigned in the police court this morning, and in default of $1000 bonds was remanded to jail to await examination, which will occur next Tuesday afternoon.

According to the statement of a neighbor of Mrs. Matheson, this is not Mr. Pitt's first offense in this line, she claiming that a short time ago he made a similar attempt upon her, but that a feeling of deliency prevented her making a complaint against him. Pitt is a married man, about 28 years of age, and resides at 1205 Piedmont avenue.

FROM WEST DULUTH.

Census-Taker Cushman; At the Marinette and Woolen Mills.

C. M. Cushman told The Herald's West Duluth reporter last night that he had been sent just about half blanks enough for the village and that he was doing nothing yesterday waiting for more. This in face of the fact that a very liberal estimate was thought to have been made, shows how West Duluth grows. Mr. Cushman has two weeks more of work.

The pipe for the water works is already on the way and is expected to arrive every day. Superintendent Elliott says the pipe will be laid in three months, notwithstanding the fact that the company have till December 1 to complete the work.

A special meeting of the council will be held Saturday evening. The principal business will be to settle the question whether Oneota street will be put through Sutphin's property at Hazlewood park, to connect with Michigan street. Also some definite action will be taken with regard to establishing the light of the new Second avenue bridge.

E. A. Talbot went to St. Paul today to meet his family who are coming to West Duluth from Iowa.

The Second avenue bridge is being removed to make room for the new pile bridge, soon to be constructed.

Two $4000 houses are soon to be erected in the Sixth division.

L. Q. Jonte is laying out the site for the new furniture factory in Hunter & Markell's addition. Teams have begun hauling stone for the foundation, and building operations will commence at once. The site is not far from the woolen mills.

A number of ladies are making an elegant silk banner to be carried to Ashland by the Scandinavian union on their excursion on June 24.

Mr. Herder, foreman of the carpenter work at the woolen mills, has been quite sick for some time past and unable to attend to his duties.

D. C. Prescott of the Marinette Iron works left last evening for Marinette, Wis. He will return next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Several car loads of stone have arrived for the Marinette Iron works, and Contractor Boyer arrived today with a force of masons to begin the mason work.

Samples of Dr. Miles' Nervine at Max Wirths, Cures Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Neuralgia, Fits, etc. 5

WEST END.

A Large Grist of News From the Second Division.

Thomas Spelman will commence work on the foundation for his new Superior street building next Monday. The foundation will be of Fond du Lac brownstone, while the superstructure will have a pressed brick with Kasota stone trimmings.

The remarks in the "Seen and Heard" column in yesterday's Herald about the need of houses were highly appropriate. A lady came up from St. Paul a few days ago to get a large roomy house to take boarders. But there were only two houses of suitable size and location. They demanded $30 per month rent for these each, which she could not afford to pay. Let a few more good houses be built.

Mr. Charles Valentine and Miss Hattie Matthews were married last evening at the Second Baptist church, Rev. A. H. Ballard presiding. A large number of friends witnessed the ceremony. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents on Twenty-eighth avenue and First street.

Long & White are now occupying the whole of the store at 1538 West Michigan street.

T. D. Craig, the well-known explorer, has returned from a short exploration trip on the iron range.

Clementson Bros. will move into the building formerly occupied by H. E. Hackett and will put in a full stock of harness, saddlery and boots and shoes.

Rev. Aug. Peterson of the Norwegian Methodist church with a party of five, left last night for the camp meeting at Grantsburgh, Wis.

N. J. Schaefer arrived last night from Owatonna and will visit here a few days with A. Knoblock, Jr.

Thomas Olafson has returned from a short visit with friends in Crookston.

Several Duluthians Elected.

The following officers were elected at the meeting of the Sons of Veterans at White Bear: Colonel, E. D. Morrie, Red Wing; lieutenant-colonel, E. F. Austin, Duluth; major, E. H. Clark, Windom; division council, C. L. Harde, Granite Falls, C. E. Wright, Montrose and W. E. Kellogg, Alexander; delegate to international convention, W. R. Johnson, St. Paul; delegate at large, A. F. Courtney, Minneapolis; alternates, W. H. Salter, Duluth and A. J. Messer, Duluth.

THE FARMERS KICK.

Officers Chosen; They go Dead Back on Mr. Comstock.

FERGUS FALLS, June 13.—The Farmers alliance of the Fifth district adjourned at midnight after a day of discussion. For congressmen there were many candidates and a single ballot by which Kittel Halverson of Stearns county was nominated, receiving 92 of 110 votes.

The officers chosen by the district alliance were: President, Henry Plowman, Otter Tail; vice-presidents, F. D. Rowith, Stevens county; R. P. Robinsfield, Moorhead; G. M. Swift, Polk county; secretary, Louis Hunson, Clay county; treasurer, A. D. Gaines, Alexandria; lecturer, Milo Camp, Stevens.

W. W. Erwin, the St. Paul lawyer, urged the alliance to demand a state secretary of agriculture and a change in the constitution so that railroads may be regulated and corporations controlled. He said Merriam had given a good administration; but was not in sympathy with the farmers and urged independent action. Resolutions were adopted; they denounce Representative Comstock for "knowing that the so called McKinley bill is unjust and injurious to the constituency he represented while he still voted for it, and has thereby demonstrated that he is an unfit representative of this great congressional district;" and they call "the attention of the people to the fact that the government is nothing but a supreme court nominated at the behest of corporations."

THE FARMERS VICTORIOUS.

Many Iowa Farmers Win the Famous Ejectment Case.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, June 13.—Judge Shiras has filed his decision in the case of Conkling vs. Wehrman, the celebrated O'Brien county ejectment case, growing out of the attempt about a year ago to eject a large number of farmers in that county from their homes. The farmers hooted their issues and employed counsel, and the trial which took place here in May was of much interest.

The court was asked to enjoin Wehrman from prosecuting his ejectment suits until the title could be settled, and asking that the title be in favor of the farmers.

Judge Shiras holds that the farmers have both the legal and equitable title and that Wehrman never had a valid title, and that if he had he had slept too long on his rights now to assert it.

CONFIRMS THE REPORT,

Yet Does Not Anticipate Any International Difficulty.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Col. E. C. Foster, special agent of the department of justice, who arrived here from San Diego a few days ago, where he has been investigating the recent filibustering to capture Lower California, left for Washington last night.

He declined to make any statement as to the result of his investigations at San Diego further than to say: "The filibustering scheme is of much greater magnitude than was at first supposed, and is really as reported, and may result in an increased military force being placed along the Mexican border, and especially along the Pacific coast, by the United States government. The results of my investigation will not cause any trouble between the United States and Mexico."

A Sad Suicide.

BURLINGTON, Ia., June 13.—A terrible suicide occurred in this city last night. An old man, Jos. Solit of Gladstone, Ill., who had come to Burlington on business, was found in the "Q" yards with his head severed from his body. He had laid his neck across the rails, with his body outside, in front of a backing switch engine. Shortly after his death, a message addressed to him from his son at Gladstone was received, asking him to return home as his wife was dying.

Regular Texas Occurrence.

JOSHUA, Texas, June 13.—Three highwaymen, one of whom was masked, rode into Joshua at 8:45 last night and stopped at Mr. Wentz's store in which the postoffice is located. They were heavily armed and robbed the postoffice of all the money it contained, together with what money was to be found in the store. The robbers got three gold watches and $200 in money. They made good their escape.

A YACHT CLUB STARTED.

Duluth Will Have an Excellent Sailing Club and at Once.

The "O'Brien Four" Wants to Come; General Sporting Notes.

Nearly all of the owners of Duluth yachts met last evening in The Spalding in accordance with the call published in Wednesday's Herald, to take action toward perfecting the arrangement of the sailing races in the coming regatta. The regatta management has set aside $500 for prizes to yachts and sailboats in the coming regatta, and in order to have some system about the contest and for the purpose of starting a permanent organization, this meeting was called. There are several gentlemen in Duluth now waiting to build yachts only for the fact that at the present time there is no accepted standard of measurement, time allowance or classification of boats for present owners and intended yacht owners. Nor will money be put in good boats here to any great extent until these questions are decided by a yacht club.

A committee of three boat owners consisting of Henry S. Mahon, L. N. Wood and Samuel V. Gilbert, was appointed to draft by-laws, sailing regulations, rules and time allowances, and submit them to a meeting which has been called for next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, at The Spalding. A membership committee of Dr. McAuliffe and Mr. Falkner will endeavor to acquaint all other yacht owners with the intentions of those present last evening and get them out next Tuesday evening.

Hon. C. D. O'Brien of St. Paul makes an interesting proposition to the Regatta association. Ex-Mayor O'Brien's four children, two daughters and two sons, the oldest a girl not yet 18, are great rowers, and are noted all over this state at least. Mr. O'Brien wants the committee to put up a purse for a four-oar pleasure-boat race, to be tried for by his children and a picked crew, from any club, of men not over 20 years of age, the race to be without outriggers. The O'Brien crew does not care where its opposing crew is picked out, but of course would prefer Duluth representatives. Its only stipulation is that its opponents shall have no more advantage in years than an age of 20 would give. From all reports such a race would not be any walk-away for the best young oarsmen of the various amateur clubs.

Sporting Notes.

The Brooklyn National League club took a freak the last week, all the members shaving off their mustaches. Foutz had none, so compromised by shaving his head.

June 17 has been definitely fixed upon for the glove contest between George Dixon and Nunc Wallace, at the rooms of the Pelican club, London, England.

Harry Wright's eyes are considerably better, and there is now no fear that he will lose his eyesight.

Probably the heaviest betting man on the turf at present, outside M. F. Dwyer, is Pierre Lorillard, who thinks nothing of plumping $10,000 on one of his horses that he thinks has a good chance of victory.

Should the next tournament for the amateur championship of America be at 6-inch balk line billiards, instead of straight rail go as you please, there will be little difficulty in getting a large number of entries.

Louis Cezinah and Tommy Comer of Cincinnati, Ohio, have been matched to fight twenty rounds, with two-ounce gloves, probably at Dayton, Ohio, within a few weeks. Bezinah is anxious for a chance to fight Andy Bowen, the winner of his battle with Billy Myers last week.

J. L. Malone has issued a challenge to play anybody a contest of continuous pool for $500 a side, 450 balls up, three night's play, and has forwarded to the Brunswick-Blake-Collender Co., Chicago, $100 as forfeit. He desires the contest to be played in the Madison street theatre, Chicago, during the third week in June.

Peter Cannon, the speedy Scotch runner, will arrive in this country on June 16, under engagement to M. J. Finn, the well-known amusement agent and manager of Natick, Mass., who arrived from England a short time ago. Cannon will be seen at the principal Caledonian club field meetings during the season.

Cumulative Investment Company

IN RESPONSE TO THE REPEATED DEmands for more stock in the Conservative Investment Association, a new corporation has been formed on the same principle by some of the officers of the same under the name Cumulative Investment Company.

The object is to give an opportunity for those unable to make large investments on their own account, to pool their issues by contributing monthly to a fund created for investment in real estate. The management of the affairs of the Cumulative will be vested in a board of seven directors who receive no salaries.

The capital stock is $100,000, divided into 2,000 shares of $50 each, payable in monthly installments of $1 per share. Not more than 50 nor less than 10 shares may be held by any one person.

No better opportunity to make small investments pay such large profits, has ever been offered.

The books are now open for subscription of stock. Call or write at once before it is all taken.

A MORNING FIRE.

Smith & Chandler's Drug Store Has a Very Narrow Escape.

A fire in Smith & Chandler's drug store, corner Superior and First avenue west, this morning about 6 o'clock, damaged the building and stock to the extent of $400. The fire was discovered by a policeman, and the fire department responded to an alarm in about three minutes.

The woodwork of the rear wall caught fire, it is supposed, from the spontaneous combustion of some drugs that stood on a shelf near by, and was blazing to the ceiling when the firemen came. It was extinguished in a few minutes with little damage to the stock. The loss is fully insured in six companies. The firm is doing business as usual.

WORLD OF COMMERCE

Wheat Quiet, Active and Firm; Local Market Uninteresting.

Other Markets Generally Lower; Interesting Trade Notes.

The market was a quiet and very steady one all day, with no special features. Other markets were like ours. The opening was ¼ below yesterday's close, and the fluctuations were confined within a range of ¼ down and ⅜ up from the opening point. The last hour prices ruled very firm, with a small demand and little wheat on the market. Receipts here and at Minneapolis continue to be very small, the two places reported only 70 cars this morning. Such crop news as was received from the Northwest was all favorable. The close was firm ⅛ above last night.

Cash No. 1 hard closed at 88½, No. 1 northern 86½, No. 2 northern 83, June No. 1 hard 89, June No 1 northern 87½, July No. 1 hard 89⅝, July No. 1 northern 88½, August 90½, September 90, all nominal.

Curb Notes.

The past week has been an exceptionally dull one with the Minneapolis mills. The aggregate output was 59,312 bbls, against 92,770 bbls the week before, 100,000 bbls for the time in 1889 and 123,400 bbls in 1888. The dead condition of the flour market causes the general dullness at the falls. With the opening of the canal next Monday nearly every mill, save the Pillsbury B, is counting upon resuming work. The demand for flour will hardly warrant such an active condition of affairs. The export shipments were 11,077 bbls, against 13,300 bbls the preceding week.

Today's Movement.

Cars on track: Wheat, 9. Receipts: Flour, 10,079 bbls; corn, 44,200 bu; Shipments: Flour, 30,062 bbls; wheat, 136,981 bu; corn, 37,846 bu. Inspection: No. 1 hard, 7 cars; No. 1 northern, 16; No. 2 northern, 1; corn, 5; total 29.

Cargo Shipments.

Schr Minnedosa, Buffalo; 14,533 bu wheat.
Prop Nyack, Buffalo; 30,000 bu wheat, 3,675 bbls flour.
Prop North Star, Buffalo; 5,025 bbls flour, 3,845 bu wheat.
Prop Montana, Buffalo; 12,287 bbls flour.

SPECIAL CROP REPORTS.

WARREN, Minn., June 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—Weather has been dry and hot since last report. Grain is growing very fast and is looking healthy and good. There is plenty of moisture in the soil, though a good rain would help it. Farmers are complaining of grain being very weedy, especially that sown with drill, but all seem to think that a good crop is assured. There has never been better prospects for hay than at present. Cattle are doing well.

LARIMORE, N. D., June 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—Have had no rain for a week, but expect a shower tonight. The grain is growing rapidly and indicates a harvest more abundant than ever was been before.

CASSELTON, N. D., June 13—[Special to The Herald.]—The weather for the past week has been very favorable for growing crops. All kinds of growing grain doing nicely. The heavy rains of a week has given us sufficient moisture and with splendid growing weather since make prospects very bright. Very few fields now show the effects of abuse received in the fore part of the season.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., June 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—The present week has been characterized by clear atmosphere and higher temperature. There was heavy rain there this morning, the first of the week. Under the genial heat prevailing grain is growing rapidly. Examination of wheat roots show a length of six inches or more in many instances. With the ground thoroughly saturated with moisture, as it is, grain is in fine condition for growing without further rains. Many believe the crop will mature finely with no more rain until harvest. Crop prospects are first class.

DAVENPORT, N. D., June 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—Crops in first-class condition. No rain in the past week, but the ground is in fine condition yet. The grain is growing very rapidly and stooling in good shape. Wheat from twelve to eighteen inches high. Farmers are feeling good and trade is picking up in consequence.

MARINE MATTERS.

New Vessels; Big Cargoes; the Port List; General Notes.

The new freighter now being built by Wheeler, at West Bay City, for D. Whitney, Jr., will be launched about Sept. 1. She will rank in the largest class of wooden vessels, being 295 feet keel.

The steel steam yacht Princess, almost completed at the yard of the Detroit boat works, for O. W. Potter of Chicago, will be launched on Thursday.

The Cleveland Leader says: The steamer Pontiac, which has gone into the record smashing business on big loads, came into port yesterday afternoon with the largest load of ore ever carried on the lakes. She had on 2003 gross tons, or 3251 net tons. She was drawing sixteen feet of water aft. Capt. Lowe received a number of complimentary cheers from persons standing on the docks as he went up the river.

The managers of ocean steamship lines continue to extol the twin screw as a new thing in steamboat propulsion. Two wheels may be new to the steamship owners on salt water, but here on the lakes we had large freight steamers propelled by twin screws twenty years ago. Eastern men ought to come West, occasionally, to pick up ideas old and new.

The Cleveland Leader says: When Wheeler began building two steel steamers for the Atlantic, vessel men were skeptical about lake shipyards competing with the yards on the Atlantic. The Globe Iron Works company has figured time and again with salt water men, but never successfully. The principal objection this company had was that the parties on the Atlantic could be satisfied with a cheaper and poorer vessel than the Globe builds, and as General Manager Pankhurst would not bid on cheap work the Eastern firms made lower bids and were awarded the contract. To get a vessel to the coast she must be cut in two and taken through the canal, and as it would have been necessary to send a gang of picked men down, sacrificing the work in the yard, the Globe people were not especially anxious to obtain the contracts.

The Inman line has just received an immense wrecking pump, which is being put together today. This is the largest pump of the kind on the chain of lakes. It throws a 12-inch stream, and is capable of pumping grain, sand, coal or anything that can pass through a space of twelve inches. It will be tested tomorrow on the Northern Pacific dock. It will be a valuable addition to Commodore Inman's already good wrecking outfit and will be an assurance that all work in the wrecking line can be quickly cared for.

The propeller Blanchard, while attempting to cross the bay alone this morning, ran hard aground near Connors Point. She was released by the tug Cora B.

LONDON, June 13.—The British steamer Irthington, from Baltimore, rescued the crew of the Swedish bark Tena, Capt. Persson, from Ship Island April 25 for Grimsby, which was abandoned in mid-ocean with her bulwarks and everything movable about her decks broken. The crew worked at the pumps incessantly until they became disabled.

FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS,

A Pro-Public School Society in Secret Session in Chicago.

Membership of Half a Million Involved and More Coming.

CHICAGO, June 113—The anti-public school agitation which has come to the front in Wisconsin and Illinois is to be met with a solid front by the American Protestant association, several hundred delegates from which have been in secret session in this city for the past three days. The association has a membership of over 100,000, and is in affiliation with other organizations which represent a total membership of 500,000.

It has been decided to inaugurate a national agitation in support of an amendment to the constitution of the United States to be couched in something of the following terms:

"No state shall pass any law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or use its property or credit or any money raised by taxation, or authorize either to be used for the purpose of founding, maintaining or aiding by appropriating, payment for services, expenses or otherwise any church, religious denomination or religious society, or any institution, society or undertaking which is wholly or in part under sectarian or ecclesiastical control."

Conferences of other organizations are to be called throughout the country with the view to a general public agitation of this amendment, and the association will also take an active part in the coming Wisconsin campaign.

Two Will Put Thousands to Flight.

A pugilistic soiree was held at Campbell's saloon this morning, in which twelve toughs took part. The entertainment consisted mostly of tistic encounters, and several heads were decorated with bumps and bruises. A policeman made his appearance in the midst of the festivities, and, calling upon a citizen to assist him, arrested two of the party. The citizen assisted, but when he was hit with a hard, horny fist he dropped his man, grabbed the cop's club and welted his assailant over the head. The officer dragged his man out of the saloon towards the Union depot, followed by the crowd of toughs, bent on the rescue of their comrades. The result of their endeavors was clubbings, and they pacified that fully 500 of the 700 delegates will visit Duluth June 20 and 21. They will be entertained by drives and boatrides and will be shown Duluth's magnificent mill, the Imperial. The Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade have both appointed entertainment committees. The Board of Trade delegation to the convention will consist of Messrs. C. H. Graves, F. S. Daggett, G. G. Barnum, Ward Ames, F. A. Olmsted, J. C. Hunter and B. C. Church.

LAST EDITION.

LISTENED TO OUR TALE.

The Superintendent of the Census has Heard From Duluth.

He Allows all the Time That is Needed for a Full Count.

The following telegram from R. P. Porter, superintendent of United States census, was received this morning at the Chamber of Commerce:

"Supervisor Smith has been informed that the necessary time to make a complete census of Duluth will be granted, and the enumerators are instructed to give immediate attention to the work at Duluth."

Now all that remains for Duluth people to do is to assist the enumerators all in their power towards making a thorough canvass. A little help in this most important matter will go a great ways towards a reliable census, and if substantiation to all the claims that have been made for this city was ever needed, it is needed now.

At a meeting of the central committee last evening the following call was issued: "In order to remedy so far as possible the deficiencies in the census count the citizens' committee has arranged to receive the names of those who have not been counted at the places mentioned below. Every one who has not been counted, every employer, every landlord, every citizen who knows of any one who has not been counted, should see to it that the name is sent in today. This is a matter of vital importance. Chamber of commerce; office of N. J. & A. J. Miller, room 5, Miller block, corner of Lake avenue and Superior street; Kelley's furniture store, 710 West Superior street; Swanstrom's grocery store, corner of Superior street and Garfield avenue."

At these places, up to the hour of going to press, several hundred names had been taken. At the chamber of commerce the enumerator had had many calls and had been kept busy making out his lists. Secretary Thompson has telegraphed Supervisor Smith several times, but no definite answer has been received, the supervisor's time being too much taken up with St. Paul. The only response has been: "Will come if possible."

The citizens' committee is doing good work. Since the appointments were made over 2300 names of unenumerated citizens have been found, but many of these have been taken by census men today. A call has been issued for a general meeting of the central committee men at 4 o'clock this afternoon, at the Chamber of Commerce. All enumerators are requested to be present, as they will be given instructions from Washington as to their future action. A plan will also be formulated for arriving at the best results in taking the census and getting it accurate and complete.

There was a full attendance at this afternoon's meeting of the district committeemen, and nearly all the enumerators of the city were present. Plans were made for helping the census takers in their work, and Duluth can be assured of a complete enumeration.

Will Prevent Stealings.

MARQUETTE, Mich., June 14.—The advent of the new management at the Michigan mine inaugurates a new policy. Superintendent Ford has not only decided to curtail expenses, but is also determined to know what has become of upward of $60,000 worth of mineral that authentic reports say has already been mined from the Michigan. Thousands of dollars worth has been traced to the trunks of miners, some of whom fled the district before their thefts were discovered. As a precautionary measure, all employes are now required to change their clothing on the premises.

The Senate Lavish.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—It is said the additions made to the river and harbor bill by the senate committee on commerce aggregate nearly $4,000,000. The committee is considering the expediency of the bills appropriating moneys for the improvement of Galveston Harbor, Hay Lake channel, and St. Mary's Falls canal, Lake Superior, for which separate bills have passed the senate. If these are added to the bill it will further swell the total by about a million and a half dollars. The bill will be reported to the senate next week.

Uphold the Law.

MILWAUKEE, June 14.—The 300 Welsh Presbyterians who are holding their state convention here have decided to adopt two important resolutions before adjourning. First, they will denounce the supreme court of the state for deciding as unconstitutional the reading of the Bible in the public schools. Later they will endorse the Bennett law. This proposed action is regarded as one more step in the preliminary skirmish between Wisconsin Catholics and Protestants.

Chicago Primaries.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Republican primary elections were held in the First and Fourth congressional districts today to nominate successors to Congressmen Taylor and Adams. Mr. Taylor had practically no opposition, and he will doubtless be renominated today. Mr. Adams, however, had a sharp contest on his hands, and it will take the convention to decide it. His opponent is Geo. S. Willets, a prominent young lawyer, a partner of Judge Lyman Trumbull, and a son of ex-Congressman Willets of Michigan.

Where Killing is Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—A coroner's jury was convened in the case of Henry McBride, the hotel waiter who was killed in a brutal prize fight with Frank Larue, another waiter, at the Golden Gate Athletic club Tuesday. The jury rendered a verdict charging Larue with murder.

The Government Sustained.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 14.—The provincial elections resulted in the government being sustained by a large majority. Victoria returned three opposition and one government representative, the latter being Turner, the financial minister. It is expected the government will have a majority of eight in the house.

BEAT HIS WIFE

And Was Hung for It; He Calls it a Warning to Drinkers.

LONDON, Ont., June 14.—At 8 o'clock this morning Henry Smith, the wife murderer, was conducted from his cell to the scaffold. A short prayer was said by one of the attending ministers, during which, the executioner adjusted the black cap, and at 8:10 o'clock the string was cut and Smith was launched into eternity. There were only twenty persons inside the jail yards, but many men and boys on a shed outside, viewed the proceedings.

Smith and his wife were given to drinking and had frequent quarrels. On the 18th of February last, when under the influence of liquor, he attacked her in a most brutal manner, and when the authorities entered the house, Mrs. Smith was found dead and terribly beaten. Smith's spiritual adviser, Rev. Mr. Hill, read Smith's confession from the scaffold, in it Smith acknowledges having killed his wife, and hoped his fate would be a warning to all who are addicted to drink.

THE LAKE FRONT.

As Was Predicted, it is the Favorite Location for the Fair.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Last night the executive committee of the World's Columbian Exposition association assembled to hear the reports on site. Except the Lake Front park, the committee criticised more or less all of the half dozen locations which have been discussed in Chicago for weeks, as possible places for the fair ground.

Garfield park, the favorite spot on the west side of the city, was declared to be out of the question. The lake front, the committee held, was the ideal site, barring certain legal disabilities which were in process of adjustment. More time was desired before the final recommendation be made. The extension of time was granted, and then the executive committee listened to representatives of the west and north sides of the city, each opposing Jackson park, the place of the southern part of the city, but agreeing that the lake front, enlarged so as to take in the present outer parks, would be acceptable.

By the "lake front" is meant the open tract bounded on the west by the business center of the city and on the east by the waters of Lake Michigan. The idea is to add to this tract a square mile of territory to be reclaimed from the lake.

Another Damien.

BOSTON, June 14.—The work of Father Damien is forcibly recalled by the visit to Boston of a man who is now doing in Batavia, Surinam, a work similar to that done by Father Damien at Molokai. Right Rev. William Wulfingh, bishop of Dutch Guiana, arrived in this city last evening. Bishop Wulfingh is an energetic young prelate, who is entirely devoted to his self-sacrificing work. Leprosy has for him no terrors, though he does not conceal from himself the risk he runs. He has seen three of his fellow-workers become a prey to the dread disease, and one is now slowly dying at far-off Batavia.

Pleasure With Business.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—Meetings for the exchange of experiences was held by the different sections of the Christian Endeavor convention this morning, and this afternoon the delegates were taken down the Mississippi river on a steamboat, addresses being delivered en voyage, on the future of Christian Endeavor. A poem was also recited by Rev. A. J. Hough of Montpelier, Vt. Tonight the Revs. G. H. McCrew of New York, and M. Rhodes of St. Louis, will deliver addresses in the exposition building, and with three brief sessions tomorrow the convention will come to a close.

He May Resign.

LONDON, June 14.—If the proposition to hold an autumn session of parliament is carried out, Mr. Smith, first lord of the treasury and government leader in the house of commons, will resign, as he believes that his health is not sufficiently good to stand the additional strain that will be put upon him. Should he resign, it is believed that he will be succeeded by Mr. Goschen, at present chancellor of the exchequer.

Two Were Killed.

WEBSTER, Mass., June 14.—Aloise and Annie, aged 8 and 12, daughters, of Mr. Felker of Wilsonville, Conn., were struck by a train on the Perryville state line bridge yesterday and killed. The father was fishing off the bridge and was also struck by the engine but not seriously hurt.

Honest John is Free.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Honest John O'Neill of the 1885 board of aldermen will be released from Sing Sing this afternoon, having served his full time less the period allowed for good behavior. A few days ago Judge Barrett remitted his fine of fine of $2000, and but for this action he would have been compelled to work it out at the rate of $1 a day.

Popular at Home.

ST. PAUL, June 14.—Governor Merriam had a walk-away in Ramsey county last night. The primaries met and chose 127 delegates to meet at the Newmarket theater today and, in their turn, choose twenty-seven delegates to represent Ramsey county at the state convention, July 24. All of the 127 delegates are favorable to the nomination of W. R. Merriam for governor.

And Raise the Price.

PITTSBURGH, June 14.—In accordance with the decision arrived at by the Window Glass Manufacturers association (western) last month, all the factories in the country will shut down tonight for the entire summer. This will throw several thousand men out of employment.

They're Only Alternates.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Secretary Blaine has issued instructions to the alternates to the Chicago World's fair commissioners that they will not be expected to attend the meeting to be held in Chicago on the 26th inst. unless they learn that the commissioners whom they are to represent will not be able to attend.

A Home Aid Association.

Articles of incorporation of the Northwestern Aid association have been filed with T. O. Hall, S. F. White, Dr. H. S. Davis and B. H. Scott as incorporators. The capital stock will be $100,000 divided into shares of $100 each. The institution is the first of its kind in this city and is built upon the same plan as the many others in cities around Duluth. Its object is to furnish to workingmen and others certificates permitting them to receive treatment in hospital or home by certain designated physicians of the company. The company expects to be able to go to work inside of ten days. Agencies will be established in the leading cities of this and surrounding states and by the end of the year it is expected that a line of agencies will be established between New York and California.

FROM OVER THE BRINY.

The European Prison Congress Meets Tomorrow in Russia.

No American Representative; What is to be Done There.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The United States will have no official representative at the St. Petersburg Prison congress. Considering the space that has been given by its newspapers to the reports of Russian cruelties and atrocities, the thousands of columns of editorial denunciations of that government that have been printed, and the fact that it was an American—George Kennan—who first laid bare the inside history of Russian prison life, the decision of the cabinet and President to hold aloof is not surprising.

George Kennan himself had offered to be a delegate, and to defray his own expenses, conditional upon his being allowed to present the evidence in his possession regarding the outrages to which the nihilists and other unfortunates have been subjected to at the hands of the prison authorities of the country, but naturally enough his proposition could not be entertained. In fact his selection as a delegate would have seriously embarrassed the relations between the United States and the Russian government, and it is doubtful whether even had he gone armed with credentials he would have been allowed to cross the Russian frontier.

It is stated at the department of state that the Russian authorities were notified several weeks ago that it was not deemed advisable to send a delegate, but that certain instructions, the nature of which it has not been deemed advisable to make public, have been sent to Hon. Charles Emory Smith, the minister at St. Petersburg, relative to the views of the government in the matter.

The United States, however, will have representatives at the gathering in the persons of W. F. M. Rowns of New York and F. M. Sanborn of Massachusetts, who have been delegated to attend in behalf of the prison associations of their respective states. Both are amiable, easy-going kind of reformers, and without doubt the Russian authorities will make use of their presence and acquiescence in the proceedings to bolster up a declaration that the people of the United States take no stock in Kennan, or those of England in Prince Krapotkin.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg, says the International Prisons congress will be formally opened at 11 o'clock tomorrow in a salon of the palace which has been placed at the disposal of the gathering. Over 300 delegates representing all the European powers will be in attendance. The Prince of Oldenburg will be the presiding officer, having been designated for this duty by the last convention which was held in Stockholm five years ago.

The Russian government has prepared for the use of the delegates a lengthy and elaborate report concerning the management of the prisons in that country. An advance copy of this reached Prince Krapotkin in London some weeks ago, and he has sent to each delegate, notwithstanding the rigorous espionage of the Russian postal officials, some comments which fill a pamphlet of twelve pages. Among other things he says that in the report old and worn out explanations have once again to be used. These consist in admitting that abuses have existed in the past but in declaring that under the present administration of the prisons all the cowardly and brutal wrongs and injustices have been practically remedied.

The prince declares that the report has been prepared for the delegates simply that an excuse may be manufactured for ignoring recommendations from other powers. Considering the fact that the delegates will be more or less the guests of the Russian government, it is hardly likely that the prison atrocities, of which the nihilists and students have been the victims for years past, and which have horrified the civilized world, will be touched upon.

In connection with the congress there will be a meeting of the International Union of Criminal Law, representing a movement in progress in Europe for some time looking to the modification of the principles governing punishment for crime, and particularly of those producing the present uniformity of sentences.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

John B. Sherman says the sale of the Union Stock yards, Chicago, to an English syndicate for $22,000,000 will be consummated July 1. It is rumored that after the sale local capitalists will combine and start another concern.

MADE A HOLE.

Five Tons of Glycerine Blow the Bottom Out of Findlay.

FINDLAY, Ohio, June 14.—At 2:30 this morning everybody was awakened by a tremendous shock that rocked every building, breaking windows in many places. It was found to be the explosion of Castorline & Co.'s nitro-glycerine works, situated four miles east of the city.

A correspondent just from the scene, reports a hole in the ground large enough to take in a four-story business block, while the factory, reduced to kindling wood, is scattered for a mile in every direction. No one was in or about the works, hence no loss of life. An idea of the force of the explosion may be estimated when it is said five tons of nitro-glycerine went up. No estimate of the loss is yet obtainable.

Specials from all points in northwestern Ohio show that the shock was felt for over forty miles in every direction, and was generally attributed to an earthquake. It was distinctly perceptible in Toledo.

RAPID GROWTH.

Remarkable Increase in the Membership of the Christian Endeavor.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—At the second day's session of the ninth annual convention of the Young Peoples Society of Christian Endeavor reports received from different states showed that the membership of the society had increased at the rate of 50 per cent during the past year. Treasurer Wm. Shaw presented his annual report. The total receipts during the year were $42,528.78; expenses, $34,177.38. Addresses were made by Rev. O. H. Tiffany of Minneapolis on "Some Distinctive Features of Christian Endeavor Societies;" by Rev. W. H. McMillen of Allegheny City, on "Public Confession," and by Rev. Wayland Hoyt of Minneapolis on "Our Associate Members." Minnesota reported 275 societies and 12,000 members; Wisconsin, 225 societies, 10,000 members; Iowa, 400 societies, 15,000 members.

IN CONGRESS.

The Senate Passes Bills; Industrial Education; in the House.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—After some unimportant business, the senate proceeded to the consideration of bills on the calendar. The following bills, among others, were passed: House bill to authorize entry of public lands by incorporated cities and towns for cemetery and park purposes; senate bill to amend laws relating to custom revenue bonds; senate bill to provide for the reduction of the Round Valley Indian reservation in California; senate bill for the relief of the Mission Indians in California; house bill to grant the right of way through the Indian territory to the Pittsburgh, Columbus & Fort Smith railway; senate bill to provide for the examination of certain officers of the army and to regulate promotions therein. It provides that promotion to every grade below that of brigadier general shall be made according to seniority in the same corps or department; It also prescribes a system of examination of all officers of the army below the rank of major. At the request of Mr. Morrill the senate bill was taken up to establish an educational fund and apply the proceeds of the public lands and receipts from certain land grant railroad companies to support of colleges for the advancement of scientific and industrial education.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The speaker announced the appointment of Mr. E. C. Taylor of Ohio, Mr. Stewart of Vermont and Mr. Bland of Missouri as conferees on the anti-trust bill. Mr. Bland said that as the house had instructed its conferees to recede from the amendment there was no further interest in the matter, and he asked to be excused from serving on the committee. There was no objection, and Mr. Culberson of Texas was appointed to fill the vacancy. The house then went into committee of the whole on the sundry civil appropriation bill.

"Prevent" Emin Pasha.

BERLIN, June 14.—The government has instructed the German officials in East Africa to prevent the Emin Pasha expedition from entering Uganda while the negotiations are pending between Germany and England relative to territory in Africa. The arrival at the coast from Uganda of Dr. Peters, the German explorer, is shortly expected.

THE STATE OF TRADE.

The weekly reviews of trade give a most excellent condition of affairs. They say speculation has been neither large nor enthusiastic during the past week, but the legitimate business of the country continues unprecedented in volume and highly encouraging in prospects. Although the treasury has taken in $2,900,000 more than it has disbursed, and foreign exchange has advanced about a cent during the week, the current rate for money on call has declined from 5 to 4½ per cent. There has been quite a decline in exports from New York for two weeks past, the value having been 14 per cent below that of the same week last year, while in imports here a moderate increase continues, last week 5 per cent. Interior cities report rather more demand for money, and at Boston rates are rising, at Chicago and St. Louis steady, and at Philadelphia dull, not much commercial paper offering.

Crop prospects begin to rule all markets and these are distinctly improving. The capacity of iron furnaces in blast June 1 was 180,795 tons against 180,099 May 1, and 137,199 a year ago. It seems scarcely credible that the actual consumption can be 31 per cent greater than a year ago and yet the tone of the market is fairly confident, and does not indicate accumulation of stocks. The demand for various forms of manufactured iron and steel is good and prices steady, and sales of 10,000 tons of rails are reported, with $31 quoted at Eastern mills.— No improvement is seen in woolen goods. Flannel mills are generally cutting down production.

Railway wars do not cease. It is but fair to remember that the competition of Canadian and lake line is felt with constantly increasing severity. Prices of stocks have been weaker, though sugar trust has been put up again with reports of large profits. In the main, the tariff bill has been accepted by the committee and is thought likely to be passed without great changes. The latest advices about silver legislation suggest greater possibility that the two houses may disagree, the disposition toward free coinage being strong in the senate.

The Engineering and Mining Journal, certainly an authority on the subject, says: "It is important to note that the increased demand for iron and steel does not arise from any spasmodic activity in railroad building, which in times past has been a controlling cause of the ups and downs of the iron trade, but that it results from a steady increase in the use of iron over the whole country for constructive purposes in general. Statistics show that, notwithstanding the complete substitution of steel for iron for rails, and the nearly complete substitution for nails, and boiler and ship plates and other uses, the consumption of puddled iron is still on the increase. This indicates an extremely wide distribution and large consumption of puddled iron for a vast variety of small products, and the general prosperity of all iron-using industries. As the condition of the iron trade is generally considered an index of the general business condition of the country, the present outlook is for a prosperous year.

STICK TO THE POINT.

Ex-President Cleveland hasn't read the Bennett law, and isn't anxious to read it or learn about it or talk about it or think about it apparently. So we judge, at least, from his stolid indifference when the matter of the law and the fight over it was called to his attention by the chairman of the democratic state central committee of Wisconsin. Yet he was greatly pleased, it is reported, over the prospects of the democrats carrying Wisconsin this fall. He is willing that his party should reap the fruits of the bigoted onslaught on the law, and willing that his chances of renomination should be put up a peg higher in Wisconsin through his own tacit approval of this onslaught, for silence at such a time and in such a case can only mean approval or wilfull ignorance and cowardice. Take whichever horn you choose, Mr. Cleveland. On this question neither you nor any other aspiring leader can pretend to stand non-committal.

Yes, you certainly ought to read the law, as even your friend the democratic chairman confesses. He guesses he'll send you a copy. There should be no guess work about it. He should send you one without fail, or some one else should, and call upon you without fail for your well considered opinion. Do you judge it to be an improper and oppressive demand in this country that children in any American state should be required to follow the simplest English studies for twelve weeks in the year? Do you object to a law securing instruction to all children in the common language of the country, the inheritance from the founders of the nation and the framers of its constitution? Think these points over till you are sure that you know your own mind in regard to them, but let us hear from you before the Wisconsin campaign is over. Are you for or against the Bennett law?

Some opponents of this law profess that they are set against it because it prefers English to German or says nothing about the latter tongue. They say they want both languages taught in the schools, and think even another language might be added to advantage. They point to the schools in Germany as models where two or three languages are taught, and would be glad to see the same extended education in this country. Certainly we do not object in the slightest to the teaching of German or French or any other language if any school district wants it taught, but we do insist on the necessity of teaching English at any rate, and by compulsion of law if in no other way. The legal requirement of English, the common tongue, by no means debases the teaching of German. Far from it. It simply says that one language, at least, shall be taught and shall be maintained throughout the country as the common medium of communication and union. This requirement, we believe, is practically essential to the welding together of the diverse elements of our nation and the perfect union which our forefathers sought.

There is absolutely nothing in the Bennett law to stir up rational opposition, and the pother and heat which have been raised over it are ignorantly or artfully fomented by blind men or unscrupulous leaders of the blind. Rival creeds or methods of training are not set against one another in this case. Here is no question of public or private school, of secular or religious education. This is simply the issue—shall our children be taught to speak a common tongue and write a common language, or shall they not? That is the issue sharply defined, and there is no other.

Sergeant Dunn of the signal service has been explaining to New Yorkers the reason for the recent mild winters in these latitudes. His theory is a simple one. When the paths of the prevailing winter storms lie south of us they draw down a cold wave from the north; when they pass to the north they draw up a warm wave from the south. For the last few years these storms have held to a northerly course, because, as Sergeant Dunn explains it, they follow the districts of greatest moisture, and the irrigation of formerly arid lands in Colorado and Wyoming has created such a district. This indicates a permanency in the extraordinary climatic conditions which we have enjoyed of late.

Mrs. Frank Leslie likes to hear herself talk. She writes that brunettes are more loving than blondes, and that blondes are more clever than brunettes. It is needless to remark that Mrs. Leslie is a blonde, and that she is going on a lecture tour.

A gentleman just from Washington tells me that Mrs. Harrison likes "Little Annie Rooney," and in consequence all the capital rings with it. All the local bands and handorganists and the masses of population get off the "she's my Annie, I'm her Joe." It is being set to variations, and the craze is growing instead of dying out.

The New York Sun has opened its brain batteries on the great "American dog." This animal is not the one of international controversy, but his more hoggish brother, the porcine that spits in street cars, smokes in the faces of ladies, and commits other acts which are erroneously—in this instance—supposed to be typified by the squealing cause of Chicago's greatness.

TO MINNESOTA EDITORS,

[Washington Star.]

Now the tribes of Minnesota,
Land of fish and lakes and flour mills,
To the great place of the nation,
In a blaze of free pass glory,
Have exoduced in a body.
Come the cord woods and the pumpkins,
Come the skillet lids and coon skins;
Come the winter coat and credit,
Come the job work and subscription;
Come the mighty war chief, scissors;
Comes the grand old warrior, paste pot;
Come the whole tribe of the read'n.
Very well read men they are, too,
From the land of the Minnesotas,
Land of the cold and laughing water,
Which they only use to wash in.
Open wide our doors and welcome
Every child and man and woman;
Take them in and make life happy
For the tribes who live on papers.
They have come from far Wascca,
From the lake of Minnetonka;
From Witoka, from Swenoda,
From Osaks and O'Reilly,
From Tenassen and Nowelga,
They have made the long, long journey
In this month of red strawberries,
Also in a Pullman sleeper,
Welcome them then with a salvo
Of a damp, delirious nature;
Put a head on every chieftain
Which to scalp will be a pleasure;
Give them everything we've got here.
Everything from clams to congress;
Paint it red to match their feelings,
Paint it white to match their actions,
Build a temple in their honor,
Welcome, welcome, welcome, welcome,
To the folks from Minnesota.

One Enumerator Has Sand.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The enumeration of the district included between Third and Sixth avenues west is now completed. I will pay four times the government rate for every person belonging to that district who is not enrolled. Address, Enumerator 101, Herald office.

And Here's an Answer to Him.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In conversation yesterday with Mr. Robert Johnson, who resides at 522 Fourth street west, that gentleman informed me that the enumerator, after obtaining the information concerning himself and wife, left without enumerating his four children. D. B.

Only Took Part.

To the Editor of The Herald:

On the 31st of April I made a list of answers to the census questions for myself and family, so that there would be no time lost or mistakes made. My list was taken but the family was left unenumerated.

A. F. RUDOLPH,
Third street and Fifteenth avenue east.

All Right Now, Probably.

To the Editor of The Herald:

We have things now upon a good, working basis. Superintendent Porter has given us time to complete a full census, and the enumerators will receive their instructions this evening. The central committee is doing good work, and many names have been found of those who have been skipped by enumerators. S. A. THOMPSON.

Wherever Malaria Exits,

The bilious are its certain prey. In intermittent and remittent fever, dumb ague and ague cake, the liver is always seriously affected, and the blood contaminated with bile. One of the chief reasons why Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such a sure defense against chills and fever and every form of malarial disease is, that it does away with liability to the disease, by reforming irregularity of the biliary organ in advance of the arrival of the season when the disease is prevalent. There is no finer fortifying preparative for those about visiting or emigrating to a locality where the miasma-taint exists. There is no certain immunity from disease in an endemic or epidemic form, to be secured by the use of the average tonic and anti-spasmodics. But where quinine fails the Bitters succeeds, both in preventing and curing. Moreover, it removes every vestige of dyspepsia, and overcomes constipation, rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, and tranquilizes and strengthens the nervous system.

CENTRAL PARK CHRONOLOGY.

Some Points of Interest in the Great Pleasure Resort.

New York Sun: The Central park cost the city about $6,000,000 for the land and about $13,000,000 for construction and maintenance. It is now about forty years old, and the total cost of it has not been as much expense as for three weeks' cost of the late war of the rebellion. About forty years ago the idea of constructing a great public park for the city was agitated by A. J. Downing, a famous landscape gardener of that day. In 1851, Mayor Kingsland urged the subject upon the common council, which promptly recommended the selection of Jones' Wood as the site for the new park, and the same year an act of the legislature adopted that plan. Subsequently the common council recommended a change of site to the present location, which was adopted by the legislature in 1853, fixing the northern limit at One Hundred and Sixth street, and the city got title to the property in 1856. The first commission for the management of the park consisted of Mayor Wood and Street Commissioner Taylor. The chief engineer was Mr. Egbert L. Viele, and the advisory committee was Washington Irving, Charles P. Briggs, James Phalen and Stewart Brown. A new board of commissioners was ordered by the legislature of 1857, of which J. R. Cooley was president and Andrew H. Green treasurer. The work of clearing the ground began in August of that year. There were no expensive buildings within the area and most of the structures were squatters' huts. In December there were 1120 men at work. In August, 1858, there were 2000 men at work. The first tree was planted in October, 1858. Water was let into the lake and the first skating was had in December of that year. The first finished parts prepared for public use were the Ramble and the Mall. The great trees which now ornament the Mall were all set out at this time, and they were the largest trees ever transplanted.

The first curling on the Park lake was in January, 1859. In that year the northern limits were extended to One hundred and tenth street, and the old Boston road through the Park was closed. At this time there were 3000 men at work. In July there were 3800 men at work, using forty barrels of gunpowder daily. The first public concert in the Park was given in July, 1859, by private contribution. In the following September there were three and one-half miles of drives and the first traverse road was declared open. In December the construction south of Seventy-ninth street was declared complete. During that year 17,300 trees and shrubs were planted, including most of the deciduous trees south of Seventy-ninth street. The average number of men employed was 3879.

In May, 1860, twelve swans were presented to the park by the city of Hamburg. In October following Mrs. Crawford presented casts of the Crawford sculptures; the Vintners' company of London presented twenty-four swans and the Dyers' company of London presented twenty-five swans. The next month the city of Hamburg presented ten more swans. There were 16,200 trees planted this year. During the war a number of volunteer soldiers were quartered in the old arsenal in the park. The regular boat service on the lake commenced in 1861. This year there were seven miles of drives in use, and there were 52,700 trees and shrubs planted. In 1862 there were 74,730 trees and shrubs planted, and Mount St. Vincent building was used as an army hospital.

The city of Philadelphia presented the park with eight deer in September, 1863; the commissioners first assumed the cost of the concerts; the number of visitors was 4,326,500. In 1864 Manhattan park was annexed to Central park, 20,000 trees and shrubs were planted, and a lady introduced seven pairs of English sparrows, the pioneers of the pests of the city today. Over 6,000,000 visitors enjoyed the park this year. In 1865 the statue of Commerce was presented, schoolboys were first permitted to play ball in the park, and the number of visitors was 7,000,000.

The Harlem Mere and the Kinderberg, a rustic arbor for children, were completed in 1866. The next year the Belvidere, the great children's playground, was commenced. The bronze statue of "The Tigress" was presented, and the art gallery with the Crawford collection was opened at Mount St. Vincent. The first hothouse and the meteorological observatory were established.

The Palæzoic museum was commenced in 1868, and the bronze statue of the "Indian Hunter," by J. Q. A. Ward, was presented. The bust of Humbolt was presented in 1869, the statue of Columbus the same year. "The Dairy" was opened and the movable skating house and curling houses were constructed. During this year there were 12,522 trees and shrubs planted, a museum of natural history was established in the arsenal, steam rollers were first used on the Park roads, and the boys' playhouse was opened.

Under the charter of 1870 the department of parks was established, the zoological garden and the carrousel were ordered to be laid out, and the plans for the conservatory were prepared. In 1870 the sheepfold was commenced, and the number of visitors were 8,628,826. In 1871 the stables and workshops were commenced, and the number of visitors increased to 10,764,411. In May, 1873, the Bethesda fountain was inaugurated. The nuber of visitors this year was 10,063,159. These points cover the main feature of the park as they exist today. The great museums and art galleries of the park are almost entirely due to the efforts of public spirited citizens, the value of whose gifts and loans rivals the expenditure of all the public money expended on the park. Making a rough estimate of the cost of the park, and the numbers who have visited it, the actual outlay has been about five cents of public money for each visitor, and the city of New York has more than got its money back in the taxation on the increased value of adjacent property.

Highland Park.

This boulevard is now being graded. A sidewalk will be laid, the roadway gravelled and when completed will be one of the finest avenues in Duluth. It is opened north from Fourth street near Missouri avenue, eighty feet in width, through HIGHLAND PARK and East Lawn and is three miles in length.

Upon this avenue, when graded, will be laid the tracks for the ELECTRIC MOTOR LINE, a means of rapid transit that will revolutionize the ideas now governing the selection and purchase of property for residence purposes. Before this was assured, it was found impossible to sell for residence sites lots north of Fourth street. Witness the change! Since this great improvement is guaranteed to the public, a large amount of property has been purchased for actual immediate improvement. Several of Duluth's most prominent citizens have secured sites for their homes. Another year will find Highland Park the center of the Finest Residence Section

OF DULUTH.

The desirability of the location has never been questioned. All admit that the view of lake, city and harbor obtained from this point is the grandest. Admitted also that the distance from the center of the city is less than that of much more thickly populated residence sections. The only drawback---the lack of transportation facilities---is now successfully removed and Highland Park lots become the very cream of residence property.

The owners of this addition, in order to secure these valuable improvements, have dedicated to the city, the land for the opening of Woodland avenue, and have borne the heavy expense of grading, etc., thereby saving property in the vicinity free from assessment.

A plat of Highland Park and East Lawn, showing Woodland avenue, can be seen, and price of lots will be furnished upon application at the offices of

ON THE BIG ORE RANGE.

Meetings of Two Great Companies; Developments on the Range.

New Finds; The Situation, Valuable News of the Ore Fields.

NOT a little activity rules on the Iron range just now and a good deal of work is showing many valuable properties. The Herald in this column spoke last week of the Anderson, Camp and Lucky boy near Ely and the work of the new Minnesota Mining company and others near Tower. Shipments from the Minnesota Iron company and the Chandler up to last night for the season, aggregated 213,500 gross tons over Two Harbor's docks, with 32,020 tons in the docks, a great gain over last year. The mines are being worked very satisfactorily and are selling no ore at all, having all the product long ago disposed of.

During the week there have been a number of changes in the situation. Several Ishpeming iron men, owners in the Harvey, Bessemer and Long Lake properties have been on the east range looking about. Among them was Capt. McEncroe, in charge of work for the big Lake Superior mine of the Marquette range. He was greatly pleased with the Pioneer and Zenith properties and is of the opinion that the Pioneer is being duly appreciated by interests in rival and larger properties and could be made easily much more of a mine than it is.

A good deal of interest was excited among mining men Thursday night by The Herald's announcement of a recent find of red ore forty miles due west of Tower, and full eighteen miles north of what was before believed to be the north line of the west range. The ore is lean and does not outcrop in a body but is mixed with slate, etc. It is in a formation pronounced good by iron men. The chief value of the discovery, as yet, lies in the fact that it shows ore far from hitherto acknowledged limits and that the extent of the ore deposits is simply incalculable. A good deal of exploration is now going on between Tower and the new find.

Leased the Macomber.

The owners of the Macomber mining property, a short distance east of Tower and on the railway, have been working a small force for a long time. They have just made arrangements for leasing the property, however, and W. C. Macomber, the original owner, yesterday went to work with a force of men under lease. He is to mine at least 20,000 tons yearly on a twenty year leasehold and will do enough development this year to begin active shipping early next spring. The property is in fair shape and will make a most excellent mine. It is located close to the road, in fact the main line of the Duluth & Iron Range passes through a corner of the company's property, and a spur track will be built in to the mine. It will positively add a shipper to the Vermilion mines of 1891.

ON THE WEST RANGE.

More Developments Near Grand Marais on the Duluth & Winnipeg.

The work at the Diamond mine of John Paulson, northeast of La Prairie, has started a great deal of exploring along the west Mesabi, and constant reports of good finds are being made. The latest reports of developments and explorations by people interested in the Duluth & Winnipeg, close to Grand Rapids, and further west than anything yet found in the iron district, will be of great interest. Not only has the Diamond property been opened, but the vein has been traced further west and two explorations are now being carried on, one only two and one-half miles east of the Mississippi river at Grand Rapids, and the other four miles east. The Diamond property is about thirteen miles in an easterly direction. The new openings are showing well so far as work has progressed and bids fair to be mines after development is done. A strong showing of iron has also been made on the bank of the river at Grand Rapids and close to John Berkfeld's store.

A wagon road is to be built east from Grand Rapids along the range as far as the Diamond property to assist explorers and miners in getting in with supplies and machinery.

ON THE MESABI.

The Old Mesabi Company Wants to Lease; New Finds on the West Range.

The Mesabi Iron company, which held its annual meeting here this week, is the original iron mining corporation of Northern Minnesota, and, with all its brilliant prospects and immense holdings, has been so far the most utterly valueless of all the companies of either of the two ranges. The company holds, and has held for fifteen to twenty years, some 24,000 acres of lands on the east Mesabi, but it has done no exploring of any consequence, made no development, leased none of its holdings, or done anything else except sit back and let others do the work. It has been controlled by such people as the Ontonagon and Lake Linden owners and W. W. Spalding of this city. Had younger or more businesslike men been at the head it would have good mines under way now.

But it is pleasing to note that a step is to be taken toward activity by the younger blood of the concern. At the meeting this week a good deal was done besides what appeared in the daily papers. The old heads wanted to sell the property on a basis of about $4 for $30, while the younger and more energetic wanted to hold it and make some mining leases, believing that any single mine, once developed out of the dozens or hundreds the company probably has, would be worth more than it would get for its entire property at sale. It is to be hoped the stockholders of the progressive branch may win in their sound views.

Pioneer People Talk.

J. A. Humbird and W. H. Phippe, the Hudson capitalists and mine owners, spent Wednesday and Thursday of this week at Tower and Ely, Mr. Humbird being a heavy stockholder in the Pioneer mine at the latter place. "Yes," said he, "we are taking some ore out of the Pioneer. This month's output will be not far from 2000 tons and we expect to largely increase this quantity in coming months. In another year we will have the full capabilities of the mine developed, and it will then become a big producer. We have begun the improvement of the west end of the mine. Diamond drills are at work there, and some fine ore is being taken out. We will make no improvements this year, other than those necessary to increasing our output. The market is strong at present, and the outlook for a prosperous season among iron men good."

The Mallman Property.

Capt. Mallman says he has a mine but no railway. He has done a good deal of developing during the past six or eight months and has a splendid assays. Some of these go as high as 67 per cent and are inside the Bessemer limit of phosphorous, while the average of twenty or twenty-five assays of ore taken at all depths from the surface down, shows about 60 per cent and phosphorous low. He hopes to be able to get a road in, especially as he is only about four miles off the line of the Iron Range at Mesabi crossing.

Minnesota and Iron Range Meeting.

The Duluth & Iron Range and the Minnesota Iron Company officials arrived in town Monday at 7 o'clock from a two days' tour through the Vermilion range. All of the party left the city this afternoon over the Omaha for the East, well pleased at the annual reports and the outlook for the ensuing year's business.

The annual meetings of the Duluth & Iron Range and the Iron Company were held this morning at the Iron Range offices in Odd Fellows building. The election of the railway company were held first, the following being chosen officials for the ensuing year: Chairman, H. H. Porter; president, H. R. Bishop; vice-president, M. J. Carpenter; secretary and treasurer, C. W. Hillard and H. A. Patterson; directors, L. Silverman in place of George H. Ball, and C. W. Hillard in place of David Dows, deceased; executive committee, H. H. Porter, H. R. Bishop, R. P. Flower, Marshall Field, M. J. Carpenter. The regular annual report was submitted and accepted. It showed that the business of the company for 1889-90 had largely increased over 1887-88, and the net earnings to be $150,000.

The affairs of the Minnesota Iron company are in a most prosperous condition. As already stated in The Herald the company will by next year have six iron boats in the water, two of which are now in service, two more being built and the remaining will ready for use by the season of 1891-'92.

The most important business transacted at the meeting today was the declaring of a 6 per cent dividend, to be paid in 1½ per cent quarterly installments. Monies were also appropriated for various improvements. It is understood that the profits for last season amounted to about $1,000,000. The coming season will undoubtedly draw an increase over this sum, and members of the company say that the mines will have an unusually good investment, with prospect of constantly increasing dividends.

Several changes were made in the personnel of the company, Mr. D. and J. C. Morse retiring from the presidency. The officers elected were: President, H. R. Bishop; chairman, H. H. Porter; vice-president, D. H. Bacon, who has heretofore held the position of general manager; directors, D. O. Mills, H. M. Flagler, Benjamin Brewster and Henry Seibert.

The company recognized the death of David Dows with the following resolutions:

Whereas; This board learned with deep regret of the death of one of its members, David Dows of New York,

Therefore, resolved, That in the death of Mr. Dows this company has lost one of its most competent and faithful advisers, whose ripe experience, sound financial and business judgment were of great benefit to this company and to the members of this board, and whose well known integrity, loyalty and intelligent conservatism have been important elements in the success of the many enterprises with which he has been associated during a long and useful life.

Resolved, That we tender to the family of our deceased associate our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

Notes of the Ranges.

A Wisconsin Central official said yesterday that he understood the purchase of the Milwaukee & Northern by the Wisconsin Central meant that the Central would divert Menominee range ore to Ashland, thereby increasing Ashland's ore shipments, but the story seems hardly probable, as the Central would not haul ore so far to Ashland when it is so near Escanaba.

Ashland ore shipments to date this season are 301,831 tons by the Lake Shore and 234,856 by the Wisconsin Central; total, 536,687. The Norrie has shipped 102,786, East Norrie 22,502, the Ashland 109,449.

Capt. Bowden of the Brotherton mine, estimates a shipment this season of 80,000—really thinks it will be 100,000 tons, but is conservative and only estimates 80,000. Capt. Jos. Sellwood of Duluth, formerly of the Colby mine, is president and one of its principal owners.

The iron trade is giving evidence of a recovery from the recent depression. Reports from the leading iron centers are almost uniformly favorable, and especially so in the South and West. Chicago reports the heaviest business for the past six months, and Cincinnati also boasts of greater activity than for some time past.

The only good Bessemer ore yet found in the South is that which has been discovered in the Lone Star state. It is a magnetic ore, showing 65 per cent of iron in the furnace. It looks so much like the Champion and Republic ores that one can hardly tell them apart.

Capt. Hooper of the Beaver mines, reports that the Beaver silver mill started yesterday and is reducing thirty tons of ore per day.

Ely Iron Home: The Pioneer mine shipped its first car load of ore for this season on Wednesday last. The car was consigned to an Eastern furnace, and will be tested in regard to the iron properties of the ore. Manager McQuaid informs us that about 150 tons will be shipped daily hereafter.

The old Excelsior charcoal iron furnace at Ishpeming, Mich., of the Carp River Iron company, Marquette, is being repaired. The furnace was built in 1872 and rebuilt in 1879, but has been idle for several years.

The output of the Calumet and Hecla for the week ending June 2, was 782 tons 1815 pounds of copper. The May output of the company weighed up 3,733 tons 905 pounds, against 3543 tons 1435 pounds for the month previous. The total product since January 1 has been 16,587 tons 905 pounds.

Last week 600 shares of Minnesota Iron company stock was sold on the New York Exchange at $83 to $84.50. The stock is now worth money.

The fire in the Germania mine at Hurley is now out. The shafts were uncovered today. Three hundred men who have been idle for two months will begin work immediately.

THE PROGRAM.

What the Foreign Visitors Will do on Their Northern Trip.

ON THE ROAD TO GLORY.

The Herald's Column of Interest to the Religious World.

Union the Order of the Day; Notes of Churchly Thought.

THE associational year of the northern Minnesota district of the Baptist denomination has just closed. The association will convene at Fair Haven next Tuesday, and it is imperative that that body shall take action on matters of considerable interest to the local church of Duluth. The district comprises a large territory of widely separated churches making it both inconvenient and expensive for delegates attending the annual meetings. This with other reasons beneficial to the society at large has been deemed sufficient cause for a change, and it has been officially recommended that the Baptist church here be transferred to the St. Paul association. At a business meeting last evening that step was ratified and the transfer will be made as soon as possible.

Quotations from the associational letters to be read before the Fair Haven meeting will reveal material progress and prosperity in the three societies here. In the First, thirty-seven new members have been recorded. It's finances are in good condition and the church building and site are free from all incumbrance. During the year $425 has been raised for home mission, $155 for foreign missions, $91 for state missionary work, the total for benevolent purposes aggregating nearly $800. For permanent improvements $1500 has been expended, and the total raised for all purposes amounts to $4780. The Endion and Second Baptist churches have made a record fully as creditable. Several changes are made, or soon to be made, in local Baptist pastorates. Mr. Ballard has resigned, and it is quite probable that a second resignation will be sent in a few weeks or days.

The Presbyterians of Minnesota maintain a college for young men at Macalester. They maintain a boarding school for young women at Albert Lea. They regard the Bennett seminary at Minneapolis as under their auspices. All of these establishments are suffering for want of adequate support. It is now proposed to bind them together under one management. The prevailing view among Presbyterians is not favorable to co-education; and it is suggested that the college for young women shall be located in the neighborhood of the college for young men, and that one faculty can do the work of teaching by a plan of oscillation. There would be some difficulties encountered in arranging this plan of double work for the faculty, but these could be surmounted. A strong state Presbyterian institution would be as creditable to them as the educational establishments at Faribault are creditable to the Episcopalians or Carleton and Hamline are to the Congregationalists and Methodists, both of which denominations believe in co-education.

It will be an agreeable surprise to those interested in the new Baptist university of Chicago to learn that the arrangement of the site has been advantageously changed by the negotiations of the past few days so that the university will have a campus composed of three consecutive blocks, between Midway Plaisance and Fifty-sixth street, and bounded on the east by Greenwood avenue and on the west by Ellis avenue. The university will probably front on Midway Plaisance, and a more attractive site could hardly be found.

The sixty-fourth anniversary of the American Home Missionary Society brought together about 1,500 representatives from every section of the land. The anniversary meeting of 1891 will be held in San Francisco. This will make quite an event in the Congregational church, as it will be the first meeting of one of its national societies on the Pacific slope. Already the brethren on the sunset side are forming plans. While the main sessions will be held in one of Frisco's largest churches, auxilliary meetings are to be arranged for other sanctuaries, in order to accommodate members from outlying towns and delegations from Oregon and Washington. It is to be made a sort of Congregational house warming jubilee. At the close of the general meetings representative delegations will visit every Congregational church between Lower California and Vancouver, and a religious love feast will be the result. It is expected that fully 3000 Congregationalists will make an excursion across the continent to attend. In 1892 the society will meet again Saratoga.

Missionary work in the Congo state, Africa, would appear to be attended by almost insuperable difficulties and discouraging results. The pestilential climate of the West coast plays havoc with the gallant band of American pioneers of the gospel, and it is stated by correspondents that no less than 58 per cent of Bishop Taylor's missionaries have been placed hors de combat within a year by disease and death. Even the excellent prelate himself is reported as being prostrated with sickness. Those of the missionaries who at length succeed in getting acclimatized and in remaining at their posts find themselves greatly hampered in their arduous labors by the scarcity of provisions and by the jealousies of the varied tribes.

Carleton college, the Congregational institution of higher instruction at Northfield, Minn., has secured for its department of chemistry and physics, from which Prof. A. H. Parson has lately been transferred to the department of philosophy, Mr. W. V. Metcalf, a brother of Rev. Irving W. Metcalf of Cleveland. He is a graduate of Oberlin, studied two years in its theological department, taught two years in Whitman college, and for the last three years has been pursuing special studies in chemistry and physics at Johns Hopkins university.

The Methodist church South, besides electing to its bishopric its two foremost and most progressive men, Drs. Haygood and Fitzgerald, elected three missionary secretaries. This fact means a great deal as to the enlarged missionary thought and purpose on the part of this body.

The three divisions of the Lutheran church in session in Minneapolis finished their separate routine business Thursday and yesterday united in one body. The committee on union found that the amounts raised by the three bodies for the endowment of the professorship in the Augsberg seminary was $50,000 in excess of the amount that had been agreed upon in the proposed articles of union; that the anti-Missourians had raised $90,000, the conference $54,000 and Augustana synod $19,000, and that the amount would swell the endowment fund to full $175,000. The several committees in charge of the collection of funds in each of the separate bodies will be continued in office until said funds should be turned over to the new trustees of the seminary, who are to be chosen by the united body. Professor Swensson Offedal read the report of the board of missions. During the year missions have been established at Tacoma, Seattle, Astoria, Portland and Spokane Falls, and also in the mining regions north of Duluth. Augsburg seminary has had 160 students during the year, seven professors have been employed and eleven candidates are ready to be ordained. When the committee reported on the plan of union, Rev. M. L. Gjertsen delivered a stirring address favoring the proposed union. He held that the union was the work of God and not of man. He claimed that the union would be a great blessing to the Norwegian nationality in America, as the split in the church had hindered its development. Other denominations had pointed the finger of scorn at the Lutherans on account of their division. The union would remove this odium. Mr. Gjertsen thought that by 1892 the old Lutheran synod would come into the United body.

Religious News.

A mission school is to be established at Point Barrow, the northernmost point of the mainland of the continent, above Behring Strait. It has a permanent population of about 500 Esquimaux. Last summer the government erected at that point a refuge station for shipwrecked whalers, and during the summer there are from 1500 to 2000 sailors of the whaling fleet in the vicinity.

The observance of Children's Sunday becomes more general and more conspicuous. In some churches it is the rival of Easter and Christmas. But flowers and song should not hide the supreme purpose of winning the heart of every boy or girl to Christ.

There are in the United States over 3,000,000 Baptist Congregationalists. If it were not for that one concentrated point of "aqueous ritualism," the two might flow together like the two drops of water. What a shame and a scandal that they, and others so nearly alike, do not merge their petty differences.

The treasurer's report of the American Tract society shows that the total receipts for the year were $322,268, and that the balance on hand was $6984. The society has issued 7435 distinct publications. It has six periodicals with an aggregate circulation of 2,413,000.

The summer gathering at Northfield, Mass. this year will be the largest in the history of Evangelist Moody's work. There will be representatives from all universities of Europe as well as large delegations from the American institutions. Among the invited guests are Bishop Huntington of New York, Bishop Hurst of Washington, President Patton of Princeton, Rev. G. F. Pentecost, Rev. John Smith of Edinburgh and many other noted men.

An Immigration Argument.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 14.—Unlimited trouble has been met with by census enumerators among the ignorant classes of the city, especially in the Polish wards. In many cases people locked up their houses and fled upon the approach of the census official. Among them a large number fear that their names will be sent back to the old country, whence they fled to evade military service. Many Germans refused absolutely to give any information about their children in the belief that the object is to enforce the Bennett law.

DESERTION IS EASY.

A Fortress Monroe Soldier Describes the Simple Process of Skinning Out.

Fortress Monroe is one of the lonesomest places in America, says the New York Sun. It is dead and dull, except when the Old Point Comfort hotel is thronged with guests for a few months. Uncle Sam's soldier boys, of whom 500 artillerymen now inhabit the vast fortress, don't like the place. They have only a few hours of service daily, for the rest of the time they come and go as they please. There is no where to spend an idle hour, so they go away for good, desert—"skinning out" they call it.

A great many of the soldiers spend a lot of time down on the pier under the lantern of the whitewashed Point Comfort light fishing. They become equally adept in angling and shooting the big 15-inch guns at floating targets down the bay. That pier is littered with bits of crabs, with which they bait hooks, strung on an Evening Sun gear, for a score of small fish, every one of which the soldiers are familiar with. A 19-year-old artilleryman bestride the starboard piece of the wharf has just pulled in a likely looking "spot," and in a good humor said to a Sun reporter the other day: "Yes, 'tis an awful lonesome spot here. The boys keep skinning out. They average about two or three deserters a month. The government don't make any fuss about it though. It's the easiest thing in the world to desert. You just walk right out of the fort at any time when you are not on guard, get on the boats, and run over to Norfolk. There is a ready-made clothing store, you buy a suit of civilan's clothes and your soldier clothes to some second-hand dealer, and then skin out for some city. And that is the end of it. The government makes no attempt to catch you. Even if you should re-enlist years afterward under an assumed name, and the government should find it out, there would be no trouble over it, provided you had behaved yourself in the meantime. At the very worst, if you should be arrested in the act of deserting, the government might send you to Fort Leavenworth and make you serve out the balance of your term there at work. That's all. No, I have no desire to skin out. I'm perfectly satisfied here. We get good grub, good instruction, $13 a month, and one can save $100 a year on his clothes. But Fortress Monroe is an awful lonesome place, though—dead as can be. The boys have nothing to do and nowhere to go."

A month later it will not be so dull, when the incursion of summer guests begins, and in the absence of the summer young man, the dark-eyed Southern girl uses the handsome, brown-faced artilleryman for targets for a more dangerous battery than ever a score of ten-inch steel cannon were.

A Literary Gem.

New York Sun: Many residents of the eastern villages of Long Island opened their eyes in astonishment when they received the following notice:

"The annual meeting of the Hunters' association will be held on the grounds at Great Pond at Jamesport on Thursday, June 5, 1890. A great supply of spoon victuals will be furnished, and all members in good standing are requested to come and down them. A scheme has been invented whereby by the aid of 'lectriisity and peppersass a slip of eel veal has been grafted on a clam bush. The resultant fruit is about the size and shape of a gob of mud, and has a flavor between a tadpole and a barnacle. The process has been patented, and a sample will be on deck for examination.

A full attendance is requested at the business meeting, when an effort will be made to have the association duly incorporated. This will enable us to hold the land we now have, legally steal more, sue everybody for trespass, and prevent ourselves from being sued for anything short of bigamy. The election of officers will be held. Committees will be appointed, and an amendment to the by-laws made providing for a six months' soaking in Great Pond for any neglect of duty. Adjoining fee is $1, semi-annual dues 25 cents. Any member one year in arrears will be dropped over 762 feet. NATHANIEL MILLER, President.
"JOHN BAGNHAW, Secretary."

Relief for the Fighting Editor.

Chicago Tribune: Angry visitor—I want to see the editor of this sheet, sir. He accuses me this morning of being a briber and a ballot-box stuffer, sir.

Editor—Excuse me a moment. I think he is in room No. 3. If he is I will send him here. (Goes to room No. 3.) Were you not inquiring for the editor a few minutes ago?

Stranger in room No. 3—I was. He called me an antiquated old ichthyosaurus in his paper this morning, and I am going to kick the stuffing out of him.

Editor—I left him in room No. 2 a moment ago. You will find him there. (At telephone in business office thirty seconds later.) That you, police station? Send a patrol wagon quick? Some kind of a row going on up stairs here.

An Easy Cure.

Lawrence American: Cutely—I suppose you will take a prominent part in the graduating exercises of your school, Miss Gabby?

Miss Gabby—Oh, yes; I expect to be the class poetess and historianess.

Cutely—Ah! indeed! I was talking to the principaless of your school this morning, and she assured me that you were one of the most proficient pupilesses she had. Indeed, she said that the professoress in music was quite charmed with you as a musicianess, and expected that you would outstrip all competitoresses in the contest for the gold medal. Besides, she said as an elocutionistess you gave great promises, and there was no reason why you should not pose as a prominent performeress at some future time on the violin. O, yes, they are all pleased with you, and your dancing teacheress said that you were a most graceful waltzeress. Of course you are somewhat of a cookess; you must be, after having taken lessons from so able an educatoress in the culinary art as Madame Dough. So you are to be class poetess and historianess! And who are to be valedictorianess, salutatorianess and—?

Miss Gabby—Alice Brown will be the valedictorian and Maud Adams salutatorian.

Royal Baking Powder

The United States Official Investigation

Of Baking Powders, recently made, under authority of Congress, by the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., furnishes the highest authoritative information as to which powder is the best. The Official Report

Shows the ROYAL to be a cream of tartar baking powder, superior to all others in strength and leavening power.

The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, made from the most wholesome materials, and produces finer flavored, sweeter, lighter, more wholesome and delicious bread, biscuit, cake, pastry, etc., than any other baking powder or leavening agent.

Food raised by it will keep sweet, moist, fresh and palatable longer than when raised by yeast or other baking powders.

Being of greater strength than any other baking powder, it is also the most economical in use.

These great qualities warrant you, if you are not using the Royal Baking Powder, in making a trial of it.

Cumulative Investment Company

IN RESPONSE TO THE REPEATED DEmands for more stock in the Conservative Investment Association, a new corporation has been formed on the same principle by some of the officers of the same under the name Cumulative Investment Company.

The object is to give an opportunity for those unable to make large investments on their own account, to pool their issues by contributing monthly to a fund created for investment in real estate. The management of the affairs of the Cumulative will be vested in a board of seven directors who receive no salaries.

The capital stock is $100,000, divided into 2,000 shares of $50 each, payable in monthly installments of $1 per share. Not more than 50 nor less than 10 shares may be held by any one person.

No better opportunity to make small investments pay such large profits, has ever been offered.

The books are now open for subscription of stock. Call or write at once before it is all taken.

DULUTH'S HOME LIFE.

Her Social and Higher Life as Told in a Washington Magazine.

Also a Rhapsody on Her Most Magnificent Park System.

SPEAKING of Duluth in an interesting write-up in its June number, The Home Magazine of Washington, D. C., after a review of its business activity, says it is not, however, to Duluth as a great commercial city that The Home Magazine invites the attention of its readers, but rather as a summer resort, with such marvelously beautiful scenery as nature has provided few spots on earth.

"It speaks well for the character of the citizens of Duluth that they have so early in the development of their city discovered what nature has so richly provided them with a series of parks and driveways, with which it is not extravagant to say no other in the world can compare. Think of it, within the city limits a Watkins Glen, even larger and more picturesque than the world-renowned spot in New York! This is called the Glenwood Park, and is connected with another lovely spot called Cascade Park, in the valley of Millers creek, at the western end of the city, by a driveway which passes en route through a third park, the name of which has not yet been decided on. This park is the largest of the three, and entirely different in its characteristics, lying, as it does, upon the heights and embracing within its limits the highest peak in the neighborhood.

"The driveway which connects these three parks is the most remarkable feature of Duluth's park system. It is perfectly level, being the ancient beach where ages ago the waves of Lake Superior broke. It is about 500 feet above the present lake, commanding a wonderfully picturesque view of land and water. This natural driveway extends along the lake, and it is the intention of the Duluth park commission to improve fifty miles or more of it. It is now eight miles or more in length, spanning here and there with pretty rustic bridges the torrent streams which rush down the hillside.

"At several points this natural driveway is abruptly broken off, where we come to precipitous ledges of rock, the palisades of the ancient lake. Here the road is continued by blasting a roadway out of the sides of these silurian rocks and guarding the outer edge with a rugged stone wall. From Glenwood park to Cascade park the natural driveway is six miles in length, winding round the sides of two miniature mountains. The drives and glens which make up the Duluth park system are lovely picturesque spots in themselves, which, when the contemplated improvements are made, will have few rivals, but the view to be had from all points of the many miles of driveways which it embraces cannot be equalled by any city in the world. From one point we see, to our right, the St. Louis river, breaking through the ancient rim of Lake Superior, dotted over with pretty islands as it enters the lake. On a clear day, fifteen miles above, are to be seen the dislies of St. Louis. There is little doubt that Duluth will soon become one of the most popular summer resorts in the United States. Here, excessive summer heat is unknown, the days are delightfully cool the entire summer. From this point many delightful excursions can be made—by water or by land—from a few hours' sail on the lake to a long cruise to Isle Royale, Port Arthur and many other points of interest.

"To the lovers of game and rod the region offers special attractions; besides what Lake Superior itself can offer, there lies to the north of it a romantically beautiful, wild, yet attractive, region, stretching over an immense extent of country, extending as far north as Hudson Bay. In this wild country deer, bear, moose, and all kinds of game may be found.

"Quiet and peace, verdure and shade, a little plot for flowers and fruits, with the church and the schoolhouse within convenient walking distance, and the office not too far away—that is the ideal home. Chaucer gives us his picture of it in two lines:

"'His wooing was full fair upon a heath,
With green trees shaded was the place.'

"How, then, can a bustling young city like Duluth, with its rocky hillsides, barren of trees for the most part, its steep grades and cold climate, be a favorable place for home building? And yet it has advantages, and no light ones. Foremost among these is the same clear, cold air. If figures can be trusted, it is the healthiest city in the country. With its marvelously clear air, fresh from the bosom of old Lake Superior, its abundant sunshine and its soil free from an inheritance of the sanitary sins of past generations, it would be strange if it were otherwise than a healthy city. Never were seen sturdier children than those that play in its streets. The outlook over the beautiful lake is restful to the eye; the shore and bay furnish numerous tempting facilities for little outings; you are continually enticed during the summer by the witcheries of nature into life-giving contact with her mysteries. The city is rapidly becoming beautiful. Trees cannot be made to order in a day, but they are growing fast on many lawns. Tasteful houses of every variety of architecture are found on every hand. Numerous building associations make it possible to own a house, even though it may take years to pay for it completely. Social surroundings count for the most, next to nature's charms. And here you find a young, vigorous, intelligent and cultured people. College graduates are plentiful; every large institution has its representatives. In spite of the pressure of business there is much literary and social activity. The lavish expenditure for schools shows the character of the population. Not every city of 50,000 people builds a $250,000 high school, and locates grade schools of corresponding excellence in every part of its territory.

"The moral tone of a city has much to do with its desirability for a home. Duluth has outgrown its days of lawlessness and bloodlumism of a new town. It has its saloons closed at 11 at night and on Sunday; the present city administration was elected on the issue of the enforcement of the liquor laws by an overwhelming majority.

"The city is well provided with attractive churches. All the leading denominations have one or more representatives. There is one handsome building of stone and there are two others in process of erection. All the Protestant churches work together in harmony, and there is an entire absence of the narrow sectarian rivalry so apt to embitter the religious life of a new community. Duluth is the seat of a Roman Catholic see, and has an able and popular bishop in residence.

"Many suburban villages are rapidly springing up, some of them with unusual natural charms as the main attraction. Duluth is far from being all hill and rock; there are many romantic and attractive portions of the city proper, and no city has more beautiful suburbs than those so rapidly fringing its skirts."

COREAN LITERATURE.

Bad Language, Bad Paper, Bad Printing, Bad Spelling, Bad Everything.

Chicago News: The volumes in which the library of the average Corean gentleman does not abound are those of the native literature. No great writers have arisen in Corea, therefore such Corean literature as there is must be regarded as primitive. Yet there are Corean books by Corean authors and printed by natives. Curious specimens they are, too. Many of them are translations of Chinese classics, but there are also original tales, dream-books, letter-writers, manuals of etiquette and books of domestic recipes. But there is no dramatic literature, nor any poetic—not even any ballad literature. Corean literature (if, in sooth, it can be called literature) is about 300 years old, yet at the present time it appears to have made no progress at all; it is vastly inferior to the specimens of early English cheap-book literature which have been preserved for the delectation of modern students.

By the way, there is manifested by the common classes in England a curious veneration for the rude art and awkward typography that obtained 100 years ago. Thousands of facsimiles of the old romances of "Jack and the Giants," "The Shepherdess of the Alps," and "Robin Hood" are sold annually to and read by the humbler folk in the United Kingdom. These people will not buy the new and beautifully-illustrated editions of latter-day publishers. They demand and will have none but the rude chap-books which were the delight of their grand-parents. In the United States we have an illustration of this sentiment in the demand that exists for fac-similes of the curious old New England primer, the miniature volume in which occurs the melancholy recital of John Rogers' martyrdom, as well as the alphabetical poem beginning:

"In Adam's fall
We sinned all."

and illustrated with numerous preposterous wood-cuts. Fifty years ago William Hone, the English antiquary, wished to examine some of the wood-cuts used by one of the publishers of the most popular chap-books. The publisher would not lend them because they had been in his possession for thirty years, and he had bought them of a publisher who had used them twenty years and had grown rich by them. Hone proposed to have them cleaned and facsimiled in order to provide against every possibility of trouble, but the publisher scouted the idea. "The people want these pictures as they have always seen them," he insisted. "They would not recognize them if we were to clean them all."

But to return to the subject of Corean literature. It was my fortune to see several native Corean books a short time ago. Each volume contained perhaps fifty pages of print, but I was told that the average book covers about thirty pages. The paper used is of the cheapest and poorest quality, particles of straw appearing ever and anon to vex the eyes of the reader and to baffle the functions of the type and press. Then again the paper is so wretchedly made that numerous holes occur therein; therefore there is in the text a corresponding hiatus which further embarrasses the reader. There are no such luxuries as title pages or chapters—no, nor even paragraphs. The text runs right along from beginning to end, and from one subject you find yourself plunged headlong (as it were) into the consideration of another. Only the very choicest editions (the editions de luxe, if you please) treat the readers to an occasional line announcing "Change of Subject."

Corean literature has no orthography; it has never had a Dr. Johnson, and, therefore, it has no dictionary. Every author spells as he pleases, so does every printer, and so does every proof-reader. So, as a matter of course, the result is a preposterous hotch-potch. But all responsibility is shrewdly averted, for in no book does the name either of the author or of the publisher appear.

The characters used in Corean printing have been in vogue many hundred years, and a number of them are so closely alike as to make it difficult to determine one from another. Chinese literature has practically throttled all hope of a Corean literature, and in Corea, as in its literature, the Chinese have implanted an influence which ages perhaps could not eradicate.

GETTIN' ON.

[Eugene Field in Chicago News.]

When I was somewhat younger,
I was reckoned purty gay—
I had my fling at everything
In rollickin', coltish way,
But times have strangely altered
Since sixty years ago—
This age of steam an' things don't seem
Like the age I use to know.
Your modern innovations
Don't suit me, I confess
As did the ways of good ol' days—
But I'm gettin' on I guess.

I set on the plazza
An' hitch round with the sun—
Sometimes, mayhap, I take a nap,
Waitin' till school is done.
An' then I tell the children
The things I done in youth,
An' near as I can (as a weor'ble man)
I stick to the honest truth!
But the looks of them 'at listen
Seems sometimes to exercise
The remote ide that I'm gone—you see?
An' I am gettin' on, I guess.

I get up in the mornin'
An' nothin' else to do,
Before the rest are up an' dressed
I read the papers through:
I hang around with the women
All day an' hear 'em talk,
An' while they sew or knit, I show
The baby how to walk;
An', somehow, I feel sorry,
When they put away his dross
An' cut his curls 'cause they's like a girl's)—
I'm gettin on, I guess

Sometimes, with twilight round me,
I see (or seem to see)
A distant shore where friends of yore
Linger and watch for me;
Sometimes I've heered 'em callin'
So tenderlike 'nd low
That it almost seemed like a dream I dreamed,
Or an echo of long ago
An' sometimes on my forehead
There falls a soft caress,
Or the touch of a hand—you understand—
I'm gettin' on I guess.

A Sioux Becomes a Lawyer.

One of the interesting residents of Pierre, S. D., is John Van Metre, a full blood Sioux Indian, who recently secured admission to the bar and is now a lawyer in good standing. When sent to school at Philadelphia seven years ago Van Metre knew none but his native language and only had a general idea of the customs and usages of white people. But with the comparatively brief space between 1883 and the present he has mastered English and French, acquired a profession and begun life on his own account. He is 23 years of age, and, in addition to his other accomplishments, enjoys the distinction of being catcher and captain of the crack baseball nine of Fort Pierre. He is well liked, and his Caucasian friends are anxious to see him succeed.

THE THEATRICAL EVENTS.

Some Happenings on the Boards at the Duluth Theaters.

Latest From New York Stage Circles; The Madison Square.

AFTER a week Temple Opera opens next Wednesday with Price's "Evangeline," which holds the boards for four nights. The spectacular will be given with the full New York cast. It never had a finer setting than now. Of the original cast George K. Fortesque as Catherine, and James S. Maffit as The Lone Fisherman have been retained. Without them "Evangeline" would not seem Evangeline. Mr. Maffit played the part long before he dreamed of having grandchildren, and Mr. Fortesque has enacted the role of the coy and kittenish spinster over 5000 times. For the present tour a brilliant young singer, Bessie Tannebill has been engaged to play Gabriel, and Yolande Wallace, will essay "Evangeline." This is the first year of either of these ladies in burlesque, and their beauty, grace and talent are expected to create a new interest in the burlesque.

Manager Miller left Tuesday for New York to book attractions for Temple Opera for the coming season. He has already engaged some of the best companies on the road.

Just one month from today Duluth's first season of summer opera will begin, lasting three weeks. In a letter to The Herald, Manager Haycock assures the public that this company will be the best yet to give a summer opera in the Northwest. The Thompson company, consisting of forty people, will sing a repertoire of twelve operas, among them "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief," "Black Hussar," "Nadjy," "Erminie," "Black Mantles," and other successes.

NEW YORK LETTER.

The Herald's Correspondent Talks of the New Things: Madison Square.

NEW YORK, June 12.—[Special correspondence of The Herald.]—There are any number of new plays booked for next season, but it is extremely doubtful if any of them are worth the trouble and expense of putting on. While the manuscript of a new play may read all right, it is quite another thing to produce it before a critical audience of first-nighters. "Raglan's Way," by Arden Smith and Edwin Arden, had its first hearing at the Union Square theater Monday night. In it Mr. Arden made his appearance as a star and achieved a fair success. The story of the play tells how one young man steals the affections of the fiancee of his friend, and how the friend kills him in a duel. It is said to be a story of life in England at the present time. Handsome scenery was provided for the production, and the cast included besides Mr. Arden, Nelson Wheatcroft, R. F. McClannin, Howard Kyle, Minnie Seligman, Mattie Earle, Annie Blanche, F. E. Cook and little Dot Clarendon. It may become a road triumph.

"The Merry Monarch" which Francis Wilson is to introduce in August at the Broadway, "is an acaptation from the French by J. Cheever Goodwin of New York in collaboration with me. The music is by Emile Chabrier and Woolson Morse. While it is decidedly eastern in general character, inclining chiefly toward Indian habits and costuming, it can best be described", says Mr. Wilson, "as having for its scenes somewhere in the Orient and for its time—well, simply some time. The company will remain practically as it was last season. Marie Jansen will appear in a congenial part as a boy. Miss Laurie Moore, who is in Paris, returns in a few weeks and resumes her place as our soprano. Nettie Lyford, Charles Plunkett and Harry Macdonaugh will reappear. The only new feature will be Gilbert Clayton, in the 'Pearl of Pekin', and Wilcot Seaman, the tenor."

At least eight new plays will be given metropolitan productions this year. Ada Cavendish is to reappear on the stage in a play by Robert Buchanan, entitled "The Bride of Love;" Robert Downing will be seen in "The Saracen," translated and arranged by A. D. Hall, from a tragedy by Alexandre Dumas; while "Lorine," an emotional drama in four acts, by Alice E. Ives, a Detroit journalist, will be produced at a special matinee at Palmer's theater, Thursday afternoon, June 19, under the direction of Mr. Wallis, late of Daly's theater. But these are not all.

Lawrence Barrett is back to town. He tells me that he will give his company a short tour before joining Mr. Booth. Richard Golden and Nat Goodwin and Annie Pixley, have sailed for Europe.

A private view of the Madison Square Garden amphitheater was given to the press and a number of prominent citizens last evening. Of course I had to go and see the show. A dress rehearsal of the "Bellona" ballet was given. The galleries were full of members of the ballet in mufti, and they shared the attention of the audience with their sisters on the boards.

The new building is one of the finest examples of modern architecture which New York can boast. The exterior of the building is in the style of the Ranaissance in terra-cotta brick, and the entrance on Madison avenue suggests the facade of the Grand opera in Paris. The pillars supporting this entrance are of polished granite and the entrance hall and porch are in marble with mosaic floors, while the staircases throughout the building are of stone and marble. The grand amphitheater is one of the largest halls in the world. A notable feature is the sliding skylight, which covers half the roof and can be opened on hot evenings, so that the interior of the building can be kept at a temperature as refreshing as Battery park. The entire building is lit by electricity—a myriad of incandescent globes being suspended from the iron girders supporting the roof and the galleries. There are 4000 electric lights in the amphitheater alone.

In addition to the grand amphitheater, a garden theater is to be opened in the fall on the north side of the Madison avenue entrance. A restaurant and concert hall are also to be opened shortly on the south of the main entrance, and a tower of 300 feet is in the course of construction.

The entertainment last evening proved that the acoustic properties of the hall were unequalled, the faintest notes carrying easily to the further corner of the enormous building.

FRANC FOYER.

Actors and Actresses.

Langtry is coming over this summer.

"A Trip to Chinatown" is Hoyt's latest.

Lotta's new play is by Edward E. Kidder.

Ivan Peronet has been signed as stage manager of the amphitheater of the new Madison Square Garden, this city.

Popular Harry Askin is to pilot the McCaul Opera company, with "The Seven Sunbiane" as the special production.

Bronson Howard is to write a play, choosing his own subject and having a year for the work.

Barrett expects much of his new play, "Thomas a Becket."

Ollie Archmere, a young California girl of much promise, is likely to make her debut soon in light opera.

Frank McNish, the well-known minstrel, is to return to this country in July and will star in white face in a new play next season. He will begin his tour in August in Atlanta city.

Charles Abbott will devote his entire time next season to Maggie Mitchell's managment, and has engaged Howard Gould to play leading parts with Miss Mitchell. Mr. Gould was leading support with Robert Downing the past season.

James R. Adams, the clown, late of the Spider and Fly company, has gone to New York under an engagement to Messrs. James Pain & Sons for the entire summer to produce a burlesque Spanish bull fight at Manhatten beach, commencing June 12. He presented the same years ago with Orrin Bros., in Havana.

Speaking of his new play, "A Crank," Mr. Sol Smith Russel waxes enthusiastic. He says it is written in Boucicault's best vein, and accordingly ranks it as the best play that has been written in many a year.

* * *

Col. W. E. Sinn and his wife (Cora Tanner) sailed for Europe May 31. The special object of Miss Tanner's trip is to select costumes for the production of "One Error" at the Fifth Avenue, New York, Aug. 25.

"Heartbound," a new play, will be produced on July 7 at the Lyceum theater, Cleveland. Sydney Armstrong, George Fawcett, Fannie Marsh, little Angela Ogden, Agnes Acres, John O'Rourke and Daniel Callaghan will be seen in the play.

It is now announced by the friends of Loie Fuller that an offer of an increase in salary from the Gaiety theater, London, induced her to remain in England after she had purchased her ticket to sail for this country last week, and that she will not be seen in America until she comes over with Nellie Farren and Fred Leslie in the autumn.

The "Aunt Jack" company organized by A. M. Palmer and H. S. Taylor for the season of 1890-91 will play in the principal cities of the United States and Canada, with the exception, probably, of San Francisco, where the Madison Square company is to appear this summer.

TODAY AND TOMORROW.

[K. C. Tapley in Judge.]

To day the wind blows bleak and chill,
The sun is hid beyond the mist;
But with the morn each dale and hill
Shall with its glad'ning beams be kissed.
And so, my dear, cheer up! you'll find
Each sombre cloud is silver-lined.

The harp today twangs out of tune
And mournful sound the piper's notes;
But soon the birds of carnival June
Shall thrill the air from joyous throats,
And warm shall blow the scented wind—
Each sombre cloud is silver-lined.

Today the heart feels fraught with woe,
And keen-pronged thorns lie in the way;
But as the spring's breath melts the snow,
E'en so our sorrows flee; and gay
And peaceful soars each troubled mind—
Each sombre cloud is silver-lined.

So, in my humble key, my dear,
I sing to you of coming days,
And bid you in your heart take cheer
And watch the Rainbow through the haze:
For, though today the sun's unkind,
Each sombre cloud is silver-lined!

LOOKING AFTER FENCES.

Dave Hill Will go West in July and Will Visit Minnesota.

ALBANY, June 14.—Governor Hill promised prominent Indiana democrats a year ago that he would attend the ceremonies of unveiling a statue of ex-Vice-President Hendricks in Indianapolis whenever that ceremony should take place there, unless he should be detained in New York by his duties as governor. The statue is to be unveiled upon July 1, and the governor has been reminded of his promise and he says there is no question that he will go to Indiana the latter part of June.

But the governor also is debating whether he will not at the same time make a more extensive journey; one that will not end until he has visited San Francisco and the other chief places of interest upon the Pacific slope, and an article of a day or two ago in The Rocky Mountain News of Denver, telegraphed in these dispatches, will undoubtedly decide him to do so. A few months ago Gen. Nelson A. Miles of the United States army, whose headquarters are at San Francisco, visited Albany and extended a warm invitation to Governor Hill to visit San Francisco and be his guest while there. The governor was much pleased by the invitation, and while not accepting it at the moment, said that he desired ardently to visit that part of the United States, and if possible would do so the present year.

The governor's political friends say that he could most conveniently be absent from New York state, so far as the interests of the democratic party are concerned, during the month of July and the first half of August, because the political campaign in New York will most need his attention in September and October. No man who thinks of being elected United States senator, they say, can afford to be absent during the six weeks preceding election. It is, therefore, likely that if Mr. Hill decides to add a visit to the Pacific slope to his Indiana visit he will make it in July. If he does he will surely visit the northwestern states, and particularly Minnesota, when reports have it there is not a little democratic leaning.

While Mr. Hill's visit to Indiana is ostensibly for the purpose of showing respect to the memory of Thomas A. Hendricks, every politician will know that David B. Hill makes it for the purpose of securing such alliances as he can for the presidential contest in 1892. All Hill democrats here think that the democratic ticket in 1892 will read:

For President—Ex-Governor Hill of New York.

For Vice-President — Ex-Governor Gray of Indiana.

As for the trip to the Pacific slope, if Mr. Hill decides to visit that region, politicians will not believe that he does so simply to see the Rockies, the Yosemite valley and the Pacific ocean. There are democrats of that section of the United States also.

Weak Women.

The more sensitive nature of the female sex renders women much more than men a prey to those numerous ills which spring from lack of harmony in the system. The nervous system gives way, sick headache is frequent, the appetite is lost and other ailments peculiar to the sex cause great suffering. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for such cases, and has received the most gratifying praise for the relief it has afforded thousands of women whose very existence before taking it was only misery. It strengthens the nerves, cures sick headache and indigestion, purifies and vitalizes the blood, and gives regular and healthy action to every organ in the body.

THE LABOR SITUATION.

Duluth Knights Issue a Manifesto; A Request on Politics.

Typographic Annual; News of Interest to Organized Labor.

THE Knights of Labor of Duluth issue a manifesto on the subject of early closing. They say that the movement involves the welfare of about 4000 salespeople, who by reason of a false system are obliged to wait on customers until 10 o'clock at night for six days in the week, and are thus deprived of all opportunities for sufficient rest, recreation, social enjoyment and mental improvement, demands our attention. The time has come when every person who renders useful service to society must come closer for the purpose of mutual protection. At the present time no class of workers work as long hours for small wages as the retail clerks. If these long hours are continued the working people will be very largely to blame. The clerks of Duluth have by organizing placed themselves in line with the great brotherhood of labor and deserve the hearty co-operation of those engaged in all branches of honorable employment. We owe it to ourselves to come to the assistance of the clerks in their efforts to secure better conditions. To do this let every knight cease to purchase goods after 5 o'clock.

Duluth Typographical Union, No. 136, will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon, at which time the annual election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. The following are the nominations made at the last meeting: For president, John McCarthy, E. M. Grace; for vice-president, Robt. Rankin, J. P. Barkdoll; for financial secretary, Robert Rankin, J. L. Tufts; for recording secretary, A. Murphy, C. W. Burnett, Chas. Claus, H. Langdon; for treasurer, C. W. Burnett, J. W. Jackson, P. Paulson, Gus Seipel; for sergeant-at-arms, Paris Thompson, J. G. Quinlan, Thos. Lyons; for trustees, R. P. Coburn, John McCarthy, Harry Gann, R. L. West, J. L. Tufts, Sam Stover and J. LeMay. This will be an important meeting and all members should be present.

We are requested to warn laborers to stay away from the Duluth & Winnipeg road, as there are more men now than can find employment. The contractors are flooding the country with men, and many of them are begging for something to eat.

Philadelphia labor leagues have passed resolutions as follows: We having read letters of T. V. Powderly of January 16 and May 1, 1890, in The Journal of the Knights of Labor, after carefully considering the situation from all standpoints, have reached the conclusion that the time has arrived when organized labor is not only ready, but must take the necessary political steps for the improvement of its condition. To test the sense of organized labor we would ask assistance to the following plans: First, we desire to reach all trade unions, federation of trades, local assemblies of Knights of Labor and the Farmers' Alliance of this country, to have an expression with a view of having political conventions called in the several states, for the purpose of placing full tickets in the field for the coming election, and also to adopt such a platform as will best serve the interest of all working people. We desire your assistance in this war." This is directly in line with the attitude of the Farmers' Alliance of Minnesota and the Knights of Labor of Duluth and elsewhere.

The Baltimore & Ohio has sent to each employe a circular note, of which the following is in part a copy: "This company will not, under any circumstances, employ men who are in the habit of becoming intoxicated. All employes known to frequent drinking places must be warned to discontinue the practice or quit the company's service. Employes will be discharged if intoxicated either on or off duty. No person discharged for intoxication will be re-employed."

Labor Notes.

Treasury Agent A. J. Lester, has returned from Chicago, where he has been collecting evidence of violations of the Alien Contract Labor law among the carpenters of that city. The evidence has been forwarded to Secretary Windom. This week government agents have investigated the violations of the law at Fort Sheridan. It is reported that carpenters are at work there who have been brought from Scotland, and are working for less wages than are paid to the American wage-earners.

Striking carpenters at Philadelphia have issued a statement of their grievances. They say the carpenters are the poorest paid class of skilled laborers engaged in the construction of buildings; that they have now been out on strike for six weeks, for an advance in wages of five cents per hour; and that, in all this time, the employers have ignored all requests for a conference and have resisted all efforts at arbitration. Continuing, the statement says: "It is not a question of recognition of the Carpenters' Union, for union and non-union men are alike engaged in this strike."

Not Surprising.

NEW ORLEANS, June 14.—Yesterday some excitement was created in the legislature by the summoning of Senator Foster and other members before the grand jury of East Baton Rouge parish, the charges of bribery having been taken up by that body. The lottery people say the investigation will result in nothing, as there is nothing to discover, and that the antis only took the matter before the grand jury in order to keep their men in line.

THE SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

A Week of Considerable More Activity Than for Some Time.

From Lakeside and the West End; St. Thomas School; Notes.

CROWDS have all day filled the Ray building on East Superior street, people are anxious to see the specimens of handiwork of the pupils of the different schools told of in The Herald last night. The exhibit is truly a wonderful one and all who take an interest in the public schools of Duluth should take advantage of this opportunity to see what the pupils are doing. The exhibit shows what they can learn outside of the text books, and a visit to the schools will show that the books are not being neglected for this branch of instruction.

In the department of manual training the course of instruction begins with the use of the cross-cut and rip saw and leads up to the use of finer tools, and includes the making of different joints, and all are made from working plans which are also drawn by the pupils. The display in this branch, as well as others, was fully noted in this paper yesterday. This afternoon there was a short musical program followed by a dumb-bell exercise to show that physical instruction has not been neglected. There will be another dumb-bell exercise this evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. The exhibition will close this evening, and parents who have not already attended are urged to do so.

Owing to the interest taken in the exhibit, it was this afternoon decided to keep it open on Monday and Monday evening to 10 o'clock.

Minor Events.

A 5-o'clock tea was given this afternoon at the Spencer residence on East Superior street by Mrs. George Spencer in honor of Miss Mattocks of Faribault, sister of Brewer Mattocks of this city. About twenty of Duluth's young society people were guests.

The Duluth Dancing class had a German at The Spalding yesterday afternoon. Very pretty favors were given and the participants passed a very pleasant afternoon.

A pleasant reception was given by Mrs. F. S. Whitelaw Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Smith, her aunt. Duluth society was out in force. The house was decorated with apple blossoms, and the electric lights cast a mellow glow over the drawing rooms. Mrs. Whitelaw received, assisted by Mrs. Smith. Many charming afternoon toilets were shown.

A social, with musical and literary program, is being arranged for July 4 in Catholic Association hall.

Mrs. L. A. Barber gives a ladies' progressive euchre party next Tuesday afternoon.

The Young Men's club had a very pleasant party on the evening of the 12th.

Another assembly party will be given on Friday evening next. A good deal of interest is manifested in regard to the affair.

The Reform club held its weekly meeting at the Bethel last evening. About forty were present. They were addressed briefly by Mr. J. D. Holmes on the evils of intemperance, and also by the club president, Rev. B. Mitchell. Several signed the pledge after the meeting.

Lakeside Ripples.

Mrs. S. L. Rice is receiving a visit from her mother and sister.

Secretary Thompson of the Chamber of Commerce has purchased three or four lots at London and expects to build immediately.

The new residence of John Mallman, which has been erected under the supervision of Geo. W. Stevens, is now completed and the family is moving in. The house possesses some excellent features.

Miss Hattie May of Minneapolis is visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Jones.

Mrs. E. H. Burger, who has been ill for several weeks, is much better.

Duluth's crockery merchants, Brown brothers, are making extensive improvements to their property on the lake front. The grounds have been laid out with gravel walks and a carriage drive, over fifty trees have been planted and the entire place has been sodded. The feature of the place, however, is the natural harbor on the lake shore. To continue this harbor they have blasted out a channel thirty feet in length running into the cliff, over which they have built a boat house 30x30, the upper floor of which is arranged for a stable.

Foundation has been commenced on the new Methodist church. It will accommodate 250 people.

Henry M. Brown returned on the United Empire from a six weeks' visit in the East. Mrs. Brown's brother, Mr. Preston M. Hickey, returned with them and will make them a visit.

The new arrivals at the Lester Park hotel this week are Mr. and Mrs. Brown and two children, H. T. Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. McFadden, Miss McFadden and Mrs. M. R. Gilbert.

W. A. Kennedy expects his mother from California this evening to make him a visit.

Miss Armstead has been spending a week's visit with Mrs. Green.

Many Lakeside people are fearful lest their names have been overlooked by the enumerator, as they have not been called upon yet. Our enumerator has thirty days in which to make his canvass, and everybody will be called upon.

Work is now progressing rapidly on the new water and sewer system.

Miss Alice M. Sayles of Chicago has come to spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. Geo. E. Long, at Lakeside.

While Chicago is boasting of her climate as a summer resort, it is peculiar that so many people from that burg have already arranged for the summer at Lakeside and vicinity.

Personal Mention.

George H. Glynn of Saginaw, is in the city.

Mrs. George H. MacClelland and family returned yesterday from a few weeks' visit in Chicago. Mrs. MacClelland's mother is with them, and will spend some time in this city.

Hon. Arthur M. Hill of Saginaw, a member of the Cranberry Lumber company, was in the city last evening.

Mrs. W. C. Eyster will return to Duluth for the summer and will be accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. F. B. Smith and family from Florida. They have leased the residence of Rev. E. M. Noyes, and old Duluthians will be glad to greet them.

Mrs. E. A. Burbank, who has been sojourning in Maine for a period of three months, has returned.

Miss Carlie Simonds, who has been in Minneapolis studying music, has returned.

Mrs. J. T. Hale returns today from Towanda, Pa., where she has been visiting her parents.

Mrs. Charles Strayer left yesterday for San Remo, Italy, where she has relatives. She expects to be gone about a year.

Assistant Superintendent John Macmanus of the Duluth & Winnipeg has moved here from St. Paul and is looking for a house for his family.

The week has witnessed the return of very many Duluth young people who have been away at school and college.

The couple will return to Duluth the last of the month via the great lakes route. Mr. Shaefer formerly lived in St. Louis, where he has many warm friends.

The Turf and the Diamond; A Minnesota Association.

ORDERS have been sent by the Regatta association for estimates on fourteen gold medals for the amateur Duluth and Superior races, and will next week issue a circular, giving the program up to date. The Mississippi association has issued a circular in which it speaks of the cities and gives its entries, which are for two days and as follows: First day junior class; junior single, pair, double, four oared shells. Second day—senior class, double, pair, single, pair, senior four oared shells, quarter mile sprint race for the J. A. St. John medal open to all the single scullers entered in the regatta. All races, with the exception of the sprint race, are three-quarters of a mile and return. Winners of junior races have the option of entering the senior races on the next day without any previous entry.

The annual meeting of the association will be held July 23 at 8 o'clock. Each club is entitled to two delegates.

The yacht Undine (last year's prize winner) will be launched this evening at the canal. She has a wonderful spread of canvas. The rest of the yachts had better keep off the bay tomorrow if they don't want the wind taken out of their sails.

No doubt now exists as to the success of the Players league. Since the season opened the attendance has been fully 25 per cent above the National organization. The playing of the Players has also been superior to that of the older league. Boston and New York are running a close race for the Players pennant, while Cincinnati and Philadelphia are struggling for the National championship. The standings to yesterday were:

A state organization for the protection of our land and water game is something that has long been needed. At a meeting held lately at Minneapolis an organization was formed. A broad foundation was laid on which to erect a strong association. The idea of a state organization was the main object sought to be accomplished. In a circular W. P. Andrus, corresponding secretary of the association, says: The name adopted was, "The Game and Fish Protective association of Minnesota." Its duty is, "to ascertain, so far as it can, all offenses against the game laws; to detect, pursue and prosecute all violators thereof; and for this purpose it has power to employ and pay attorneys, detectives and others, and to offer rewards for information of the game laws of the state." The annual dues were placed at $2, and the annual assessment limited to $2 per member. Our laws at present are very defective, but they afford some protection if properly enforced, and an organization like this can accomplish much good. It is a part of the policy of the association to endeavor to secure better legislation on the subject of game and fish protection. A state game warden is a pre-requisite to the enforcement of game laws, and we want, by concerted action, to secure the appointment of this official, and also obtain the appointment of deputies enough to thoroughly police the state, and protect in reality—not theoretically.

The New York Star publishes a statement of the comparative attendance at the League and Brotherhood baseball games in the four cities of New York, Brooklyn, Boston and Philadelphia. As usual, the Brotherhood games attracted the largest number of spectators, their aggregate being 38,394, against an aggregate attendance at the League games of 28,156. It is a notable fact that the two organizations together did not draw as many people as attended the games of last year. This year's combined attendance was 67,000, and last year's was 67,050. It appears, therefore, that while in the larger cities the proceeds of the baseball business are divided by the existence of rival organizations, there is not as much money for the two as there used to be for one in the days when the League was alone in possession. The time will come when there won't be any more money in baseball than there is in the ice business, or coal, or plumbing.

* * *

The use of the lively ball can scarcely be considered an advance in the national game, says The Sun. According to a prominent Brotherhood player, the ball used is practically a return to the base ball of twenty years ago. This player, in a conversation a few days ago, said: "It will not surprise me to see some pitcher knocked out of the box by a hard hit before the season is over. What surprises me is that some of the infielders have not had their hands almost torn off by some of the terrific hits that they have tried to stop." This is exactly the same statement that was made against the old-time lively ball, and that brought about the introduction of the "dead" ball—the danger to the fielder's hands and body. The one great advantage that the players now have is the big, thick gloves to protect them, and which were unknown in the days when Peck & Snyder first got out their "red dead ball." The player who has given the note of warning is one of the most fearless players on the "diamond" and knows what he is talking about.

Foul Tips.

The Pittsburgh league club is after Pitcher George, formerly of the New Yorks.

The Athletics and Rochesters are making a nice fight for the Association pennant.

Tiernan is likely to be the first New York league player to make fifty hits.

Connor and O'Rourke are the "giants" who have made fifty hits thus far.

The injury which Herman Long sustained will keep him under cover for a couple of weeks. Boston loses the services of its most valuable man.

Old Joe Hornung is resuming his second life in the base ball world. He is not only the best sacrifice hitter in the New York team, but is beginning to bat out timely singles in a surprising way.

Secretary Brunell: "All their players have been paid up to June 1. Brooklyn has lost some money, but its players received their salaries last Saturday in my presence, and Players' National league is in Brooklyn, on a permanent basis. The club owns its land, which costs $85,000, and has put $50,000 worth of improvements upon it. No club in the Players' National league will be dropped."

All Sorts.

Fitzsimmons, the Australian pugilist, has been engaged by Spreckels Brothers, the millionaire sugar kings, to teach them boxing.

The Druid Lacrosse club of Baltimore, who hold the championship and Oelrich cup, will play the Brooklyns, June 16, for the title and cup.

John Delaney and John Malcolm, the crack hand ball players of New York, are matched to play for $100 a side at the Murray Hill court next Wednesday.

John Lawler, the New York hand ball player, is trying to arrange a match with Thomas Jones of Tralee, the present champion of Ireland, for $1000 a side. Lawler is willing to play the match in Cork.

Joe Darly of Dudley, Eng., champion jumper of the world, and Joseph Parker of Tipton, Eng., met at Dudley recently in a series of forward and high jumps for the championship. Darly won every event easily.

Bill Reader, the 126 pound champion of England, has challenged Jem Carney, the championship lightweight of England, to fight with gloves for $2500 a side and an outside bet of $2500.

Young Ives, the protege of Jake Schaefer, defeated J. B. McCleery, the California champion, at 'Frisco recently. The game was for $150 a side, and Ives played 3000 to McCleery's 2000. Ives won in the thirty-third inning with a run of 294 points.

At a conference of International league delegates held at Toronto last night arrangements for the transfer of the Buffalo franchise to Grand Rapids, Mich., were completed. It had been expected Montreal would take Buffalo's place in the league, but it was too far away.

Will Probably Coalesce.

DETROIT, June 14.—The third annual Western championship meeting of the Amateur Athletic union of the United States is in progress here today, the events including mile walks, 100-yard runs, throwing the 56-pound weight, etc. Although the contests are open to all amateur athletes west of the Allegheny mountains, Chicago is unrepresented. This is owing to the belief entertained that the union is exceeding its authority in giving Western championships. It is thought, however, that the union and the Western association will coalesce before many weeks.

TO FISHERMEN.

A Chance to Get a Splendid Trout Outfit; Sporting News.

As an incentive to fishermen and to further a manly sport, The Herald offers a split bamboo pole, click reel and fine trout line, secured from the fine stock of Boyce & Totman, corner of Fourth avenue and West Superior street, and guaranteed by this firm to be all represented, to The Herald subscriber securing, between May 19 and the end of the legal trout season, the largest brook trout caught by rod and line.

If possible, the fish must be weighed by a Herald representative, and all weights not seen must be guaranteed and vouched for by witnesses or on the affidavit of the catcher. The prize will be exhibited in Boyce & Totman's window after today. Call and take a look at it, then go out and catch a trout that will bring you this splendid outfit.

WEST END.

General News of the Day from the Second Division.

The Gas & Water company will find that filling in holes where trenches have been dug will pay better than broken legs. A driver on Twentieth avenue near Fifth street was surprised to find his horse suddenly on his knees. He had gotten into one of two holes on that avenue which the company had left.

B. Johnson had two fingers cut off by a saw at Peck's mill late yesterday afternoon.

Several small shanties on the railroad properties near Garfield avenue are being moved farther down on Rices Point.

Scarlet fever is again becoming prevalent in the West End. A case is reported at Mrs. O'Connors, 2030 West Superior street.

A party of six more left last night to attend the Norwegian Methodist camp meeting at Grantsburgh, Wisconsin.

ON ISLE ROYALE.

The Big English Copper Company Begins the Year's Development Work.

The Isle Royale Land Corporation, Limited, the company of English capitalists, which owns the greater part of the island of Isle Royale, has just started operations on its property for the year. This company commenced last season to explore the island for copper deposits by cross-cutting the surface, as The Herald has from time to time announced. Considerable time was necessarily spent at the beginning in establishing camps, cutting trails through the dense forests, and re-establishing the stations of the government survey made forty-five years ago. After this preliminary work was executed, a number of lodes were opened, and a good showing of copper made in several of the openings.

The company considered these developments of sufficient moment to warrant a resumption of operations on a much bigger scale this season. A systematic exploration has just been commenced, and will be continued until the company has a fair idea what its property is worth. Some mining may be carried on this season, but probably not much, as development will take all the season. The company last fall announced its intention of doing something in the way of summer resort improvements this year, but may, and probably will, put this work off another year at least.

CROSLEY PARK.

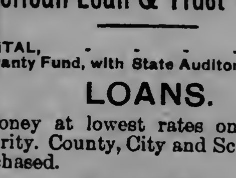

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan—one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

AN IMPORTANT MEETING.

The Board of Health Talks of Moving Many Bodies.

The board of health is holding an important meeting this afternoon. The principal business is the discussion of the question of removing the bodies buried in the old cemetery east of Twelfth avenue east and south of Third street. This was first used as a cemetery in 1870. Since then it has been given up as a burial ground, and the bodies of those who have friends have been removed.

There are, however, a number of bodies of paupers remaining, and the residents and property owners in that neighborhood are clamoring for their removal. The board of health, however, is undecided as to how this can be done. It will first be necessary to declare them nuisances, but the board is not sure that such a move can be made. Some way of disposing of them will probably be decided upon at today's meeting.

Ran Into a Flat Car.

An accident occurred this morning on the Duluth & Winnipeg just west of Cloquet. A number of section hands who were riding on a hand car, ran into a flat car which was standing on the main track. One of the men, named Pat Silny, was thrown under the wheels and his left leg was badly crushed. He was brought to Duluth and taken to St. Luke's hospital where the injured leg was amputated this afternoon.

MISS THE REGATTA,

But Will Vote in the Fall; A Crowded Police Court.

There was another large batch of prisoners in the municipal court this morning, and a tough looking lot they were. John McLaren, John Jones, P. McGinnis, D. Morris, Frank McCabe, Joe Mack and Gus Day, the mob of toughs who created a small-sized riot yesterday afternoon were arraigned on the charge of assaulting an officer. McGinnis, Morris and McCabe plead guilty. The latter is the one who struck the officer in the back of the neck with a club. Judge Morris read the riot act to them and sentenced them to ninety days in the county jail and to work on the streets of the city, remarking that they would have some more useful occupation than assaulting public officers.

"Well, we'll get out in time to vote next fall, if we do miss the regatta," remarked one of the trio as they left the courtroom. The remainder of the gang pleaded not guilty and their examination was set for next Tuesday afternoon with bail fixed at $150 each. Joe Mack, the one who started the row pleaded guilty to the additional charge of using abusive language and was sentenced to fourteen days.

If the allegations in the complaint are true, Anton Sadowski, a Polander, living on First avenue west near Eighth street ought to be severely punished. He was arraigned this morning on the charge of beating, kicking and seriously wounding a 10-year-old step-daughter. It is alleged that he kicked the girl in the head and that as a result she may lose the sight of one eye. The complaint is made by A. P. Lacey. The prisoner pleaded not guilty, and his examination was set for next Tuesday afternoon. Andrew Marshall was charged with assault in the third degree upon Annie Weber. His examination was set for next Wednesday.

Charles Carlson, Joe Kennedy and Jas. Joyce, a trio of drunks, received the usual sentence. James Burke and Andrew Johnson, vags, went out for four days. Charles Dempsey, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting on the streets, had his examination set for next Monday. Ed Lee said he was guilty of his disorderly conduct and he went out for ten days.

A QUESTION OF TITLE.

An Owner Disappears but is Finally Found in After Years.

The Man Who Sold the Land is Arrested in Chicago.

It was about three months ago that Lawyer H. R. Spencer of Duluth went to St. Louis on a quest of importance. Mr. Spencer had been engaged for a long time in looking up land titles to Duluth property and in abstracting work, and he had learned a queer story, which he went south to investigate. With him went Messrs. Coburn and Nutt, both residents at the head of the lake for the last twenty-five or thirty years, and whose testimony was going to be valuable in the search he had instituted.

On their return a Herald reporter, having learned something of the story, went to Mr. Spencer for information. There was then no news to give the public, but the story was told the reporter under promise of secrecy until the law had asserted its power and certain arrests had been made in the South. These arrests were made yesterday, and though Mr. Spencer himself is not in the city, having been called to Ohio, the story can be told.

It was way back in 1856 when Charles Johnson settled on land adjoining Lester river. He lived on it long enough to obtain a government patent, and did obtain such patent, which was filed in the register of deeds office on August 22, 1861, at 1 o'clock p. m., in book C, pages 273 and 274, the description of the property being the se¼ section 33-51-13. Soon after this Johnson disappeared and no trace of him could be found. In later years a man representing himself to be the original Johnson appeared on the scene and sold the land; as his title seemed to be clear and he obtained notarial recognition he easily made deeds. He also disappeared with his fraudulent gains. About a year ago Spencer & Sanford learned that the second Johnson was not Johnson, but an imposter named Reed. They then proceeded to hunt up the rightful claimant. He was found to reside in St. Louis and thither a trip was made as noted above. Here Mr. Coburn easily identified Johnson, whom he had well known in the early days and who was then a good deal of a sport and a most excellent runner. Then a trap was set for Reed, and now he has fallen into it.

Johnson is not a gambler as the telegram indicated, and he does know all about the affair. Also he can be found, indeed he is now in the Indian Territory in charge of a herd of cattle and will be back in St. Louis soon. Then he will be brought here with Reed.

The land lies, as the description above shows, just east of Lester river and corners on the lake. It is owned by W. C. Sargent and the Brighton Land company, and is valued at about $1200 per acre or about $190,000, not the fabulous amount reported in the telegram.

The following telegram from St. Louis, accurate in most particulars, was received here last night:

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 14.—Private detectives having in custody Daniel Reed, arrested yesterday at Chicago, arrived here this morning. Twenty years ago a gambler named Johnson bought 160 acres in Duluth, which have since become very valuable. Johnson then disappeared and nothing was heard of him. Duluth lawyers learned the facts and advertised widely for Johnson. One firm subsequently claimed to hold deeds to the property and the other day received a letter from a St. Louis lawyer stating that Johnson was here. Representatives from Duluth brought the news that Johnson had signed away his interest and accepted part payment. Then it developed that he was not the right Johnson. This man then disappeared, and a few days since was located in Chicago. Reed admits that he is the man who personated Johnson, and is willing to stand the consequences. The property is valued at over half a million.

Every person," he says, "should have a bottle." For sale by all druggists.

THE LEADING QUESTION

Now is: "Are you provided with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as a safe-guard against an attack or bowel complaint during the summer months?" No family can afford to risk being without this invaluable medicine during the hot weather. It is almost certain to be needed, and is a friend indeed when required, as it never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all druggists.

FIFTY ARE KILLED.

Out of Sixty-five Coal Miners Only Fifteen are Left Alive.

An Explosion of Fire Damp; Telegraph Notes of a Day.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 16.—A terrible explosion occurred at the Hill Farm mines this morning. Out of sixty-five men working in the pit only ten are known to have escaped. It is thought that the rest of the men were killed instantly by the explosion or suffocated by gas. The excitement is very great. As it is impossible to render any assistance up to the present time, the full particulars and the actual loss of life cannot be given.

A Connellsville telegram says: An explosion of damp gas occured today in the Hill mine. Fifteen have been taken out badly injured. The other fifty are supposed to be dead, but a volunteer party is digging for them. The Hill farm mine is situated about two miles from Dunbar, and is owned by the Dunbar Furnace company. The entire output of the mines is used by the Dunbar Furnace company, which is composed entirely of Eastern parties. Samuel Dickson of Philadelphia is the president.

A private dispatch to H. C. Frick of this city, says sixty-five men were in the mine and fifteen were rescued. It is believed that the others are dead.

DENIES A YARN.

Congressman Springer Exonerated from a Charge of Base Motives.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 16.—Considerable excitement has been occasioned at the home of Congressman Springer by the wide publicity given to an affidavit of Highland C. Kirk, filed with Speaker Reed, charging Mr. Springer with unworthy motives in defeating Kirk's claim against the Federal government. The only person mentioned in substantiation of Mr. Kirk's charge is Alex. C. Jones of this city, ex-United States consul to Barranguilla, Colombia, and formerly Mr. Springer's committee clerk. Mr. Kirk's affidavit says Mr. Springer preferred him to Mr. Jones, his clerk, with the statement that his measure was a speculative one, and if he expected favorable action he would have to see Mr. Springer's clerk.

Mr. Kirk acted on this advice and when he told Mr. Jones what the chairman of the committee had said, Jones said: "Did Springer tell you that? The robber. I am getting sick and tired of this whole cut-throat business and I will have nothing to do with it."

Mr. Jones pronounces the story utterly untrue in every particular and said: "The author of the affidavit evidently supposed that I was still consul at Barranguilla, far removed from cable communication, and that before my statement could reach the world his malicious charge would have worked irreparable injury to Springer."

ON THE WISCONSIN CENTRAL.

A Serious Collision Near Eau Claire; Several Narrow Escapes.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., June 16.—A serious collision occurred yesterday afternoon on the Wisconsin Central Short line, between here and Eau Claire, between a freight and a passenger train. Both engines were demolished and Engineer Watson of the passenger train received serious injuries about the head and a dislocated shoulder. Fireman McNulty of the freight engine, was seriously but not fatally injured.

The forward coach of the passenger train was badly smashed, the passengers in the coach almost miraculously escaping without serious injury. The second coach was considerably wrecked, and the passengers were badly shaken up. There was a panic among the men and women and children screamed from fear. The passengers walked back to town.

An Unprecedented Case.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 16.—Dr. Hoene was arrested yesterday afternoon. He telephoned for the police to come to his office. When they arrived he was coolly smoking a long stemmed pipe while not two feet away from him was the dead body of Miss Annie Enbelacker. The doctor said she was taken with a fit on entering his office and died. He refused to say anything further, except that he did not know her. The girl it was learned by the police, afterwards, has been peddling a patent medicine for Dr. Hoene, for some time.

A. O. U. W. Annual Session.

BOSTON, June 16.—The annual session of the supreme lodge Ancient Order of United Workmen opened here today. All the Eastern and Middle states, as well as Texas, Missouri, Iowa, Dakota, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas are well represented. The annual reports show that the order has made great strides during the past year and is in a flourishing condition.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

The Green Hill Presbyterian church of Philadelphia, which has maintained the largest Chinese Sunday school in the city, has decided to give up the work. The cause is said to be that stories about leprosy in the Chinese quarter have made the young lady teachers shy.

Suit has been begun by Merriam & Co. of Springfield, Mass., to restrain Texas Siftings from publishing any dictionary bearing the title The Webster Dictionary. Merriam & Co. allege that the dictionary published by the defendant infringes upon their copyright.

There would appear to be no limit to the speed of vessels, certainly none has yet been reached. The new United States torpedo boat Cushing yesterday made a mile in two minutes and three seconds. Her captain hopes to eliminate the seconds.

Major Wissman, commander of the German forces in east Africa, sailed from Alexandria for Brindisi on his way to Berlin today.

ART SALE IN PARIS.

The American Dollar Beaten by the French Franc.

PARIS, June 16.—One and a half million francs were realized by the sale of fifty-three paintings in the Crabbe collection at Sedelmeyer's gallery today. M. Chevallier, with his ivory hammer, presided over the destinies of the various lots. The Parisian amateurs were present almost to a man, and the English-speaking contingent was fairly strong, comprising Mr. Hutchinson, president of the Art Museum, Chicago; Mr. Barney, New York, and the president director of the Sydney Museum, Mr. Montefiore. Morris K. Jessup, trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, was prevented from attending the sale and sent his agents, as also did Ogden Goelet, who is as much at home at an art sale as on the box seat of a four-in-hand.

The battle between the American dollar and the French franc was a feature of the sale. Many Paris dealers had received orders from the United States. Sedelmeyer had no less than ten and the auctioneer had been cabled on the morning of the sale to a similar effect, yet the American dollar got severely the worst of the struggle. Scarce one gem of the collection will, for the present, at least, cross the Atlantic.

BIGGEST RAFT AFLOAT.

It is 1700 Feet in Length; Precautions for Its Protection.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 16.—A mammoth raft, which eclipses in size the Joggins raft that caused so much peril to ocean steamships, left here Saturday for New York, and is now well started down the coast. The raft is consigned to James D. Leary, who owned the great raft which went adrift in 1887. In every respect the new raft is larger than any other that was ever built. The timber was cut just back of this city. It is composed of seventeen sections, each 100 feet long, 25 feet thick and 35 feet wide. The raft will draw fourteen feet of water, and will project seven feet above. Each section will be cigar-shaped and will be strongly bound with chains. The whole structure is so designed that in case of necessity one section, forming a whole raft in itself, may be cut adrift. The raft will be 1700 feet long.

The towing has been undertaken by the Laughlin Towing company. Two strong tugs have been completely refitted and strengthened for their great task, and it will require fifteen to eighteen days before the consignment will be landed safely in this port. The tugs are 115 feet long and draw about fourteen feet of water. The raft will be protected at night by eight large lamps. The officers do not think they will experience any difficulty in handling the raft. They say that there might be trouble if they were caught in such a storm as that in which the raft was destroyed three years ago. As this is a favorable time of the year for ocean towing, they claim that this vast pile of timber will doubtless reach these waters unbroken, and will constitute the largest importation ever sent to this country. According to the Ashburton treaty, lumber cut by Americans in Canada may be floated into American ports free of duty.

A "Farewell" Banquet.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Thirty of the most prominent of the "Bachelor Set" of Chicago will tonight sit down to one of the most elegant dinners ever given in the city. The scene will be the Washington Park Club house and the host of the occasion, Hobart Chatfield Taylor, who on Thursday night forsakes single blessedness and takes to himself a wife in the person of Rose Farwell, second daughter of United States Senator Farwell. The wedding will be the event of the season and many guests from abroad have already arrived in the city.

Homœopathist Convention.

WAUKESHA, Wis., June 16.—The annual convention of the American Institute of Homœopathy opened at the Fountain house this morning. Nearly 1000 delegates are present, many being accompanied by their wives, daughters and sons, and the gathering is the largest of the kind ever held in the country. The convention will last four days and the little business to be transacted will be enlivened with fishing excursons, banquets, balls and drives.

Burglars at Moorhead.

MOORHEAD, Minn., June 16.—[Special to The Herald.]—Robert Boatman, who was bound over Saturday night to the district court on the 16th, charged with stealing eighty bushels of oats from Edward Wilson on Buffalo river is on trial today. Burglars entered C. Kyse's saloon Sunday morning through a window. They took some money, liquors, clothing and other valuables of a total value of $20 dollars.

Tentonic Picnic.

ELMWOOD, Ohio, June 16.—Between 200 and 300 persons attended a picnic about two miles north of here yesterday given by some Cincinnati club. Beer was the attraction. Late in the afternoon a general fight occurred in which two men were fatally hurt. Both will die. Three or four were dangerously wounded and a score including several girls were badly cut and shot.

Plumbers' National Convention.

DENVER, Col., June 16.—The annual convention of the National Association of Master Plumbers opened today with a large attendance. New York and Boston have ten delegates each, Chicago nine, Philadelphia nine, San Francisco twelve, while there are large contingents from other cities. A good many of the delegates say that owing to the fact that the last winter was an extremely open one in many parts of the country there was not so much money made in the trade as in previous years.

This Means Trouble.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 16.—The sealing schooner Lillie sailed Saturday for Behring sea, where she will hunt for seals. Her owner gave the captain positive orders to hunt in forbidden waters. Other owners have also given their vessels similar instructions, and word has been sent by the vessel to schooners cruising on the west coast of Vancouvers island to proceed to Behring sea. The full Victoria fleet will enter the sea.

Chicago in Line.

CHICAGO, June 16.—The Daily News this morning prints a number of complaints indicating that the federal census which was practically completed Saturday night, is decidedly faulty, as far as Chicago is concerned. The list of the statements given is that whether from lack of time, incompetence or negligence, a great number of families have been left unvisited and that the omissions are possibly of such a wholesale character as to make the enumeration little better than a farce.

FROM OVER THE BRINY.

Cholera is Raging in Spain; Stanley and Mary Anderson.

Comte de Paris Will go to Russia; Other Foreign News.

LONDON, June 16.—Much alarm is occasioned by the continual spread of the cholera at Puebla De Rugat, Spain. The authorities are making strong efforts to stamp out the disease, but so far they have been unsuccessful. Yesterday there were four deaths from this disease and nine new cases. It is rumored from Lisbon today that infantry, artillery and marines will be sent to Mozambique by Portuguese authorities. Quilimane advices say that the governor and a committee of the inhabitants have decided to organize a colonial marine service and irregular forces for the Zambesi; also to suppress English coin and boycott the English. The British vice consul is compelled to quit his residence and to take refuge at the Italian consulate.

Henry M. Stanley and his bride will spend their honeymoon at Metchet court, Hampshire. The place is owned by Lady Ashburton, who has loaned it to Mr. Stanley.

The marriage of Mr. Antonio Navarero and Miss Mary Anderson, which will take place in this city tomorrow, will be a very quiet affair, only the relatives of the bride and groom being present. The ceremony will be of the simplest character.

Thirteen thousand dock laborers at Swansea have struck for higher wages. The shipping business of the place, with the exception of the coal trade, is at a standstill as a consequence of the strike.

Concerning the son of the Comte De Paris he will enter the Russian army as soon as the gayeties of the London season are over. Just now the young man is being regarded as a hero for having undergone an imprisonment he could not avoid. Since the departure of Chakir Pasha, governor of Crete, for Constantinople, the troubles between the Christian and Mussolman Cretans have very much increased. The present condition of affairs there is represented to be very alarming. The weight of evidence goes to prove that although the Christian Cretan is regarded as a martyr, and is believed to be most cruelly persecuted by the so-called Turks, he is really the aggressor. John Dillon, Wm. O'Briemand, John Redmond, have been a pointed delegates to make a tour of America in the autumn, in the interests of the Irish nationalist movement.

Henry M. Stanley has been tendered and has accepted the governor-generalship of the Congo free state. He will not enter upon his duties until the beginning of 1891, unless he should be called upon to assume them earlier by King Leopold. After his marriage, Stanley will proceed to the United States where he will remain until summoned to enter upon his duties.

A MATRIMONIAL MISSION.

Bringing About an Alliance in Young European Royalty.

LONDON, June 16.—Despite the fact that the most strenuous efforts have been made to keep it a secret, the real object of the recent visit of the King of the Belgians to this country has leaked out. According to The Court Circular the visit was simply one of courtesy to Queen Victoria (the two sovereigns being cousins) upon the occasion of her birthday, and the official journal went into estacies of delight over his majesty's good nature in journeying from London to Balmoral and back, a distance of over 1200 miles, for no other purpose than to present a birthday bouquet to the Queen.

As a matter of fact, however, the King was on a matrimonial mission. He is more than anxious to secure an eligible parti for his youngest daughter, the Princess Clementine, and for some time past has had his eye on one of the sons of the Prince of Wales. The King looks with the greatest favor upon Prince Albert Victor, the eldest son, recently created Duke of Clarence.

The prince, who is now 26 years of age, has been anxious for some time to take to himself a wife, and as his health and constitution are anything but the best, his parents, as well as the Queen, have looked upon the idea with considerable favor.

The list of eligible Protestant princesses, however, is decidedly limited, and hence the time selected by the king for his visit was decidedly opportune. It is said, however, that the Queen is opposed to any match between Prince Victor and Princess Clementine, owing to her own relationship to the King, but in view of the previous record of the reigning sovereigns of England in the matter of alliances, it is not thought that these objections would prove insurmountable.

The princess, who was born in 1872, is fairly good looking. She will have an immense fortune settled upon her when her marriage contract has been signed. Although a Roman Catholic it is no secret that her royal parents are quite willing that she should become a Protestant if the change of religion should be found expedient for her temporal interests.

Those who are supposed to be in the confidence of the Prince of Wales say that it would not be surprising if a match between his son and the princess were to be arranged and announced within a couple of months. The royal couple, however, have yet to see each other for the first time.

The Burgundy.

HAVRE, June 16.—The Campagne general line steamer La Bourgne, Capt. Frangvel, from New York, June 5, which was seen disabled and repair ing her machinery on June 8, arrived here this morning.

The steamer Barker will leave for Lake View Grove, Spirit Lake, from St. Paul & Duluth slip, at 10 a. m. and 2:15 p. m. Saturday and Sunday.

The steamer Barker will give a family excursion to Spirit Lake on Wednesday, June 18th. Leave St. Paul & Duluth slip at 10 a. m. Returns home at 5:30 p. m.

A FINANCIAL CONCERN.

It Will Father the Multitudinous Villard Western Schemes.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The Times says: The North America company, which filed its articles of incorporation in the office of the New Jersey secretary of state Saturday, is the the corporation which is to succeed the Oregon Trans-Continental company. It will have a capital of $50,000,000, the same amount as the Trans-Continental, but it is privileged to range over a wider field than was open to the other.

Rumors of the formation of the new company have been going the rounds for a good many weeks. Under the new arrangement it was planned to make Oregon & Transcontinental a financiering company on a big scale. It was to handle business connected with the great and multitudinous interests of Henry Villard. It was to operate in securities of railways, electric companies and hosts of other enterprises.

So ran gossip in the street, and at the same time there were stories current of possible great deals among electric lighting, motor and similar corporations. Mr. Villard's interest in electric lighting and motor companies and the Northern Pacific roed, it was said, would mean a great deal to the company. Stock of the number of Villard enterprises took a boom last night.

FROM WEST DULUTH.

The Episcopalians Means Business; General News of the Day.

The ecclesiastical authorities of the Episcopal diocese of Minnesota propose to have some energetic work in West Duluth, and to build a new church there and have offered charge of it to Rev. Wm. Wilkinson of Minneapolis. It is not known whether or not he will accept. This is the third year of his rectorate at St. Andrews, during which time he has been paying a heavy debt on the church, and has helped with raising money to pay debt on the Sheltering Arms. It probably is his success in these projects at Minneapolis which made him thought of for the new plans in West Duluth.

Work on the Marinette is being pushed as fast as practicable, and soon a big showing will be made.

At the Iron Bay the full force is very busy on mining machinery, and several large plants will soon be ready to ship. Boilers for the Huntress & Brown mill are being put together in the boiler shop. A little shafting work for the Iron Bay is to be done by the small steam forge now being started at Old Superior.

The frame of the Huntress & Brown mill is to be raised in a day or two, and it will be but a few weeks before it is sawing. Two or three million feet will be cut this year.

At the churches yesterday there was a very good attendance.

Lumber is now being drawn to build a nice hotel at Oneota on Miller's lot.

SCANDINAVIAN SOCIETIES.

The Grand Lodge of America is to Meet at Ashland.

Editor Lange of The Scandia returned today from Ashland, where he went to look after the arrangements for the Scandinavian reunion on the 24th inst.

Ten or twelve lodges of the Scandinavian Benevolent association will meet at Ashland. Special trains have been chartered from Ishpeming, Marquette, Norway and other Michigan and Wisconsin places. The West Duluth lodge will leave Union depot Tuesday, 24th, at 8.30 a. m., and return about midnight. At Ashland there will be an excursion on the bay, a ball and other festivities.

This order was founded at Ishpeming but a few years ago. The society proved popular, and as it filled a long felt want, it grew and it is still growing at a very rapid rate. There are now lodges in half a dozen of the Northwestern states, and arrangements have been made for excursions to Ashland from a number of directions.

CITY BRIEFS.

A new string quartet has been formed, with Ernest Lachmund as the director. A series of entertainments will probably be given this season by the organization. The following are members: Frank E. Hoare, first violin; E. Liewald, second violin; C. Tautvetter, viola; Earnest Lachmund, cellist.

Albert Heath, whose mill is located at Nestoria, expects to move it to Kenton as soon as the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic can put in the necessary side tracks. The mill has a capacity of 50,000 feet. Kenton is south of Ontonagon.

Invitations are issued for the opening reception of Palestine lodge A. F. & A. M., at Masonic Temple, Wednesday evening, June 25. The opening exercises will take place from 8:30 to 10, after which there will be dancing and refreshments.

Broke a Rib.

Yesterday at Lakeside, H. Chapin, an engineer in the employ of S. L. Rice, got into an altercation with Government Commissioner Sweeney, and one of the latter's ribs was broken. It seems Chapin unwittingly cut a small tree on the government reserve. Dr. Sweeney shouted to him to stop and later essayed to take away his axe. Chapin is a powerful man and laid the doctor on the grass, when the latter jumped up and struck Chapin, who then pushed the doctor from him. The latter fell over a boat and broke a rib. The offense, if taken to the United States court, as it can be, may be made a serious one.

A PUT-UP JOB.

The Minneapolis Times professes to be an independent observer, and it certainly has no bias of liking for the republican party in this state nor the present administration. Therefore it is not likely to put in any time in hunting mare's nests for the party benefit. But as a matter of news it claims to have unearthed a slick little plot for the defeat of the prospective republican ticket.

It is said that the nomination of a state ticket by the Farmers alliance is to be fixed up as a blind to throw the republicans off the track. According to the program the alliance ticket is to be headed by a republican, and the wire-pullers are to put in their fine work publicly by haranguing the farmers in support of the new party. A few days before election the word is to be passed round among the democratic joiners of the party to vote the straight democratic ticket, as there was no hope of electing the farmers ticket, while the republican alliance men will be steadily led to believe that there will be no bolt from this ticket.

The result of this nice little game, if it works, will be that the republican members of the alliance will vote squarely at the polls for the alliance nominee while the bolting democrats will swell the vote for the straight democratic ticket to the full party strength with the hope of success in the republican defection. It is a plausible trick but difficult to play successfully. The likelihood of the attempt, however, should be enough to demoralize the alliance from the outset.

As a matter of practical politics, it must be apparent to every competent judge of the situation in the state, that the alliance, as handled at present, has not the ghost of a show of winning directly. Its only possible effect will be to give the straight democratic ticket an exceptional chance through republican defection. If the present governor should be renominated on the first ballot by the republicans in party convention assembled, as now seems likely, for lack of any working opposition, we fail to see any pretext at all for republican defection on the score of objection to the high tariff stand of the republican house caucus. For Governor Merriam has taken issue directly with the stiff-necked high tariff men, and as the head of the ticket would stand for tariff reform of the kind demanded by the alliance.

As a matter of fact, the issue of high and low tariff does not enter legitimately into the state contest at all. The rival parties in state elections are opposed on state questions and relative efficiency of state administration. As a candidate for congress, high tariff republicans might reasonably oppose the nomination of a representative holding Governor Merriam's views, but as a candidate for the chief executive post in the state, his personal opinions on the tariff cut no figure of any account. And tariff reform republicans will certainly not work against him on the score of his stand on the tariff, for it accords with their own, and leaves them not even a pretext for bolting. The alliance has no leg to stand on that is visible to the naked eye for lifting its head in the coming election between the two parties. It will do nothing for any republican who votes with it, and can result in nothing except possible damage to republican state interests and standards.

Minneapolis' first sawmill to work this season started today. By the end of this week nearly all are expected to be running. Duluth mills have already sawed fully 15,000,000 feet. But then Duluth mills have the big lake for their mill pond and rafting stream.

The person who complained to The Herald of the failure of the district census agent to count in the family of Robert Johnson was misinformed. This family was duly counted in, and nobody has yet been able to catch enumerator No. 101, tripping. Nor do we believe any one will be. This agent has made a model record, and we can only wish for Duluth that all may be as good.

Duluth was the twenty-fourth city in the Union in extent of financial operations last week, that being its place in the column of bank clearings. It showed an increase of 35.4 per cent over last year, being the tenth in the ratio of increases. It was next below Cleveland, Columbus and Richmond, and above such cities as Dallas, Hartford, Portland, Indianapolis and Nashville. Surely Duluth has no reason to be ashamed of her company.

Duluth is now assured of a complete and proper census count, if the supervisor in charge and the citizens actively interested see that the enumerators do their duty in the several districts. The extension of time granted and the satisfactory assurance given are the direct result of the united protest and the lively kicking of the people and the press. Kicking for once has made itself felt through the official hide, and the census is saved from just contempt and riddling. Supervisor Smith judges that the enumerators here, as a body, are considerably above the average in intelligence and competence, and we trust they will deserve his good opinion. The lack of adequate notice of appointment and remuneration, the delay in furnishing the proper forms, the insufficient time allowed and the mean pay have been discouraging to the working force, and the defects in its work as a body are due chiefly to these drawbacks. But they are under oath to do their duty, and we believe they will with proper assistance from the city at large. Instead of impeding their count by failure to meet them half way, all should take at least as much interest in the record as the census takers themselves. Push it through and put everyone on the list. This will make the record a credit to the city and the nation which is responsible for it.

The capital exhibit made by the public school of the city in the Ray building closes this evening. The Herald has already presented at length the many features of interest in this notable exhibition, and need only urge in conclusion upon all to go and see for their own satisfaction the advance of our schools outside of the narrow lines of the old school education. Not what formal text-book learning will do is here set forth, but the hundred things which cannot be taught by the text. Here the fruits of the training of the eye and hand and voice by modern methods, drawing out talents once uncared for and undeveloped, are strikingly shown, and the conception illustrated of primary and rounded education. The new school understands that education means exactly what the word conveys, the drawing out of the powers of a child, not the putting in of sundry packs of text-books under the cover of a little skull. The present exhibit is one of the first-class shows of the new school.

The total of misunderstanding of marine men, who should be well posted, on the plans of the McDougall company as well as the present models, is surprising. Even The Cleveland Marine Review, usually a well informed journal, has this to say of the model of the Colgate Hoyt, launched in Duluth last week: "A feature in the construction of this first steamboat is the difference in model when compared with the barges. The hull below the load water line is the same as that of the steel steamship Spokane. From this it would appear as though the tow barge model below water will be abandoned in the steamboats. The aim undoubtedly is to supply the necessary fullness forward for resistance in steering. The barges have, to all appearances, proved successful in the hands of their builders, but they have been very carefully towed around the lakes by Capt. Wilson's steamboats. Although as yet outsiders are not engaged in a rush to purchase them, the success or failure of the steamboat will be watched with interest." As The Herald and other papers have repeatedly pointed out the model for all the whaleback type ships has been, below load water line almost exactly similar to that of the Spokane style, a midship section of the two showing perfect similitude. No change has been made in the models of the whalebacks and none is intended.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

C. J. Marshall: We are getting on well in the canvass for Pythian castle and there isn't the least doubt in the world that it will be built. Pythians will hold a big majority of the stock. It will have such a hall as the city needs.

City Assessor Cooley: I would like to take a census of Duluth once. I'll bet I could find a few people. The only way that an accurate enumeration can be obtained is by the same method pursued in making an assessment; that is to have one man to whom the enumerators should report each evening. In this way the enumerators could be shown each night where they had missed a house. The way the census has been taken is a big farce.

Rev. C. S. H. Dunn: It is astonishing how many kind friends I find who are anxious to help me in this discussion about the schools.

N. I. Colburn binding twine traveling salesman: I have just returned to Duluth after a very extensive trip all through North and South Dakota and western Minnesota. The crop outlook—and you can imagine that a man who sells binding twine will look out for crop news—is splendid. There hasn't been a year in the last five when it was so good nor when, unless something happens, between now and September, there was as good a crop as we'll have this fall. Farmers are all wonderfully encouraged and as a consequence are buying more freely.

THE CENSUS LETTERS.

Left Out Nine.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The enumerator on Minnesota Point went to Aug. Stalbusch's boarding house and got eleven of his twenty boarders. He left a blank so that Stalbusch could fill out the other nine, but came back for it before it was done and refused to wait longer and get the nine. So they are not numbered.

A Boarder.

Enumerator District 101.

Hasn't Been Called On.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have not been called on by the enumerator. There has been a notice to him on my door, but it has evidently not attracted his attention. I do not understand that anyone in the Pastoret-Stenson building has been counted. Like many another, I can't be found in my room in day time.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"Michigan men have dipped heavily into Canada pine during the past year," said a well informed pine land man to me the other day. "You may not have heard of it," he continued, "but one of the largest deals made during the year was the purchase late last fall by Gen. Alger and Congressman Bliss of Saginaw, of a tract of pine east of Winnipeg near the boundary line, on the north shore of Lake Superior, estimated to cut 1,000,000,000 feet. The price asked was the modest sum of $1,000,000, but the sellers came down to $425,000, and the purchase was made at that figure. Alger & Bliss also bought another tract in Lower Canada. A. P. Bliss bought something like 300,000,000 feet. Brewer, Rupp & Kerr bought a large tract in lower Canada, and McClure of Saginaw also purchased an extensive tract in lower Canada."

* * *

Five hundred million is a goodly figure, and I do not believe any readers of The Herald exactly appreciate what it means. Either as lumber or anything else, though I imagine a good many local lumber dealers could tell how much yard room it would take. Manager Clarkson, of the Wright Mercantile company of La Prairie, tells me that there are 500,000,000 feet of logs coming down the Mississippi this year for Minneapolis and near by mills. Of this 400,000,000 is new logs and the rest was hung up last year by low water. The Minneapolis mills have none of them started up so far this season because of early low water but they will be buzzing away in a few days now. They tell me that from the mouth of the Prairie and Swan, where most of the Upper Mississippi logs are cut, to boom limits, below Brainerd, is a 40-day drive on good water. This would be about three months from the rollways to the mills on the best stage of water and anywhere from one to two years in ordinary cases. This gives an idea of the distance Minneapolis goes for her logs and suggests the question would not mills up at the mouth of the Prairie and Swan, on the Duluth & Winnipeg be far better investments than at the Flour city? Of course they would and they're going there.

The drop-a-nickel-in-the-slot machines don't always work. A reporter tried to get a cigar out of a machine the other night, but the machine failed to respond and no return for the nickel could be secured. Soon after he noticed a crowd of angry Italians around it, several of whom got fooled in the same way. The dagos were excited and wanted to whip some one for the swindle. But the unresponsive machine said never a word.

* * *

Some of the questions asked at the city hall are very amusing. A day or two since a young man, accompanied by his prospective bride walked into police headquarters and requested Secretary Force to make out naturalization papers for his girl. They were about to be married and he had an impression that citizenship was necessary and could be furnished at this office. He was sent to the court house. Another man came in about noon and asked when dinner would be ready. He had heard of the city hall and supposed it was a hotel. Still another thought the city hall was a bank and he wanted $20 which he had deposited there. These are only a few samples.

Amos Shephard has a taste which is hard to suit in the way of horse flesh. Recently he sold a horse which he has owned for some time because it did not just suit him as regards speed. He visited all of the stables in Duluth, but he could not find one that he liked and he proposed to have one that suited him. Now he is in St. Paul looking through the stock of superannuated street car horses, where he expects to find one that will answer all purposes.

WORTH WHILE.

It is easy enough to be pleasant
While life flows by like a song,
But the man worth while is the one who will smile
When everything goes dead wrong.
For the test of the heart is trouble,
And it always comes with the years,
And the smile that is worth the praises of earth
Is the smile that shines through tears.

It is easy enough to be prudent
When nothing tempts you to stray,
When without or within no voice of sin
Is luring your soul away.
But it's only a negative virtue
Until it tried by fire,
And the life that is worth the honor of earth
Is the one that resists desire.

By the cynic, the sad, the fallen,
Who had no strength for the strife,
The world's highway is cumbered today;
They make up the items of life.
But the virtue that conquers passion,
And the sorrow that hides in a smile,
It is these that are worth the homage of earth
For we find them but once in a while.

STATE POLITICAL OPINIONS.

Winona Republican: The lieutenant-governorship is a no-thoroughfare. Except Mr. Donnelly, one who gets there gets no further. That consideration alone prevents The Republican from advocating the nomination of Joel P. Heatwole to that office. If he would not object to being so shelved, it would be hard to find any reason remaining for not making his nomination unanimous.

Fergus Falls Journal: The democrats certainly won a temporary victory in getting the alliance to place a ticket in the field and in loading upon it three loyal democrats. Hopelessly in the minority, they had no show of electing a man to any office, consequently it was a judicious move to get the alliance to put up a ticket, with a view to embarrassing the republican party. It makes a warm contest certain. The republican party will hold its convention just the same and nominate and elect its ticket.

Red Wing Republican: So Ames really wants the democratic nomination for governor. There has been a number of good men talked of for that place, but we regard Dr. Ames as the best of them all—for Merriam.

Winona Herald: It is a forgone conclusion that W. R. Merriam will be renominated for governor. Judge Wilson of this city can have the democratic nomination if he would say yes. But that is what the judge has not done.

Here, Too.

Winona Republican: To the census enumerators in Winona: Guilty or innocent—homely or beautiful—male or female—abroad or at home—let no inhabitant of the town escape. Count every mother's son and father's daughter of the entire tribe.

That's What It Is.

Northwest Magazine: Duluth is happy that a big union depot is at last to be erected. The building will be 420x220 feet in dimensions, and the depot proper will be three stories high and built of pressed brick with brown stone trimmings. The train house will be of iron and glass. The erection of this large and costly structure is only the natural outcome of the enormous railway traffic of the Zenith city.

Wonder If He Means This?

Superior Telegram: If Duluth had ever shown the slightest disposition to be fair and honest with Superior, our people would be very sorry now to see the storm of disasters which is beating the cliff-dwellers into the earth. The cliff-dwellers forgot, no doubt, during the years that they were attacking and lying about Superior so outrageously, that "them that taketh the sword shall perish by the sword."

Republican District Convention.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Edward Smalley, the famous life saver, who died in New York on Saturday, had rescued at least 100 persons from death by drowning, but was not the possessor of a single medal and leaves a destitute family.

A. T. Abernethy, professor of modern languages in Rutherford college, North Carolina, is only 18 years old.

It is said that the bank deposits in Kansas are $2,500,000 more now than they were a year ago.

Inexhaustible quantities of red and yellow ochre have been laid bare by a langslide, five miles south of Drain, Ore. It looks like rock, but dissolves readily in water and gives a fine color on wood.

Lady Anne Blunt, Lord Byron's granddaughter, her husband and their daughter, are living on the borders of the desert in Egypt, about six miles from Cairo. They have adopted the Arab dress, with the primitive customs of that race and live a life of simplicity.

A correspondent of a Calcutta paper says that a neem tree was recently the scene of a curious gathering. It appears that the tree has a number of white spots on its trunk and branches. The people of the neighborhood adorned it with red powder, and offered fruits, spices and goats on the supposition that the goddess of small-pox had taken up her abode in it.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Mlle. Rhea, the great French actress, is the next attraction after "Evangeline."

"Evangeline" is one of those spectaculars that never grow old. The old fisherman is as young as he ever was, and the fish pole that he uses has done duty for 5000 nights, or over ten years. Season after season the announcement has come from New York that "Evangeline" will be shelved next season," but before "next season" comes an "Evangeline" company is on the road, just as big a success the first year it started out. E. E. Rice said two months ago that he would give the piece a rest next season, but Agent Harley, who was in town yesterday, received a notice that bookings for another season had begun. The Duluth engagement begins Wednesday and tickets are now on sale.

CROSLEY PARK.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS SPLENDID ADDITION.

One year ago there was nothing at Lester Park but the depot and the Fish Hatchery. Crosley Park was not platted and all that section beyond London was almost wholly unimproved. Today Lester Park is nicely built up and hundreds of the best people of Duluth have built homes there. Within one year it has become one of the most fashionable and popular residence places at the head of the lake. Within that time streets have been opened and graded, sidewalks built and now water, sewers and electric lights are to be put in, so that people living at London, Lester Park and Crosley Park can have all the advantages of the city. In all these matters Crosley Park will keep step with the adjoining additions and already many good houses are being built. The advantage this addition has is that the property is cheap and lies beautifully. From nearly every lot in the subdivision you get a charming view of the lake and there are neither hills, ravines nor rocks to mar it. It is the cheapest purely residence suburban property about Duluth, and in the near future will become some of the most valuable. Then the charm of it is that you can buy on the easy payment plan—one-tenth down and the balance one per cent a week till paid WITHOUT interest. It is better than a savings bank, as it is ten times as profitable. The most liberal inducement will be offered to those who wish to build. For further information call on

THINGS TO BE DONE.

Specifications for Work on the Proposed Canal Bridge.

Some Street Car Labor; Closing the High School Exhibit.

The plans and specifications for the substructure and masonry for the canal bridge are now on file at the office of the board of works where they will remain until July 1, for bids.

The various bids will be compared on the basis of the engineer's estimate of quantities of the work to be done, which are approximately as follows: 16,000 cubic yards of dredged excavation, 1000 cubic yards excavation for east pier, 7775 foundation piles, 550 fender piles, 50 bank piles, 400,000 feet (board measure) white pine foundation platform, 200,000 feet (board measure) white pine fender timber, 45,000 feet (board measure) white pine fender plank, 4200 pounds armature plate iron, 25,000 pounds cast iron pile shoes, about 50 pounds each; 45,000 cubic feet cribbing, 6000 cubic yards back filling, 1200 cubic yards rip rap, 200 cubic yards Portland cement concrete, 2453 cubic yards masonry, 2822 cubic feet of granite coping.

ENGINES WILL DELAY.

Will be 100 Days Before they are Completed; At Work Today.

Matters concerning the Superior street electric line are rapidly assuming a tangible shape. The contract for the retaining walls and foundation for the new power house was let on Saturday to Andrew Skoglund. The Edward P. Allis company of Milwaukee has written that the engines will be completed in 100 days, and Manager Chase has accepted the proposition. At first they wanted five months, but Mr. Chase wired them that he could not wait that long, and the time was cut down to 100 days. This will make it fully Oct. 1 before the engines are in place, and before that time everything else will be in readiness.

The boilers will be completed by Aug. 10. The work of boring the holes in the rails for the wire connections was begun today. The posts should have been shipped from Cincinnati last Thursday and should arrive here some time this week. It will not require much time to place them in position, so it can be seen that the greatest delay will be caused in making the engines.

THE LAST DAY.

Pleased and Interested Crowds Attend the Public School Exhibit.

Saturday afternoon and evening the Ray building, where the public school exhibit is shown, was crowded to the doors with parents and friends of the pupils of the schools. The attendance, which has been most gratifing to Superindendent Denfeld, the teachers and the scholars has kept up today and will probably be very large this evening.

The Herald has not heretofore mentioned the work of the classes in drawing, charcoal work or penmanship, which are under the superintendence of Miss Forde. For the earnest, faithful ful effort shown by the scholars to second her effort, and the individual taste and originality shown by many of the regular teachers, too much cannot be said in praise. The writing is in many cases beautiful, revealing method in every stroke. And when one considers the vast improvements made in eight months, shown clearly by two specimens from the same pupil, it becomes almost wonderful. This writing display makes it evident to the business men of our city that they need not fear to put the hand of a Duluth grammar school boy or girl behind their desks.

The following are the names of those whose work is to be sent to the national educational convention at St. Paul next month, what may be called the cream of the work in the line: First grade—Carrie Knistrom, Eva Peterson, Mabel McMeekin, Hector Nichols, copies. Second grade—Grace Barrows, Oliver Holm, Charlie Oleson, Bailie Pearson, George Oestreik, drawing from Miss Tyler's room unsigned, original design; Richard Parmeuter, Dufferind Barber, Agnes Berg, copies. Third grade—Emma Winje, Erik Okerlund, Harrie Woods, original design; Dora Eva, small tea set drawn from objects; John Willyard, lilies drawn from copy. Fourth grade—Daisy Butchert, Eby Gridley, Willie Lounsberry, Anna Wendland, Helen Larson, original design; Joseph Long, pitcher, cup and saucer, drawn from objects; Nellie Saulie, tub drawn from copy. Fifth grade—Wilifred La Bross, Sophie Bloedel, William Benson, Louis Dworschak, original design. Sixth grade—Anna Burnham, Willie Webber, original design; Bertha Stahlbush, fan; Clarence Stewart, steamboat, drawn from object; Lottie Hoople, working drawing from piled models; Willie Close, decorated calendar leaf, drawn from copy. Seventh grade—Louis Winje, original design; Oscar Johnson, rectangular block, steps and cone, drawn from models; Lulu Ball, hollow cylinder, cube and cone, drawn from models; Nellie Cate, circular plinth and square pyramid, drawn from models. Eighth grade—Margaret Graff, Victoria Ericson, original design; Agnes Cooley, steps, cone and cylinder, drawn from models; Florence Ames, pansies from copy; Ray Smith, old stone arch from copy. High school—Original designs from flower and leaf: Lizzie Harper, ivy; Ida Truelson, wild rose; Nora Hall, ivy; Florence Silberstein, oleander; Florence Barrows, hollyhocks, Florence Ginder, ivy; Bert Shaw, Easter lilies.

Model drawings—Alfred Wigdahl, cross, circular plinth, and cylinder; Marvin McLaren, steps, cylinder and cone; Will McLennan, steps, cylinder and square pyramid; Herbert Cameron, different view of above group; Florence Bailey, steps, square pyramid and cylinder. Object drawings—Anna Oleson, Anna Graff, fan and candle showing two different views; Walter Maxwell, amaryllis; Thomas Bartlett, decorated pitcher and glasses. From bas relief—Maggie McKee, ornamental form; Clara Kenny, ornamental form; Wilhelmina Meining, serpent turned around a leafy branch. Charcoal drawings—Lizzie Ash, cube and cone; Marrion Phillips, vase and cone; Susie Barnard, cross and sphere, showing reflection; Jessie Gilbert, guitar standing in draped corner. This latter class, optional, has four members and it was opened only last January, with pupils who then had no knowledge, not only of charcoal work, but of drawing and perspective as well.

Reward Offered.

A tin box containing a number of papers and trinkets, valuable only to myself, was taken from my house, No. 124 East First street, last Sunday. A suitable reward will be paid for the return of the box and no questions asked.

Mrs. J. N. BROCK.

IN IRON ORE.

The Situation a Trifle Better; Pig Iron Much Better All Around.

Iron Trade Review: The iron ore situation begins to look a trifle more favorable, and during the week there has been sold quite a respectable quantity of ore, nearly all of Bessemer grade, and including quite a block of Menominee ore. The opinion of the trade is that before very long there will have to be some purchases made by furnace men who did not supply themselves last fall, or else quite a few stacks will go out of blast by July 1. The warm weather seems to have facilitated ore shipments, and the receipts are correspondingly large.

Active pig iron markets are noted at most of the central western points. At Cincinnati there was the liveliest spurt that has been witnessed since the beginning of the year. The heavy buying of the few preceding weeks resulted in an over-filling of furnace order books, and on Saturday and Monday several companies advanced their prices and others withdrew entirely. When buyers became convinced that reports as to the strong position of the furnaces were genuine, there was a strong push to get iron for forward deliveries. Since Monday, however, leading sellers have held firmly to fifty cents per ton advance, and that has been paid for considerable quantities of iron without objection. In Bessemer irons and other product of lake ores, there has been an advancing tendency also. The whole market looks stronger and there is a free disposition to buy for actual needs.

At St. Louis the market for southern coke irons is strong, with an upward tendency. Ohio softeners are quiet at unchanged values; and the same may be said of car wheel brands. Prices at Buffalo are a shade firmer than they have been, with a fairly active business in progress. A decided advance in southern coke iron and advances in steel and steel products have been a great relief to northern manufacturers, who are holding firmer, without having made any advances, however. During the week past the market at Pittsburgh has been active on all grades of pig iron, and prices have advanced fully twenty-five to fifty cents per ton.

WEST END.

Some News of the Day at the West End of the City.

Eugene O'Meara, carpenter at Scott & Holston's mill, had his hand badly cut and bruised by a wire nail.

The ladies of the Norwegian Lutheran Sewing society will give a supper in Normanna hall on the 27th and 28th of this month. An auction sale will also be held.

B. J. Skofstad has decided to sell out his grocery stock and engage in other business.

Another police telephone box has been placed on the corner of Twentieth avenue and Superior street.

N. N. Oie has gone to Minneapolis on a short business trip.

M. McDonald, W. A. McKay and Professor Schilling formed the leaders of a picnic party who went to Oatka Beach yesterday. A very pleasant time was spent by all.

The Lower Court.

The Monday morning grist in the police court was not up to the average of late, but those who were brought enjoyed the pleasure of studying new designs in wall paper, the court room having undergone a transformation. Chas. Nelson Falk, Emuel, Charles and Gus Johnson were pulled up in the West End yesterday for fast driving. They pleaded guilty and were fined $5 each. J. J. Black, Thomas White, William Nickel and John Williams, plain drunks, $5 or seven days. Martin Hanson kept an unlicensed dog. It cost him $5 this morning. Edward Sniffen, a box car lodger went up for four days. George Thompson went into a friend's room, and after arraying himself in a suit of underclothes and fine linen, packed a satchel with more clothing and left. He will be arraigned later on the charge of larceny.

The Barnum Case Postponed.

The rather complicated litigation between Paul Blackmar of Duluth, as trustee of the assigned lumber firm of Bliss & Elliott of Barnum, and their creditors on the one side and the St. Paul & Duluth on the other, was up in court Saturday. The railroad had sued Blackmar in the courts of Carleton county and entered judgment in spite of an order of the Hennepin county court declaring that, as Blackmar was a trustee and officer of it, he could not be sued elsewhere, and forbidding such suit. Saturday the railway people were brought up for contempt. All action was stopped, however, when the railway exhibited an order from the supreme court directing the Hennepin court to stay proceedings until the whole matter could be heard June 23.

Another Cry for Postal Service.

All through the homestead country west of Nestoria, toward Duluth, petitions for better postal service are being circulated and extensively signed. The country is filling up rapidly and its postal facilities are by no means equal to its needs. That whole district, says The Marquette Journal, is supplied by "locked pouches" only, no mail car going west of Nestoria. There should be a mail car put on the train to and from Duluth at once.

Invited to a Hanging.

Sheriff Sharvy has received an invitation from C. W. Mead, sheriff of Redwood county. It asked him to be present a little affair that is to take place in that county on or about June 29—the hanging of Clifton Holden. That is, it will take place if the courts do not declare John Day Smith's law unconstitutional.

A BOOK WORTH READING.

"Along the South Shore of Lake Superior," by Julian Ralph.

A book crowded full of readable matter and beautiful illustrations, descriptive of the picturesque scenery along the South Shore of this great inland sea—Duluth, Apostle Islands, Lake Gogebic, Houghton, Marquette, Pictured Rocks, Sault Ste. Marie, Mackinac Island and the Iron and Copper Mining Regions of Michigan and Wisconsin—historically and descriptively treated in Julian Ralph's most graphic style. Magazine style, 100 pages. Worthy a place in the best libraries.

Duluth News. The wide-awake, progressive nineteenth century merchant never waits for events, he makes them. He buys fearlessly in large quantities from the fountain head of the manufacturing world and by his indomitable enterprise creates prices and quality, occurrences which would never have been brought about under other circumstances. This application fits the house of M. S. Burrows & Co., and explains why their store is always first and foremost with high qualities and low prices. This week they are creating a panic on boys' and children's waists and blouses.

SOME SUNDAY SERMONS.

Dr. Dunn Closes His Series on the Bible and the Schools.

St. Paul's Church Reopened; The Bishop Booms Anti-Blasphemy Order.

Rev. Dr. Dunn preached last evening, to a congregation that filled the First Methodist church, the last of his sermons on the Bible in connection with the public schools, unless he is obliged to take it up again.

"The last few years," he said, "have greatly multiplied the number of copies of the Bible in existence. From the very day that Faust threw off the first copy the Bible was safe, for it was in the hands of the common people, and the masses will preserve the scriptures. It need not be placed in a cloister or a monkish library to be preserved. It would be as difficult to pump these great lakes dry in a single night as to destroy the existence of the Bible among us.

"This is a time of popular education of the masses, a time of helpful criticism and it has been an exceedingly nervous time for imposters. Skepticism used to stand up straight and ask 'where is Nineveh, that great city of three days' journey?' Recent excavations have shown the existence of such a city and skepticism never peeped. The Bible was never better understood than at present. No new doctrines have been added, but dark paragraphs have been cleared up. Legislation is waxing more scriptural. It provides schools for the blind, where the sightless may read the Bible with raised letters. I have often wondered why the Roman Catholics in their efforts to benefit the race do not take the Bible from these blind people. "All the tastes in the ideal man may be satisfied in this book, yet our enemies would tear it out of the schools. Catholics say I should not refer to the history of the church in a discussion of the question, as many of the old forms are now obsolete; yet they always claimed infallibility for their church and what was true in the sixteenth century is true in the nineteenth. The fact is the church is losing strength in Italy and is looking for a home in this country.

"I was borne into this discussion, I did not rush to the papers. I address my people from my own pulpit, the same as the Catholics, and as long as I occupy this pulpit, I propose to preach what I believe to be truths. What has the Catholic church done for Italy? Italy, the mother of genius, which taught the nations to read, now knows not how herself. Let not such a national calamity befall us. In 1881 in Germany there were 9 per cent, Austria 51 per cent, Italy 59 per cent and Spain 66 per cent of the people unable to read, and those three countries were under Roman Catholic rule. Leo XIII in a recent address said: "There can be today only two camps; the Catholic camp resolved to maintain always at any price the power of the bishop and the people, and the camp of the enemy, who will fight against them. Sooner or later you will be obliged to take a stand. Let it be on God's side."

To Lessen Blasphemy.

Bishop McGolrick gave a remarkable sermon on the great sin of blasphemy, unfortunately so common now, at the Sacred Heart yesterday. He cited notable instances from the Old Testament where God had punished whole peoples for that crime, "for," said he, "it is a crime that towers far above any other. Sir Isaac Newton never spoke the Holy Name, or heard it spoken, except he uncovered his head in reverence for it. The monks, before the invention of printing, who wrote the sacred Scriptures, never wrote the holy name of Jesus except upon bended knees. Alas, how different! If the names of our parents or of some dear friend were used with the vulgar levity with which we constantly meet that of our Saviour, we would become indignant, and justly so. The fact that it is so common, and that we have become familiar to those wicked sounds does not make it any the less abominable in the sight of God."

He showed that the infidels of the Voltaire class seemed instinctively to know the majesty and power of that name, for they called upon their followers to "destroy the infamous one, the enemy of our fathers!" That name that, we hope and pray, will be last upon our lips, at the last moment of our lives: the name of Him whom we shall find standing by our side the moment our souls leave the mortal bodies, there and then to judge us!

"Oh, brethren, take to heart the pleading and the terrible warnings of the church, and abstain from blasphemy, and for the love of the bleeding heart of the master do all you can to check it. At least whisper a prayer in propitiation every time you hear the name of God taken in vain. For this reason I desire to enroll all the men of the parish in the Society of the Holy Name."

About 100 men came forward and were enrolled in the society after service. Each received the medal of the order that should remind them of their promise.

A Healing Touch.

Services were resumed at St. Pauls Episcopal church yesterday, after the building had been closed for two weeks to admit the extension of its auditorium.

Mr. Barker officiated yesterday, taking his text at the morning service from Matthew: "And Jesus Put Forth His Hand and Touched Him." All acts of the great teacher should be matters of emulation for the world of today. Such was the efficacy of His touch, that the blind saw, the dumb spoke, the deaf heard, the sick were healed. Words do not count, actions tell. Through all of Christ's life love shone supreme. "Love one another." A man asks: "How can I reach the masses of the people? How can my touch heal or do good?"

"Some time ago," said the divine, "a railroad company was building a line in a mountainous district. A high embankment was made, but the question was how to keep it intact from the elements. A peculiar kind of grass was sown, which took root, reaching far down into the great mass of earth, holding it and binding it firmly together. So must the human seed do. It must reach its roots into the masses of the people, binding them together by teachings of Christ's love and holding them for heaven by deeds of charity and mercy."

SPORTS AND THE REGATTA.

Eastern and the South Shore Roads; Crews for the Four; Sports in General.

The Eastern Minnesota road deserves well at the hands of the citizens of Duluth and Superior, or at least that portion which is interested in the regatta. When the regatta was first thought of the name of President Minot of that road, was the first to go on the railroad subscription and with a donation of $500, besides offering other help to make the occasion a success. The Eastern did more. It was the first to guarantee the association excursion rates. The South Shore company also deserves recognition from Duluth and Superior for its share in putting the regatta on a sound financial footing. Its subscription of $200 can be used to advantage. The other roads promised again and again to render substantial assistance, but a meeting at St. Paul Saturday afternoon all the consolation the Duluth men received was: "We will refer the matter to the general managers. We have no funds from which to make subscriptions, and are afraid of creating a precedent."

A regatta never took place in the East which did not receive more help from the railroads than from any other source. None will receive more benefits from the Duluth-Superior regatta than the railroads. The roads lay great stress upon the fact that they would give a $4.50 rate between St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, yet the $4.50 rate is of common occurrence, and any small society which desires to attend a St. Paul or Minneapolis meeting can have such a rate, and the railroads are glad to propose the cut.

In an ambiguous letter to the Regatta association, the Western States Passenger association announces that it will give a half fare rate from points within a radius of 160 miles. If the radius means from Duluth, the rate is unnecessary as we already have such a rate. If from Chicago, the association deserves thanks.

As matters now stand, it looks as though a dozen crews would enter the professional fours. The Boston Globe contains the following: "Sylvie Gookin of the Casey-Gookin crew, is trying to reorganize the four for the purpose of competing in the Duluth-Superior regatta."

A Mill This Evening.

BUFFALO, June 16.—Betting is four to three in favor of Ed Smith of Denver, who tonight will meet James Daly of Philadelphia in a glove fight to a finish before the Arlington club for a purse of $1500. The bets aggregate fully $10,000. Billy Muldoon and Jake Kilrain, if the latter gets here on time, will second Smith, while Jack Dempsey will do the honors for the Philadelphia boy.

Sporting Notes.

The Columbia, Cornell and University of Pennsylvania freshmen crews will row at New London June 24.

The Occidental club of Frisco offers $2500 for a battle between Joe Choynski and Joe Lannon or Jack Fallon.

The Golden Gate club is endeavoring to match Australian Billy Murphy and Eddie Graney. The latter bested Murphy in a four-round go recently.

The Pelican club of London offers a $2500 purse for a fight between young Mitchell of San Francisco and Ted Pritchard, the crack middleweight of London.

Charlie Gleason, who fought several battles in this city, is matched to fight Jack Hurley of Frisco at the Golden Gate club, June 25, for a $1000 purse.

Oarsman John Teemer writes to Boston from McKeesport, that should the purse of $1000 be offered for the professional sculling contest in that city for June 27, he will be on hand to meet Gaudaur, Hanlan or any other man. Teemer considers Hanlan a better man than either Gaudaur or O'Connor, and concludes his letter by stating that he is only in fair shape, having done but little rowing.

TO FISHERMEN.

A Chance to Get a Splendid Trout Outfit; Sporting News.

As an incentive to fishermen and to further a manly sport, The Herald offers a split bamboo pole, click reel and fine trout line, secured from the fine stock of Boyce & Totman, corner of Fourth avenue and West Superior street, and guaranteed by this firm to be all represented, to The Herald subscriber securing, between May 19 and the end of the legal trout season, the largest brook trout caught by rod and line.

If possible, the fish must be weighed by a Herald representative, and all weights not seen must be guaranteed and vouched for by witnesses or on the affidavit of the catcher. The prize will be exhibited in Boyce & Totman's window after today. Call and take a look at it, then go out and catch a trout that will bring you this splendid outfit.

A Home on Wheels.

The other day there arrived at Salem, Ore., a box car that left Detroit sixteen days before. It contained P. Harwood, wife and two babies, seven cows, two horses, two sheep and an endless assortment of household and kitchen furniture and farm appliances.—Exchange.

Possibly some people might call that a "home on wheels"—and possibly it may be an emigrant's idea of comfort. But our idea of a home on wheels is one of "The Burlington's" elegant vestibuled Pullman trains, equipped as they are, with all known devices to contribute to the comfort, the safety and convenience of the traveler. This line has the lightest grades of any railroad between the Twin Cities and Chicago, enabling its trains to run at a high rate of speed with great smoothness of motion, its time record is unsurpassed by that of any Northwestern road, and the courteous attention shown by all officials and employes, make the tourist feel perfectly at home. That is our idea of "a home on wheels." To enjoy its comforts buy your tickets over "The Burlington." They can be obtained of almost any ticket agent, or full information will be furnished on writing to W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.
